THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The Farmer, the Lawyer, the Mechanic, the Doctor, should know his financial position. In the Dominion of Canada, every mercantile person is required by law to keep proper books of account. Young man or young woman before starting business, prepare yourself. Understand the various business papers. Possess good personal habits such as punctuality, attention to details, politeness, etc., and to these add a good BUSINESS EDUCATION and you will really have the KEY TO SUCCESS.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA COVERED WITH A MANTLE OF SNOW.

Little Business Transacted in the House—A Motion to Empower Canada to Negotiate Her Own Treaties — New Members Arriving at the Capital.

OTTAWA, March 12.—The floor of the House was more interesting yesterday than it has been any afternoon this session, because there were more interesting political personages present than at any previous convening of the House. Among the latest arrivals was Mr. Davies of Prince Edward Island, one of the Reform leaders from the sea. Mr. Davies came in after prayers and got a round of applause. He took Mr. Mackenzie's seat in the front row.

Hon. John Costigan and Mr. Bavin, who came in from South Perth, after having been kept five hours in a snowdrift almost within sight of the towers on Parliament Hill.

The proceedings in the House were short and tame, outside of the personal interest attaching to the celebrities who were present in such numbers to-day.

Mr. Reid of South Grenville had a grievance to air with respect to the Galops (pronounced Galoos) Canal.

Mr. Haggart briefly replied to Mr. Reid, promising to look into his representation.

Hon. Mr. Dewdney gave notice that he would on Monday move to authorize the Governor-in-Council to convey to the corporation of the city of Toronto certain ordnance lands in that city for such price as the Governor-in-Council deems proper.

A tremendous blizzard struck this section last night. Trains were late and the electric wires in the city became so laden with snow that for two miles in Rideau street every telegraph pole broke beneath the burden. The street presented an extraordinary appearance this morning being an excellent illustration of the phrase "confusion worse confounded." Of course the trolley wires were down and the cars did not run on that street to-day. It is probable that $10,000 will not cover the loss and expense of replacing the poles and wires.

Mr. Mills has given notice that he will move that in the opinion of the House it is expedient to obtain all necessary powers to enable her Majesty, through her representative, the Governor-General, upon the advise of his Ministers, to appoint an agent or other person to negotiate commercial treaties with other British possessions or with foreign states tending to the advantage of Canada, subject to the prior consent or subsequent approval of the Parliament of Canada.

D'Alton McCarthy has promptly turned his attention to the class of legislation with which his name is prominently associated. He introduced a bill in blank with respect to dual languages in the Northwest Territories. It will be remembered that the power conferred on the Assembly of the Territories to deal with the language question was accompanied by limitations and conditions. Mr. McCarthy proposes to remove those restrictions and grant the Assembly full power to decide for itself all such questions forthwith.

A whole host of petitions came in to-day from all parts of the country, praying that the Canadian Parliament will prevent the Canadian exhibit at the World's Fair being open for inspection on the Lord's Day.

BRITISH BY-ELECTIONS.

Three Contests Yesterday to Fill Vacancies in the Commons.

LONDON, March 12. Thomas Healy, McCarthyite, has been elected without opposition to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the resignation in October last of John Redmond, who gave up his seat to contest Cork city in the interest of the Parnellites.

In the Parliamentary election in Kirkcaldy district to-day Dalziel (Gladstonian) received 2567 votes and Cox (Unionist) 1531. The election was made necessary by the death of Sir G. Campbell (Gladstonian) incumbent.

Full returns from the Parliamentary election in East Belfast show the election of G. W. Wolff over Sir William Chorley by a vote of 4708 to 2607. Both were Conservatives.

LONDON, March 11.—In the House of Commons John Gordon Swift Macneill (anti-Parnellite), member for South Donegal, moved to strike out the names of Sir Lewis Pelly (Constitutional), William J. Ashmead, Bartlett Burdett-Coutts (Conservative) and Sir John Henry Puleston (Conservative) from the list of members of the House who voted last night for the credit for the Mombassa Railway survey, which was carried without division. There was a long discussion of motion, the principal speakers being Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Balfour.

Finally a vote was taken and the motion was approved, 154 members voting for it and 149 against.

The vote was greeted with loud cheers by the Opposition.

The result is considered a defeat for the Government.

PRINCE MICHAEL STONED.

But He Says It Is Only a Fulfilment of the Scriptures.

DETROIT, March 12.—About midnight the house of C. W. Bell at 47 Hamlin avenue, where the long-haired Anstelites hold their services, was stoned. Nearly all the windows in the front of the house were broken and twelve large stones were found on the floor this morning. Prince Michael will preserve them as mementoes.

The Prince says the act is simply a fulfilment of the Scriptures. Michael laughs at the dispatches from Toronto which say that Joseph Durand, alias "Lucifer," is possessed of an evil spirit, and that he exerted a mesmeric influence over the settlement, even over Michael himself.

Born Without a Skull.

PHILADELPHIA, March 12.—Mrs. Angelo Anizini of 720 Brinton-street, a small thoroughfare running eastward from Eighth-street, below Christian, yesterday morning gave birth to a child which is a veritable freak of nature and a puzzle to scientists. The infant is anything but pleasant to look on. It has no skull and consequently no forehead, the crown of the head being parallel with the eyebrows. Mrs. Anizini is becoming famous as the mother of freaks. Only about a year ago she gave birth to a child which had no roof to its mouth.

The brain of the little one is in its proper position, but instead of being covered with bone it has only a transparent membrane to retain it in its place. The various veins and tissues about the brain seem to be in their normal condition and properly formed.

The Drought in India.

CALCUTTA, March. 12.—The distress caused by the drought is increasing. In many districts the water is falling and the condition of cattle is serious.

Oxford's Playhouse Scorched.

LONDON, March 12. The Oxford University Theatre was partially destroyed by fire at midnight. No performance has recently been given at the threatre.

Cable Flashes.

Frederick Charles, one of the Walsall dynamiters, has been admitted to bail.

The Princess May of Teck, who was betrothed to the late Duke of Clarence, has started for Cannes, accompanied by her father and mother.

The London Times expresses the opinion that the building of the cruisers is more necessary for the strengthening of the British navy than the building of ironclads.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

EXPENDITURE ON VARIOUS PUBLIC INSTITUTIONS

Mr. Awrey Explains the Provisions of His Amendment to the Assessment Act—The Prison and Reformatory System not to be Altered.

TORONTO, March 12.—Yesterday afternoon Mr. H. E. Clarke moved for a return showing in monthly form the expenditure in the public institutions of the province from the year 1883 to the year 1891, both inclusive.

In support of his resolution Mr. Clarke said that there were discrepancies between the accounts of the Provincial Inspector and those of the Provincial Treasurer. He then went on to explain, in greater detail, the purport of the remark. In 1883 the inspector had reported an expenditure of $589,256, and for the same year the treasurer had reported an outlay of $599,828. For the eight following years the former official reported an expenditure of $5,109,470, while the treasurer for the same period submitted an expenditure of $5,238,471. This, as they would readily perceive, was an excess on the part of the latter of $84,000. That such a large discrepancy should exist was a serious matter, and in his estimation the fact ought to receive a thorough investigation.

In concluding his observations Mr. Clarke hoped that the Provincial Treasurer would not give the usual official answer to such motions that too much time and trouble would be involved in collecting the return required. The matter, owing to its seriousness, should be looked into. In his opinion a good bookkeeper could demonstrate the reason for such a discrepancy in the public accounts by two hours' consideration of the subject.

Mr. Gibson prefaced his remarks by observing that the matter, in his opinion, as well as that of the previous speaker, was, if it were not so easily explainable, of a very serious nature. The discrepancy was, however, only an apparent one. The reason was that the time for making up the different accounts was not the same. The inspector closed his on Sept. 31 of each year, while the treasurer consummated a similar act on Dec. 31. During these three months the alleged extra expenditures took place, and were not, therefore, accounted for by the inspector.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Awrey's bill to amend the Assessment Act received its second reading. It is in a line with legislation sought for by various farmers' institutes throughout the province, and provides that land situated within villages or towns, not held in less than blocks of 10 acres each by one person, shall be assessed as farm land, and be exempt from the taxation in vogue in these corporations mentioned.

KILLED THREE BEARS.

Had Only Birdshot for Ammunition, but It Proved Effective.

MOUNT FOREST, Ont., March 11.—John Morley while out rabbit hunting ran across a bear in a hollow stub, in a scrubby bush only a few rods from the residence of Mr. William Duncan, clerk of West Luther, and quite near the road. Although only armed with a fowling piece, loaded with pigeon shot, the old gentleman let drive at bruin as soon as it poked its head out of the hole. When the same head, as Mr. Morley thought, appeared again he was ready with another dose of shot. Again the third time a head appeared and again the hunter blazed away, thinking the game was hard to kill. Failing to see any further signs of life after the fifth shot the hole was inspected, when three dead bears, two cubs and an old one, were dislodged.

THE FLOUR IS MISSING.

A Mystery Which is Exciting Brampton to Its Very Depths.

BRAMPTON, Ont., March 12.—No little surprise was caused this week by the report that a shortage has been discovered in the flour mill of Messrs. Pearen Bros. The managers declare that from the quantity of wheat purchased and taken to the mill since Aug. 7 last about 50,000 bushels—there should have been upwards of 750 barrels of flour more than the quantity accounted for.

After investigating the facts the proprietors have concluded that the flour must have been stolen from one or other, or both, of their storehouses.

ANNIE ROONEY'S AUTHOR.

A Popular Song Writer Convicted of Stealing from a Companion.

HARTFORD, Conn., March 12.—Mike Nolan, the newspaper reporter, comedian, music arranger and author of "Annie Rooney" and "I Whistle and Wait for Katie," was a prisoner in the Police Court yesterday. The charge against him was theft. He was convicted, fined $7 and sent to jail for 30 days.

True Bills For Murder.

HAMILTON, March 12.—The grand jury at the Wenthworth Assizes have found these bills:

Queen v. John Bartram and John Lothridge, murder, true bill.

Queen v. John Bartram, John Lottridge and George Douglas, murder, true bill.

Queen v. John Lottridge and George Douglas, burglary, true bill.

The object of bringing in two bills for murder, one against Bartram and Lottridge, the other against Bartram, Lottridge and Douglas, is that the prisoners may be tried separately or together.

Stripped by a Shaft.

WIARTON, March 12. James Donah of Colpoy's, while working in Mr. Segrest's mill, was caught in a revolving wheel and wound around the shaft. He received very severe injuries, having one leg broken in several places and otherwise injured, his clothes being also nearly torn from him.

THE OXFORD SCANDAL.

Tutor Morland, the Rogue Widow, Gets 10 Years at Hard Labor.

LONDON, March 12.—A large crowd, comprising many persons well known in fashionable society, assembled in the Central Criminal Court, Old Bailey, Friday to listen to the trial of Maitland Francis Morland, the aged Oxford tutor, who was accused of attempting to blackmail members of the nobility.

When Morland was arraigned he pleaded guilty of attempting to extort money from Earl Russell.

The prisoner was sentenced to 10 years' penal servitude. There is hardly a question that this is equivalent to life sentence, for Morland is now 65 years old.

Prior to the passing of the sentence Morland made a most eloquent appeal to the court asking for mercy. He said: "I wish to state that I am entirely to blame in this matter. My wife and children are entirely innocent. My wife never read the letters I wrote. I also wish to say, in justice to Oxford University, that my house was conducted on the strictest moral principles, as undergraduates can testify."

The prisoner under the name of Maitland and Morland wrote to a number of young members of the nobility representing himself as a young and fascinating widow, who, for a money consideration, was willing to assume immoral relations with them.

During the appeal for mercy Maitland sobbed bitterly. He begged the judge to allow him to die in the midst of his family instead of in prison.

Justice Smith said the enormity of Morland's crime was increased by the letter he had written to Earl Russell's fiance, Miss Scott. The punishment he might inflict for the offance was penal servitude for life, but that he would not do. Taking everything into account, the prisoner's age and other circumstances, he could not impose a more lenient sentence than ten years' penal servitude.

The prisoner was removed from the court-room to the cell below, all the while weeping bitterly.

ARRIVED TOO LATE.

An Old Man Smothered to Death and His House Gutted.

BELLEVILLE, March 12.—Yesterday about 7 o'clock a fire broke out in Mr Jacob Cronk's house at the corner of Ann and Hotel-streets. The firemen after repeated efforts were able to enter the house, but not in time to rescue the old man, who is 80 years of age and the only occupant. They found him lying on a lounge dead, only slightly injured by the flames but smothered with the smoke. Mr. Cronk was at one time one of the largest property owners in the city. He leaves a widow and four children.

Stave Factory Burned.

CLIFFORD, Ont., March 12.—The large saw and stave mill owned and operated by George Veitch of this place, together with about 100,000 staves, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour this morning. The fire is supposed to have originated in the engine-room. Loss $6000; insured in the Gore Mutual for $2500.

Church Destroyed by Lightning.

YARMOUTH, N.S., March 12.—During a thunder storm yesterday Tabernacle Church (Congregational) was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. The church was insured for $10,000, organ for $2000 and vestry $500.

The Baptist church at Port Maitland, about 12 miles from this town, was also struck by lightning and destroyed; partially insured.

An Unfaithful Steward.

LONDON, March 12.—George Woodyat Hastings, Unionist member for Worcestershire, was sentenced to five years at hard labor for embezzling £15,000 from the estate of John Brown, of which he was trustee. He pleaded guilty and broke down completely.

In imposing the sentence the judge dwelt severely upon the frauds committed by the prisoner, which had ruined four young children, heirs to the estate.

400 000 Miners Out.

LONDON, March 12.—The coal miners' strike was commenced at Durham yesterday morning.

The latest estimate places the number of miners who will quit work to-day at 400,000.

The miners' federation has issued a manifesto in which it says all its members must stop work to-day, except a few surfacemen, water pumpers and ventilator attendants. No coal must be raised from the shaft.

A Couple of Duels.

PARIS, March 12.—A duel with swords was fought yesterday between M. Isaac, formerly sub-prefect of Fourmies, and M. Dubois, a member of the staff of Intransigeant.

The duel grew out of articles written by Dubois in which Isaac was violently attacked for the part he had taken in the Mayday troubles.

Isaac proved himself the better swords man and inflicted a serious wound in Dubois abdomen

BERLIN, March 11.—Bernard Hoffman of this city and Frederick Kutz of Wittenberg fought a duel near Halle to settle a quarrel growing out of jealousy. Both men were wounded, Kutz receiving a bullet in the thigh and Hoffman being shot through the shoulder. The police arrested the duelists.

The Work of Anarchists

PARIS, March 12.—An explosion occurred in the house occupied by M. Benoit, the magistrate who ordered the inquiry into the recent robbery of dynamite cartridges.

A valet was slightly injured. Damage to the extent of $40,000 was done.

It is now considered certain that the explosion was the work of anarchists.

Trainmen's Grievances.

HAMILTON, March 12.—Considerable dissatisfaction exists among the brakemen and conductors of the Grand Trunk Railway, and it is likely that there will be trouble if the company does not grant the request of the men for more pay. Representatives of the Brotherhood of Trainmen and the Order of Conductors went to Montreal on Monday night and had a conference with Manager Wainwright on Tuesday.

The passenger conductors on the through trains now receive $2.50 a day, and they asked for $3. The conductors on the accommodation trains and on the branches receive $2.30 a day, and they want $2.50 a day. There is also dissatisfaction about the uniforms. The conductors want two suits a year.

It is understood that the company consented to give the conductors on the through trains an additional 25 cents a day, but would make no other increase.

The brakemen are paid from $1.10 to $1.55 a day, and they asked for $1.75 a day.

The train baggagemen now get $1.50 a day, and they want $1.90.

The wages of the freight conductors are graded from $1.75 to $2.15 a day, and they want $2.50 a day.

And the Counsel Talked Sense.

HAMILTON, March 12.—Judge Muir held a special criminal court in the county council chamber at 11 o'clock yesterday for the trial of William Tyson, the young man charged with fraud.

The charge was that he defrauded William Miller on March 8, by giving him a Confederate States bill. "The bill is not a counterfeit," said County Crown Attorney Crerar. "So far as we know it is a good bill, and at one time was certainly as good as an American greenback, though its value now is a matter of opinion. The United States may some time redeem these notes. Who can tell? At any rate, if a man is foolish enough to give $10 for one of them it is his lookout, and his only recourse is by an action in the Division Court."

Fire at Moosejaw.

WINNIPEG, March 12.—At Moosejaw today fire destroyed Reipstein & Co.'s general store, occupied by B. Fletcher, and other buildings. Following is the estimated loss: Reipstein & Co., stock $5000, partial insurance; Walter Bole, drug store, stock $1500, insured; Wright Bros., butchers, building and stock $500, partially insured; B. Fletcher, household goods $800; Electric Light Co., $200; Miss Clark, millinery, building and stock $1000; T. W. Robinson, damage to goods $500, insured; Doran's harness shop, damage $300; G.M. Annable, two buildings destroyed, loss $500; Masonic and Oddfellows' Hall, $500, insured The total loss will probably reach $15,000.

The Bicycle Score.

NEW YORK, March 12.—The score in the 72-hour bicycle race at 1 a.m was Lamb 861 miles 8 laps, Ashinger 861 8, Martin 861 7, Reading 861 5, Lumsden 860 7, Schock 851 5, Stage 800 5.

Shortly before 1 o'clock Lumsden collided with Reading and fell. It is thought that he broke his nose.

Lumsden lost 9 laps by the fall, putting him fifth in the race.

Live Stock Imports.

LONDON, March 12.—Mr. Chaplin refused in the House of Commons to relax the schedule against live cattle imports. He said if further action was taken the restrictions would be increased but not diminished.

An Austrian Blizzard.

VIENNA, March 12.—A blizzard is raging in Northern Austria and Hungary. The snow has made roads impassable.

Many railway lines are blocked and some trains are imbedded in snow.

A Young London Preacher Dead.

LONDON, March 12.—Rev. W. J. Little, late pastor of Hamilton Road Methodist Church, is dead. He was a promising young pastor and had only been in the ministerial calling a few years. He leaves a widow and a small family. The remains will be taken to Milton, Ont., for burial.

"The Blood is the Life."

Runs the old saying, and everything that ever makes part of any organ of the body must reach its place therein through the blood. Therefore, if the blood is purified and kept in good condition by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, it is necessarily follows that the benefit of the medicine is imparted to every organ of the body. Can anything be simpler than the method by which this excellent medicine gives good health to all who will try it fairly and patiently?

A Montreal Lady Speaks About Physical Exercises.

Calisthenics, a system of physical exercises for females, designed to promote strength and gracefulness of movement; or, by assisting the natural and harmonious development of the muscular system, to improve the health, and add to the beauty of personal appearance. Calisthenic and gymnastic exercises are based on the same principle,—that exercise is essential to the proper development of the physical as well as the mental faculties, and to the maintenance of their healthy condition. Calisthenic exercises should, however, be so varied as to exhilarate the spirits as well as tax the muscles or they will lose much of their beneficial effect; since while the body is exercised, the mind must be interested. It is well known that those females who are physically sound, make the greatest advancement in Calisthenics. While a system of physical exercises may help the weak and frail to acquire a measure of strength, yet it should be remembered that there is danger in these exercises to some.

The girl or woman who desires to excel in the graceful and helpful exercises which Calisthenics teach, should be free from the common troubles which beset the females of the present day. These troubles are nervousness, headaches, sleeplessness, dyspepsia and indigestion. These distressing and dangerous ailments should be banished at once by the use of Paine's Celery Compound. A short treatment with this valuable remedy will build up the body, strengthen the muscles and bones, and brace up the nervous system. Then will be the time to indulge in any system of physical exercises which will, if properly pursued, give gracefulness to every movement of the body, and add great attractiveness to personal looks.

I can speak from personal experience in this matter, as I have tried the great remedy referred to, even in my daily practices at Calisthenics. There is nothing that I know of, that will confer greater benefits to the weak, frail and sallow girl or woman, than Paine's Celery Compound.—A LADY WHO ADVOCATES CALISTHENICS.

Sabbath School Workers.

Convention of Northumberland County at Campbellford—Officers Elected—Interesting Addresses and Papers.

CAMPBELLFORD, March 8.—The first session of the convention of Sabbath school workers of Northumberland county, inaugurated by the teachers and officers of Campbellford, was held in the Presbyterian church last night, Rev. M. Scott occupying the chair. Devotional services were entered into, the singing being led by Mr. McKee, the singing evangelist. The chairman made a few remarks extending a greeting to the large assembly, almost every seat in the fine spacious church being occupied.

The evening programme was then carried out as follows:—"Address on Home life and its relation to the Sabbath school" by Mr. Alfred Day, secretary of the Provincial Sunday School Association; an address on "How to preserve order in the school," by C. A. Lapp of Brighton. The question drawer conducted by Mr. Wm. Johnson of Belleville was opened and was very ably conducted. This closed the evening session. At this morning's session an association was formed for the County of Northumberland, and the following officers elected:—President, J. L. Richmond, Campbellford; secretary-treasurer, C. A. Lapp, Brighton; executive committee, J. P. Hume and J. P. Bell, Campbellford; T. Dunnegan, Warkworth; Messrs. MacNachton, Huyoke, and Thomas, Cobourg; Mr. Bellamy, Colborne.

The programme for this morning was carried out as follows:—Opening exercises by Rev. J. Moore; address on Sabbath school Work, its Needs, Methods and Results, by Mr. A. Day; address on the Teacher's Knowledge of the Bible, by Rev. J. Hay. At the afternoon session the programme consisted of: Opening exercises by Rev. J. C. Wilson; Words of Greeting, by Rev. C. Parker and Rev. J. J. Bullen; conference on preview and review by Mr. Johnson; a Model Teacher's Meeting, by Rev. J. McEwen; address on the Teacher and his Class by Rev. Dr. Workman. Great interest was taken in the meetings throughout, which is very gratifying indeed to the officers. Cobourg was selected as the next place of meeting.

Dr. E. T. Miller, of Cross Plains, Wis., has expressed the opinion that, for obstinate cases of syphilis and scorfula, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is unquestionably the most effective remedy known to pharmacy. Wonderful cures have resulted from its use.

For Nettle rash, summer heat and general toilet purposes, use Low's Sulphur Soap. w d

Makes Flesh and Blood

When the system is all run down and there seems to be no hope of obtaining nourishment for the body by the ordinary process of food supply and digestion, when the body is sinking fast, then is the time to use Miller's Emulsion of pure Norwegian Cod Liver Oil. It always works wonders, because it is a flesh and blood maker, and contains all the constituents for nourishment found in wheat, in fact Miller's Emulsion is a perfect "staff of life" and has saved and cured thousands. In big bottles, 50c. and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores. dw

Statue of the Great Professor Phelps Proposed.

A Ready Response From Alumni and the Public—Brief Sketch of His Career—His Services for Humanity.

From Boston Globe.

The proposition to erect a bronze statue of the late Prof Phelps at Dartmouth College will meet with a ready response not only from the sons of Dartmouth and members of the medical profession everywhere, but also from thousands of grateful people, who will be only too glad to contribute their mites in acknowledgment of his services to the public. Every Dartmouth alumnus of more than ten years standing remembers the owl in which he held the keen observer whose name appeared in the college catalogue next to that of the president, as Edward Elisha Phelps, M.D., LL.D., professor of materia medica; and every younger graduate has admired the complete museum of medical botany which Dr. Phelps gave to the college.

But it was the world-famed discovery of Prof. Phelps of an infallible cure for those fearful ills that result from an impaired nervous system and impure blood, which has endeared the great doctor to the world, and made his life an era in the practice of medicine.

Prof. Phelps was born in Connecticut in 1803. He graduated from the military school at Norwich, Vt., in 1820. He studied medicine with Prof. Nathan Smith of New Haven, Conn., and graduated in medicine at Yale in 1824. Impaired health led him to go South for a time, during which he assisted in the survey of the Dismal Swamp Canals, also following his studies in natural sciences, particularly in botany.

In 1828 he began to practice medicine in Windsor, Vt., a town famous for years as the summer residence of many eminent men.

His unusual talent soon brought him reputation and prominence among his professional brethren. In 1835 he was elected to the professorship of anatomy and surgery in the Vermont University. In 1841 he was appointed lecturer on materia medica and medical botany in Dartmouth College. The next year he was chosen professor to the chair then vacated by Prof. Bobby, and occupied the chair—the most important one in the country—until a few years before his death in 1880.

In the fall of 1861 the promptings of his patriotism and his love for military life would not let him be content with the services he could render his own state as a member of the board of examiners of surgeons. He went to the front as surgeon of the United States Army, and after the Peninsular campaign was assigned to the charge of the military hospital in Kentucky, which was soon known as one of the most perfectly conducted hospitals in the country. The large per cent. of recoveries in it gave him well deserved credit.

After the war, when the country no longer needed his services, he returned to his scientific studies with the ardor of a boy. His work was most untiring. His lamp was the last one in the village to be extinguished at night, and the first to be lighted in the morning.

He had mastered the teachings of the latest German science. He had made an exhaustive study of the German hospitals. He had for years seen the dangers of the American way of living. He went about to find a scientific, common-sense remedy to cure the common evils that under one name or another, result from an unhealthful state of the nervous system, and which, within a score of years, have seemed to be sweeping over the country like an epidemic.

He succeeded.

He gave to the medical profession a celebrated remedy, which has since come to be known the world over as Paine's Celery Compound.

It was Dr. Phelps prescription, which ever since has been freely used and prescribed by the most eminent of the profession. The formula was furnished to all reputable physicians. They found the wonderful remedy to be exactly what was claimed for it, a great nerve and brain strengthener and restorer. It was demonstrated beyond doubt that Paine's Celery Compound would cure nervous debility and exhaustion, neuralgia, sleeplessness, dyspepsia and all blood diseases.

It was as harmless as it was good, and it was the universal advice of the medical profession that the compound be placed where the general public could secure it, and thousands of people have every year proven the wisdom of this good advice.

The recent advice of Com. Howell to Secretary Blaine to use this compound, which the commodore publicly said, had saved his own life, and the published testimonials of the poet-author Hardy, George Wright and other men of national reputation, has brought the compound into special notice.

As a well-known physician in this city says: "Paine's Celery Compound is not a patient medicine: it is not a sarsaparilla; it is not a mere tonic; it is not an ordinary nervine—it is as far beyond them all as the diamond is superior to cheap glass."

It is not what its proprietors say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that makes it sell, and wins the confidence of the people.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Nothing Succeeds Like Success.

Burdock Blood Bitters is a household remedy for dyspepsia, it expels rheumatism and neuralgia from the system, acts as an antibilious agent on the stomach, liver and bowels, antagonizes blood poison, builds up and revitalizes the bloody functions and restores and purifies the entire system. dw

As a pick-me-up after excessive exertion or exposure, Mitchell's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

Mrs. Chas. Smith of Jimes, Ohio., writes: I have used every remedy for sick headache I could hear of for the past fifteen years, but Carter's Little Liver Pills did me more good than all the rest. dw

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

CANADA TO RETALIATE

Sir Charles Tupper Addresses the London Chamber of Commerce.

LONDON, March 10.—The dinner of the Associated Chamber of Commerce was held in the Hotel Metropole yesterday.

Sir Charles Tupper, Canada's High Commissioner in London, made the speech of the occasion, concerning "Canada, her commercial resources." Canadian manufacturers and exporters, he said, were smarting under the hardships of the McKinley tariff and it would not be long before the people would show their loyalty to the integrity of the British Empire by striking the United States a vital blow in return.

Canada could send to England all the wheat and flour which the latter needed for her great army of factory laborers. In exchange Canada would take the manufactured articles of the Mother Country. Above all things, Canada wanted Englishmen from England to emigrate to her shores and with their muscle and capital work her vast undeveloped resources.

By her present policy Canada prevented Boston and New York from becoming commercial capitals, and with the aid of the Home Government she could still further encroach upon the prestige of these duties and make one of her seaports the greatest outlet in the world for grain.

LONDON, March 10.—At a meeting of the Associated Chamber of Commerce held yesterday the President said that the exports and imports during the past year had only decreased $4,750,000, but an examination of the details of the returns was not satisfactory, as there was a great decrease in almost every item of the exports, the deficiency being balanced by a large increase in the imports of food.

Undoubtedly the political and commercial complications in South America and the McKinley bill in the United States were largely accountable for the decrease.

It behooved England to cultivate closely her commercial relations with the colonies.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is a sure cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowse, Editor Enquirer, McArthur, Ohio.

Suing a Boodler.

NEW YORK, March 11.—John Keenan, the ex-politician, who fled to Canada on account of his connection with the boodle cases, is now on trial in a suit brought by George P. Uppington to recover $43,000 which he alleges he loaned to Keenan when he was at the height of his political fame.

The Northwest Blizzard.

ST. PAUL, March 11. After raging with terrific fury for 30 hours the blizzard passed on to the northeast, leaving in its wake intense cold, the mercury early this morning reaching 10 below.

As the fuller details of the storm are received it grows in magnitude and intensity, and fears are expressed that there may be greater loss of life.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

The Happy Colored Family

We are a happy, joyous throng,
The call us Diamond Dyes;
From day to day we march along
'Neath bright and cloudy skies.

We are a color'd family,
Some dark and others fair;
No two of us are just alike,
Yet all beyond compare.

O'er Canada we scatter wide
Our school of trusty dyes;
The ladies in it all confide—
Greet us with loving eyes.

We make no strikes for shorter time,
Or system of eight hours;
We're always ready for a dime
To show our wondrous pow'rs.

At early morn, with great delight
We're ready for the fray;
And do our work as well at night,
As we can do by day.

We are so brilliant, fast and pure,
Have hearts true to the core,
We never flirt, our love is sure—
The ladies ask no more.

The merchant's and the farmer's wife
Make use of us each day;
The pastor's spouse declares that life
Is blank when we're away.

Canadian girls young and fair,
Are charmed by our dash,
And often seriously declare
That we have made a mash.

To mansion, hall, and cottage plain,
We carry mirth and glee;
And always manage to retain
A life of purity.

PETERBOROUGH, SATURDAY, MARCH 12, 1892.

CANADIANS BEWARE

OF GOING TO THE WORLD'S FAIR CITY FOR WORK THIS WINTER.

The Huge Army of the Unemployed in Chicago—How It Is Made Up—Causes of the Deplorable Fact—The Hegira Thought to be Discouraged.

With uncertain tread, as if he were not sure of a welcome, he stepped, says the Chicago Herald, into the office of Mr. Burnham, the World's Fair architect. He was a fine-looking, manly sort of young fellow and the stamp of intellectuality had plainly been set on his brow.

"What can I do for you?" said Mr. Burnham, in his crisp, matter-of-fact way of addressing people.

"I seek employment in a first-class architect's office. I've been working with a number of the leading firms in the East—here are my papers—and I thought I'd have a better chance by coming right here — to the World's Fair city — where original ideas and hard, rapid work would probably be better appreciated, especially at this time, than in the slow-going East. I think I may say that you will find me a valuable assistant if you will give me a fair chance in your office."

"It is unfortunate for you that this same idea — I mean the idea that the World's Fair city would be a good field of labor—has occured to about 25,000 other architects and draughtsmen all over the country. There is not work enough to go around—that's the fact."

"But could you not test me before refusing—give me a trial, Mr. Burnham?"

"Well, no, I can't. It wouldn't do for me to discharge the men I have for the sake of the men as yet untried."

The young man unmistakably felt grieved. What seemed to cut his cuticle the most was the phrase "every applicant." The idea of throwing him into one pot with the common herd! He left in a huff.

The incident is one of the kind with which every employer in Chicago is by this time quite inured. The city is swarming with applicants for work—applicants of every conceivable kind, applicants for manual labor up to applicants for the highest sort of mental toil. The number of applicants, in fact, is continuously so large that they have become considerable of a nuisance, and this state of things bid fair to become even worse than at present, for the heigra has, according to all indications, only fairly set in.

Though a fact due rather to the season than to a permanently overcrowded labor market, the army of the idle and unemployed in Chicago this winter is larger than it has ever been. The latest available statistics show 438,000 adult persons of both sexes generally engaged in gainful work. Of this number considerably over 100,000 are just now out of work. This is a fearfully high percentage. It will be of interest to go a little deeper into this subject.

Of the manufacturing and wholesale firms the average of diminution in the working force is 25 per cent., or a total of 73,000 unemployed. The retail firms employ about 15 per cent. less, or 21,000 unemployed. Add to this number the 3,000 idle sailors and the large number of those who have come here from elsewhere to seek work, and the total of the grand army of unemployed will rise to considerably above 100,000. To show that this estimate is based on reliable figures, the Herald goes into details, and mentions the larger firms by name and the number thrown out of work by the curtailments of the season. It is a fearful warning to those who [illegible] the fields are [illegible] or afar off.

A PARISIAN TOILET.

How to get Rested and Refreshed—The Value of the Bath.

1. A tepid bath of twenty minutes' length and a shower bath of five.

2. A rest for thirty minutes.

3. Face, throat and neck subjected to a gentle friction of elder flower water, mixed with a half a goblet of warm water. This removes all impurities from the pores and gives the surface a clear, ivory hue.

4. Scented orris powder rubbed in the hair and brushed out again, being careful to remove all traces of it from the temples and nape of the neck.

5. A delicate creme, similar to cold cream, the juice of lettuce being the chief ingredient, laid over the face, neck and hands. After ten minutes remove with a fine linen cloth. This is said to obliterate traces of the contraction and weariness of the features incident to society or stage life. It is a delicate operation, neither to roughen the surface or make it red. It should leave the complexion polished and whitened.

6. Veloutine (a mixture of rice powder and bismuth, the latter giving permanency, and the former delicacy to the preparation) applied with great care, producing a clear alabaster whiteness, with a trace of lustre, yet showing no sign of any foreign substance.

7. The eyebrows are smoothed with a small soft brush, leaving a trace of farde Indian, and with a leather estampe a soft shadow is laid under the eyes to increase their brilliancy.

To follow the foregoing directions literally under all circumstances would be difficult. It is quoted here to give some idea of the manner in which age is concealed by people who have made concealment a fine art. To a practical person it may be simplified. We know that a bath is to refresh as well as to make clean the person. A sponge bath with a little bay rum or alcohol added to the water will both cleanse and refresh. The shower bath creates a glow; this can be obtained by the sudden application, after the bath, of a large towel wet with cold water, followed by friction and gentle exercise. Some people are too delicately organized for such heroic treatment. The half hour rest is no inconsiderable factor in the restoring process, and deserves special attention. If rightly taken it is a magic rejuvenator.—Werner's Voice Magazine.

The Paying Cow.

At a late meeting of the New York Dairy Association Mr. D. P. Wilton said: The paying cow of to-day must give milk ten months in the year. She must have good, comfortable quarters and plenty of temperate water. Some of my cows drink 320 pounds per day. The average dairyman feeds one pound of albuminoids to 10 pounds of carbohydrates and asks the cow to give him a product compounded of one pound of albuminoids to 4.4 pounds of carbohydrates. She will have to eat an excess of 11 pounds of carbohydrates to get the albuminoids. This is a dead loss.

CANADA TO RETALIATE

Sir Charles Tupper Addresses the London Chamber of Commerce.

LONDON, March 10.—The dinner of the Associated Chamber of Commerce was held in the Hotel Metropole yesterday.

Sir Charles Tupper, Canada's High Commissioner in London, made the speech of the occasion, concerning "Canada, her commercial resources." Canadian manufacturers and exporters, he said, were smarting under the hardships of the McKinley tariff and it would not be long before the people would show their loyalty to the integrity of the British Empire by striking the United States a vital blow in return.

Canada could send to England all the wheat and flour which the latter needed for her great army of factory laborers. In exchange Canada would take the manufactured articles of the Mother Country. Above all things, Canada wanted Englishmen from England to emigrate to her shores and with their muscle and capital work her vast undeveloped resources.

By her present policy Canada prevented Boston and New York from becoming commercial capitals, and with the aid of the Home Government she could still further encroach upon the prestige of these cities and make one of her seaports the greatest outlet in the world for grain.

LONDON, March 10.—At a meeting of the Associated Chamber of Commerce held yesterday the President said that the exports and imports during the past year had only decreased $4,750,000, but an examination of the details of the returns was not satisfactory, as there was a great decrease in almost every item of the exports, the deficiency being balanced by a large increase in the imports of food.

Undoubtedly the political and commercial complications in South America and the McKinley bill in the United States were largely accountable for the decrease.

It behooved England to cultivate closely her commercial relations with the colonies.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is a sure cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowse, Editor Enquirer, McArthur, Ohio.

Suing a Boodler.

NEW YORK, March 11.—John Keenan, the ex-politician, who fled to Canada on account of his connection with the boodle cases, is now on trial in a suit brought by George P. Upthington to recover $43,000 which he alleges he loaned to Keenan when he was at the height of his political fame.

The Northwest Blizzard.

ST. PAUL, March 11. After raging with terrific fury for 30 hours the blizzard passed on to the northeast, leaving in its wake intense cold, the mercury early this morning reaching 10 below.

As the fuller details of the storm are received it grows in magnitude and intensity, and fears are expressed that there may be greater loss of life.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents a package. dw

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile. dw

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

When Nature Smiles Again.

When nature smiles again in the mild spring days, mankind often groans from the effects of bad blood and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove the cause of all the trouble by purifying your blood with nature's remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood searcher and tonic ever discovered. dw

The Happy Colored Family

We are a happy, joyous throng,
The call us Diamond Dyes;
From day to day we march along
'Neath bright and cloudy skies.

We are a color'd family,
Some dark and others fair;
No two of us are just alike,
Yet all beyond compare.

O'er Canada we scatter wide
Our school of trusty dyes;
The ladies in us all confide—
Greet us with loving eyes.

We make no strikes for shorter time,
Or system of eight hours;
We're always ready for a dime
To show our wondrous pow'rs.

At early morn, with great delight
We're ready for the fray;
And do our work as well at night,
As we can do by day.

We are so brilliant, fast and pure,
Have hearts true to the core,
We never flirt, our love is sure—
The ladies ask no more.

The merchant's and the farmer's wife
Make use of us each day;
The pastor's spouse declares that life
Is blank when we're away.

Canadian girls young and fair,
Are charmed by our dash,
And often seriously declare
That we have made a mash.

To mansion, hall, and cottage plain,
We carry mirth and glee;
And always manage to retain
A life of purity.

March millinery is the great topic of conversation among women these days. There is a great variety in beaver, velvet and fur hats and caps, and some pretty as well as fashionable ones follow.

SILK BEAVER HAT.

The accompanying model will suit a young lady or married woman; it is silk beaver, like gentlemen's tall hats, rather short-haired, and of a lovely, lustrous-gray color. The brim is covered with velvet just a shade darker, and the unique trimming consists of gray feathers of two shades, with a few stiff black feathers standing up among them. This pretty hat may also be worn for half mourning.

The harmonious colors in the accompanying new hat are especially worthy of remark. Mignonette colored velvet lined with pink plush, pink bows, and feathers shaded from green to the palest pink are the charmingly well-selected materials.

HANDSOME HAT.

Another dainty affair looks partly like a bonnet; its soft crown resembles the toque hat. It is made of old blue velvet, lined with bright rose color; black ostrich feathers and black velvet strings harmonize well with the colored velvet.

FUR AND VELVET CAP.

We conclude our survey of new millinery with a fur and velvet cap admirably suitable for a bright young face. The brown plush or velvet crown is draped in folds finished off by a fancy, high, Byzantine algrette in front, the lower part of which is incrusted with small turquoises and garnets. The rim is natural colored beaver. We would advise our readers to wear a brown plush jacket with beaver trimming and collar to this soft warm cap.—March Season.

RED RIDING HOOD.

The Nursery Story Put Into a Play For The Children.

One nursery story requires to be strengthened by others is the notion of the modern children's dramatist.

MRS. THOMAS.

The latest exponent of this idea is Mrs. Thomas, Archdeacon Farrar's daughter, whose little play of "Red Riding Hood" was set before an approving London audience a few days ago.

The familiar legend of Red Riding Hood's ill-starred visit to her grandmother was interspersed with passages from the lines of the "Old woman who lived in a Shoe," "Mary, Mary, quite contrary," "Little Bopeep," and the "Babes in the Wood," whilst sylvan fairies obliged with a song or dance as occasion required.

The performers were almost all quite little folks, and most of them entered into the fun of their parts with evident enjoyment. The wolf (Mr. Henry Maurice) roared with such a splendidly realistic effect as quite to upset the nerves of a tiny actor of three, who succumbed to the terror of the situation and retired behind the scenes in tears. The fairest dresses, as buttercups and daisies, roses and bluebells, were extremely pretty, and the nightgown and slipper dance of the old woman's numerous progeny was a novel feature.

Silk Notes and News.

A golden sun with radiating rays in all directions is handsome on a white China ground.

One of the most exquisite broches shown here is ivory-white brocaded with pink blossoms veined and outlined with silver.

Nacre moire is one of the few novelties that improve with familiarity. Each time it is seen new beauty and extra shades appear to the eyes.

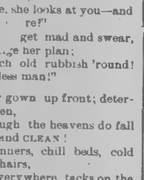
Worth expresses a fondness for white satin brocaded with silver for wedding gowns, and for black broche trimmed with lace and jet for "quiet" afternoon wear.

The white Chinas covered with satin petite pois make dainty evening gowns for the buds of society affecting simplicity.

Shrimp pink is not a fashionable or novel shade, yet it sells every season on the merits of its own beauty.

Green roses are commonly supposed to belong to the unobtainable, yet we find large cabbage roses in green tints, without stem or leaves, upon a rich black satin ground.—Dry Goods Economist.

The Duke of Clarence's Nurse.



SISTER VICTORIA.

The Princess of Wales has taken a strong fancy to Sister Victoria, the nurse who cared for the late Duke of Clarence during his illness. She was at the deathbed, of course, and through the long days preceding the funeral she watched over the stricken mother as tenderly as only a sympathetic woman could. The difference in rank was forgotten, and Sister Victoria is said to have won a lasting place in the heart of England's future Queen.

A Woman and Printers' Devils.

Mrs. Hodgson-Burnett, the popular authoress, sailed for America last week. On Saturday before sailing she presided at the opening of the new premises in Drury lane for the "Printers' Devils" Club reading-room, presented by her as a memorial of her deceased son. A circular from Mrs Burnett was distributed among the 75 boys belonging to the club, urging them to lead good lives and make the best use of their brains, hearts, and hands.

Moisture-Proof Walls.

Coal tar has recently come into extensive use abroad as a means of rendering masonry impervious to water, especially in positions exposed to direct contact with water. The tar is employed in a boiling state in one or more layers, or it may be made to flame up before being used. The first is suitable for surfaces exposed to the air, while the second is appropriate to parts intended to be covered up.

This method of treating foundations is of special application in all public buildings, especially those designed for the preservation of works of art. It prevents the disagreeable consequences of the exudations of water charged with lime salts from the mortar.

Spring House-Cleaning.

The sweetest woman in the world becomes a terror when
The season comes which tries the souls of all home-loving men;
When soap and wet and slop and steam and dire confusion reign,
And to the god of cleanliness she dedicates her brain—
'Tis then man feels that marriage may a direful failure be,
And in his secret soul, perhaps, he wishes he were free.

She tears the carpets up with vim, and wields this lusty brush;
The cat puts up her fuzzy back and vacates with a rush!
The dog, with tail half mast, skulks out and hides himself away;
He knows the racket she is on will last for many a day;
The sage old spiders save their lives by fleeing to the cracks,
And all the flies that wintered through fall prone upon their backs.

All your old coats and easy shoes, and hats that fit your head,
The magazines you've just looked through and circulars unread,
She sells for "junk;" and when you ask, with mild and pensive air,
Where they have gone, she looks at you—and echo answers "Where?"
And though you get mad and swear, it won't change her plan;
She "won't have such old rubbish 'round! just like a shiftless man!"

And then she pins her gown up front; determined is her mien,
Which says that though the heavens do fall she shall go on and CLEAN!
Cold rooms, cold dinners, chill beds, cold sofas, ice-cold chairs,
A smell of varnish everywhere, tacks on the slippery stairs!
Wet rags waylay you at each turn, cold winds run riot through
The empty halls—she's airing off, her nose congealed and blue!

She skins her knuckles, tears her nails, her head and body ache,
But she is happy, for she knows her house would "take the cake!"
No nook or corner has escaped, stern order settles o'er
That domicile, from attic down to clean-swept cellar floor!
And though that woman's almost dead, her forehead is serene,
Because she knows, let come what may, that house of hers is clean!

We are daily turning out of our work rooms SABLE COLLARS in the newest shapes. The latest shape is the new "Van Dyke Collar," which has met with such favor in New York. Now is the time to leave your order for Christmas Furs.

CANADA TO RETALIATE

Sir Charles Tupper Addresses the London Chamber of Commerce.

LONDON, March 10.—The dinner of the Associated Chamber of Commerce was held in the Hotel Metropole yesterday.

Sir Charles Tupper, Canada's High Commissioner in London, made the speech of the occasion, concerning "Canada, her commercial resources." Canadian manufacturers and exporters, he said, were smarting under the hardships of the McKinley tariff and it would not be long before the people would show their loyalty to the integrity of the British Empire by striking the United States a vital blow in return.

Canada could send to England all the wheat and flour which the latter needed for her great army of factory laborers. In exchange Canada would take the manufactured articles of the Mother Country. Above all things, Canada wanted Englishmen from England to emigrate to her shores and with their muscle and capital work her vast undeveloped resources.

By her present policy Canada prevented Boston and New York from becoming commercial capitals, and with the aid of the Home Government she could still further encroach upon the prestige of these duties and make one of her seaports the greatest outlet in the world for grain.

LONDON, March 10.—At a meeting of the Associated Chamber of Commerce held yesterday the President said that the exports and imports during the past year had only decreased $4,750,000, but an examination of the details of the returns was not satisfactory, as there was a great decrease in almost every item of the exports, the deficiency being balanced by a large increase in the imports of food.

Undoubtedly the political and commercial complications in South America and the McKinley bill in the United States were largely accountable for the decrease.

It behooved England to cultivate closely her commercial relations with the colonies.

"Ayer's Hair Vigor is a most excellent preparation for the hair. I speak of it from experience. Its use promotes the growth of new hair, and makes it glossy and soft. The Vigor is a sure cure for dandruff."—J. W. Bowen, Editor Enquirer, McArthur, Ohio.

Suing a Boodler.

NEW YORK, March 11.—John Keenan, the ex-politician, who fled to Canada on account of his connection with the boodle cases, is now on trial in a suit brought by George P. Uppington to recover $43,000 which he alleges he loaned to Keenan when he was at the height of his political fame.

The Northwest Blizzard.

ST. PAUL, March 11.—After raging with terrific fury for 30 hours the blizzard passed on to the northeast, leaving in its wake intense cold, the mercury early this morning reaching 10 below.

As the fuller details of the storm are received it grows in magnitude and intensity, and fears are expressed that there may be greater loss of life.

Ex-Mayor Robert Bowie, Brockville, Ont., says:—"I used Nasal Balm for a bad case of catarrh, and it cured me after having ineffectually tried many other remedies. It never fails to give immediate relief for cold in the head." This is the experience of thousands in all parts of the Dominion. There is no case of cold in the head or catarrh that will not yield to Nasal Balm. Try it. Beware of substitutes.

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

To be free from sick headache, biliousness, constipation, etc., use Carter's Little Liver Pills. Strictly vegetable. They gently stimulate the liver and free the stomach from bile. dw

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

When Nature Smiles Again.

When nature smiles again in the mild spring days, mankind often groans from the effects of bad blood and kindred troubles engendered by the long hard winter. Remove the cause of all the trouble by purifying your blood with nature's remedy, Burdock Blood Bitters, the best blood searcher and tonic ever discovered. dw is in store for all who use Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs, the great guaranteed remedy. Would you believe that it is sold on its merits and that any druggist is authorized by the proprietor of this wonderful remedy to give you a sample bottle free? It never fails to cure acute or chronic coughs. All druggists sell Kemp's Balsam. Large bottles 50 cents and $1. dw

If An inactive or torpid liver must be aroused and all bad bile removed. Burdock Pills are just for old or young. dw

The Happy Colored Family

We are a happy, joyous throng,
The call us Diamond Dyes;
From day to day we march along
'Neath bright and cloudy skies.

We are a color'd family,
Some dark and others fair;
No two of us are just alike,
Yet all beyond compare.

O'er Canada we scatter wide
Our school of trusty dyes;
The ladies in it all confide—
Greet us with loving eyes.

We make no strikes for shorter time,
Or system of eight hours;
We're always ready for a dime
To show our wondrous pow'rs.

At early morn, with great delight
We're ready for the fray;
And do our work as well at night,
As we can do by day.

We are so brilliant, fast and pure,
Have hearts true to the core,
We never flirt, our love is sure—
The ladies ask no more.

The merchant's and the farmer's wife
Make use of us each day;
The pastor's spouse declares that life
Is blank when we're away.

Canadian girls young and fair,
Are charmed by our dash,
And often seriously declare
That we have made a mash.

To mansion, hall, and cottage plain,
We carry mirth and glee;
And always manage to retain
A life of parity.

Cabinet Reconstruction.

A popular topic is cabinet reconstruction, which really does not concern the public so much as the reconstruction and cleansing of the human system against the approach of spring. The premier medicine for this purpose is Burdock Blood Bitters, and both parties recognize it as the best blood purifier and general system regulator known. dw

"August Flower"

Perhaps you do not believe these statements concerning Green's August Flower. Well, we can't make you. We can't force conviction into your head or medicine into your throat. We don't want to. The money is yours, and the misery is yours; and until you are willing to believe, and spend the one for the relief of the other, they will stay so. John H. Foster, 1122 Brown Street, Philadelphia, says: "My wife is a little Scotch woman, thirty years of age and of a naturally delicate disposition. For five or six years past she has been suffering from Dyspepsia. She became so bad at last that she could not sit down to a meal but she had to vomit it as soon as she had eaten it. Two bottles of your August Flower have cured her, after many doctors failed. She can now eat anything, and enjoy it; and as for Dyspepsia, she does not know that she ever had it."

THE BATTLE OF _____ (?)

One of the most remarkable and terrible ever fought. The army of the general whose previous successes had terrified Europe was posted along the ascent with Hougoumont, and the general himself had taken up his stand in a farm house called the "Belle Alliance." The opposing forces were extended over an elevation in the Charleroi Road about two miles from the little village in Belgium which gave its name to the battle. Each commander was thus able to command a view of the whole field. The first general with better equipped and better drilled troops and unable to see the reserve force of the other was over confident. The second commander, supported by the brave old Prussian marshal, divided his troops into two lines and awaited the beginning of the battle. It was between eleven and twelve o'clock on Sunday the 18th of June, 1815, that the actual engagement began. The action opened with a brisk cannonade on the house and wood of Hougoumont which were held by the troops of Nassau. The contest continued here all day with terrible fury, but without being able to expel the .....who, although the building had been set on fire, maintained their post amid the flames. Frightful slaughter and great loss ensued. Terrific and resolute attacks were made by the .....cavalry on the .....centre, and at six in the evening the allied army had lost ten thousand men. Their opponents had suffered still more severely losing fifteen thousand soldiers. Then the great general on seeing the .....sweep the old guards before them exclaimed:

"All is lost for the present," and rode from the field. The battle was over.

QUESTIONS:—1st. Name the battle referred to in above description. 2nd. What two nations were principally interested? 3rd. Give names of two principal commanders. 4th. Did defeated commander ever regain his position? 5th. Where did he die?

Toronto, February 2nd, 1892.

To Whom It May Concern:—

This is to certify that we have this day contracted with the publishers of the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY to ship for them two of the "Heintzman & Co's. Upright Pianos, Style D.," valued at $350.00 each, to the two successful contestants in their Prize History Competition, and have received their order for the same. Respectfully,

(Signed) HEINTZMAN & CO.

A Heintzman Upright Piano, valued at $350.00, will be given for the FIRST correct answers to the above questions and a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the next TEN correct answers received.

All correct answers are numbered and entered on our books as received.

$100.00 in Cash will be given for the correct answers to the above questions which is the MIDDLE one received during the Competition.

And a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the ten correct answers received next PRECEDING the middle one; DUPLICATE prizes will be given for the ten correct answers received next FOLLOWING the middle one.

A Heintzman Upright Piano, valued at $350.00, will be given for the LAST correct answers received before the close of this Competition.

And a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the ten correct answers received PRECEDING the last one.

Over $100 Given Away each Day in Special Prizes.

And the names of winners announced each day in the leading daily newspapers of Canada.

A solid gold watch will be given each day during this competition for the first correct answers received and opened at the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY office upon that day. A handsome rich glass Berry Bowl mounted on an elegant silver stand of the best quadruple plate, valued $16.00 will be given to EACH province and state daily for the first correct answers received and opened upon that day.

EXPLANATION:—As the Publishers of the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY do not consider it advisable that the names of the winners of either of the pianos should be announced until the close of this contest, no daily prize will be awarded for the first correct answers received on THE FIRST DAY; The sender of such necessarily being the winner of the first piano.

In awarding the daily prizes the second correct answers received from the province or state, which have carried off the solid gold watch for that day will be awarded the Berry Bowl mounted on a silver stand, this is to prevent the first recived from that province or state from securing both the watch and berry bowl on that day.

AWARD OF PRIZES:—A committee consisting of a representative from each of the six Toronto daily newspapers will be invited to act in the award of the prizes at the close of this competition. One hundred dollars in cash will be paid for proof of any unfairness or partiality in the award of the prizes.

CONDITIONS:—Answers must be accompanied by one dollar for six months TRIAL subscription to the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY which will be sent to any address in Canada or United States that contestant desires, decision will be based on the correctness of the answers rather than on the language used in answering. Answers may be mailed any time before May 15th, 1892, as the prizes are equitably divided over entire time competition is open, persons can enter at any time with an equal opportunity of securing one of the leading prizes. No corrections can be made after answers are mailed unless another six months trial subscription to the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY is enclosed with corrections. THE LADIES PICTORIAL C is an established and financially responsible publishing concern who offer the above prizes purely as a legitimate manner of attracting attention to their elegant sixteen page illustrated weekly. The purpose is to introduce it (on trial) into every possible home in Canada and the United States. It is intended to make each prize winner a permanent advertisement for the merits of the Weekly. Each daily prize winner is expected to secure from amongst their circle of friends at least two new six months trial subscriptions, and it is expected that every winner of a leading prize will renew their trial subscription for an entire year. By this plan we shall introduce the Weekly into at least ten thousand new homes, it is simply a business plan of increasing our circulation. If you have never seen the Ladies Weekly send three two cent stamps for sample copy. There is no other like it in Canada. Address, Renovation and Improvement.

Messrs. A. Mercer & Co. are about [illegible] on the corner of George and Hunter streets. The passer by cannot but observe the great improvement made by a thorough painting of the outside and a glance inside shows even greater effect. The improvements to the interior consist of several features. The removal of the old office at the rear gives considerable additional space and permits a readier admission of light from the side plate glass windows. The desideratum of increased light is further assisted by the general brightening of the walls and ceilings, and the repainting of the wood work in light colours. The wood ceiling has been painted a rich cream, the panels being marked with the moulding in walnut. The walls have been covered with a warm-tinted ingrain paper, with ostrich plume frieze to correspond, and the shelving and counter has been painted a dead white, the combination of light colours throughout giving the shop a bright cheery appearance. In sympathy with the improved condition of the shop, a splendid stock of new goods has been put in for the spring trade — a grand assortment of Scotch tweeds and west of England cloths. The gentlemen's furnishing department has also been filled with an exceedingly fine stock, and Messrs. Mercer and Co. are in a most favourable position for meeting the demands of their large circle of patronage. The painting and paper hanging was done by Mr. W. M. Regen, the paper being supplied by the Peterborough book store and Mr. Chilcombe did the carpentering work necessary.

Another Budget in the Rinks' Game—Peterborough Mighty Successful at Lakefield Yesterday.

Three rinks went from Peterborough yesterday afternoon to play at Lakefield to whom they surrendered such an ignominious defeat on Wednesday last. But this time a different story is told and the home rinks have fully retrieved the fame which they lost. The ice was not in any too good a condition, being rather shelly and rough, causing the polished stones to leap some three and four inches from the ice at times. Each rink played the customary twenty-two ends, and what is remarkable, each side got 11 ends each, and sixty-six shots. At the end of the tenth end the three rinks of the Lakefield were ahead by 20 shots but during the last twelve ends the score was exactly reversed and Peterborough rinks won by 20 shots. A large crowd of the villagers witnessed the match, which lasted three hours and a half, and also the defeat of their home curlers.

Following are the names of the rinks and their respective scores.

Peterborough.	Lakefield
RINK NO. I.
C N Brown,	T Bird,
D W Dumble,	Levi Payne,
Wm Salisbury,	Percy Strickland,
B M Denniston, sk. 26	Roland Strickland, sk 19

Majority 7 shots.

RINK NO. II.
R B McKee,	A Dion,
E B Edwards,	W Sharin,
R S Davidson,	T Wallace,
C McGill, sk.....21	J Charin, sk.....14

Majority 7 shots.

RINK NO. III.
A Sawers,	J Richardson,
T E Bradburn,	G Hilliard,
Sam Ray,	G Pumfrett,
T Rutherford, sk....20	G A Strickland, sk...14

Majority 6 shots.

Total majority for Peterborough 19 shots.

The home rinks returned to town at ten o'clock last night in one of Connor Bros.' carry-all sleighs. They had some rather difficult experiences in reaching Peterborough. The sleighing was very poor, and the shoes of the last "bob" were pulled off on the road.

NOTES.

Now that cold weather has set in the members are talking about playing the point game for the medal given by Mr. D. W. Dumble, vice-president. "Each man for himself" is the distinguishing feature of the point game.

It is fully expected that the Granites of Toronto will be down on Monday afternoon six rinks strong. A good match is expected by the home team.

The Toronto's are talking some of coming down on Tuesday to give the local brethren a brush at the "rearin' game."

News Nuggets.

Arrested for Robbery.

A man was arrested in Lakefield this afternoon by Constable Doidge. A warrant was sworn out for his arrest before County Magistrate Edmison this morning. The prisoner slept last Wednesday night at the house of Mr. James Robb, Reeve of Dummer. In the morning he decamped carrying of a pocket book containg $5 belonging to Mr. Robb's son. The prisoner will be lodged in the county gaol.

An Unlucky Accident.

A son of Mr. Wm. Bacon, baker, aged about twelve or thirteen years, met with a pair! accident at noon to-day. He was with his father delivering bread and was sitting on the seat of the sleigh, in front of Hill's grocery, when some derangement of the harness started the horse kicking, and before the lad could get out of the way one of the sharply-calked shoes struck his leg, frightfully lacerating the flesh and breaking the bone. The lad was carried into Mrs. Crilbbin's residence near by, and Dr. King attended to the injuries.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

The English Workingman and the Middle Ages.

An Exhaustive and Masterly Lecture Given in the Collegiate Institute Last Evening by Mr. Fred Heap, M.A.—A Large and Appreciative Audience—A First Class Programme Carried Out.

The fifth lecture of the series given this winter under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute Literary Society was given in the assembly room of the Institute last evening. There was a large and representative attendance.

Mr. Carter Fessenden, B.A., Headmaster, occupied the position of chairman. The first number on the programme was an instrumental duet by Misses B. Connell and A. Hall, which was charmingly executed. Then came a quartette composed of Misses Ciara Clark and Eva Wrighton, Messrs. B. Brooks and W. Ritchie, Miss Annie Patterson accompanist. This selection was loudly applauded and well rendered. The chairman then introduced Mr. Fred Heap, M.A., Classical Master, who gave his lecture on the "Workingman in the Middle Ages," a report of which is in type, but is unavoidably held over.

A humorous song by Mr. W. J. Drope, "The Tramp in the Nineteenth Century," delighted the audience, and was well rendered. The Collegiate Institute Club then rendered a chorus, Miss Annie Patterson accompanist. This brought to a close a most successful evening of entertainment and instruction.

It has been decided in view of other engagements that the sixth lecture of the course will be given on Friday next, March 18th, instead of March 25th. Mr. W. J. Drope, B. A., Commercial Master, will be the lecturer, and his subject, "Nebular Hypothesis."

Personal.

Mr. W. A. Campbell, barrister, Norwood, is in town to-day.

The condition of Mr. Wm. J. Thompson shows much improvement to-day.

Mr. W. H. Russel, lumberman of Vancouver, B.C., is in town for a few days.

Mr. E. Crickmore of Toronto is visiting Misses Strickland, Norwood, for a few days.

Mr. Jas. McIntyre, proprietor of the Oriental hotel, and Mrs. McIntyre, left last evening on an extended trip to British Columbia and California.

Mr. W. H. Holland, Inspector of the Manufacturers' Accident Company has been spending the past two or three days in town in the interests of his company.

Rev. A. Thom, pastor of Mark street Methodist Church, left this morning for Fenelon Fall where he will preach Sunday School anniversary sermons to-morrow. His pulpit will be supplied by Rev. Mr. McAdam of Fenelon Falls.

Dr. H. Spears, of Toronto, is in town registered at the Grand Central Hotel. He is negotiating to open up a drug store in the vacant shop of Bradburn's block. It is to be hoped he will be successful in establishing a drug store in Peterborough. The doctor will also carry on his medical practice in connection with the drug business.

Boundary Bridges.

Before the Private Bills Committee—Seymour must Care for its Own "Baby."

The private bill of the township of Seymour, providing that the bridge at Trent Narrows be declared a boundry bridge, came up for consideration before the Private Bills Committee of the Ontario Legislature yesterday. The reeve of Seymour contended that the bridge in question was originally a colonization bridge, erected partly by the Government and partly by the county of Peterborough and the united counties of Northumberland and Durham. On the other hand the representatives of these two counties contended that the bridge was never recognized by either of them as a county boundary bridge, that it was of no particular benefit to either county, and that neither wished to assume any responsibility in the matter. The contention of the counties being accepted by the committee the bridge was left upon the hands of Seymour township, to be by them maintained. The committee, however, accepted the principle of a bill to relieve both counties from responsibility, and the township also, provided that the latter pass a by-law closing the bridge.

Does "The Queen" Actually Give Away Pianos?

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Replying to several enquiries regarding THE CANADIAN QUEEN'S offer to give away one of Mason & Risch's high class Upright Pianos each month during 1892, we have received an order from the publishers of THE CANADIAN QUEEN for twelve of our Simple Uprights in solid birch walnut cases, our price for which is $325 each. These are to be shipped direct from our factory or salesrooms to the addresses supplied us by the publishers of the QUEEN. As far as the quality of the piano is concerned, every person with a cultivated ear for music knows what the Mason-Risch piano is, and the ones to be supplied to THE QUEEN are the same high grade as far as tone, etc., is concerned as the best we make. A sample of these prize pianos is on exhibition at our warerooms, 32 King Street West, Toronto, and can be examined by you or any of your friends at any time it suits your convenience.

Yours truly,

Bridgenorth.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

A ball was given at Mr. Wm. Fobert's hotel in Bridgenorth last evening under the management of Mr. Matthew Dean. About thirty couple were present, including a large number from Peterborough. The music was supplied by Mr. Wm. Boyle. Mr. Skinner was master of ceremonies. After the ball a grand supper was held. Those attending from town returned home at an early hour this morning after having spent an enjoyable evening.

BABY ONE SOLID SORE

Tried Everything without Relief. No Rest Night or Day. Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

My baby, when two months old, had a breaking out with what the doctor called eczema. Her head, arms, feet, and hands were each one solid sore. I tried everything, but neither the doctors nor anything else did her any good. We could get no rest day or night with her. In my extremity I tried the CUTICURA REMEDIES, but I confess I had no faith in them, for I had never seen them tried. To my great surprise, in one week's time after beginning to use the CUTICURA REMEDIES, the sores were well, but I continued to use the RESOLVENT for a little while, and now she is as fat a baby as you would like to see, and as sound as a dollar. I believe my baby would have died if I had not tried CUTICURA REMEDIES. I write this that every mother with a baby like mine can feel confident that there is a medicine that will cure the worst eczema, and that medicine is the CUTICURA REMEDIES.

Catarrh and Neuralgia

Good authority has said that "neuralgia is the cry of the nerves for pure blood." The prompt action of Hood's Sarsaparilla on the blood, combined with its toning and strengthening effect upon the nerves, make this a grand medicine for neuralgia and also for catarrh, etc. We commend this letter to all having such troubles, and especially to

Suffering Women

"For a good many years I have been suffering from catarrh, neuralgia and

THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The Farmer, the Lawyer, the Mechanic, the Doctor, should know his financial position. In the Dominion of Canada, every mercantile person is required by law to keep proper books of account. Young man or young woman before starting business, prepare yourself. Understand the various business papers. Possess good personal habits such as punctuality, attention to details, politeness, etc., and to these add a good BUSINESS EDUCATION and you will really have the KEY TO SUCCESS.

BURNED HIMSELF ALIVE.

A MIDDLESEX FARMER'S AWFUL SUICIDE.

He Saturates Himself with Kerosene, Ignites His Clothing and Burns to Death in Sight of His Wife, Whose Efforts at Rescue He Fights Off.

LONDON, March 14.—Mahlon A. Swartz, a man past middle life, deliberately poured coal oil over his person Saturday morning on the farm of Mr. Sol Dale, in the Gore of Westminster, a few miles southwest of this city, and applying a match thereto met death in its most terrible form.

Swartz at one time lived near Aylmer, where he was trustee of a church. A financial difficulty arose, and he lost considerable of his savings. Shortly afterwards he became an agent for an agricultural implement firm, and in this speculation he lost all his money, and was driven into a state of despondency.

He cut his throat with a jack knife in one of his fits of melancholy, inflicting a terrible gash, but was stopped by his wife before he had succeeded in making a fatal wound.

Yesterday morning, procuring a can of coal oil, the unfortunate man went a short distance from the house at the rear, and deliberately poured the contents of the can over his head and about his clothes, completely saturating them. He struck a match, applied the light to his coat and in a moment was in a blaze. The flames shot up above the tops of the surrounding trees and burned very furiously.

The writhing victim's cries brought out his wife, who hurriedly procured a quilt which she endeavored to throw about her husband, but he sternly warned her to keep away lest she also would be burned, and when she continued to approach him he fought her off and finally ran away until exhausted he fell down, and after a few moments of most excruciating agony death relieved him. The remains were burned to a crisp.

TO TAKE A PLEBEIAN WIFE.

The Kaiser's Brother-in-Law to Marry a Poet's Daughter.

BERLIN, March 12.—A stir has been created in the Imperial circle by the news that Prince Ernest of Saxe-Meiningen, who is a brother-in-law of the German Kaiser, is engaged to marry Marie, the daughter of the German poet, Wilhelm Jansen. It is, of course, a love match, and both the prince and the young woman are in Rome, safe from any interference on the part of the Kaiser or the reigning prince of Saxe-Meiningen. Prince Ernest was born in 1859, being the son of Prince George the Second of Saxe-Meiningen by his second wife, Fedora. His elder brother, Bernard, is married to the Kaiser's sister Charlotte.

The young Prince has his father's example in taking a plebeian wife, Prince George having married morganatically a woman named Helen Franz, whom he raised from obscurity to the title of Baroness of Helburg. This third wife is still living and the old Prince is said to get along with her very comfortably, and even the Kaiser treats her with respect. Miss Jansen is beautiful and has much of her father's genius.

PERRY'S BIG HAUL.

Now Stated That He Secured $27,000 in His Recent Exploit.

ROCHESTER, N.Y., March 12. Train Robber Oliver Curtis Perry secured $27,000 from the American Express Company's car, which he robbed in such a daring manner near Jordan three weeks ago.

This is the theory of Detective Linde in the employ of the express company, who has been hanging around Lyons since the robber was jailed there.

Detective Linde believes that Perry secluded the money under the stones of the barricade which he hastily constructed in the Wayne County swamp to defend himself from the armed posse of citizens, deputy sheriffs and railroad men on the Sunday of the robbery.

Stab Canada Here.

NEW YORK, March 14.—A Washington special to The Recorder says: Goldwin Smith of Toronto, who is in this city, says the policy of excluding Canadian goods from free transit in bond across the territory of the United States, if rigorously enforced, would bring Canada to terms inside of three weeks and would dispose of all this sealing business in short order. Great Britain had no interest in the continuation of the destruction of the seal. On the contrary, all her interest ran the other way. Canada herself had no very great interest in the matter, except a few Nova Scotians at long range and the British Columbians, who are reaping a rich harvest by the destruction of the seals.

Death Concealed in Froth.

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., March 14.—Recently John Stewart's pet dog died of hydrophobia. In burying the carcass some of the froth from the dog's mouth penetrated a wound on Stewart's hand. Soon after the unfortunate man was seized with rabies, and last night he died after suffering untold pain.

Active Spanish Anarchists.

MADRID, March 14.—Twenty armed men Saturday made an attempt to raid the city of Almagro.

They first directed their operations against the railroad bridge, which they partially destroyed.

The gendarmes are in pursuit of the Anarchists.

The Paris Anarchists.

PARIS, March 14.—Searches of house known to be occupied by Anarchists in Passy, Montrouge and other suburbs have resulted in the discovery that a number of trusted servants in large residence are members of Anarchist associations.

Scared by the rumors of a big Anarchist conspiracy a deputation of foreign residents of Passy waited upon the mayor to obtain information.

The mayor declared that there was no cause for alarm.

B. C. Indians to Vote.

OTTAWA, March 14.—The Dominion Government has decided to enfranchise the Indian population in British Columbia. The Governor-General's proclamation was issued yesterday.

GREAT MINERS' STRIKE.

THE INAUGURATION OF THE GIGANTIC BATTLE YESTERDAY.

Miners in Lancashire, Yorkshire, Durham and Cheshire Quit Work to the Number of Many Thousands — Belgian Shippers Sending Coal to the Tyne and to the Thames.

LONDON, March 14.—The great coalmen's strike was inaugurated in accordance with the plan of the Miners' Federation, which in its manifesto issued a few days ago declared that the holiday the men proposed to take was for the purpose of clearing the markets of the surface coal and for restricting the output in order to prevent the masters from using the low prices as an excuse for lowering wages.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the men employed in the mines in Lancashire, Cheshire and Yorkshire stopped work and the ponies were removed from the pits.

The only men at work now are surface men, pumpers, ventilator, attendants, etc., who the Federation have not called out.

In Durham mining work has also completely stopped. It was hoped until today that some sort of a compromise would be arrived at, but no agreement could be reached, and the strange spectacle presents itself of the employes quitting work in the masters' interest, for it cannot be denied that if any advantage is to be derived from higher prices, the mine owners, as compared with the miners, will reap the greater portion.

Belgian shippers are sending coal to the Tyne and the Thames, but they refuse to give any information as to the quantity they have shipped. The old collieries carrying these consignments are expected to arrive on Monday. The coal porters will attempt to prevent discharge of these cargoes and it is feared this will lead to a renewal of the dock troubles.

Twenty thousand miners in Nottingham quit work at noon Saturday. When they came out of the pits they brought their tools with them. The coal stocks in the Bristol district are already nearly exhausted. The miners there have also stopped work and as a result the price of coal has gone up four shillings per ton. Many manufacturers refuse to pay the price demanded and have closed their factories. In this respect the action of the miners is working greatly to the harm of the operatives employed in other industries. One of the results of the split that has occurred among the North Wales miners is that the men working in Flintshire will not go on strike, but will work no more than five days a week.

Wooden barricades are being built around the mouths of the various pits in Durham and none of the miners will be allowed inside these inclosures.

It is believed that at the conference to be held Wednesday next by the Miners' Federation, it will be decided to limit the holiday to a week and to restrict the output during the summer.

Many of the large industrial establishments in Leeds and Manchester and on the Teeside and tyneside and other places in the vicinity of the collieries dampened their fires when the operatives left their work Saturday afternoon. This means that work will not be resumed on Monday, the manufacturers refusing to pay the extraordinary prices now demanded for coal.

400,000 Have Quit Work.

The Miners' Federation will pay the men strike wages during the period of idleness; the only exception to this, so far as known, is the Durham miners, who will not receive pay. It will require a very large sum of money to pay the 400,000 men who, it is said, have quit work, even though they receive strike wages.

To recoup the drain the treasury of the Federation will be subjected to a levy which will be made upon the men as soon as they return to work.

Delegates from all the collieries in Durham met and finally decided that they would submit to no reduction in their wages. Durham and Northumberland miners are not members of the Miners' Federation but have an organization of their own, the National Union. The membership of the Federation is enormous. It comprises about 280,000 miners, of whom 200,000 are bottom workers, the remaining 80,000 being employed on the surface. The Federation delegates, who met some time ago at Manchester conference, represented 175,000 working miners.

The conference to be held on Wednesday next will take place in London. Hitherto most of the water used by miners and their families in household and other duties has been obtained from the mines. Pumps there furnished them with an abundant supply. It is now feared that a water famine will follow cessation of work. Women and children are procuring water from every available source and storing it in all manner and kind of receptacles in their houses.

The miners have plenty of coal, as the masters have allowed them to provide themselves with liberal supplies.

A British Columbia Murder.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 14.—At the adjourned inquest into the death of Mac Hunter, who was found dead, tied to the rock in her lagnio, George Smith gave evidence that he saw deceased at 8 o'clock the night before she was found dead. May Hunter wanted witness to lend her $20 to go to Victoria or Seattle to get girls for her place. The Hunter woman told witness she had only $22, and would have to pay the girls' fare over and did not want to be short. May Hunter offered witness a diamond ring worth $80 for a loan of money. Witness said he told the Hunter woman he had no money to lend, but would give her some in the morning. Witness was on his way next morning to give May Hunter the money when he heard she was dead.

Chief Houston stated in his evidence that the appearance of the body, bed-clothing and room indicated a considerable struggle, which might have lasted several hours before her death. Near the bed of the deceased was a bottle labeled "Listerine."

Physicians do not credit the theory that May Hunter was despatched by chloroform. Dr. C. J. Fagan, who held the post mortem, said he could find no traces of it. If she had died of chloroform her features would have been placid after death, but the features were distorted, which was pretty conclusive evidence that death was not caused by chloroform. Dr. I. M. McLean, who saw the body before it was cold, substantiated his associate, Dr. Fagan. Dr. McLean does not place credit in the chloroform theory, but is inclined to the theory that the deceased was murdered by suffocation.

A man and woman registered from Victoria at the Queen's Hotel the day before the murder. They left the same day. These parties tally with the description given by Sergt. Carty of a man and woman he saw acting suspiciously early in the morning of the day May Hunter was found dead.

The theory that the murder of May Hunter was connected in some means with the rear end of the half-breed found dead in the is gradley Hunter's place five months ago is gaining in the general opinion.

ERMINED TO DIE.

John Stevens Takes Poison and Whitefish Bay Takes His Throat.

RAT PORTAGE, Ont., March 14.—John Stevens, a foreman for the Keewatin Lumber Company near Whitefish Bay, Lake-of-the-Woods, attempted suicide by taking poison and afterwards slashing his throat with a razor. He cannot live. He cut with a account of his ungovernable temper all on Keewatin and his wife left him. He is at is said to be living in Toronto with family.

Her Fourth Set of Twins.

BIDDEFORD, Me., March 14.—The happiest man in Limington Saturday is George Gammon, a young farmer, who in the last 12 years has become the father of 10 children. Yesterday morning his wife gave birth to her fourth pair of twins, which with two children that came into the world singly make up the happy household. The mother is doing well.

Twins, 70, and Still Growing More Alike

NEW YORK, March 14.—Thomas Fassett Hibbard of 349 Pulaski-street, Brooklyn, and George Burnham Hibbard of Roundout, Ulster County, celebrated their 70th joint birthday at the home of the former yesterday. The men are twins. They were born at Rouse's Point, on Lake Champlain, March 22, 1822. They are exactly identical in appearance. Often the father would ask: "Which are you, George or Thomas?" During the 70 years of their existence they have grown even more alike.

The Sick Emperor.

BERLIN, March 14.—Emperor William is again confined to his bed. He has, however, read in person the usual daily reports of his ministers.

The bitter weather that has prevailed here for the past three days has retarded the Emperor's recovery from the cold with which he is suffering. The Emperor suffered a relapse last night which caused a postponement of the audiences set for to-day. His Majesty had a slight fever.

Mrs. Deacon's Daughters Taken Away.

CANNES, March 14.—Mr. Deacon sent representatives to Cannes Saturday with a power of attorney to take away his second and third daughters from their mother. Mrs. Deacon opposed the separation and a heartrending scene occurred. Mrs. Deacon then started for Paris. The other two daughters have gone to Genoa with their grandmother.

Russia's Next Military Manœuvres.

LONDON, March 14.—The next Russian military manœuvres in the neighborhood of Moscc, will be on a gigantic scale. Six army corps, under Gens. Obrutscheff and Dragomiroff will take part, besides the Guards and other cavalry, the whole reaching a total of 200,000 men.

It Was a Dynamite Bomb.

PARIS, March 14.—The investigation made by the police into the cause of the explosion that occurred at the residence of M. Benoit, in the boulevard St. Martin Saturday has developed the fact that it was caused by a bomb loaded probably with dynamite and scrap iron. Two persons were slightly wounded.

Immense Oil Works Burned.

LONDON, March 14.—The extensive oil works of John Eccles at Stockburn were burned Saturday. It burned with frightful violence and many firemen had narrow escapes from losing their lives in the flames. The loss amounts to many thousand florins.

Dr. Cairns Dead.

LONDON, March 14.—Prof. John Cairns, D.D.LL.D., principal of the United Presbyterian College at Edinburgh, and a well-known writer, is dead.

Well Known Specialist Dead.

COPENHAGEN, March 14.—Prof. Steenberg, the eminent specialist in mental diseases, died Saturday.

Thousands of Sheep Perish.

DUBLIN, May 14.—The farmers in county Tyrone have sustained severe loses through the heavy snow storms that have prevailed there. Thousands of sheep have perished in the mountains.

Died While Boxing.

BLUFFTON, Ind., March 14.—Last evening Charles Lesh and H. A. Sweltzer, young men, engaged in a boxing contest, when Sweltzer struck Lesh a powerful blow on the neck. Lesh died in five minutes.

A Report That the Canadian Pacific Will at Once Construct a Line.

MONTREAL, March 14.—A despatch from Winnipeg to a broker here, that it was the intention of the Canadian Pacific Railway to commence the construction of a line from St. Paul to Regina, in order to give the former city an outlet to the Pacific Coast, has caused considerable excitement here.

It is generally accepted as true, and the Canadian Pacific Railway officials, while not absolutely confirming the report, do not deny it.

Last summer the Minneapolis and Sault Ste. Marie, in which the C.P.R. is heavily interested, built a line through Dakota, crossing that of the Northern Pacific. This is the line which is to be extended in the manner indicated.

Incendiary Fire at Brampton.

BRAMPTON, March 14.—The furniture warerooms of Mayor Treadgold were gutted by fire yesterday. The Masonic lodge-room on the upper flat, which was elegantly fitted and ..., was seriously damaged by fire and water. The fire was the work of an incendiary. Mayor Treadgold was fully insured.

Popular Song Writer Dying.

BALTIMORE, March 14.—Nicholls Crouch, the author of "Kathleen Mavourneen" and other popular and famous songs, is dying at his home in this city. Professor Crouch is 84 years of age. His mind occasionally wanders and he hums and thrums the old songs.

Only Married a Few Months.

GUELPH, March 14.—Mrs. John Kelly, aged 26, who was married in July last, dropped dead Saturday.

DR. KEATING NO MORE.

Tragic Death of a Well-Known Guelph Physician Sunday.

GUELPH, March 14.—Shortly after midnight yesterday an alarm was sounded for fire at the residence of Dr. Keating, medical health inspector. On the arrival of the fire brigade they found the house filled with smoke and the doctor lying on the floor dead, a broken lamp lying beside him. The fire was quickly extinguished and the doctor's body removed. It is supposed he fell while carrying the lamp, and in falling struck his face on the lamp, as there is a severe cut on one cheek.

After a consultation of doctors later it was ascertained that the doctor had died from heart failure some time before the lamp exploded.

Doctor Keating was chairman of the Board of Health and of Education, and also a director of one of Guelph's financial institutions.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Our Railway Facilities Count.

The Chief Reason of Mr. Ackerman Removing His Factory to Peterborough—Port Perry Loses and Peterborough Gains a Good Citizen.

The following from the Port Perry Standard refers to Mr. B. F. Ackerman who will soon remove his harness factory to Peterborough. Our railway facilities were the chief inducement; for, the financial value of the exemption from taxation is in itself not a sufficient inducement. The advantage of being at an unexcelled railway centre and in a live town, with the best of educational and social facilities, had doubtless the chief influence. The Standard says:—

Mr. B. F. Ackerman caused a sensation in town this last week by announcing his intention of removing his wholesale saddlery business from here to Peterborough. The principal cause which led him to this decision is the want of better railway accommodation in the shipping of goods per freight to customers. The lack of competition at this point in this matter allows the G. T. R. to be negligent at times and local shippers are put to great disadvantage and inconvenience thereby. Mr. Ackerman also states that his business has grown so of late that he finds his present premises do not afford sufficient accommodation for him, and that he cannot fill orders as they come in unsatisfied. These difficulties he concluded, especially the former, stood a very poor chance of being remedied and he found it necessary to look elsewhere where he would not have such to contend with. The Peterborough council have promised him exemption from taxation and he has secured a three storey brick building, thirty feet frontage and seventy feet deep with a large one storey wing, well lighted and in close proximity to the C.P.R. and most suitably adapted for his business. He moves the first of May and will take all his men with him that can go, who with their families will add about fifty to the population of Peterborough. He proposes to manufacture extensively for the wholesale trade. His retail business here will be continued as heretofore unless he can find a suitable tenant for his store and shop. By his removal Port Perry suffers a serious loss that it will not recover from for some time. We trust, however, that he and his men may have no cause to regret their move.

Mr. Ackerman has been a citizen and a taxpayer here for many years. By industry and business tact and skill his business has developed from a retail to a large and increasing wholesale trade, giving employment to twenty or thirty skilled workmen, and now when the town needs such men and such institutions more than anything else we are about to lose him and his men.

Mr. Ackerman's removal will cause a vacancy in the Board of Education. Although only elected in January last his withdrawal from the Board is to be regretted, as he was sure to make a useful member.

The Port Perry Observer says that at the last meeting of the council a motion was adopted stating that this council learns with regret of the removal from our town of Mr. B. F. Ackerman, and being a large employer of labour we feel that his removal will be a great loss to the community.

Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice, especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The English Workingman in the Middle Ages.

Summary of Mr. Heap's Address on the Subject.

The following is a summary of the address of Mr. Heap before the Collegiate Institute Literary Society which was unavoidably held over from Saturday:—

The lecturer stated that by the middle ages he referred to that period in English history from the Norman Conquest down to the beginning of the Tudor dynasty, or from the year 1100 to the middle of the sixteenth century. He proposed to consider the workingmen during the period under two conditions, country life and town life. The central idea of mediæval life in general and of the country life in particular was the feudal tenure. This may be summed under the two fundamental features, first, except the sovereign, every holder of land was a tenant; second, rent was paid in the form, not of money but of services, and commutation to a varying amount of servitude. The highest case of tenancie comprised those holding immediately of the king, who in theory owned every acre throughout the realm and those hold immediately from those again. Their services were entirely military, and in addition these many "aids" "reliefs" "forfeitures" and "funds" were exacted. Below this class of knights were the freeman or franklins. Their services were farm services, and they were free from the knight's liabilities, except the oath of fealty. Lastly the great mass of the people were villians or serfs. Their work was far heavier and meaner and less definite and left them barely enough spare time to make their existence out of their little patch of land. In fact the serfs—more than one half the population—were born to the soil and to their lords without choice of either. As the use of money however came some of the serfs gained a measure of independence by gaining permission to commute more or less of their rent services into money payments. In this important change, however, the freemen led the way, and accomplished far more.

THE UNIT OF MODERN LIFE IS THE FARM,

while the unit of mediæval country life was the manor. First of all, unlike modern times in a given district, there was but one large lord, secondly, the particular form of their rent—personal service—made it necessary for the two classes of dependents to live close about their common centre, the landlord. The manor contained from fifty to one hundred persons. Of these, after the master and his bailiff, the most important was the rector. Besides his ecclesastical character, he was the doctor, lawyer, teacher and analyst, and his pay was correspondingly large. Furthermore, the rector was a farmer and cultivated a large portion of the land in person. There were but one or two craftsmen, the smith, the miller, the swine herder or shepherd, and often a single craftsman served two or three manors. Every house did its own weaving and tanning, and every farmer was his own carpenter. The lecturer then described the house and living of the country, referring particularly to its discomfort and unhealthiness." After all however, he said it is more than questionable if this novel as it is contemptuously referred to by the writers of the middle ages, was really worse than the abode of

THE MODERN WORKING MAN.

Again life was more social and public then than now, and consequently our home comforts and conveniences were much less missed than they now would be. Finally food was cheap and wages high. Some authorities claim higher, even, than modern wages.

Towns in mediæval times were both fewer and smaller than at present. Originally town land was held feudally just like country land. But very early the individual services were commuted for fixed money payments by the town as a whole. This change together with varying degrees of immunity from royal or manorial control and privileges and power for self government were bought up from time to time.

From the earliest times the regulation of trade and commerce had been delegated to the merchant guild and by it in turn divided amongst the subordinate craft guilds. This was fundamentally unlike any modern trades union, the guilds were not mere combinations behind the fullest legal authority over their respective spheres. Again they they differed in object as well as in power. This appears to have been first to protect against the capitalist and the alien competitor, and secondly to impartially secure a reasonable price and a reasonable wage. The admission to their trade monopolies which had been bought so dearly was guarded most carefully. The ordinary artisan received somewhat more than twice the cost of his board and lodging, clerks, attorneys, teachers and scribes rather less, while the clergy were the best paid of all. The guilds besides regulating trade and industry, were the benefit societies and next to the church in charity.

After touching upon the striking feature of mediæval trade and industry, the absence of intermediaries, the shopkeeper and the capitalist artisan, he summed up the general condition of the workingman in this period prior to the Great Plague, concluding that as compared with the laborer of to-day, he was rather better fed and better paid, but worse housed, and—what would in itself outweigh all other considerations, he was in the country at least a slave.

THE BLACK DEATH

and its effects in raising wages was then dwelt upon at some length. It carried off about one-third of the entire laboring population, whose wages had therefore to be raised in corresponding proportions. The landlord's statute of labourers designing to keep wages down to the old level was utterly futile. Further attempts of the landlords brought on that first strike, the Peasant's Revolt of 1381, which securely established wages at the new rate. From this time villanage and serfdom rapidly disappear. Two proofs were given if this increase in wages. By the close of the fifteenth century an immense amount of the land, about one fifteenth, had been bought up by the tenants, secondly the capitalist artisan now appears. This period of the fifteenth and first quarter of the sixteenth has therefore been named by eminent authorities.

THE GOLDEN AGE OF ENGLISH LABOUR.

The lecturer closed with a brief enumeration of the chief causes which during the Tudor period struck down wages from this high rate.

First and chief, the wholesale insecure of lands for sheep raising accompanied by the eviction of the greater number of the tenants.

Second, the dismissal of retainers upon the breaking up of the castles after the wars of the Roses.

Third, the dissolution of the monasteries which had been the chief support of the poor during all the middle ages.

Fourth, the dissolution of the guilds, and the confiscation of their properties; these it will be remembered were the great benefit societies.

Fifth, the shameless debasement of the coinage under Henry VIII and Edward VI. Prices were nearly treble, but wages little more than one-half.

Sixth, the inferior law of Edward VI prohibiting all meetings or combinations of laborers on the penalty for conspiracy.

Seventh, Elizabeth's poor laws, which entrusted the assessment of wages to the magistrates—in nine cases out of ten the employers themselves.

Nearly every one needs a good spring medicine, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is undoubtedly the best. Try it this season.

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

A BLOW AT BOOTH.

The General Alleged to Be Feathering His Own Nest

LONDON, March 12.—General Booth invited 2000 dossers and ex-criminals to meet last night in Grecian Theatre, City-road, to hear him explain the progress of his social scheme.

The condition of admission was presentation of a ticket to be obtained by passing the previous night in one of Gen. Booth's houses of shelter.

At the appointed hour a motley crowd gathered in force outside the building singing ribald songs and uttering coarse jests

Each person was presented with a meat pie on entering.

The building was soon crammed and General Booth was received with a storm of hisses when he stepped on the stage. The crowd became so noisy that the general could not make himself heard, and he was obliged to give up the whole program. There was a chorus of shouts of, "Go it, old sweater," "Chuck him out" and similar expressions, the opinion being that the General has been feathering his own nest.

The police ejected many of the noisiest and finally General Booth managed to make a short address to an accompaniment of hisses, cheers and derisive remarks to the effect that his shelters teemed with vermin.

"What a pity it is that his face is all pimples; He'd be very fine looking if 'twasn't for that,"
Said pretty Miss Vere, with a smile at the dimples.
Reflected from under the nobby spring hat—
As she looked as herself in the glass, softly sighing,
That she had for the young man a tender regard.
There wasn't the least need of denying—for every one knew it. "His beauty is marred by the frightful red blotches all over his face. I wonder if he couldn't take something to cleanse his blood, and drive them away?"
He heard what she said about his looks. It hurt his feelings, but he couldn't deny she told the truth. He remembered a friend whose face used to be as bad as his. It had become smooth and clear. He went to him and asked how the change had been brought about. "Simply by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," was the reply. "Take that, and I'll warrant you to get rid of your pimples."
He did so
His face became health and clear,
And next week he'll be married to pretty Miss Vere.

DOWN IN A COAL MINE.

HEARTRENDING TRAGEDY REPORTED FROM BELGIUM.

Over Two Hundred Miners Imprisoned in a Coal Mine and Suffocated by Choke Damp—Heartrending Scenes at the Mouth of the Pit.

BRUSSELS, March 12.—An explosion occurred Friday at the Anderlues colliery in a gallery 400 feet below the surface.

There were working in the mine 270 men. Of this number 40 escaped by means of the second shaft and 16 others were rescued in a terribly, and it is believed, fatally injured condition. It is feared that of the men in the mine 200 have been killed.

The explosion occurred at 8 o'clock this morning. It was very heavy and the shock caused by it resembled an earthquake.

The ground for a large area in the vicinity of the colliery rocked and trembled for several seconds from the immense force exerted by the exploding gases.

Houses were shaken to their foundations, windows were loudly rattled and smashed and crockery and other articles of household ware were thrown about and broken. The residents of the place were paralyzed with fear while these disturbances lasted, but they soon realized what the nature of the trouble was, their experience with similar visitations telling them another of those heartrending fatalities which every mining town sooner or later experiences had occurred in their midst.

Almost before the tremblings caused by the mighty explosion had died entirely away the inhabitants began to rush from their dwellings, and crowds of excited men and women and children, the faces of all blanched with the horror which possessed them, flocked to the mouth of the fatal pit, down which but a few hours before miners had been lowered to begin their dreary and laborious work in the bowels of the earth. Almost every family in the whole place had a relative or friend among the men employed in the mine and not a person in all the mining settlement but experienced a thrill of fear for the safety of some loved one when the ominous upheaval bore to their minds forebodings of their danger.

The scene around the pit soon became one of great excitement and anguished piteous shrieks and cries resounded on every side, as it was at first thought that every one in the mine had been killed.

Women in the surging crowd were especially loud in their lamentations as they realized that an awful explosion would likely bereave them of husbands, sons, fathers, brothers or sweethearts.

Searching for the Slain.

Just as soon as the overpowering and deadly fumes, which had been rushing up the shaft in stifling volumes, had been dissipated and it was thought that the pit could be entered with some degree of safety a willing band of hundreds of brave men volunteered to descend into the abyss and commence the work of rescuing those of their companions, if any, who might have survived disaster or bearing the blackened and torn bodies of killed to the surface. Arrangements were quickly completed for making a thorough search of all the chambers and galleries in the mine and the first batch of rescuers were lowered down the shaft amid cheers and prayers from bewailing women that their gallant efforts might result in restoring the imprisoned men to the arms of their families.

The searchers had to proceed with much caution, as the huge piles of debris which continually barred their passage had to be first removed before any advance could be made, and their own lives were always menaced by the possible fall of immense masses of coal from roof and walls, which had been considerably weakened by the terrific force of the explosion.

There was a long interval of waiting and suspense before a signal was received from below by watchers at the mouth of the pit that the rescuers had reached some of the miners and were ready to have them hoisted up.

The cries, prayers and shrieks of the anguished crowd were redoubled as the men at the windlasses at length completed their work and the limp and black forms of from 30 to 40 of the poor men were disclosed to the straining eyes of the weeping multitudes.

All the victims were either dead or badly injured, and the face of each was fearfully disfigured. Their countenances were smeared with blood and were completely black from volumes of smoke and dust which followed the explosion and were swollen out of all proportions. A great sweep of flame must have swept through the mine as the hair, beards and eyelashes of all the unfortunate men had been completely burned off, and in addition to cruel cuts and bruises they had received their bodies were horribly burned.

Kind hands bore the victims from the place and the wounded men, groaning pitifully at every step taken by their carriers, and followed by their sorrowing friends, were tenderly conveyed to the infirmary, which had been got in readiness for reception of a large number of patients which it was known would soon tax all the resources of the institution. A large staff of doctors and

Nurses had already arrived at the infirmary when the first batch of blackened and disfigured humanity was carried into the place and all necessary medicines and instruments were lying at hand ready to be used for the alleviation of the wounded men's sufferings

The crowd surrounding the mouth of the pit had constantly increased as the day wore on and news of the catastrophe spread throughout the surrounding country. People flocked from every direction and soon the place was packed with a mass of struggling, vociferating men and women, all endeavoring to get nearer the pit's mouth and catch a glimpse of the mutilated forms as they were slowly hauled up the shaft. All were desperately anxious to gain the slightest information in regard to the safety of relatives and friends, but in the great confusion and excitement which existed no definite or reliable news could be obtained.

A Crowd of Surging Humanity.

A large force of gendarmes, which had been hurried to the scene when the authorities learned of the disaster, were almost unable to cope with the unreasoning crowd, and it was only with the greatest difficulty that they were able to force a passage through the dense mass whenever a number of men bearing a stretcher containing a mangled form would pass from the mouth of the pit to the infirmary.

The crowd was mad with grief, and women, young and old, sobbing and shrieking in a most heartrending manner, struggled with all the energy of despair to force their way to the narrow human lane and catch a glimpse of the men as each successive batch of blackened bodies was carried through.

When some bleeding form was recognized a shriek more piercing than the other would rend the air and in many instances women fainted dead away as a result of the terrible suspense they were enduring and the horrible sights which their eyes met.

Nearly All Will Die.

Of the men thus far brought out of the mine alive only a few are likely to recover. In every instance the unfortunate men were bruised, torn and burned in a dreadful manner and were also prostrated by inhaling deadly choke damp, the base of every miners' existence, which poured in volumes through the mine, filling every crevice and vitiating the whole atmosphere.

The noxious gases which still prevail in the mine owing to the ventilator being destroyed by the explosion, thus cutting off all means of furnishing pure air, greatly retards the work of the rescuing parties, as it is impossible to safely breathe the heavy, overpowering air for any length of time, and there is constant danger of another explosion as fatal as the first one.

From the condition of the mine as reported by lifesavers hardly a shadow of hope is entertained that any of the miners who are still entombed in ther dreadful prison can survive, and this horrible state of affairs adds greatly to the overwhelming sorrow visible on every side.

The latest official estimate places the number of dead at 200.

The Ministers of Husbandry and Public Works are at the scene of the disaster, and are personally directing the operations of the rescuers.

Rev. Wm. Hollinshed,
Pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sparta, N.J., voluntarily writes strongly in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He says: Nothing I know of will cleanse the blood, stimulate the liver or clean the stomach like this remedy. I know of scores and scores who have been helped or cured by it.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient, action.

"German Syrup"

Martinsville, N.J., Methodist Parsonage. "My acquaintance with your remedy, Boschee's German Syrup, was made about fourteen years ago, when I contracted a Cold which resulted in a Hoarseness and a Cough which disabled me from filling my pulpit for a number of Sabbaths. After trying a Physician, without obtaining relief—I cannot say now what remedy he prescribed—I saw the advertisement of your remedy and obtained a bottle. I received such quick and permanent help from it that whenever we have had Throat or Bronchial troubles [illegible] in our family, Boschee's German Syrup has been our favorite remedy and always with favorable results. NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.
W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece; frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. P. ATWELL.

DEAR SIR,—For many years, I have been a firm believer in your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills." Not with a blind faith, but a confidence wrought by an actual personal experience of their value and merit. My business is such that I spend much of my time away from home, and I would not consider my travelling outfit complete without a box of Morse's Pills. Yours, &c.,

KNOCKING THE SPOTS OUT OF PRICES!

Some people may think that's rather a coarse way of putting the case, but, if it isn't very elegant, it is at least pointed and direct and it tells just what we are doing, so that you can't misunderstand it. We are knocking the spots out of price. 25 lbs. of Yellow Sugar for $1 00. 20 lbs. of Extra Granulated Sugar for $1 00. 5 lbs. of Rattling Good Japan Tea for $1 00. We are also selling a Tea for 40c. that you can't beat for 50c.

The Coming Event.

In reference to the treat promised our citizens, on the evening of Tuesday, the 22nd inst. The Goderich Signal says:—"Mrs. Sara Lord Bailey is a lady of prepossessing appearance and dresses in good taste. Her enunciation is clear and distinct, and in her dramatic recitals she is natural without being stagey. She showed herself especially proficient in her art in the "Engineer's Signal," some very clever imitations of the various whistles being given." Reserved seats can be secured after the 16th at Schofield's drug store.

OPERA HOUSE

A Small Fire.

This morning, Rev. Father Rudkins, returning from Port Hope, on entering the parsonage noticed a smell of smoke. He caused investigation to be made and it was discovered that a small blaze in one of the priest's rooms was the source of the smoke or fire. A Car Chemical fire engine which is kept in the hall was put into use and the Fire Brigade telephoned for, but before these had arrived the flame chemical had done its work and the incipient blaze was put out. A desk and book case standing near the window curtain where the blaze seems to have started had some of the papers burned. The fire was so promptly extinguished that the loss is slight. A ludicrous sequel to the little blaze was the fact of the genial engineer Mr. James English, being discovered with an incipient blaze in his coat pocket, the result of the hasty thrusting of a lighted pipe into his pocket, at the call of duty. A jocular clerical command to have the hose turned upon the engineer, caused attention to and the speedy extinction of the burning pocket.

Always Zealous of Good Works.

The Port Hope Guide of Saturday says:—"About twenty members of the different Y. P. S. C. E. societies of the town met in the Y. M. C. A. parlor last Friday evening to meet Mr. R. J. Colville, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A., Peterborough, and also an active endeavorer, who was in town attending the Carey Centennial in the Baptist church. He was met at the station by Mr. G. L. Edmunds, president of the Local Union, and Mr. W. H. Skitch, county secretary, who extended the invitation. Mr. Colville made a short address on practical endeavor work and expressed the pleasure it gave him to see the way the work was carried on in these counties by Mr. W. H. Skitch and Rev. B. C. Jones. Mr. G. R. Reid and G. L. Edmunds also gave short addresses. Mr. Colville is always a welcome visitor among endeavor circles in Port Hope.

A Word to the Wise.

Reason and Science admit that the irresistible craving for liquor, which causes a man to drink to excess, and makes of him an habitual drunkard, is a PERIODICAL DISEASE.

The organic decomposition of regular food produces the heat and gases which form the natural stimulant of the human system. Whenever a new supply of this natural stimulant is needed hunger calls for it. But if the organism has been used to replace this natural stimulant—either partially, or, in some cases, almost completely—by an artificial one, by an alcoholic stimulant, then an uncontrollable thirst for alcohol calls for fresh supplies of the same, and takes the place of hunger.

Habit is a second nature.—The organism which has been accustomed to the action of artificial stimulants is placed in a state of suffering by the sudden cessation or discontinuance of said action. This suffering is caused by the want and the privation of an artificial stimulant which has not yet been replaced by the corresponding action of an additional portion of the natural stimulant.

These physiological laws were unknown to Medical Science until Discovered by DR. H. H. DE PETERSEEN, who has based upon them another discovery, a godsend to Humanity, his Antidote for Intemperance, known since 1578 under the name of The Father Mathew Remedy, which has proved an unfailing cure whenever used according to the direction, and which should now be found in the office of every physician who claims to keep pace with progress.

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its wonderful tonic and nervine powers, and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unqualled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingler, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the almiswways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

Hockey.

The Ellisons and the "Shinney Club"—Two Conclusions—The Former Team a Victor.

On Saturday night at the Charlotte street rink, a hockey match of considerable interest and importance was played between the Ellison Hockey club and the Shinney Club. The electricians won by one goal to none. Mr. W. Wiggett referred the game to the satisfaction of both sides. The names of the players on each team and their positions are as follows:

ELLISONS.		SHINNEY.
Hawthorne	Goal	Parks
Lagran	Point	Layfield
Ellison	Cover Point	F. White
Roper	Forwards	Hunter
Taylor		Belsey
Foster		Holland
R. White		Geer

The game throughout was very hot and exciting. Both sides played an aggressive game and the honours of the playing were about equally divided. The Ellisons scored their only goal and victory about fifteen minutes after the game started. In the second half their opponents secured a goal, which was declared "off side" and not allowed. The match at the close stood one goal to none in favor of the Ellisons. It is probable the teams will have another "set to" again this week if the weather continues favourable.

The Ellisons and the Peterboroughs will play another hockey match on Thursday night. It will probably be the last time that they will clash sticks this winter.

Curlania.

The Granites and the Peterboroughs at the Rink. The Home Team in the Lead.

The Granites of Toronto arrived in town this forenoon at 11.45 o'clock. They came down five rinks strong and registered at the Snowdon House where they all took dinner. A number of the local curlers dined with them. The following are the names of those in the party:—

The score up to three o'clock as secured by the EXAMINER is as follows:

RINK NO. ONE.

H W Williamson,	Sam Clegg,
W C Mathews, sk...6	T Rutherford, sk....9

10 ends played. Majority for Peterborough 3 shots.

Total majority for Peterborough up to three o'clock 10 shots. The Granites only came down with eighteen men—that was all they could get together. The Peterboroughs gave them Messrs. Robinson and Sawers to complete the full complement of five rinks. The Granites return home on the 5:45 train this evening.

The Montreal bank challenged the Ontario bank to a curling match on Saturday night. The Ontario rink was skipped by Mr. John Crane and the Montreal by Mr. Arthur Strickland. The rinks played a sort of three cornered game," no second stone being in either rink. The score stood at the close 16 shots for the Ontario and 9 shots for the Montrealers, a majority of 7 for the former rink. It was a "snow under" for the Montreal boys.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs John Renfrew.

After a long and painful illness Mrs. Elizabeth McLean, widow of the late John Renfrew, died on Saturday at the residence of her son-in law, Mr. E. Peplow, 777 Water street, in the 89th year of her age. The deceased lady was a native of Argylshire, Scotland. She lived for several years in Glasgow, where she was married. She and her husband came to Canada in 1852, settling at Warsaw, in the township of Dummer, where they lived, with the exception of a short time spent in Peterborough, till 1880, when they went to live in Port Hope, where Mr. Renfrew died about six years ago at the advanced age of 84 years. Since that time Mrs. Renfrew has made her home with Mr. Peplow. The deceased lady was of exceptional amiability of character in private life and was a devoted member of the Presbyterian church. Her son, James Renfrew, was proprietor of the EXAMINER about thirty years ago, his death severing his connect on with it.

Does "The Queen" Actually Give Away Pianos?

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Replying to several enquiries regarding THE CANADIAN QUEEN'S offer to give away one of Mason & Risch's high class Upright Pianos each month during 1892, we have received an order from the publishers of THE CANADIAN QUEEN for twelve of our Stanio Uprights in solid black walnut cases, our price for which is $325 each. These are to to be shipped direct from our factory or warerooms to the addresses supplied us by the publishers of the QUEEN. As far as the quality of the piano is concerned, every person with a cultivated ear for music knows what the Mason-Risch piano is, and the ones to be supplied to THE QUEEN are the same high grade as far as tone, etc., is concerned as the best we make. A sample of these prize pianos is on exhibition at our warerooms, 32 King Street West, Toronto, and can be examined by you or any of your friends at any time it suits your convenience.

Yours truly,
MASON & RISCH,
Toronto, Ont.

Who Will be the Next.

The first prize piano offered by the publishers of THE QUEEN, was won by Miss Eva Watson, 66 Close Ave., Parkdale, Ont; the second prize piano was won by Edward W. Dowling, clerk in the Windsor hotel, Montreal; the third prize piano was won by Edward W. Gardner, 78 Sullivan street, Toronto, Ont.

The Queen's Monthly Puzzler.

If Moses was the son of Pharaoh's daughter what relation would Moses be to the daughter of Pharaoh's son?

THE QUEEN will give an elegant Mason & Risch Fine Toned Upright Piano to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant Gold Watch for the second correct answer; a China Dinner Set for the third correct answer; an elegant Silk Dress Pattern for the fourth correct answer; and many other valuable prizes, all of which are announced in this issue of THE QUEEN. A valuable special prize will be given for the FIRST CORRECT ANSWER FROM A READER OF THE PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER. Miss Mattie A. Cobb of Providence, R. I.

Undoubtedly many diseases may be prevented if the blood is kept pure and the general health-tone sustained by the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla. When this is done, the germs of

La Grippe, Diphtheria

Pneumonia, Scarlet and Typhoid Fevers, Malaria, etc., cannot lodge in the system. After all such prostrating diseases Hood's Sarsaparilla has been found of inestimable value in restoring desired health and vigor, and purifying the tainted blood.

For example, read the following from Miss Mattie A. Cobb of Providence, R. I., and her mother. Miss Cobb is a young lady of 18, a and is in the front rank in her studies in the High School. Her father is a well-known police officer:

"Messrs. C. I. Hood & Co.:

"I write to tell how much good Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. Sometime ago I had diphtheria and was sick for a year afterward, being

Weak, Blind and Helpless

I used one bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made me real strong." MATTIE A. COBB, South Chester Avenue, Providence, R. I.

"As my daughter wanted to write how well she liked Hood's Sarsaparilla, I thought I would say a few words. I think it is the

THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The Farmer, the Lawyer, the Mechanic, the Doctor, should know his financial position. In the Dominion of Canada, every mercantile person is required by law to keep proper books of account. Young man or young woman before starting business, prepare yourself. Understand the various business papers. Possess good personal habits such as punctuality, attention to details, politeness, etc., and to these add a good BUSINESS EDUCATION and you will really have the KEY TO SUCCESS.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

DEEPENING OF CANADA'S CANALS DISCUSSED.

The Scheme Does not Meet With a Favorable Consideration at the Hands of the Minister of Railways and Canals —Capital Chit-Chat.

OTTAWA, March 15.—It was fully expected that Hon. John Carling would have been introduced yesterday, but those who were on hand to see the little drama which will be enacted when the Minister of Agriculture is presented were disappointed. At the last moment he decided that he would wait until to-morrow, when Secretary of State Patterson was expected to be in the Capital, and the two presentations would take place on the same day.

Soulanges Canal.

The central incident of the day was Col. Denison's speech on his motion favoring increasing the depth of the Soulanges Canal to 20 feet and the debate that followed on it, in which the new Minister of Railways and Canals took part.

Col. Denison had come well prepared with facts to support his contention that the canals and channels between Montreal and Port Arthur should be so increased that vessels drawing 18 feet would be able to pass between those two points without transferring cargo, lightering or breaking bulk in any way. He said the whole history of our canals was that construction was scarcely finished before it was found that a greater depth was required. He took up the history of each canal and showed that it was a constant movement towards a greater depth, and he prophesied that the Soulanges Canal would be no more than finished before it would be found that it was yet in the requirements of the age. He pointed out that the Welland Canal was the only obstacle to the passage of vessels of 18 feet draught passing from the head of navigation on Lake Superior to the eastern end of Lake Ontario, a great and magnificent stretch of navigation. The obstacles then became numerous until Montreal was reached. He quoted figures showing the enormous value of the shipping of the upper lakes and the surpassing tonnage that yearly passed through the Sault Canal and the Detroit River. The value had been calculated at between $48,000,000 and $58,000,000, and vessels amounting to 23,000,000 tons burthen had navigated the Detroit River during 1890. On the other hand, it was found that the traffic on the eastern system of canals had remained stationary. He believed, therefore, it became a measure of national importance to increase the capacity of the eastern canals.

The Colonel read some interviews with Toronto vesselmen, in which the proposal to enlarge the canals was warmly endorsed. He was assured by competent authorities that there were no engineering difficulties to be met. I was merely a matter of m ney, and it was believed that the entire canal system of the Dominion could be made a uniform depth of 20 feet for an expenditure of from 50 to 100 million dollars. The enterprise was fully as important as the C. P. R.

Dr. Bergin of Cornwall warmly seconded Col. Denison's idea and traced the course of the St. Lawrence canals, claimmg that they could be deepened at a comparatively light cost.

Dr. Reid Thinks Differently.

Dr. Reid of South Grenville, who also represents a coast constituency, took a totally different view and went over the same trip that his fellow-physician traversed. He found, however, that there were insuperable difficulties in the way. The bottom of Old St. Lawrence is, he says, chiefly the hardest kind of rock. Moreover, he thought it was actually beneficial to change the grain from one vessel to another, as it prevented overheating. He would favor an increase in the length of locks, however.

George Macdonell of Algoma and Nicholas Flood Davin supported Col. Denison's motion.

Mc Haggart's Views.

Hon. Mr. Haggart agreed with the speakers who had preceded him that the enormous vessel traffic of the upper lakes was a matter for wonder, but anyone who examined into the matter would see that this traffic was largely a local traffic between the communities bordering on the upper lakes. He believed there always would be a natural and inherent distinction between ocean and lake navigation. Very careful investigation seemed to establish that for the general traffic of the lower lakes and the St. Lawrence the maximum depth should not be more than 16 feet. To deepen the Welland Canal to 20 feet would cost $35,000,000 alone The work on the St. Lawrence canals would cost at least $27,000,000. To deepen the latter system even to 14 feet would entail an expenditure of $15,000,000. Along with this it must be considered that the channels in many cases would have to be deepened. The work of deepening Lake St. Louis had cost a million dollars, nor was that the only task that would be imposed on them. Did the hon. gentlemen remember that there was not a harbor from Port Arthur to Montreal that would admit of a vessel drawing 18 or 19 feet? There was not a wharf on the St. Lawrence that the vessels could range up alongside of, so the magnitude of the task that they would assume could be in some measure estimated, and then there still remained the question whether there was any necessity for canals of such a depth. His own opinion was that the canals now being built would meet the needs of the country for many years to come. He promised, however, that the representations that had been made by the speakers would receive due attention and in the meantime he would ask Col. Denison to withdraw his motion.

Col. Denison then withdrew his motion.

The debate was listened to with consider able interest by the House.

The Estimates.

OTTAWA, March 15.—Finance Minister Foster laid the estimates on the table this afternoon.

The total amount asked for the various services out of the consolidated fund is $36,230,420, as compared with $37,807,790. The comparison, of course, is defective, as the supplementary estimates will doubtless more than make up the difference between the two sums. The decreases in the various services, however, exceed the increases by over a million and a half, which speaks well for the desire of economy that actuates the Government.

The estimated expenditure in connection with the redemption of the debt and on capital account is $5,317,760, making a total of $41,548,180.

Among the public works which appears in the estimates is the Toronto drill hall. For this work $40,000 was appropriated last year and this sum was not used. It has now been increased to $97,800.

Other Toronto expenditures on public buildings will be $4300 for pavements at the custom house, $1300 for alterations in the plumbing and heating of the examining warehouse, and $2500 for improvements in other federal buildings of the city.

Notes.

The press gallery elections took place to-night with the following result: President, T. P. Gorman, Ottawa Free Press; Vice-President, J. L. Payne, London Free Press; Secretary, W. J. Healy, Toronto Mail; Committee—R. M. McLeod, Ottawa Citizen; J. A. Ewan, Toronto World; A. J. McGurn and J. E. Atkinson, Toronto Globe; F. G. H. Williams, Montreal Herald.

A large delegation arrived in the city today to interview the Government with a view to get the close season for fishing abolished on the shore of Lake Erie in the vicinity of Essex, from where they came. The delegates are headed by Mr. Wigle, ex-M.P., who hails from Leamington. Mr. Killackey, who ran against Mr. Campbell in Kent, also accompanies the delegates.

The first decision in Manitoba has been given in respect to the Act of the Provincial Legislature abolishing French as an official language in the province. This morning Mr. La Riviere, who represents Provencher in Parliament, received information that in the County Court of La Veredrye one of the briefs handed in was in the French language. The opposing counsel argued that this was illegal, since the Legislature had abolished the use of French officially. Judge Prudhomme decided that the Act was ultra vires, as the Legislature had no power, under the 22rd section of the Manitoba Act, to abolish either of the official languages. The Manitoba Government will no doubt appeal from Judge Prudhomme's decision.

METADORES KILLED IN THE RING.

Two of Them Gored to Death During the Mexican Pre-Lenten Festivities.

GUANAJUATO, Mexico, March 15.—During a bull fight on Mardi Gras Day there was a great bull fight here, in which more than 50 men participated and about 20 bulls were killed.

During the afternoon fight a particularly ferocious bull unhorsed a matador and gored him to death.

The other matadores attacked him, when the bull made another charge, and this time he killed both horse and rider. The other matadores refused to go on and the bull was sent away to be used some other time.

MINERS' TYRANNY.

In Consequence of the Colliers' Strike Thousands of Artisans Are Thrown Out of Employment.

LONDON, March 15.—A member of Parliament cables: Seldom of late years has there been a greater cause of anxiety than on the score of the immense coal strike. It enlarges its area every day, and workmen in all sorts of industries are thrown out of employment in consequence. It is one of the most important events that has occurred in England in modern times. Ironworks and cotton mills are being closed, furnaces blown out and railroads are discharging their hands. If this disaster had been brought about by capitalists or employers we should now be on the eve of a revolution, but it is entirely owing to workingmen themselves.

Greedy Workmen.

It is purely and essentially a labor movement, beginning with a section of colliers who desired to raise the price of coal by producing an artificial scarcity. Not only have they caused enormous suffering among the poor during this inclement season, but they are depriving thousands of their own class of the very means of subsistence. In the whole history of the labor world nothing is found equal to this. It will open the eyes of the country to the complete mastery labor has obtained over capital and to the terrible dangers which are involved in the new despotism now firmly established.

A THREATENED STRIKE.

The C.P.R. Company Dismiss all Sympathizers Therewith.

WINNIPEG, March 15.—The Canadian Pacific management, finding evidence that a conspiracy had been formed, partly through outside influences, to bring about a strike of its conductors and brakemen on its western division, decided on Saturday to dismiss all who were found to be disloyal, and the dismissals commenced Sunday at noon, every man refusing to stand by the company being promptly paid off.

Some delays were caused to trains, but all of them have been kept moving, and nine emigrant trains which left Port Arthur for Winnipeg Sunday and Sunday night were got through without difficulty.

The dismissals resulted in vigorous efforts on the part of the leaders and the discharged men to induce the others to quit work, but so far without success.

The company claims to have enough available men to move all its principa trains, and therefore not much further trouble is feared.

A HEAVY SETTLEMENT.

An Insurance Suit Arising Out of a Death From Lockjaw.

BROCKVILLE, March 15.—At the Assizes yesterday the court room was crowded to listen to a civil action brought by Mrs. Arbuckle of Merrickville to recover the amount of insurance held by her late husband in the Citizens', Manufacturers' and Canada Accident Insurance Companies for $25,000.

Arbuckle, who was in the mill business at Merrickville, died from lockjaw, and the insurance companies claimed that-this resulted from deceased unnecessarily exposing himself.

An interesting trial was looked forward to, but it was announced soon after the court opened that the case had been settled.

It is understood Mrs. Arbuckle receives $20,000.

CUT HER UP FOR BAIT.

Fearful Revenge of a Trinidad Coolie on His Unfaithful Spouse.

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad, March 15.—On the Dinley estate near here a coolie farm hand suspected his wife of intimacy with a white overseer, and openly charged her with infidelity. She fled and took up quarters with the overseer. Next day the husband came into town and bought a number of presents, with which he persuaded his wife to return to his bed and board.

In the afternoon they went up the river in a canoe to fish. At 6 o'clock he returned with a boat load of fish, but minus the woman.

Asked where she was he exhibited a bloody knife and said that he had cut her up for fish bait. He is now in jail awaiting trial for murder.

The Orleans Divorce Case.

LONDON, March 14.—The court here has dismissed the appeal of the Duke of Orleans against the order directing him to prove that Madame Melba, the well-known singer, whose husband, Capt. Armstrong, is suing her for divorce, naming the Duke of Orleans as co-respondent, is domiciled in Ireland.

The order was made in consequence of the Duke's plea that Mme. Melba is not domiciled within the jurisdiction of the English courts, but that her true domicile is in Australia.

The court also refused to appoint a commission to visit Australia for the purpose of taking evidence there.

Mrs. Osborne May be Released.

LONDON, March 14.—Mrs. Osborne, after her sentence Thursday, developed hysteric catalepsy so seriously that her condition became critical and her husband was permitted to visit her. Friends hope to obtain a medical certificate to the effect that a prolonged imprisonment is certain to cause the death of Mrs. Osborne. The birth of her child is expected in June.

To Sue Prince Michael.

DETROIT, March 15.—H. Cobley of Norway, Ont., who recently regained his boy from the Flying Roll disciples, has sent a bill for $129 to Prince Michael and threatened to sue if it is not paid within a week. It is for the services of his son Charles from Jan. 21 to March 3, his expenses in coming after the boy, loss of time, etc.

Nothing Saved But Their Lives.

PORT HOPE, March 15.—The residence of Robert Rankin, Hope-street, was destroyed by fire on Sunday morning. The origin of the fire is not known, the family being aroused from their sleep just in time to escape with their lives. The property was insured for a small amount.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE BILL TO REDUCE COUNTY COUNCILLORS.

Mr. Hardy Explains the Most Salient Points in the Act—The Insurance Bill Now Before the House—Mr. Balfour and the Ladies.

TORONTO, March 15.—In presenting a bill providing for a reduction in the number of county councillors for its first reading Mr. Hardy made a lengthy speech, in which he explained a large number of the most salient features of the legislation asked for. He prefaced his observations by stating that the work relegated to county councils, most of which was of an unimportant character, could be just as thoroughly, effectively and efficiently performed by a body composed of 13 or 16 members as by one of 50 or 60.

Mr. Hardy then proceeded to give statistics in support of this contention. These were collated by a certain state in the Union, which had at that time contemplated passing legislation analogous to that now being presented. The figures showed very clearly the consensus of opinion in regard to the matter, and in his humble estimation demonstrated that, in a community where the subject had been given mature consideration, the large preponderance of opinion, in many instances amounting to unanimity, was in favor of reforming the then existing state of affairs, conditions almost collateral to those prevalent in the province of Ontario.

The people, he continued, were to be the judges as to whether the provisions of the bill should be enacted in their county or not. At the next election the question would be submitted to the people. Where the number of councillors were less than 13 the clerk would take this action irrespective of the wish of the county council.

Mr. Hardy concluded his remarks by stating that there might be defects in the measure. He apprehended there were. If any member discerned these and had any suggestions to make in order to secure its better working they would receive, he was sure, the best consideration of the House.

Give Them More Work to Do.

Mr. Meredith thought that the legislation sought to be enacted was of too rabid a character to meet with the acceptance of the populace as the hon. gentleman evidently expected. In his opinion, it would be found eventually a dead letter on the statutes. The Commissioner of Crown Lands, he continued, had, during the progress of his speech, minimized the importance of the work transacted by County Councils. The Opposition, he asserted, had offered a better remedy than that provided in the measure submitted. It had proposed, on a former occasion, to give these bodies more work to perform. He wished to know whether the bill provided any means whereby any county, accepting its provisions at the next election, could, if they were not found workable or acceptable, return to the present condition.

Mr. Hardy in reply stated that a clause similar to that mentioned had been considered by the Government in formulating the measure, but had been purposely left out as being in many respects inimical to the best interests of the people whom it was intended to benefit.

Mr. Smith's (York) bill to amend the law respecting assignments and preferences by insolvent persons passed its second reading. The mover briefly outlined its provisions.

In response to Mr. Meredith's query as to when a return would be made in regard to the Upper Canada College matter, Mr. Ross replied that he would be able to submit it in a few days.

Single Tax At Issue.

A single tax bill was presented by Mr. Stratton. It received its first reading. The bill is intended to grant municipalities the right to exempt from taxation, either wholly or partly, all incomes, personalty, buildings, machinery and other products of labor. The bill applies to both rural and urban municipalities. Several municipal corporations have petitioned for such powers, among them the town of Peterboro' in Mr. Stratton's constituency. The village of East Toronto, in its application for incorporation as a town, asks for privileges similar to that granted in the bill. The City Council of Toronto decided to apply for similar powers at the present session of the Legislature, but reconsidered the bill before it was drafted. Mr. Garson, the defeated member for Lincoln, introduced legislation of a similar nature during last Parliament, and was induced to withdraw it, as the House had not considered the matter. The change permitted by the bill cannot be made by any municipal council until it has been approved of by a vote of the qualified electors.

Women as Litigators.

Mr. Balfour, judging by a bill he submitted to the House, is an ardent woman's righter. It is entitled "An Act to Provide for the Admission of Women to the Study and Practice of Law." The bill is short, but at the same time comprehensive. It contemplates extending to women the privileges at present conferred upon men, and its one clause reads as follows: "Where the words 'person' or 'persons' occur in the Act Respecting Barristers-at-Law and the Act Respecting Solicitors, the same shall be construed to mean and include persons of the female sex as well as persons of the male sex."

Notes from the House.

A deputation of gentlemen interested in insurance companies was introduced to the Provincial Secretary yesterday. It was composed of: Mr. James Beaty, Q.C.; Mr. W. C. Macdonald, Mr. W. F. Benton of Hamilton, representing the Canada Life and Standard Life, and Mr. Orr the Ætna. Mr. Howard Hunter, inspector of insurance offices, was also present. The object in view was to urge upon the Government the advisability of making the bill respecting insurance companies more stringent.

A deputation was introduced by Mr. Wood of Brant to the Provincial Secretary. The latter was interviewed regarding his insurance bill. Among the members of the deputation were: Hon. Mr. Root of Omaha, W. L. Campbell, D. Harrison and E. R. Laing, Brantford, and Messrs. Tuscombe and Crandell of London.

Still another deputation waited upon Mr. Gibson for the purpose of protesting against certain clauses in the insurance bill now before the House. It was headed by the Hon. John Root, Omaha, founder of the Order of Woodmen of the World. The bill provides that foreign societies of this nature which began business in Ontario prior to 1890 shall be allowed to register, but all those that began business since may not. The deputation explained that they began business a few months later than the time specified in the bill, but that they had a membership of over 700 and 16 camps and would consider it very hard if they should be compelled to stop business. Mr. Gibson said he would consider what had been said.

To-day a deputation from Bracebridge will wait upon the Government in reference to securing a grant for the Bracebridge and Trading Lake Railroad. It is 13 miles in length connecting the two points mentioned above, and those interested expect to receive $3500 a mile—the usual bonus granted to colonization roads. Those composing the deputation are: Alfred Hunt, S. B. Armstrong, D. Bastedo, H. McQuarrie, Robert Perry, Hewart Lount and J. D. Shire. These gentlemen intend visiting the Dominion Government with a similar object in view.

Self Application of Electricity
FOR MEDICAL PURPOSES
BY THE DORENWEND
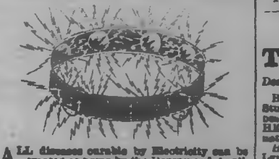
ELECTRIC BELT
And Attachments.
HEAD OFFICE—103 Yonge St., Toronto
THE WORLD'S BEST.


ALL diseases curable by Electricity can be treated at home by the Dorenwend Appliances. The Dorenwend is the only legitimate Electric Belt made which fulfils the requirements of Electro-medical science. It is a complete BODY BATTERY. It has an independent Battery, which generates a mild, continuous current of Electricity (without shocks) and can be regulated to suit the strongest man or the weakest child. It is a CURRENT OF QUANTITY, not merely a sensation current, and the quantity current is the greatest curative. It is a successful treatment for INDIGESTION, RHEUMATISM, NEURALGIA, SCIATICA, LUMBAGO, LIVER AND KIDNEY TROUBLES, WEAK BACK, SPINAL DISEASE, HEART DISEASE, NERVOUS DEBILITY, PARALYSIS, VERTIGO, FEMALE COMPLAINTS, IMPOTENCE, SEXUAL DECLINE and all diseases of the Nervous and Muscular System.
Remember that the DORENWEND BELT is the very latest invention in this line, and was invented by a competent electrician, and ranks as the best in the world; we defy anyone to bring proof to the contrary.
Do not class this Belt with the humbug combinations of leather and moss with which the country is being flooded. If you wish to experiment with cheap articles, buy THEM, but if you want to procure a genuine Electric Belt and one that will be a benefit get a Dorenwend Belt.
Send name and address for Illustrated Book on Home Electro-medical treatment and mention this paper. J. D. TULLY, Agent, Peterborough. 6ed w

Unity and Good Works.

A Sermon Delivered by Bro. Rev. Wm. H. Stevens to the C. O. F., of Warsaw, No. 230, on Sunday, Feb 14th, 1892.

"For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works, which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them.' —Ephesians ii, 10.

Although this may seem to be a strangely inappropriate text, yet we hope by proper interpretation to prove its adaptability to the occasion, and to the subject under consideration, for it does not treat of a physical but of a spiritual creation. The apostle teaches us here, that we are saved by the infinite grace of God, "For we are His workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works," therefore it is evident that the second creation, which takes place in Christ, eminently qualifies man for the performance of good works, which is the outcome of faith, "For faith without works is dead, being alone." So that our spiritual creation, the new birth, is not wrought out by or through our own efforts, "lest any man should boast." We are His workmanship, not our own, which brings us to the conclusion that which purpose let us endeavour to apprehend by meditating on the

(1) Divine Workmanship—How beautiful that saying of the Psalmist: "All His works are done in truth. The work of the Great Creator is characterized by truth, thoroughness and unity, which contain all the elements of Liberty, Benevolence and Concord; in God's universe there is no deception —everything is what it seems—so when we make a spiritual application the same principle holds good. The Lord Jesus Christ said, "Ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall make you free," therefore "whom the Son makes free is free indeed," which brings, out very clearly the liberty of the "glorious gospel of the Son of God." The old maxim "What is worth doing at all is worth doing well," is beautifully exemplified in the Divine workmanship, for it is accompanied by a thoroughness and completeness which leaves absolutely nothing to be done, showing a benevolence which is worthy of God alone, for "Where sin abounds grace did much more abound." And so to the Unity, we all know that though this world be composed of innumerable distinct races, nations, tribes, languages, colours, climates, and peoples, and though the earth itself is composed of apparently opposing substances, yet

IT MAKES ONE GRAND, WHOLE,

a perfect union. And so in the spiritual creation. We who were once "aliens and strangers" are "brought nigh by the blood of Christ," reconciled through Him unto God and "made one in Christ. Where discord once reigned, there is now concord. We, made footsore and weary by the journey of life, beaten and tossed by its tempestuous storms, shall be perfected and made complete in Him. His workmanship shall then prove to be perfect in beauty and unutterably refined. Thus, brethren, we find that these three words Libertas, Benevolentia and Concordia, so dear to the Foresters' heart, are based upon holy principles as carried out in the divine workmanship. Now let us observe

(2) The Purpose of the Workmanship, "created in Christ Jesus unto good works" When we lay down our wearied heads, close our aching eyes, and fold the toil-worn hands and retire from this world, we are not even then done with service, for in Revelations we read that "we shall serve Him day and night." As there is no night in heaven, this signifies perpetual service. But in the meantime we must work. As stated in our opening remarks, "faith without works is dead, being alone," and in reaching the injunction with fear and trembling," it behooves us to read between the lines, consequently we remark that good works have their origin in love. God performed the good work of redemption through love "for God so loved the world, that He gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." Jesus Christ gave Himself a ransom for many through love, for "he loved me, and gave Himself for us." The Holy Ghost, the very essence and embodiment of love, "helpeth our infirmities." Thus we see the Holy Trinity setting forth an example of love and good works, which regenerate man is not excused from following, and the question naturally occurs, apart from our individual duties, how can we best follow the example of love and good works given us by Jehovah? or in other words, how fulfil the purpose of the Divine workmanship? I answer, by handing ourselves together to help "bear one another's burdens, thus fulfilling the law of Christ." Hence the rise and progress of the Order represented here this morning, the Canadian Order of Foresters, whose principles are based on James 1 27: "Pure religion, and undefiled before God and the Father is this, to visit the fatherless and the widows in their affliction, and to

"WORK OUT YOUR OWN SALVATION

KEEP HIMSELF UNSPOTTED FROM THE WORLD.

But just here I pause to notice an objection, the question is asked, is not this a secret society? I admit that it is in one sense of the word; again it is asked, but why have secret societies, why not leave this work to the church, this work of looking after the widows and orphans? I answer that question as the Yankee does, by asking another. When this work was left to the church why did she did not attend to it? Why did she take from the widow what little was left her? and allow her to starve to death and the orphans to be cast out upon the cold charity of a colder world? but we give a more palatable solution of the question than that, by comparison take, for instance, the pastor and deacon of this church it is the pastor's duty to look after the spiritual welfare of the church, while the deacons attend to her temporal affairs. So we believe the church should propagate the Gospel, and fraternal societies dispense benevolence, what the deacons are to the pastor, mutual benefit societies are to the church. But our question comes forward to propound another question viz Why should a mutual benefit society be a secret society? Why should any be denied the

from the outcome of such a society by a few paltry nobody secrets? Well, my brother, not so fast, the "few" secrets are nothing paltry nor unholy; but say you, there are no secrets in God's law, nor in the whole of God's universe; stop a moment, my enquiring friend, while I endeavor to show you the mistake you are making. Of course when men of Dr. Parson's calibre question secret societies and say that they are born of the devil, I do not wonder at your taking up the cry of "useless" "useless," but to proceed with my explanation: You say that "there are no secrets in connection with God's creation," the Psalmist says "I was made in secret," and again "the secret of the Lord is with them that fear him," in Deuteronomy we read that "the secret things belong unto the Lord our God," referring to David again he says, "In the secret of his tabernacle shall he hide me," and "Them shalt hide them in the secret of thy presence, thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion." We read also in the scriptures about "the secret place of thunder," and "the secret place of the most high." There are at least seventy-four references in the scriptures to the word secret, but I will conclude my reference to the scriptures by that "concerning this secret, " " no secret troubleth thee," Let us briefly notice the secrets of creation: We take a flower, we talk about the stamens, the pistil, the petals, the pollen, but whence come the beautiful colours that give such a gorgeous appearance? The meteor, or the falling star? Why did it not fall centuries ago? What made it fall now? Whither did it go? Of what is it composed? Concerning the laws of gravitation, explain to me what is that strange magnetic power which holds vast worlds suspended in vaster space? What is electricity? And what are its laws? When these things are all satisfactorily explained, then, and not until then, will I admit that secrets are nasty. You will find them in all conditions of life. Government officials hold secrets, on the keeping of which the stability of the government depends. As has been said by another: "the Minister holds the secrets of members of his flock," the physician holds the secrets of his patients, the parents the secrets of their family, and why should not a company of men banded together to perform good works in the spirit of love, have a few secrets for the express purpose of mutual protection. Now allow me to give you a few statistical facts, concerning the C.O.F. in order to show how of the Divine workmanship. We seceded from the I.O.F. for reasons which at that time were obvious, and since then have become patent to all. We organized and were incorporated Dec. 1st, 1879, consequently only twelve years old, and from small beginnings have grown to large dimensions in that short space of time. We now number about 370 courts, with a membership of nearly 15 000. Since our inception we have paid to wives and friends of deceased brethren over $330,000, and to sick and disabled brethren more than $200,000 spot cash. Think of it! over half a million dollars paid out in twelve years to relieve distress and affliction, a large proportion of which in the absence of the C. O. F. would doubtless have been wasted. From Jan. 1st to Dec. 2nd, 1891 we paid fifty-two death claims, which in a membership of nearly 15 000, speaks well for the healthfulness of the order and also for the care exercised by the court physicians in making examinations and taking risks. But some say (especially insurance agents) that the order will surely go down, and the whole system fail to pieces. I emphatically protest against that assertion, and denounce it as a libel, in proof of which let me give you a few figures, which like and if there are any life insurance men present, I invite you to take your note book and pencil and jot them down for your future edification. Last year there were $144,000 on hand to pay death claims; August, $155, 000; September, $161,000; October, $156, 000; November, $170,000; December, $175. 000; January, $181,000; February, $182, 000, an average increase of about $5 500 per year. Last year over 3,200 new members were added to the Order. We have no high-salaried officials to luxuriate on the surplus endowment fund. Therefore I ask you, in all conscience, does it stands to reason to say that a system conducted upon so sound a basis, should collapse? Again I say no! and I believe that God's blessing rests upon the Order, consequently it must prosper. Our principles are right, and unlike certain other organizations, we live up to them. My personal experience with the Order may induce some young man to unite. I joined May 6th, 1884, have, therefore, been a member for seven years and nine months. During that time I have paid in $95 50, and have drawn out $52, thus making

MY PREMIUM LESS THAN $6 00 PER YEAR.

I am not more sickly than the average. The brotherly love which I have constantly enjoyed, and the practical sympathy shown me during seasons of grief, cannot be counted by dollars and cents. Our distinguishing words are Liberty, Benevolence and Concord, the spirit of which are carried out to the very letter. But an outlay of money is not the best, nor only work, that is done by the Order, it is an educating society, educating two classes of men, the one who thought it distrusting providence to join a mutual help society, and the other, the extravagant and improvident. So brethern you are in a measure fulfilling God's purpose of workmanship, by walking in good works, wherein ye were ordained to walk. Ever remember that good work done in the right spirit is as holy as preaching.

Now young men, in view of what I have been saying, I would advise you to do two things, 1st, join the Lord's host, the army of the redeemed, and then join the Foresters. Brother Foresters, you are building up a structure of comfort, and joy, and gladness for the widows and orphans, you are doing a grand work, continue in it, but do not neglect yourselves, do not fail to add your living stone to the temple of the new Jerusalem, of which Christ is the head stone, the chief corner stone. "Render yourselves unto him a living sacrifice which in your reasonable service." Are you "laying up treasure in heaven"? Are you "keeping yourself unspotted from the world"? Are you preparing for eternity? If not, then you are coming short of the divine workmanship. Remember our text, "For we are his workmanship, created in Christ Jesus unto good works which God hath before ordained that we should walk in them." May He then help us all to join the company of the redeemed, the fraternal circle of the great multitude which no man can number, This boon I ask for his name's sake. AMEN.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. E. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

I AM A MAN

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. You or nor any one else can use the words too strong to express my sentiments in favor of so wonderful a treatment as that given by you."

BELGIAN MINE HORROR.

MOST APPALLING CALAMITY OF MODERN TIMES.

The Mine Takes Fire Before the Rescuers Can Reach the Imprisoned Victims and Over Two Hundred Human Beings Are Roasted Alive.

BRUSSELS, March 14.—The fire in the Anderluis colliery, near Charleroi, grew fiercer Saturday morning, and the heat became so intense that it was impossible for the rescuing parties to remain in the pit. They were consequently compelled to abandon all efforts to reach the galleries. The mine owners and engineers decided that, as there was not the slightest doubt that everybody in the mine was dead, the only course if they hoped to recover bodies was to flood the mine.

Fire Precedes Flood.

Preparations were being made to carry out this plan, but before any water could be pumped in cries of "fire" were heard on all sides, and flames ascended to the pit's mouth and sparks were scattered in every direction.

A few minutes later an immense column of flame shot through the ventilator shaft, piercing the thick clouds of smoke that were exchanging the shaft.

For a great distance around the country was illuminated to almost the brightness of day by the vast column of fire pouring out of the mine. The engine house and other buildings near by were destroyed.

Horror Upon Horror.

Water was thrown into the burning pit, but before it had descended any distance it was converted into steam and escaped with a tremendous roaring noise, which added to the horror of the situation.

The scene has seldom if ever been equalled in the mining districts of Belgium.

All the heavy machinery at the mouth of the pit was destroyed and fell crashing down the shaft. This acted as a damper against the flames ascending the shaft to the surface and thereafter but little fire could be seen, but it could be heard roaring and seething through the galleries far below the surface.

The total number of the dead colliers is 251; of this number it is estimated 170 were burned alive.

The calamity has crushed the entire Charleroi district.

BRUSSELS, March 14.—According to a report on the Anderluis mine disaster 63 persons were unhurt, 20 injured and 153 were killed.

Twenty thousand persons to-day attended the funeral of 31 of the victims.

Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice, especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

What Sherman Thinks.

WASHINGTON, March 14.—Senator Sherman, chairman of the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations, said Saturday: "I regard the Behring Sea treaty now pending with highest favor. It is honorable to both nations. It is an example of arbitration which ought to be adopted in every controversy between two countries bound by so many ties as Great Britain and the United States. A war or even a contention between them for a cause so trivial as one year's fishing for seals would be a crime against civilization. The cupidity of a few vessel-owners, pending arbitration, should not be allowed to disturb the peace and amiable relations of two great nations.

Mr. John A. Campbell, St. Sixte, Que., writes:—"My wife was unwell for four years from irregular periods, brought about by a severe cold. She tried many remedies, but without relief. Seeing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised, I procured two boxes and the result is a permanent cure. They are the best medicine in the world for the diseases you represent them for. Sold by all dealers. dw.

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

Old Havard University.

Opened in the Year 1638.

Havard University is the oldest institution of learning on the continent. It was opened in 1638, and in 1650 its charter was granted. The Medical School was established in 1782, and has given to the people of the United States during the past 110 years a class of physicians that any land might be proud of.

It will interest Canadians to know, that one of our most valuable and noted cough remedies emanated from this grand old university. It was the result of long study and deep thought. It was given to the world with a confidence that warranted the best results; and for years it has been the favorite and popular remedy with the best class of Americans.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup since its introduction in Canada has taken the place of nearly all the old and antiquated preparations. Its work is instantaneous, marvellous and unfailing, and has cured thousands of serious and obstinate cases that had resisted the the efforts of other remedies.

Doctors and druggists highly recommend its use for Sore Throat, Hacking Cough, Croup, Tickling Sensations in the Bronchial Tubes and Enlargement of the Tonsils. It instantly allays inflammation, and quickly heals any soreness in the diseased organs of the throat. It is absolutely safe for any age or condition of life, and never produces stomach sickness or constipation, as many of the remedies of the present day do. We urge upon every reader who has a cough or cold, the necessity of procuring a bottle at once.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

It is our painful duty to record the demise of Mr. Geo. Nelson, sr., a respected resident of this neighborhood. The deceased was a great sufferer for more than a year from a from a cancer in his face, but death relieved him from his suffering on Thursday last. The last tribute of respect was paid to the deceased on Sunday afternoon by sorrowing friends and neighbors, who followed his remains to Fife's cemetery where his body was laid in its final resting place. We tender our sympathy to the wife and family in their sad bereavement.

Miss Maggie, eldest daughter of Mr. John Renwick, was united in the bonds of matrimony to James, son of Mr. Andrew Nelson, Sr., on Wednesday evening the 9th inst. An assembly of about two hundred were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. F. Andrews. We join in tendering the young couple our congratulations by wishing them health, wealth and happiness throughout their married life.

A social hop was indulged in by about thirty couples of our young people in the town hall on Tuesday night last. They report having spent a very pleasant and enjoyable evening.

There is a good opening in our village at present for a live tinsmith who means business. It is pretty certain that such a man will receive the patronage of the public.

A number of gray birds have made their appearance in this place, but robins, which are sure harbingers of spring, have not as yet been seen or heard.

'Tis carried far and wide;
From distant hills the echo rings,
'Tis floating with the tide.

Each town and village has a joy
N'er seen in former days;
And women young and old employ
Their skill in various ways.

There is a wholesome rivalry—
A competition great,
A work that all, both great and small,
Can do e'er 'tis too late.

No maiden fair, or mother, wife,
Need linger, dread or fear;
As all can enter in the strife,
With courage and good cheer.

This competition is as free
As life's pure air around;
No charge is made, no entrance fee—
All stand on equal ground.

From North to South, from East to West,
Hundreds of women fair
Will for a season do their best,
That they may honors share.

There still is ample room and space
With promise of success,
In this Grand Competition race,
Which must each household bless.

Address and Presentation.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

On Saturday evening Messrs. Robert B Jackson and John R. Kindred, on behalf of the members of Court Zion, No. 227, waited on Bro. Bert Emmerson at his father's residence and presented him with a handsome writing case and gentleman's dressing companion. Mr. Emmerson was a very much respected member of the order, and by his good qualities richly merited their recognition involved in the above presentation.

The One-hoss Shay

The peculiar feature of the "one-hoss shay" was, that it was 'built in such a wonderful way" that it had no "weakest part." The "weakest part" a woman is invariably her back, and "female weaknesses" are only too common. With the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, this may be avoided, and women may be comparatively as strong as their brothers. Prolapsus, inflammation, ulceration, periodical pains, leucorrhea, dragging-down sensations, debility, nervousness, sleeplessness, despondency, are only a few of the symptoms of weakness of the female organs which the "Favorite Prescription" is warranted to remove.

The Attempt Successful.

HAMILTON, March 14.—Mr. J. B. Stacey of Hunter-street, who cut his throat with a table knife on Monday last and who has been under medical treatment ever since, died at 9 yesterday at the City Hospital. Ill-health was the primary cause of the old man's rash act. He was nearly 70 years old.

Foreign Money Market.

LONDON, March 14.—There was no demand for discount in London during the past week. The position of the Bank of England continues to improve. On the stock exchange business was rather more animated. At the half-yearly Bank of England meeting on March 17 it is expected that a proposal will be made to transfer the unrealized assets of the Barings to a new trust, which will raise funds to repay £5,000,000 advanced by the Bank of England for the liquidation.

Canadian railway securities were especially bought and were steady.

The institute of bankers recently sent a circular to banks inquiring whether they were in favor or against Mr. Goshen's currency scheme. Out of 110 responses two-fifths gave unqualified support, but the majority declared against the schema.

According to experts' analyses the national balance sheet for the year ending March 31 will show a surplus of £600,000

RICHMOND, March 14.—Rev. John Jasper of the "Sun do move" fame, is going to marry a third time. He is eighty years old and the prospective bride has grandchildren.

Each season has its own peculiar malady; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla little danger need be feared from meteorological influences. No other blood medicine is so safe and effective.

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

Not one in twenty are free from some little ailment caused by inaction of the liver. Use Carter's Little Liver Pills. The result will be a pleasant surprise. They give positive relief.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

3 Applications.

It takes only this to thoroughly remove Dandruff, stop itching of the scalp, and make the hair soft and pliable. In fact, Anti-Dandruff is a perfect hair tonic—all say so who use it.

News About Town

It is the current report about town that Kemp's Balsam for the throat and lungs is making some remarkable cures with people who are troubled with coughs, sore throat, asthma, bronchitis and consumption. Any druggist will give you a trial bottle free of cost. It is guaranteed to relieve and cure. The large bottles cost 50c and $1. dw

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

As a pick-me-up after excessive exertion or exposure, Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.
DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail, and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first, only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is on human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.
Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

Died in the Queen City.

Miss Maggie Wilson died in Toronto yesterday after a lingering illness of several months. She was suffering with consumption. Miss Wilson was seventeen years old. She formerly resided in this town with her father, Mr. Jas. Wilson, a blind man, who was a resident of Peterborough for four years. For the past two years the family have been residing in Toronto. Miss Wilson has three or four brothers and sisters. Her remains were brought to Peterborough to-day at noon and interred this afternoon in the Little Lake Cemetery.

LOCAL MUSICAL TALENT.

St. Patrick Day's Concert.

There is every indication that the St. Patrick's day concert in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday evening next, will be one of the most successful and enjoyable events of the kind ever given in town. A fine programme, which will be opened by the Amateur Orchestra, will be presented, to which the contributions of Miss Louise Yekome, solo violinists, and Mrs. W. J. Morrow, solo pianiste, will be richly worth hearing. A large attendance is assured; the reserved seat plan is filling up rapidly, and persons desirous of securing seats should lose no time in doing so. Plan of hall at Greatrex's drug store. Tickets 25 and 50 cents.

Secure Your Seats.

The Oddfellows entertainment in the opera house on March 25th, will be a grand affair and will be attended by a very large number. The street parade by the Canton, the drill by the Canton, the tableaux, the fancy drill by the members of Peterborough lodge, the music and singing, will combine to make an evening long to be remembered. The tickets are going fast; the seats are being taken up rapidly. Mark your seats at Greatrex's drug store. Tickets may also be procured at Bro. Joseph McClelland's, W. A. Sanderson's, T. H. Hooper's and at Bro. H. Long's. A full attendance of members is requested at the lodge room to-night.

Dr. Clarke, [illegible] health office[illegible] the death [illegible] BROCKVILLE [illegible] Hospital, Toronto yesterday [illegible] Coe, [illegible] year old daughter of Mr. [illegible] Irwin. The little girl was sent to the hospital at first with scarlet fever from which she was recovering when an attack of diphtheria supervened. She was apparently recovering from this, but she died suddenly yesterday. The telegram above referred to was from Dr. Bryce, secretary of the provincial Board of Health, and stated that the remains of the child, (on account of the contagious nature of the disease) were forwarded to Peterborough by waggon and that they would arrive on Tuesday, and directed that the body be taken at once to the cemetery without passing through the town. Accordingly Mr. D. Bellegham with a private conveyance (not a hearse) went to Port Hope to meet the body of the child, and will arrive at the cemetery here this evening. These precautions are taken in compliance with an order in council—"amended regulations re diphtheria" clause six, which are of so important a matter that they will be reproduced in the EXAMINER.

The Peterborough's Victorious Over the Granites Yesterday — Prospective Matches This Week.

The Peterborough's succeeded in defeating the great Granites of Toronto yesterday afternoon in a five rink match by 10 points. The Granites are the winners in the Ontario Tankard competition. They defeated Peterborough in the final on Feb. 18th last, by six shots. The final was played with only two rinks, skipped by Messrs W. G. Ferguson and T. Rutherford. But when it comes to a five or six rink match Peterborough gets there "every time." A prominent curler remarked to a reporter today. "There is no team in Canada that can beat Peterborough at curling when a five or six rink match is played. It would have been a different tale had the Granites played Peterborough in the Ontario Tankard Competition with four or six rinks. The story of yesterday would have been repeated." Yesterday each rink played the customary 21 ends. The ice was in a fairly good condition for the polished stones although it was dirty in several places. The result announced yesterday at three o'clock was that the home curlers were ten shots ahead. They maintained that lead until the end and won by 10 shots. One of the Peterborough rinks stood even with the Granites, three won and one lost to their opponents. The Granites returned home at six o'clock last evening by the C. P. R., taking their defeat with good grace. The contest lasted four hours and all was shouting and enthusiasm during the progress of the game. The following are the names of the opposing quartettes and their scores:—

NOTES.

The Toronto's will be here in full force tomorrow afternoon—six rinks strong. They are coming down to try conclusions with the home team.

Two rinks went to Millbrook this afternoon to give the curlers of that village a brush. The Peterborough quartettes will be skipped by Messrs. Jas. Connal and J. B. Pentland.

The Campbellford's will be on hand at the rink this evening, two rinks strong. The Campbellford skips will be Messrs. C. L. Owens and Chas Smith. The home teams interests will likely be looked after by Messrs. W. G. Ferguson and Sam Ray.

Campbellford played Lakefield this afternoon for the cup given by the Caledonian Society of Toronto. The match was with two rinks each.

A "scratch" match took place at the rink last night for the "oysters." These matches are becoming quite popular. The rinks were skipped by Messrs. R. S. Davidson and Geo. Edmison. The latter won by 8 shots.

RINK NO. 1.

C McGill,	A Blade,
W G Ferguson,	S Clegg,
R B McKee,	T Rutherford,
R S Davidson, skip. 8	Geo Edmison, skip...16

The total number of shots was 88 for the Granites and 98 for the Peterboroughs.

The Toronto papers announce the defeat of the Granites by 9 shots. They credit the rink skipped by T. G. Williams with 17 shots. It was only 16.

A prominent curler wants to know why Peterborough has not had a "crack" at the Caledonian medal for the past four or five years. According to the rules and regulations of the society, she has a right to compete for it every second year.

The point game among the members for the Vice President's medal and the thirteen point game among the members of the winning rink for the President's medal, have been postponed until the latter part of the week, owing to the number of matches to be played to-day and to-morrow.

Does "The Queen" Actually Give Away Pianos?

DEAR MR. EDITOR:

Replying to several enquiries regarding THE CANADIAN QUEEN'S offer to give away one of Mason & Risch's high class Upright Pianos each month during 1892, we have received an order from the publishers of THE CANADIAN QUEEN for twelve of our Studio Uprights in solid black walnut cases, our price for which is $325 each. These are to be shipped direct from our factory or salesrooms to the addresses supplied us by the publishers of the QUEEN. As far as the quality of the piano is concerned, every person with a cultivated ear for music knows what the Mason-Risch piano is, and the ones to be supplied to THE QUEEN are the same high grade as far as tone, etc., is concerned as the best we make. A sample of these prize pianos is on exhibition as our warerooms, 32 King Street West, Toronto, and can be examined by you or any of your friends at any time it suits your convenience.

Yours truly,
MASON & RISCH,
Toronto, Ont.

Who Will be the Next.

The first prize piano offered by the publishers of THE QUEEN, was won by Miss Eva Watson, 66 Close Ave., Parkdale, Ont; the second prize piano was won by Edward W. Dowling, clerk in the Windsor hotel, Montreal; the third prize piano was won by Edward W. Gardner, 78 Sullivan street, Toronto, Ont.

The Queen's Monthly Puzzler.

If Moses was the son of Pharaoh's daughter what relation would Moses be to the daughter of Pharaoh's son?

THE QUEEN will give an elegant Mason & Risch Fine Toned Upright Piano to the first person answering the above problem correctly; an elegant Gold Watch for the second correct answer; a China Dinner Set for the third correct answer; an elegant Silk Dress Pattern for the fourth correct answer; and many other valuable prizes, all of which are announced in this issue of THE QUEEN. A valuable special prize will be given for the FIRST CORRECT ANSWER FROM A READER OF THE PETERBOROUGH EXAMINER. Each person answering must enclose fifteen two cent stamps for [illegible] CANADIAN QUEEN MILLINERY SCHOTTISCHE," just out, together with a copy of THE QUEEN, containing a beautiful water-color reproduction, "Seven, He Loves," and full particulars of our Educational Prize Competitions. The object of offering these prizes is to increase the circulation of this popular magazine. BY SENDING TO-DAY YOU MAY SECURE A VALUABLE PRIZE. Address THE CANADIAN QUEEN, "A" Toronto, Ont.

A Chance in a Lifetime.

KIRK, the tea blender, has bought a lot of one hundred twenty-pound boxes of fine Japan tea, which he is enabled to sell at the extremely low price of 20 cents per pound. This is a chance that does not occur every day, so all who want a nice caddie of good tea hustle up to Ashburnham and get one before they are gone. W. C. KIRK. Certificate.

On the recommendation of my Doctor I for several years used "Indigerous Bitters," for derangement of the stomach, Indigestion, loss of appetite, and general weakness, the natural consequence of such affections.

These bitters, which have the advantage of being very cheap, have done me so much good, that I have thought it my duty to recommend them to my friends, who can confirm the same disease, and all who have used them have to my knowledge received the greatest benefit.

A Worthy Remembrance.

Mr. A. E. Scott Made the Recipient of an Address and Presentation by the George Street Methodist Church Last Night on the Eve of His Departure for Winnipeg.

Another one of those happy events which bind us one to another and not ever as a link between the present and the past, though we be separated in our relationship and associations far one from the other, occurred in the George street Methodist church last evening. After the regular meeting of the Epworth League, at which the President, Miss Frise, presided, and Mr. Edward Mansell conducted the lesson of the evening, Mr. A. E. Scott was requested by Mr. H. S. Griffin, superintendent of the Sunday school, to come to the platform. Mr. Scott complied with this request, and on the platform was confronted by Mr. Edward Mansell, a member of his young men's class, and by Mr. S. A. Armstrong, an officer of the Sunday school, the former armed with an address and the latter with a mysterious parcel. Mr. Mansell then read the following address, and Mr. Armstrong made the presentation to Mr. Scott of a handsome and ornate French marble clock, which the happy recipient gratefully accepted:

MR. A. E. SCOTT,

DEAR FRIEND:—Did we speak the wish of our hearts we should say "Stay," but that cannot be, Your advancement in the business world must follow the application of the fine talents with which you are endowed. We shall with interest watch the progress you make in your business career, but with deeper interest shall we note your efforts in Church and Sunday School work. On the eve of your departure from Peterborough, it is fitting that we should express our appreciation of the untiring zeal with which you have furthered the various interests of this church. As secretary of the Sunday School you have given the duties careful attention, and by fidelity and devotion to the work have set an example that officers and teachers, alike, admire. As leader of the young mens' morning class your Christian spirit and conduct have been in keeping with the helpful counsel given from Sunday to Sunday. As an officer and member of the Epworth League, you have been an example of faithfulness. We recognise that with you it has been a labor of love and we therefore on behalf of the Sunday school, young men's class and Epworth League ask you to accept this clock. Though it may remind you of the flight of time, we hope that it will keep in your memory, the years spent in connection with the George street Methodist church.

Signed

H. S. GRIFFIN,
Superintendent of the Sunday School.
RALPH SLOAN,
Young Men's Class.
MISS FRISE,
President of Epworth League.

Peterborough, March 14th, 1892.

Mr. Scott, who was taken entirely by surprise, said:—"Christian friends, words fail me. The feelings that arise in my heart are too deep for expression. Several years ago I came to Peterborough fully intending to make it my home, but circumstances have decreed it otherwise, and I believe providential guidance has directed the step. Every association in connection with this church has been near and dear to me. All the work that I have ever done here has been done from the love for the Master. Whatever others have said, I feel confident that in the sight of God, all has been done well and aright, and there is only one regret in the work that I have done and that is that self has shot up. I cannot thank you as I should for this beautiful gift and address. In this instance you will have to accept the will for the deed. My prayers shall ever ascend for the well being of this church and congregation. Here my home has been among the Sunday school and young men. I shall watch her life and conduct for all time with interest in her welfare and hope for the future. I think of the many pleasant faces and friends I shall miss, but notwithstanding all this I feel that the hand of God is leading me. The way is opened up and I must go. I trust that the prayers of the Sunday school, the Epworth League and the church will follow me. I hope that I may always be permitted to live God in every act."

The pastor, Rev. J. H. Locke added a few words of sympathy and congratulation. He stated that Mr. Scott's work had been a source of great enjoyment to him and the church. The influence that he had exercised had been only for good and for God. He was sorry that a man of his sterling qualities and excellent capabilities was going to sever his connection with them. The church had lost a great many young men from her midst. They were scattered far and wide but they were still bound by their attachment, recollections and sympathies to their former home in George street church. He felt that the church to which Mr. Scott was going would receive much advantage and great benefit from his services. He had faith in his loyalty and fidelity to the church and he believed that he would ever manifest the same attention and interest in her welfare. They would all join in wishing Mr. Scott all happiness and success in his business relations. The speaker said that Mr. Scott went away carrying with him a letter expressive of the implicit confidence put in him by every member of the George street Methodist Church.

Mr. H. S. Griffin on behalf of the Sunday School added a few words, expressing the great source of help and advice Mr. Scott had rendered him in every occasion in connection with his services as superintendent of the Sunday School. He had come to look up Mr. Scott as a friend and brother. He was sorry at his departure, his place would be hard to fill, but what was a serious loss to them would be another's gain.

"God be with you till we meet again" was sung and after the benediction pronounced by the Rev. Mr. Locke, a large number thronged around Mr. Scott to bid him a royal good-bye and a hearty God speed.

The address was illuminated by Mr. A. Blanchard, of the Peterborough Business College. It is written in Old English script and is a fine specimen of lettering, reflecting great credit upon the skill and ability of the penman. The clock, which is a handsome and costly French time piece of gray marble, was bought at Messrs. Clarke & Gibson's jewellry store.

Mr. Scott, who has resided in Peterborough for the past seven years and has been bookkeeper for Mr. W. H. Hill, manager for the San Life Assurance Company the greater part of that time, leaves on Thursday for Winnipeg, where he has accepted the lucrative position of city manager in that city for the great Lang Company, of Montreal, manufacturer of biscuits and confectionery. He has many friends in Peterborough who will wish him all success in the west.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's rally Saturday night was well attended, and Mr. Cragg gave a thoughtful and helpful paper on the topic "Which path am I on." The singing was inspiring, being led by the orchestra.

Owing to the absence, through illness, of Mr. Dodds, the General Secretary conducted the Bible study and communication service on Sunday morning. It was a time of refreshing from the presence of the Lord to those present.

Mr. Isaac Richardson gave a very earnest address at the personal purity meeting Sunday afternoon. The attendance was fair, and the Y. M. C. A. band rendered good service in leading the hearty song service.

Last evening the hall was filled by an attentive and interested audience, who listened with profit to the attentive address by Mr. J. C. Turnbull. Messrs. Gray and Payne rendered a helpful duet. It was a heart-searching and solemn service.

Bible study Thursday evening from 6 to 9.

We have issued our annual report, which we believe will prove interesting to all who desire to know what we are doing for our young men. Those who have not secured a copy can get one at the Association rooms.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Hockey Notes.

The boys had a first class practice at the rink last night.

The Granite Celts Hockey Club, of Toronto, want a match with the Peterboroughs on Wednesday night. It is yet undecided whether the home team will go to Toronto to play or the "Celts" come to Peterborough.

In all likelihood the Edisons and the Peterboroughs will play again on Thursday night.

The Watch Recovered.

Thos. Tully Locates the Missing Timepiece of Mrs. Thompson's in the Otonabee River This Morning—A Large Crowd Watch the Proceedings With Interest.

This morning at nine o'clock Thos. Tully, aged eighteen years, was liberated from the county gaol where he has been serving his sentence of five months for stealing the sum of thirty dollars from his grandmother, Mrs. Tully, in October last. Last fall Mrs. Thompson, who resides at the corner of McDonel and Bethune streets, was entering her house one day when she discovered that some one had made an entrance into her premises. As she was opening the door, a man ran out from the house taking with him, it is supposed, a valuable gold watch belonging to Mrs. Thompson. In his haste to make his escape undetected, he ran up and down several adjacent streets and either dropped or lost the watch in his hasty flight. Hall was arrested and elected to be tried by a jury. He was brought up for trial at the Fall Assizes, and acquitted, no evidence being given to prove that he had ever had the watch in his possession. It is alleged that Tully found the watch on Aylmer street near McDonald, and had it in his possession. Fearing that the police were onto his track, and in order that suspicion might be removed from him, Tully, by some means, managed to get rid of it. This happened before he was arrested and sentenced for stealing the sum of money. After his sentence he told the officers that the watch was in the river, but stated that he had not thrown it there. His story is that he was riding over the Hunter street bridge on a bicycle and that he hauled out the timepiece to see what time of day it was. The watch having no ring, to which a chain might be attached, he said that he carried it in his pocket fastened only by a slender cord. In opening the watch to see the time, he says the timepiece slipped from his hand and fell into the river. He told the officers this after his arrest and when they were taking him up to gaol to serve his sentence, Chief Ressel went down with Tully to see if they could locate the chronometer. The day being cloudy they were unable to see anything of it, This morning as soon as he was liberated, Tully went straight down to the Hunter street bridge and the day being clear and the sun shining brightly he immediately discovered the watch laying in about three feet of water on the north side of the bridge, half way between Mann's Woollen Mill and Faint's Mattress Factory. Tully wended his way directly to the police station where he told the occurence to Chief Ressel and Officer Adams. They went down to the Hunter street bridge with Tully at ten o'clock this morning. A canoe was procured, no ice being in the river, and into jumped Tully and Officer Adams. They proceeded out to the middle of the river, carefully and cautiously to where the missing watch lay. A large and interested crowd thronged the bridge, and watched the development of the proceedings. The duo in the canoe thought that the watch could be recovered by running down their hands for it, but the water being over three feet deep and the current swift, after many laughable and unsuccessful attempts this mode of proceedure was abandoned. A large tin dipper was then procured, and the handle bound by twine to the end of the canoe paddle. This venture proved more successful, and the lost article was recoved at half past eleven o'clock after an hour and a half's faithful work. The watch which is valued at $50 is not much the worse of the wear and experience. The hands are rusted off but by cleaning it up, the gold timepiece will be as good as new. Tully returned the watch to Mrs. Thompson this morning who gratefully recieved it.

Chief Ressel believes that the story Tully tells of his dropping the watch in the river while hauling it out to see what time it was when crossing the bridge, to be true. He has confidence in the boy's future and thinks that the young lad means to reform.

Why is

HOOD'S

Sarsaparilla

Such a great success, and why is it impossible for other Sarsaparillas and blood purifiers to compete with this great medicine? Because

No Other Sarsaparilla or blood purifier gives as much medicine for the money as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla has the careful personal supervision of the proprietor in all the details of its preparation, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla has the merit to secure the confidence of entire communities and hold it year in and year out, as has Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla can produce from actual cures such wonderful statements of relief given to human suffering as Hood's Sarsaparilla.

No Other Sarsaparilla possesses the Combination, Proportion and Process Peculiar to Hood's Sarsaparilla, and which makes Hood's Sarsaparilla in curative effect Peculiar to Itself.

No Other Sarsaparilla combines economy and strength as does Hood's Sarsaparilla. It is the only preparation of which can truly be said, 100 Doses $1.

No Other Sarsaparilla has effected such remarkable cures as Hood's Sarsaparilla, of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, blood poisoning and all other blood diseases.

No Other Sarsaparilla has equalled Hood's Sarsaparilla in the relief it gives in the severest cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Biliousness, Heartburn, and other stomach disorders.

No Other Sarsaparilla overcomes That Tired Feeling, Restores the Appetite, and "Makes the Weak Strong," like

HESLOP MURDER TRIAL.

OPENED AT HAMILTON YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

Jack Bartram and Jack Lottridge Arraigned and Declare Themselves Not Guilty—Douglas' Nephew, an Important Witness for the Defence, Arrested.

HAMILTON, March 16.—The feature of the opening day of the trial of Jack Bartram and his nephew Jack Lottridge for the murder of John Heslop, Ancaster township's treasurer, was the determination of the defence to secure, if possible, a jury of Hamilton citizens. The reason was obvious. Bartram has been accused of so many robberies of cattle and horses during the last 20 years that scores of farmers are convinced that the "terror of Onondaga" is capable of any and all crimes. The defence exercised their right of challenge until nine Hamiltonians had been accepted by the crown. The other three are farmers.

The Prisoners

While the empanelling of the jury was in progress Bartram acted indifferently, but Lottridge gave close attention to all that was done in court.

Bartram, who is nearly 60 years of age, is a large well-built man, with thin, gray hair and a gray mustache; his right eye is in an inflamed condition and seems to annoy him considerably.

Lottridge is a dark-haired, dark-complexioned young man about 30 years old. He is of a jocular disposition and frequently makes the older man laugh when he passes a joke.

The opening address of the County Crown Attorney was an exhaustive review of the events attending the crime and the subsequent developments.

Plans of the Heslop residence and other drawings were put in by Surveyor Cyrus Carroll

An Eye Witness of the Murder.

Miss Heslop, daughter of the murdered man, who was dressed in mourning and partially concealed her face by a black veil, retold the story of the tragedy. Her cross-examination brought out nothing fresh. An attempt to confuse her respecting certain discrepancies between her story at the inquest and that now told proved unsuccessful.

The Rig in Which the Murderers Drove.

John Reading, a neighbor of the Heslops, who was aroused shortly after the murder by the last witness, described the foot-tracks and wheel-prints he had discerned in the snow surrounding the Heslop house. He was of opinion that the wheel-prints were made by a light rig. The wheels were not very wide in the tire and appeared to be short coupled, the fore and hind wheels being close together.

The Accomplice Who "Peached."

When Samuel Goosey, the Indian who turned Queen's evidence, appeared in the box there was a craning of necks among the audience. Goosey testified that he lived on the Tuscarora Reserve and that he had known both prisoners several years.

Goosey testified that according to a previous arrangement he and Douglas went to Bartram's house the night preceding the robbery and he, Douglas, Bartram and Lottridge played dominoes until 11 o'clock. Bartram told witness during the evening, "We will go out to-night and get $400 or $500 each."

At 11 o'clock the four went outside and got into a buggy that was standing there. The horse was a bay and the wagon a light one. There were two seats in the rig, one of them being a board. The two Jacks sat in front, Lottridge driving. They went east for about an hour and a half. They stopped on the road to take a drink, Bartram having the liquor. Douglas left the rig at Bartram's request and got a stick from a woodpile. Bartram said it might be needed. The four drove a couple of miles further and stopped on the road again. Bartram took out something like a cloth and told Douglas to put it on his face. He did so and Bartram asked if it fitted, Douglas replying that it did. Bartram then put a similar cloth on his face. The cloths were white with square holes for the eyes.

"This Is the Place."

They drove on again and came to a gate, where Bartram said, "This is the place." They went into the gate. Leaving Lottridge in the rig, the others went up to the house, walking one behind the other. Douglas went up to the north side, and Bartram went on around. Witness, after trying the door, went on around also. He found Bartram trying to unlock the door, and told him to stand back and he would open it. Witness then took a stick and shoved the door in. Bartram and Douglas went in, the former telling witness to stand outside and watch. Bartram had a pistol. Inside they struck a light.

Court will be resumed at 9.30 to-morrow morning.

Douglas' Nephew Arrested.

HAMILTON, March 16.—Abraham Douglas, one of the witnesses for the defence in the Heslop case, was arrested on an old charge of stealing a set of harness from a man named McDonald, who lives on the reserve. Douglas is a nephew of George Douglas, one of the prisoners. He is a young Indian and has been in Lewiston, N.Y., for some time, and came over yesterday to give evidence for the defence. He says he is prepared to swear that Douglas was in the States with him cutting wood on the day of the murder.

West Northumberland Election.

COBOURG, March 16.—The bye-election to fill the vacancy in the House of Commons caused by the unseating of Mr. J. Hargraft (Liberal) in West Northumberland took place yesterday, resulting in the election of Mr. George Guillet (Conservative) by 62 majority. The majorities:

	Guillet.	Hargraft.
Cobourg town	117	...
Hamilton township	32	...
Haldimand township	...	160
Alnwick township	73	...
	222	160

Majority for Guillet 62. Mr. Hargraft's majority at the general election was 41.

$1000 For Breach of Promise.

BROCKVILLE, March 16.—At the Assizes yesterday Maria Marchead got a verdict for $1000 damages and costs against John McGuer for breach of promise of marriage. She sued for $2000.

Waiters Need Not Be Clean Shaven.

BOSTON, March 16.—Landlord Whipple of Young's Hotel and the Parker House was visited by a committee from the Waiters' Alliance this afternoon and after a consultation concluded to rescind his orders that all waiters must be clean shaven.

"Mollie Matches" Released.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, March 16.—"Mollie Matches," alias John Larney, the noted bank thief and pickpocket, who has served time in numerous prisons, was released from the penitentiary yesterday on the expiration of his term.

A Paris Meeting

PARIS, Ont., March 16.—At a meeting of citizens of Paris and vicinity held here to-night, Rev. Alfred Brown, Sol White, M.L.A., E. A. Macdonald (Toronto) F. F. Boutilier and Dr. Brien, ex-M.P., were the speakers.

A ballot was submitted and stood as follows:

Remain as we are	62
Independent monarchy	9
Independent republic	6
Political union with the United States	109

Majority for political union over all, 31.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

THE PUNISHMENT OF TRUANCY DISCUSSED.

A Number of New Industrial Schools Asked for to Meet the Requirements of Ontario, the Expenses Thereof to be Borne by the Province.

TORONTO, March 16.—When the Ontario Legislature was opened yesterday afternoon Mr. Hardy presented a petition from the Brantford Public School Board. It was signed by E. Sweet, chairman, and E. D. Passmore, secretary. The petitioners commenced by recording their appreciation of the legislation recently enacted by the Legislative Assembly in regard to compulsory school attendance and the punishment of truancy. There were, however, they continued, serious difficulties in the way of enforcing the legislation referred to. It was almost impossible under existing circumstances to realize the full benefits which should naturally accrue. The reason for this was that in a large number of instances where children were charged with truancy the parents were unable through poverty to comply with the law; and on the other hand, truants of vicious and immoral character should not be admitted to the public schools.

The difficulties referred to, so the petitioners averred, would be readily obviated by the establishment at an early date of sufficient industrial schools—similar in character to the Victoria at Mimico, which, in their opinion, was an "excellent" institution—to meet the requirements of the province.

The basis upon which these schools might best be established was indicated briefly and succinctly by the petitioners. They were cognizant of the provisions of the Act Respecting Industrial Schools, but maintained that owing to the large expense entailed in inaugurating and maintaining such institutions these requirements could not be made available in towns and cities similar to Brantford.

In view of the fact that such schools were semi-penal in their nature, as well as largely preventive of crime, the petitioners went on to submit they should be entirely supported by the province. If, however, any of the expense entailed was to fall upon municipalities it should only be borne by those corporations in proportion to the number of pupils in attendance.

In the event of its being deemed inadvisable, the petitioners continued that the expense of the proposed industrial schools should be borne wholly or partly by the province. They suggested that districts should be formed composed of sufficient number of municipalities adjacent to each other and a school established in each. The expense ensuing could then be charged in equitable proportions on the municipalities composing such districts.

The Insurance Bill.

The greater portion of yesterday's two sessions was occupied by a consideration, clause by clause, of Mr. Gibson's legislation relative to insurance corporations. Agreeably to the wish of several friendly and benefit societies he slightly modified the sections affecting these organizations. The committee finally rose and reported progress.

The Normal School Fence.

The cost of the new fence around the educational buildings, St. James-square, according to the estimates, will be $6500. When this item came up for consideration, Mr. Meredith desired an explanation from the Minister of Education. He thought that the House should be enlightened somewhat as to the general character of the proposed fence.

Mr. Ross replied that the new fence would be constructed of iron and that an estimate of the cost had been arrived at on a basis of the cost involved in erecting the fence circumventing the Horticultural Gardens. Designs had been asked for in order that from a large selection one suitable in every respect might be selected.

Notes From the House.

A number of gentlemen met in the library yesterday afternoon and discussed informally several proposed amendments to the Medical Health Act. The members of the Legislature present were Gilmour, Preston, Meacham, Baxter and McKay (Oxford). Dr. Sheard was the only outsider in attendance. Dr. Gilmour intends introducing a bill embodying the amendments referred to in a few days.

The gentlemen adverted to in yesterday's issue of The World waited upon the Government last evening in order if possible to secure a bonus of $3800 for a railway connecting Bracebridge and Trader Lake. Mr. Mowat promised to consider the matter.

A Toronto Fire.

About 8.15 last night smoke was seen issuing from the large three-story manufacturing establishment owned by William Kidd and situated in Richmond-street, near York. A general alarm was sounded, but much time had been lost, and although the brigade responded quickly the fire had gained great headway before the building was reached. The upper flat, where the fire originated, was occupied by A. J. Gilmour, cabinet maker, and Waltz & McMahon, picture framers, and much inflammable material was stowed there. Ladders were raised to the windows and, despite the volumes of smoke, the firemen carried up the hose and swamped the fire in the interior. In a short time all the ladders were covered with ice, and it is a wonder that some of the men did not lose their footing. The big extension ladder worked splendidly, and all the spectators were unanimous in declaring that it would prove very valuable in case of a fire where lives would be in jeopardy.

The ground floor of the building is occupied by Thomas Dill, machinist. His stock is not very much injured. D. Bell & Co., stained glass manufacturers, are on the second floor. They have no insurance on their stock, which is badly damaged. Those on the top flat have their stock entirely destroyed.

The building is insured in the Liverpool, London & Globe for $5000.

George Lloyd of the town of Napanee, gardener, yesterday, through his solicitors, filed in the office of the Registrar of the Queen's Bench Division a petition against the return of Uriah Wilson (Con.), member of the House of Commons for the county of Lennox.

In the same office a petition on behalf of S. A. Southard, laborer, was filed against the return of Archibald C. Millar (Con.) as member for Prince Edward County.

Sullivan and Corbett.

NEW ORLEANS, March 16.—The Olympic Club last night accepted the offer of Sullivan and Corbett to fight in its arena on Sept. 7 for a purse of $25,000, and will forward articles to-morrow. Each man will be required to put a $2500 forfeit to guarantee his appearance in the ring.

Met Death in a Blacksmith's Forge.

LONDON, Ont., March 16.—Archibald Leitch, who fell into a blacksmith's forge at Glencoe and was frightfully burned, died at the city hospital as the result of his injuries.

A Sensible Legislature.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., March 16.—The Legislature of New South Wales has approved bill for the settlement of labor disputes by courts of arbitration.

The Overflow of the Tiber.

ROME, March 16.—The overflow of the Tiber has inundated the lower parts of Rome. Railway communication with Naples and Florence is interrupted.

FROZEN TO DEATH.

Carried a Woman Four Days Through a Blinding Snow Storm.

WINNIPEG, March 16.—A despatch from the village of Cardiff, near here, to-night says Abraham Evans of Wawota and a neighbor woman, Mrs. Ramage, were lost when she expired. He became snow-blind in the storm of March 8. The horses gave out and Evans carried the woman for four days and wandered over the prairie until last night he was found 12 miles from here badly frozen. He will recover.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

GRANTING OF LICENSES TO AMERICAN FISHERMEN.

Mr. Mills Points Out Certain Facts in Connection Therewith — Sir John Thompson's Reply—Various Notices of Motion Brought Forward.

OTTAWA, March 16.—The chief feature of the proceedings in the House yesterday was certain remarks made by Mr. David Mills, of Bothwell. He spoke on the second reading of the bill giving the Government power to renew the licenses to United States fishing vessels without the authority of the House. He pointed out that the modus vivendi has only been adopted pending the acceptance by the United States of an equitable settlement of the Atlantic fisheries question. He contrasted the treatment which Canadian sealers received from the United States in Behring Sea, an open, ocean where the ships of the world were entitled to sail and ply any avocation. The vessels and property of Canadians had been seized and themselves thrown into prison.

Sir John Thompson quite agreed with the Opposition speakers that the modus vivendi was a concession and that it should not lose its temporary character, but the change proposed by the bill made no alteration in the attitude of the Administration towards the question. It was merely a change which expediency suggested. He had always felt that the issues of licenses and the imposing of fees had no appearance of a surrender of their rights; on the contrary it was a convenient and satisfactory way of asserting their rights, and if their claim of sovereignty over the waters affected them, although this particular question of the Atlantic fisheries was not now engaging the attention of the two countries, other equally important questions were, and it certainly would not be politic to interrupt good feeling and good neighborhood at this particular juncture. And he could say it was the desire of the Canadian Government that all outstanding differences between the two countries should be settled in a friendly manner.

The bill was read a second time.

The bill authorizing the transfer of ordnance land for the purposes of a cattle market in the city of Toronto was put through and read a second time.

Old-Timers in Town.

There were quite a number of old-timers in town to-day, including Louis Wigle and George Washington McMullen, the hero of the Pacific scandal.

Mr. D'Alton McCarthy states that he intends to introduce his bill to abolish the dual language law in the Northwest Territories and to give the Northwest Legislature power to deal with educational matters. Mr. McCarthy states that there were some changes in the bill, but not of a material character.

The bill to amend the Extradition Act, of which Mr. Mulock has given notice, proposes that a criminal extradited from the United States to Canada, or vice versa, may be allowed to give evidence in his or her own behalf, which privilege is not given under the law as it now stands.

A Manitoulin Island deputation to-day waited on various Cabinet ministers. The visitors want the lighthouse service in Georgian Bay improved and urged the establishment of telegraphic connection between the island and the mainland.

A deputation of book importers from Montreal opposed any move in the direction of an increase in the duty on books.

The Minister of Public Works received some deputations to-day. Messrs. Campbell and McGregor, M.P.'s, and other gentlemen from Chatham, Ont., ask that dredging be done at the north of the River Thames for the completion of the channel; Mr. Corbould, M.P., saw the Minister respecting the completion of the improvements at Somas, on the Fraser River; Messrs. Lewis Wigle, N. A. Coste, Post and Krork urged the construction of a dock at Leamington, Ont.

Organizing the Committees.

All the committees met to-day for organization. Mr. Clarke Wallace was appointed chairman of Public Accounts.

Mr. Haggart said that Sir Hector Langevin was too ill to accept the chairmanship of Railways and Canals, although the Government intended to have named him for the post and, therefore, he would move that Mr. Wood of Brockville be chairman. Mr. Ives was appointed chairman of Miscellaneous Bills, Mr. Sproule of Agriculture and Immigration, Mr. Girouard of Privileges and Elections and Dr. Cameron (Inverness) of Expiring Laws.

At a meeting of the press gallery to-day a committee was appointed to arrange for the annual dinner, and if possible that it be held a week from Friday next.

Brothers Loses His Case.

MILTON, March 16.—At the Halton Assizes yesterday the suit of Brothers v. Dorland et al was dismissed. It was an action brought by Inspector of Licenses Brothers against Dorland and Carrick to recover damages for alleged false and malicious arrest in having him extradited from the United States and tried here on a charge of forging certain notes, the result being that he was acquitted.

A warrant is still out for Brothers' brother and the Ontario Government recently sent one of their detectives to California after the alleged forger, but through unwise publication of the fact of his departure the accused was warned in time and fled.

50 Gamblers Captured.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The police of the Delancey-street station house to-night raided a prize fight and captured 50 prisoners, who were locked up.

NASAL BALM

NEVER FAILS.

It is a certain and speedy cure for Cold in the Head and Catarrh in all its stages.

SOOTHING, CLEANSING, HEALING.

Instant Relief, Permanent Cure, Failure Impossible.

Many so-called diseases are simply symptoms of Catarrh, such as head-ache, partial deafness, loss of smell, foul breath, hawking, and spitting, nausea, general feeling of debility, etc. If you are troubled with any of these or kindred symptoms, you have Catarrh, and should lose no time in procuring a bottle of NASAL BALM. Be warned in time, neglected cold in head results in Catarrh, followed by consumption and death. NASAL BALM is sold by all druggists, or will be sent, post paid, on receipt of price (50 cents and $1.00) by addressing Otonabee.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Merry Chime of Wedding Bells.

At the residence of the bride's parents Mr. Mrs. Robert Mitchel, Otonabee. On Wednesday, March 2nd, at 7 p.m., Miss Emma Mitchell and Mr. T. H. Gervin, both of Otonabee. A large number of friends and relatives of both were present to witness the happy event. Punctually at the hour appointed, the bride appeared leaning on the arm of her father. She was becomingly attired in cream wool and silk and carried a bouquet of bridal roses. The bridesmaids, Misses Ida Weir, of Montecello, Iowa, and Minnie Morson, of Harwood, wore gowns of pink henrietta and cream chiffon and carried roses to match. The groom and his assistant, Mr. Will Mitchell, were dressed in the conventional black. After the ceremony and congratulations the company sat down to a sumptuous supper, after which the amusements for both old and young were so engaging as to hold the party together until an early hour the next morning. The presents were numerous and in excellent taste and showed the high esteem in which the young couple are held. The following is a partial list:—

Mr. and Mrs. Sam. Gervin, silver pickle cruet; Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gervin, carving set; Mr. and Mrs. David Hunter, silver berry spoon and sugar shovel; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Weir, silver tea set; Mr. and Mrs. A P. Morgan, silver cruet; Mr. and Mrs. W. Lowse, fruit dish; Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Howden, student lamp; Mr. and Mrs. W. Rutherford, Mr. and Mrs. W. Dixon and Mrs. Harris, silver cruet each; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Warde, student lamp; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weir, eight day clock; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Weir, Carberry, Manitoba, pair stained vases; Mr. and Mrs. R. Gervin, quantity table linen; Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Gervin, quantity table linen; Mrs. Mrs. C. Leary, set silver knives and forks; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Baxter, wine set; Miss Eliza Gervin, biscuit bowl; Fred Erskine and Miss Minnie Morson, lemonade set; Will Mitchell, biscuit bowl; Misses and R. Gillespie, silver cake basket; W. and J. Hunter, glass tea set; Fred Downer, silver butter knife; John E. Leary, carving set; Miss Louie Sedgwick, pair vinegarettes; Robert Mitchell, silver gravy ladle; Miss Essie Sedgwick, hand glass; Miss Emma Deacon, table drape; Miss L. Deacon, Japanese tea pot; Miss Leary, glass fruit dish; Miss Bella Morson, cheese dish; Mrs. M. and W. Weir, Montecello, Iowa, student's lamp, each; W. Masbestt, alarm clock; Miss Marsha Mann, set vases; Miss and Mr. Spence, set vases; Fred and Clara Reynolds, centre table; Miss Bella Manisee, plush toilet set; Miss Eva Fawcett, work box; Will Fawcett, ladies' companion; Thos. Armstrong, jewel case; James Tinney, rocking chair; Mrs. S. Johnstone, set China cups and saucers; Mrs. S. Johnston, table linen; Mrs. J. Gervin, table linen; Mrs. R. Mitchell, table linen; Miss Keziah Weir, table linen; Mrs. John Moore, picture drape; Mr. John Moore, rolling pin, broom, potato pounder; Gordon Baxter, gem tins; George Mitchell, bed room set.

Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice, especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

Obituary Notes.

The Hand of Death Again Busy in our Midst.

(Norwood Register.)

MRS. T. H PEARCE.

On Tuesday evening, Mrs. Pearce, wife of Mr. T. H. Pearce, entered into her rest at the early age of 22 years and 9 months. Deceased was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends and acquaintances. Her death has brought mourning into many houses, and the wholly unexpected nature of it has made that mourning the more extreme. The heartfelt sympathy of the entire community will go out to the sorrow stricken husband and relatives.

MORTIMER LYNCH.

It is with regret that we chronicle the death on the 4th ult., of Mortimer Lynch, an old and highly respected resident of the township of Asphodel, in the 92nd year of his age. Deceased was born in Limerick, Ireland, in the year 1800, and emigrated to Canada in 1830, settling in Prince Edward county where he resided for two years. In 1832 he removed to the township of Asphodel, taking up his residence on lot 20, in the 3rd concession. Here he resided continuously until the time of his death. He was widely known and highly respected. His word was his bond and the large funeral procession showed the high esteem in which he was held in the community.

MRS. JOSEPH METCALF.

The many friends of Mrs. Joseph Metcalf, Westwood, will learn with deep regret of her death on Tuesday. Deceased was in the 75th year of her age and was held in high esteem by all who knew her. The relatives have the sympathy of the neighborhood in their bereavement.

After the grip, Hood's Sarsaparilla will restore your strength and health, and expel very trace of poison from the blood.

The Best in the World.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the most palatable and wholesome preparation of Cod Liver Oil in the world, and is now being taken by invalids, particularly those afflicted with consumption, with the most astonishing success. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. Is big bottles, 50c. and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores.

For Mobile rubber stamps that will answer all purposes, see Low's Sulphur Soap. w d

MANY TRAGEDIES.

The Victims of a Vienna Imitator of Jack-the-Ripper.

VIENNA, March 14.—This city continues to be shocked by mysterious murders. The latest victim is Leopold Buchinger, who was stabbed to the heart by an undetected assassin in one of the most public places in Vienna.

This makes the list of tragedies five in number, and there is a growing feeling of terror among the public. The impression is gaining ground that Vienna harbors some madman with a homicidal mania and cunning enough to gratify his fiendish appetite without being discovered by ordinary methods.

The police are devoting themselves earnestly to the work of detection, and the leading streets at night are watched by officers in citizens' attire.

Bonaparte Paid Up.

LONDON, March 14.—The prosecution of Louis Clovis Bonaparte, son of the late Prince Lucien Bonaparte, who was charged by his first wife with having conspired to obtain possession of jewelry valued at £20,000, in order to give it to Miss Laura Scott, whom he subsequently married, was withdrawn in the Central Criminal Court, Old Bailey, to-day on Mr. Bonaparte undertaking to return all the jewelry and pay Rosalie Bonaparte's costs in the action.

LONDON, March 14.—Countess Russell, who recently unsuccessfully sued for a writ of judicial separation, has appealed. Judgment is reserved. Countess Russell claims that she has not the money necessary to pay the costs and solicitor's fees, and asks that her husband be compelled to pay them.

Mr. John A. Campbell, St. Sixte, Que., writes:—"My wife was unwell for four years from irregular periods, brought about by a severe cold. She tried many remedies, but without relief. Seeing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised, I procured two boxes and the result is a permanent cure. They are the best medicine in the world for the diseases you represent them for. Sold by all dealers. dw.

To Save His Bondsmen.

MERRITTON, Ont., March 15.—Mr. Tremble, a hotel proprietor of Merritton, who was arrested at Suspension Bridge some three years ago charged with robbery of $800 from a cattle drover and who was convicted of the offence, but carried his case to the Supreme Court of the United States where the judgment was confirmed, has left here to serve out a three years' sentence and save his bondsmen being called upon to pay $5000, in which amount they gave sureties.

A Hairless Horse.

GREENSBURG, Ind., March 15.—George S. Little of this town is the owner of a 3-year-old horse which is entirely destitute of any hirsute adornment whatever.

Scientific men who have examined the animal, and they are many, have been unable to explain the phenomenon except by the theory that nature repeats itself. It is recorded in some natural histories that at the beginning of the present century there was a race of hairless horses belonging to the South Sea Islands. The natives held them sacred, and on the great festal days these god-horses were brought forth and the people prostrated themselves before them in supplication for future blessings.

A Winnipeg Wedding.

WINNIPEG, March 15.—J. F. Steen, president of the Board of Trade, was married yesterday to Mrs. Annie Rogerson, lately of St. John, N.B. They have left for Toronto and Montreal on a wedding trip.

An Heir for a Happy Father of 67.

IONIA, Mich., March 15.—Ex-Congressman G. W. Webber is receiving many congratulations yesterday on the birth of his first son and only heir. Mr. Webber is 67 years old and is worth half a million dollars.

An Unavenged Murder.

WINDSOR, March 15.—A new effort will be made to catch Henry Williams, the colored man who killed William Lyman with a neckyoke in McKee's lumber yard about three years ago.

The reward of $500 for his arrest is again being brought to the attention of the criminal catchers of the country.

Improving Collingwood Harbor.

COLLINGWOOD, Ont., March 15.—A by-law to raise $15,000 for the purpose of dredging the harbor was carried yesterday by a vote of 321 for to 7 against. Other appropriations are expected to be made which will dredge the harbor to a depth of 26 feet, making the channel navigable to any steamer on fresh water

Was Charged With Fraud.

MONTREAL, March 15.—Edward McKeown, the Toronto retailer charged with fraud by Gault Bros., was up before Judge Desnoyers yesterday.

McKeown pleaded not guilty and was remanded for enquete.

Cutting Down the Force.

BRANTFORD, March 15.—From 40 to 45 workmen will be discharged from the Grand Trunk workshops. The men will be taken from the various building departments.

The Heslop Murder Trial.

HAMILTON, March 15.—At 9.30 today the trial of Jack Bartram, Jack Lottridge and George Douglas, for the murder of John Heslop on Jan. 27, 1891, will be commenced at the Wentworth assizes.

Each season has its own peculiar malady; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla little danger need be feared from meteorological influences. No other blood medicine is so safe and effective.

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

The Head Surgeon

Of the Lisbon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flushes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LISBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. R. Irving Dodge, 110 West 126th street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

SHOCKING CALAMITY ON A BRITISH CATTLE SHIP.

Seven Men Suffocated in Their Berths by Gas. The Esquimalt Harbor to Be Properly Protected. The Great Strike of Coal Miners.

LONDON, March 15.—Seven men out of 14 who slept in the forecastle on the steamer Navarro, which sailed from Boston for London on Feb. 17, were found dead in their bunks the second morning out.

In addition to the crew she carried 14 cattlemen, one boss foreman and two refrigerator men.

The 14 cattlemen slept in the forecastle in rather close quarters. The weather was cold and stormy, the men tired and sleepy, and some one suggested that a fire be piled high with coal. This was done, and some one else closed the port holes. None of the men noticed the lack of ventilation until too late.

That Fatal Sleep.

One by one the men dropped asleep, aided, doubtless, by the gaseous atmosphere. As the hours rolled on the gas became denser and the men in the upper bunks were enveloped in its deadly embrace. In the morning, as the men did not appear at the usual hour to attend to the wants of the cattle, the captain ordered them routed out. The boss cattle man and some of the crew entered the forecastle and were almost overcome by the deadly atmosphere. They found seven men dead and seven almost dead. None of the latter were out of danger for two days, and one man hovered between life and death for five days.

Had Coal Responsible

It was plain to be seen that the men had been poisoned by coal gas. The quality of the coal undoubtedly had a bearing on their death. The coal was so bad that the vessel was 24 days on the voyage, and the captain ascribes the length of the voyage as much to the quality of the coal as to the high winds. The seven dead men were buried at sea.

In the Leeds district the strike is severely felt. Nearly all the large mills and the iron and steel works are reducing the number of their employes or suspending work altogether.

A number of trains on the Lancashire, Yorkshire and Great Northern railways have been taken off.

ESQUIMALT HARBOR.

The Work of Improving the Defences to be Carried Out.

LONDON, March 15.—In the House of Commons yesterday Mr. Broderick, Financial Secretary of the War Office, stated that he had reason to believe that the Canadian Minister of Militia was interesting himself in the question of the defences of Esquimalt and that the Government was confident that the work would now be carried out.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

As a pick-me-up after excessive exertion or exposure, Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

LUDWIG IV. DEAD.

The Queen's Son-in-Law, Grand Duke of Hesse, No More.

BERLIN, March 14.—The Grand Duke of Hesse died at 1.15 o'clock this morning.

It was seen at 5 o'clock Saturday evening that the end was approaching. The family and ministers were then summoned to the dying man's bedside, and all were present at the time of his death.

The body is attired in a general's uniform.

The official Darmstadt Gazette announces the accession of the deceased's son, Ernest Ludwig, to the grand dukedom.

LONDON, March 1 .—The news of the death of the Grand Duke of Hesse caused great grief at Windsor, where the deceased was a great favorite.

The Queen will send the Duke of Edinburgh to represent her at the funeral and may possibly delay her own departure for the Continent, as a mark of respect for the deceased.

Ludwig IV., the late Grand Duke of Hesse, was born on Sept. 12, 1837. He succeeded to the throne on the death of his uncle, Grand Duke Ludwig III., on June 13, 1877. On July 1, 1862, he married Princess Alice, second daughter of Queen Victoria, who died on Dec. 14, 1878. His eldest daughter, Princess Victoria, married Prince Ludwig of Battenberg; his second daughter, Princess Elizabeth, married the Grand Duke Sergius of Russia; while his third daughter, Princess Irene, married Prince Henry of Prussia. There is yet another daughter, Princess Alice, who was born on June 6, 1872.

The heir to the throne is Prince Ernest Ludwig, the Grand Duke's only son, who was born on Nov. 25, 1868.

Spicy Divorce Trial.

LONDON, March 14.—The Divorce Court has ordered that the suit for divorce brought against his wife by Alberto Randegger, the celebrated composer and director of the Royal Academy of Music, be placed on the list for trial Monday.

The co-respondent in the case is Hayden Coffin, the well-known American baritone singer.

Eugenia May Live in France.

LONDON, March 14.—Ex-Empress Eugenia, who was presented with a villa and gardens at Cape Martin by the Duchess of Rosta, asked President Carnot to assent to her permanent residence there. The Cabinet declined to grant formal assent, as that would be against the law, but President Carnot has intimated that in spite of this decision the Government is not likely to interfere with the ex-Empress.

Thieves Rob a Church of Jewels.

MUNICH, March 14.—The famous Pilgrimage Church of Harrgottsruh, at Friedberg, near Augsburg, has been robbed of plate valued at 18,000 marks. The thieves also desecrated the remains of the martyr, St. Justinius. The glass case inclosing the bones was broken apart and the jewels upon the garments of the dead removed.

A Gilted Blackguard.

LONDON, March 14.—Sir Richard Frederick Cavendish, second son of Lord Edward Cavendish and a nephew of the Duke of Devonshire, who is a student at Trinity College, Cambridge University, has been fined £2 and costs for using obscene language in Market-street, Cambridge. He is 21 years of age.

Behring Sea.

LONDON March 14.—Lord Salisbury's delay in arranging for a renewal of the modus vivendi in the Behring Sea matter has been a subject for private consideration by the leaders of the Opposition, resulting in a decision not to move in the matter until the policy of the Government appears more definite.

That Tired Feeling.

Is often the forerunner of serious illness, which may be broken up if a good tonic like Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken in season. This medicine invigorates the kidneys and liver to remove the waste from the system, purifies the blood and builds up the strength.

Constipation is caused by loss of the peristaltic action of the bowels. Hood's Pills restore the action and invigorate the liver.

He Lived on Forgeries.

BERLIN, March 15.—A tragic event is reported from Liebau in Prussian Silesia. Herr Eckerd, the governor of the district, a man of high standing and supposed large wealth, was lately discovered to have been engaged in extensive forgeries.

It appears that for some time past he has really been bankrupt, and has only kept up his credit on forged bills of exchange. Finding that his guilt was becoming known he committed suicide by taking poison.

Since his death additional forgeries have come to light, and the aggregate is said to be enormous. Financial institutions and individuals who have cashed the forged paper are seriously embarrassed.

The Healy Family.

LONDON, March 15.—There are now three members of the Healy family in the House of Commons. Timothy represents County Longford, Maurice sits for the city and Tom has just been returned unopposed for North Wexford. They come from Bantry, and this little town has supplied nine members of the Irish party. Timothy is piling up riches. He has just mulcted The Freeman's Journal in £700 and an apology. That should turn young Mr. Dwyer Gray's hair gray.

A Bombshell for Anti-Catholics

LONDON, March 15.—William O'Brien, M.P., has introduced a bill in Parliament calling upon all supporters of the Salvation Army processions to support his bill for legalizing Roman Catholic processions through the streets.

This is a bombshell in the camp of the anti-Catholic party.

The Ill-Fated Pearls Sold.

LONDON, March 15.—Major Hargreaves is so tired of the celebrated pearls which have been the cause of so much misery that he decided to place them in the hands of Christie to be sold.

Mrs. Osborne continues in the infirmary in Holloway Jail. Sir Richard Quain, who believes she will not live to complete her term, is attending her frequently.

"German Syrup"

A Farmer at Edom, Texas, Says:

"We are six in family. We live in a place where we are subject to violent Colds and Lung Troubles. I have used German Syrup for six years successfully for Sore Throat, Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, Pains in the Chest and Lungs, and spitting-up of Blood. I have tried many different kinds of cough Syrups in my time, but let me say to anyone wanting such medicine—German Syrup is the best. That has been my experience. If you use it once, you will go back to it whenever you need it. It gives total relief and is a quick cure. My advice to everyone suffering with Lung Troubles is—Try it. You will soon be convinced. In all the families where your German Syrup is used we have no trouble with the Lungs at all. It is the medicine for this country. John Franklin Jones.

Berry Opposes Capital Punishment.

LONDON, March 15.—London was treated to-day to an interesting spectacle, a hangman lecturing on the abolition of capital punishment. Berry, who sent 140 souls into eternity via the gallows and who has just resigned his post of official executioner, is engaged at the Royal Aquarium.

Did Stanley Torture Him?

VIENNA, March 15.—The parents of the Austrian lieutenant Lucksitsch, who was a member of a party sent out to rescue Emin Pasha, and who died in Africa, have begun suit against Stanley, the leader of the expedition, to recover £4000 damages. They allege that their son was subjected to tortures which caused his death.

The Evil That Men Do Lives After Them.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 14.—George Golden, aged 65, committed suicide Friday, leaving a note saying he had been induced to put all his money in the California National Bank and had deposited over $1300 the day before the bank failed. This makes the second suicide resulting from the failure of the bank, President Collins being the other.

Two Careless With the English Language.

A clothing dealer, in Boston, advertised all-wool pantaloons for $2, advising the public to make haste and secure the great bargain, saying: "They will not last long." Probably they would not. Neither will your health last long if you don't take care of it. Keep Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in your house. They are indispensable to every family, as they positively cure biliousness, with its endless train of distressing ailments sick headache, irritability, constipation, dizziness and indigestion; a marvelous specific for liver and kidney troubles, and a pure vegetable compound. They are sugar-coated, the smallest pills made, and the best, because they do all they promise. All druggists sell them, and the proprietors guarantee them, and refund the price if they fail. o

A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 25, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully, H. F. ATWELL.

St. Patrick Day's Concert.

There is every indication that the St. Patrick's day concert in Bradburn's Opera House on Thursday evening next, will be one of the most successful and enjoyable events of the kind ever given in town. A fine programme, which will be opened by the Amateur Orchestra, will be presented, to which the contributions of Miss Louise Yekome, solo violinist, and Mrs. W. J. Morrow, solo pianiste, will be richly worth hearing. A large attendance is assured; the reserved seat plan is filling up rapidly, and persons desirous of securing seats should lose no time in doing so. Plan of hall at Greatrex's drug store. Tickets 25 and 50 cents.

OPERA HOUSE

The Chariot Race.

Read what the press of Toronto and various other places say about Sara Lord Bailey's rendering of the above selection: "Her readings were good, particularly the rendering of 'The Chariot Race,' which has probably never been equalled in Toronto. The brilliant reader is already becoming quite popular with the Canadian public." "Hurlamous 'Chariot Race' was splendid, and as she portrayed the contestants one could almost imagine themselves at the entertainment and see the excited spectators, the foaming steeds, the picture was so well drawn. The last number, "The Experience of a Genius," captured the audience and delighted everyone. It has not been our privilege to listen to so talented a reciter for a long time, and we are sure that if she returns she will be greeted with an overflowing house." "Mrs. Bailey is an elocutionist of no mean merit, her dramatic selections being especially good. Her reading of 'The Chariot Race,' from Ben Hur, was a magnificent effort."

Reserved seat plan now open at Scholfield Drug Store.

Curliana Jottings.

Peterboroughs Victorious over the Gamebellfordors and Millbrookers Yesterday—Other Notes and Jottings on the Great Game.

Two rinks of the Peterboroughs went to Millbrook yesterday and returned home at five o'clock last night victorious, even if it was by the narrow margin of one shot. Eighteen ends were played, the game lasted three hours, and the ice was rather rough. The Millbrook curlers who have achieved quite a reputation, enjoyed the sport immensely. Skip J. H. Conaal led his rink from start to finish, and at the close his rink was 9 shots in the lead. The other local quartette skipped by J. B. Pentland, did not come so well, being 8 shots behind at the close.

The following are the names of the rinks and their scores:

Majority for Peterborough, 1 shot.

Last evening the two Campbellford rinks which had been playing Lakefield yesterday forenoon and had lost to them by 12 shots, in the competition for the district medal given by the Caledonian Society of Toronto, came to Peterborough to play a couple of quarter-tosses of the home curlers. The struggle took place at the rink last evening before a large crowd of interested spectators and a like fate awaited the Campbellfordors similar to the one in number of shots at least, that the Lakefield curlers had administered in the morning. The ice was in splendid condition and until over half of the ends were played Campbellford was in the lead but the tide turned and at the close of the 18 ends, the Peterborough's had won the battle, both quartettes being in the lead.

Following are the names of the players and the scores:

Campbellford.	Peterborough.

Yesterday forenoon Campbellford played Lakefield for the Caledonian Scotsins' Medal. Mr. E. S. Davidson umpired the game. The Campbellfordors lead until the 19th end, when they were 5 shots ahead on both rinks, but during the last 4 ends a most remarkable turn took place, Skip Strickland's rink taking the lead by 10 shots and Skip Postlewaite's quartette by 8 shots. The memorable struggle lasted over four hours. The following are the names of the rinks and their scores.

Majority for Lakefield, 13 shots.

Immediately after the match Mr. Strickland for Lakefield, and Mr. Owen for Campbellford offered to put up $5 each, the sum to go towards buying a medal to be played for by Campbellford to-morrow between the two rinks. In default of either team failing to put in an appearance Referee Davidson is to keep the "boodle."

Messrs. T. Sevigny, C. H. Jellett, W. J. Montgomery and A. W. Strickland, skip, go to Port Hope to-morrow to curl.

The Torontos arrived in town at noon to-day and registered at the Snowden House. They came down four rinks strong and are playing the home rinks this afternoon. The local skips are Messrs. W. H. Badden, W. G. Ferguson, C. McGill and R. M. Dennis town.

Cricket Club Meeting.

A meeting of the cricket club and of all admirers of the game, is called for Monday evening next in the Olympic Club rooms. Nothing should be allowed to prevent any cricketers' attendance at this meeting. The interests of the game in town this summer depends on it.

A Night with the Oddfellows.

Don't forget the grand entertainment to be given by Peterborough Lodge, No. 111, I. O.O.F., in the Opera House on Friday evening, March 25th. The following well known talent will participate in the grand proceedings: Ladies — Mrs. Clyde Green, Mrs. M. H. Cochran, Miss Annie Fawcett, Miss Harris, Miss C. Elliott. Gentlemen—Messrs. Harris, F. Clark, D. H. Moore and F. Umpleby. Tickets, 25 and 50 cents.

Making Fast Friends.

Our "G. C." brand of sugar cured hams, pork and fancy meats are taking like wild fire. Get some if you want an appetizing meal. Also fresh tenderloin, spare ribs, pigs feet, shanks, leaf lard, etc. Three pounds of sausage for a quarter. Prices and goods bound to please. New customers flocking to us every day. GEORGE CARTON, Pork Packer and Family Grocer, corner of George and Charlotte streets.

A Slight Accident.

Last evening about seven o'clock Miss P. Hall, niece of Sheriff Hall, Hunter street, was trimming a Virginia creeper vine which run up the side of the house, from an upstairs window. Miss Hall reaching too far out to snip off the young tendrils of the vine lost her balance and would have fallen heavily to the ground had she not secured a slight hold upon the window sill and the momentarily broke the force of her fall. Miss Hall's right hand is somewhat sore, otherwise she was not injured.

Another Serious Mishap.

Mr. David Tully, who resides about 14 miles out of town in Monaghan township, was seriously injured last night. He was driving in a cutter with two gentlemen from Cavan and was just turning the corner of Hunter and Aylmer, the cutter slewed throwing him out on his head on the hard frozen ground. His left eye was badly bruised and cut, four stitches having to be placed in a long cut over the organ. His left hand and hip were also badly bruised and injured. Dr. Carmichael dressed the injured man's wounds.

An Ashburnham Accident.

This morning Mr. W. E. Hunter, a retired Otonabee farmer, who intends removing to the village the first of April, was drawing in a load of wood from the farm, and when turning the corner of Concession and Downie streets the sleigh "slewed" off a deep culvert, throwing Mr. Hunter and the wood to the bottom. Mr. Hunter received two severe wounds, one on the temple and one on the top of the head, from which the blood flowed freely. Dr. Goldsmith attended to the injuries, which are more painful than serious.

"For They are Jolly Good Fellows."

Officers and Men of "A" Company 57th Battalion Hold their First Annual Supper at the Snowden House Last Evening—An Enjoyable Time, a Fine Spread and a Creditable Turnout.

The first annual dinner given by the officers of "A" Company, 57th Battalion Peterborough Rangers, to the men composing the company, was held at the Snowden House last evening. This first event of its character proved a highly successful and enjoyable venture. Everything passed off quietly and well, the speeches were brief and happy, the songs lively and catching, the spread neat and tasty, and the hour for departure early and seasonable. The preparations made for the grand affair in the large and well appointed dining room did not detract any merit or fame from Mine Host, Wm. Snowden as a first class caterer. As one viewed the long rows of tables, loaded with all the good things which the hand of either nature or man could supply, one felt anxious and uneasy for the feast to begin. This first dinner will long be remembered by the officers and men of "A" Company.

It was a successful affair, a happy evening being spent, and it will serve in after years as a pleasant reminder when down the long list of annual dinners, they look back with pleasure and yet regret to the time when the officers of "A" Company made the first step in the direction of a social annual reunion.

At the tables were seated some forty guests in all, and at the head of the long row sat the genial Captain of "A" Company and the chairmen of the evening, Capt. E. F. Mason. Associated with him around the festive board were the members of the staff present. On his right were seated Major Edwards and Capt. Donnistoun, while on his left Lieut. Snyder and Major Bell occupied seats. Lieut. Thos. Tebb was seated at the other end of the table, and ably filled the post of vice-chairman during the evening. Among the non-commissioned officers of the company present were Sergeants D. Harvie, J. H. Smith and P. Corkery, Corporals Petrie, Crosby and Thompson and Bugler Millar.

After those present had given the delicious and appetizing luxuries their careful and utmost attention, the tables were cleared, and then began that highly instructive and interesting time which serves so admirably and well as a sequel of all dinners, popularly called "The Feast of Reason and the Flow of Soul."

The first toast of the evening and proposed by the chairman, was "The Queen." The toast was drank with a gusto and the strains of "God Save the Queen rolled out heartily and loyally from all the "boys in red," and coupled with it was the sentiment "God bless her."

"The Governor-General, the Lieutenant-Governor, the House of Commons and the Legislative Assembly" was next proposed by Lieut. Tebb, and associated with it was the name of Capt R. M. Donnistoun, who made a fitting reply. He said that he felt honored to be present on such an auspicious occasion. The militia force of Canada was true to the Queen and the Governor-General, and the number of congratulatory addresses sent by Her Majesty to the military authorities in Canada, amply proved the veracity of his assertion. He regretted that no members of Parliament were present to take part in the interesting proceedings of the evening. The militia force was under the direct control of the Dominion Government, and the appropriation made by parliament to the militia departments was the smallest grant made to any of the Canadian departments. This the speaker said was a crying shame. The forces of Canada he urged to form some united efforts and action in this matter and said it behooved militia men, one and all, to see if by their voice and vote they could not obtain a more liberal grant in the militia estimates. If the Governor General himself were present the speaker felt sure that His Excellency would have been highly pleased with the manner in which his toast had been drank by the officers and men to-night. If there were any others present whose names he had omitted to mention in his speech he was sure that they would have felt honored by the hearty manner in which the toasts to their healths had been drank by the assembly present.

The next toast on the list was that of "Our guests", and Sergt. Robt. Lyfield responded in a neat speech in which he expressed the pleasure it afforded him at being present and congratulated the officers and men upon the success of the evening.

Corp. Robt. Petrie then favoured the gathering with a song, loudly applauded.

"The Army Navy and Volunteers" proposed by vice-chairman Tebb, was duly toasted and that seemingly necessary adjunct, of every toast "They are jolly good fellows" seemed to roll out in fuller and happier strains than ever from the "soldier boys." Coupled with this toast was the name of Lieut. Snyder. He stated that the Canadian volunteers had proved their metal and worth upon five or six different occasions, and has never been found wanting. Major General Middleton said he would back the Canadian artillery against any artillery in the world. The responder thought the "57th" one of the finest battalions in existence. He landed "A" company in particular, and said that he confidently expected that she would take first place in the drill competition this year.

Then came "The Colonel and Staff," which the men honoured in a right royal manner, and applauded heartily the responders, Major Bell and Major Edwards. The former gave some wholesome and sound advice on discipline. He gave a glowing description of his trip and the various experience he met with in his tour to Bermuda and the West India Islands. He described the military forces and equipment of those islands. Major Edwards stated that in his opinion "A" company was the best in the battalion. He landed Capt. Mason and said that he was always proud of his old company. He hoped that in the matter of drill, attention and discipline they would show the way to all the rest. There was the proper spirit among the officers and men. While from his present position he took a deep interest in all the companies of the battalion still he always remembered No. 1. More power to No. 1 company! On resuming his seat the Major was loudly applauded.

Capt. R. M. Donnistoun by special request then favored the assembly with two of his humorous songs given in his characteristic droll style and manner, "Drill ye terriers, drill" and "Bally Hoolie." He was cheered to the echo.

"The ladies" was then toasted with a fervour of spirits and a warmth of heart and soul. Coupled with this came of Sergt. J. H. Smith who blushingly replied, making a neat and humorous adress.

Major Edwards then on behalf of the staff begged leave to propose to the toast of Capt. Mason, Lieut Tebb and the non-commissioned officers and men of "A" company. Capt. Mason in reply thanked the members of the company for the hearty way in which the had received the toast. He said a battalion fund had been set apart by the officers, and said that each comprising the battalion would be given a number by their officers in due course of time. He urged the boys to take an interest in the drill and assist in making A the best company in the Battalion. He advised them to always keep their arms and accoutrements clean; men who did not do this were degrading the company. Discipline was one of the greatest points in the company's success and he would firmly impress upon the men. He thanked the Colonel and staff and Major Edwards in particular for the prize which was to be given next fall to the best drilled and most efficient company in the Battalion. He hoped that "A" Company, which had last year had the credit of being the best company of the battalion in every way, would again sustain their well earned reputation and win the prize. He made an urgent appeal to them and said they must do so.

Lieut. Tebb, Sergts. Harvie and Smith and Corp. Petrie all made brief speeches responding the sentiments and remarks of their doughty captain. Mayor Bell also added a few complimentary remarks on the high standard of efficiency of No. 1 Company.

Adjt. Donnistoun then proposed the toast of "The Band" and coupled with it the name of the band bandmaster, F. W. Millar. In response the bandmaster stated that the band always took a great interest in the affairs of the battalion and when ever it was going away they always put forth an extra effort. He confidently expected good results this summer from the organization of a bugle band. They might talk about their long service but he had been enrolled for 32 years, longer than any of them. When ten years of age he played in the bugle band. He thanked them for their praises.

Robt. Lyfield, as a civilian took the liberty of responding for the citizens of Peterborough, saying he hoped ere long to see a band in which they could be proud of. The last toast on the programme proposed the toast of "The Press," which was drank. Messrs. Frank McKay, of the Review, and George VanBlaricom, of the EXAMINER, duly responded in its interests.

Capt. Mason, in conclusion of the evening's programme, stated that drill would be started on the second Tuesday in April. He thought the weather would then be sufficiently warm. They expected a visiting battalion here on the 24th of May, and the company expected to go on its annual trip on July 1st. The objective point of their visit was not yet decided on.

During the evening, band master Miller, Capt Donnistoun, Corp. Robt. Petrie, Privates, William McLennan, Howard Hughes, rendered songs as agreeable intervals. Private Geo. McWilliams also contributed a mouth organ solo, and Major Edwards related a facetious French story. Every one present thoroughly enjoyed themselves, and all separated to their respective homes "sorry to part but hoping to meet around the festive board again."

The strains of "God Save the Queen" and "Auld Lang Syne" brought an evening of rare amusement, instruction and song to a reluctant close.

DREADFUL PSORIASIS

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.

My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physicians were afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. It covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scales fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the CUTICURA REMEDIES, and after using two bottles CUTICURA RESOLVENT, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottles of CUTICURA RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake of CUTICURA SOAP, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the REMEDIES. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight.

Possess good personal habits such as punctuality, attention to details, politeness, etc., and to these add a good BUSINESS EDUCATION and you will really have the KEY TO SUCCESS.

HESLOP MURDER TRIAL.

DOUGLAS CORROBORATES THE TESTIMONY OF GOOSEY.

Describing How Bartram Shot the Old Man—Alleged Admissions by the Accused to Fellow-Prisoners in Brantford Jail—The Trial Now in Full Swing.

HAMILTON, March 17.—The court room was thronged with ladies when the trial of John Bartram and John Lottridge for the murder of the aged treasurer of Ancaster township was resumed.

There were few new facts divulged in connection with the tragedy.

Lawyer Heyd continued his cross-examination of the Indian Goosey, but did not confuse the witness to any material extent.

How Goosey Was Brought to Canada.

The manner in which Goosey and Douglas were extradited from Lewiston came out in the course of the examination. Frank Miller, who is chief of police at Niagara Falls, gave Goosey a drink out of a bottle and he went to sleep. Next thing he remembered he was over on the Canadian side with George Douglas, both being in charge of Detective Greer. The detective told them they were found lying in the ditch on the Canadian side.

Goosey said he had told the story of the murder to Constable Hunter partially before telling it to Magistrate Woodyatt, and before he knew of the free pardon. He was induced to tell it because he heard from the Youngs that Douglas had given it all away, and there was therefore no use in his keeping quiet about it.

The Other Accomplice.

George Douglas, the other confessed accomplice to the murder, told his story through Interpreter Josiah Hill. Douglas corroborated the story of Goosey with respect to the visit to Bartram's house, and Bartram's proposal to go out and make $500 each. He also repeated the details of the drive to the Heslop residence. Witness, Bartram and Goosey left the rig in charge of Lottridge in front of the gate, and went on to the house. Witness went around one way, and Goosey and Bartram the other way. When he got to the door where Bartram and Goosey were, he found the door broken open. Goosey stayed outside, and witness and Bartram entered and broke in the inner door.

Bartram Shot the Old Man.

Bartram had lit a small candle, which he held in one hand, and had a revolver in the other. Bartram went upstairs first, witness following close. When they came to a landing an old man came to a door and asked what they were doing there. Bartram answered that he was going upstairs, and the old man went back into the bedroom, returning with a chair, and struck witness, and witness knocked him down, when Jack Bartram shot him. Then Bartram handed witness the revolver, and told him to let no one go down. Witness held the revolver in his left hand. There were two women there, and witness told them, "You stay here: it's all right; there are two men outside." Bartram searched the house for money, while witness stood guard over the women. After ransacking the house he and Bartram left and met Goosey and Lottridge at the rig.

Douglas' account of the return journey and the subsequent proceedings of the quartet was a repetition of the story told by Goosey. Douglas said he told Tom Young, the hotelkeeper, and Mrs. Young about the murder four or five weeks later.

Alleged Admissions by Prisoners.

Douglas remembered seeing Lottridge in Brantford jail, when Lottridge told him to keep his mouth shut and say nothing about the murder. He saw Bartram also in Brantford jail. Bartram told witness to keep his mouth shut and they could do nothing. Witness saw Lottridge in the jail in Hamilton. Lottridge told him to say nothing and it would be all right; Lottridge promised to secure a lawyer for him if he would keep quiet, and to give him $50 besides when he got out.

John Sears, who was serving a term for larceny in Brantford jail when the prisoners were there, testified that he heard Lottridge tell Douglas to keep quiet and say nothing. Douglas walked away and said he was sorry. Lottridge followed him and said, "What's the use of being sorry? What's the use of crying for sweet milk after it is spilt? There are only four of us who know anything about it, and if we keep our mouths shut it will be all right." Witness was close beside them while the conversation went on.

Lottridge asked if there was any way of speaking to Bartram, and witness told him he could speak through their telephone, meaning the pipe for conveying hot air. Lottridge talked to Bartram, telling him he was in for the Heslop case, and Bartram warning him in reply to keep quiet.

The next day a conversation took place between Douglas and Lottridge, when the latter again told Douglas to keep quiet.

The court then adjourned.

Nelles Douglas Released.

Nelles Douglas, nephew of George Douglas, who was arrested Tuesday on an old charge of larceny, was yesterday released by order of Judge Rose. He is an important witness for the defence.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE CANADIAN MINISTERS VISIT TO WASHINGTON.

The Correspondence Between the Two Governments Laid Upon the Table—The Soulanges Canal—The Senate Resumes—Letter Carriers Pay to be Increased.

OTTAWA, March 17.—Sir John Thompson laid on the table yesterday the correspondence and documents appertaining to the recent visits of the Canadian Ministers to Washington.

The initial communications are those of Lord Stanley, Sir Julian Pauncefote and Mr. Blaine and are directed to endeavor to fix on a date for the meeting. It appears by a private note from Mr. Blaine to Sir Julian that the Secretary of State is anxious that the meeting "may not become a public affair as it did before." He also speaks of the Canadian Ministers as "The Canadian gentlemen," and Sir Julian thinks the phrase so good that he quotes it in his letter. Finally the 10th of February was appointed, but the Canadian Ministers could not engage that they could keep their movements from becoming known. It was understood, however, that the discussion should be private and informal and that there was to be no limit to the questions discussed.

The meeting took place on the date given above and the Canadian ministers submitted their propositions. They related to the Alaska boundary, to the protection of fish, to reciprocity in wrecking and to the Atlantic fisheries. The first three propositions of the Canadians were accepted by Mr. Blaine on the terms offered.

A Rejected Proposition.

The last proposal, namely, that with respect to the Atlantic fisheries and decidedly the most important of the propositions, was not entertained by Mr. Blaine. The following is the text of that proposition:

It is proposed that in the United States and Canada all duties shall be relieved from fish of all kinds (except fish preserved in oil) and from fish oil, whale oil, seal oil and other products of fish being the produce of fisheries carried on by the fishermen of the United States and Canada, as well as from the casks, barrels, kegs, cans and other usual and necessary coverings containing all or any of the products above mentioned and that while the aforesaid articles are allowed to be brought to the United States without duty by British subjects the privilege of entering the ports, bays and harbors of the coast of Canada shall be accorded to United States fishing vessels by small annual licenses, free of charge, for the following purposes, namely:

1. The purchase of provisions, bait, etc., seines lines and all other supplies and outfits.
2. Transhipment of catch for transport by any means of conveyance.
3. Shipping of crews.

The like privileges to be given to fishing vessels of Canada on the Atlantic coast of the United States while the aforesaid articles are allowed to be brought into Canada without duty by American citizens.

Propositions Accepted.

On the other questions Mr. Blaine agrees to the appointment of a joint commission to delimit the Alaska boundary. He agrees to the adoption of the proposed regulations for preventing the use of destructive means of catching fish and the pollution of streams, the appointment of close season and for the restriction and replenishment of contiguous waters. He also agrees to reciprocity in wrecking and salvage of vessels.

Mr. Blaine introduced one subject not included in the propositions of the Canadian ministers, namely, the appointment of two commissioners to determine the boundary between Maine and Canada in Passamaquoddy Bay.

The Soulanges Canal.

OTTAWA, March 17.—The whole of yesterday's session was taken up in discussing the question whether there is any necessity of constructing the Soulanges Canal. The new canal is projected through the county of Soulanges on the north side of the St. Lawrence River. It is to be 14 feet in depth. There is already in existence an 11 foot canal on the south side of the river, known as the Beauharnois Canal.

The engineers of the Department of Railways and Canals have come to the conclusion that owing to the existence of a strait of quicksand the canal could not be deepened. A new canal on the north shore has therefore been determined on.

Letter Carrier's Salaries.

OTTAWA, March 17.—A number of the Conservative members brought their eloquence to bear on Postmaster-General Caron yesterday on the subject of letter carriers' salaries. The request put forward was that a man's salary on entering the service should be $400, with a maximum of $800 to be attained in five years.

Messrs. Cockburn and Coatsworth took a prominent part in urging the matter on the Minister. The former was crammed full of facts. The minimum at present is $360, the maximum $800 and the period eight years.

Sir Adolphe said he was himself favorable to the increase and promised to bring it before his colleagues.

The Senate after a week's holiday reassembled last night.

Sir J. Thompson told a deputation of lawyers yesterday that the different law associations throughout the Province of Ontario would be supplied with the statutes, etc., free. He will consider the proposal to make monetary grants to these associations.

SEARCHING FOR JANE.

How a Father Who Spent Years in Australia Found His Family Broken Up.

BUFFALO, March 17.—Samuel Wood, an Englishman, has asked the Buffalo police to assist him finding his 25-year-old daughter Jane.

Twelve years ago the girl was sent to Canada by her stepmother. Wood was then in Australia.

The girl went to Toronto and lived three years. Then she was induced to enter an immoral house at Niagara Falls. She came to Buffalo after a time, was arrested, reformed, then entered the shady path again at Bradford. She disappeared from Bradford in 1883 and has not been seen since.

SIR ALEXANDER GALT.

Canada's First Minister of Finance at the Point of Death.

MONTREAL, March 17.—Sir Alexander Galt is lying seriously ill at his residence, 290 Mountain-street, and his life is despaired of.

At midnight his physicians admit his condition is very critical. His complaint is a complication of bronchial troubles.

Sir Alexander Galt was one of the fathers of Confederation, the first Minister of Finance and a capitalist largely interested in the development of Canada.

McLEOD, N.W.T., March 17.—There has been a murder case at Pincher Creek. Two Nez Perces Indians got into a dispute and one man chopped the other to pieces with an ax. The murderer was arrested.

IS THIS JACK THE RIPPER

SICKENING DISCOVERY IN A VILLA NEAR LIVERPOOL.

The Bodies of Five Women and Children Discovered Buried Beneath Cement Under a Hearthstone in a House Recently Occupied by a Man Who Was Arrested in Australia for Wife Murder.

LIVERPOOL, March 17.—A man named Williams was recently arrested at Melbourne for murdering a woman. Investigation disclosed the fact that he had committed a horrible crime in this city before going to Australia. The bodies of a woman and her two children whom the man had murdered were found to-day buried under the hearthstone of the house in which they lived.

The house in which the bodies were found was once occupied by Williams.

The bodies first found were wrapped in oilcloth and Turkish towelling.

After the three bodies were taken out the police continued their digging, it being rumored that other girls who had visited Williams were missing.

Another Horrible Find.

The search was continued under difficult conditions owing to the almost unbearable stench and the fact that the whole floor is thickly cemented.

The excitement reached fever heat when the bodies of two other children were found to have been buried under the house.

The first of the children's bodies was that of a girl of 12 years, who had been strangled, the second was that of a girl of seven, the third that of a boy of five and the fourth that of a baby about a year old. The throats of the last three victims had been cut.

A Man of Mystery.

The question who Williams really is and how he lived remains a mystery. On his first appearance at Rainhill he stayed at an hotel, where he led a rollicking life, being a man of free manners with a general style of wealth. He drank plentifully, but not excessively, and was always ready for champagne treats. He was fond of society, was a good story-teller, having traveled much, and was always willing to spin a yarn, but when asked about himself he immediately became taciturn. He never gave an inkling of his personal history.

A local newspaper on the occasion of his marriage to Miss Mather, whom he murdered in Melbourne, tried to get a sketch of his career, but Williams refused to give any information regarding himself. He first met Miss Mather at her mother's while making enquiries as to renting of a villa. Williams pretended to act for a mythical Colonel Brooks and obtained the tenancy of the villa by paying six months' rent in advance. He furnished only a single room in the house.

Arrived, But Never Departed.

Immediately after he had taken possession of the villa an unknown woman with two children was seen about the house. Nobody saw them arrive or depart.

At about the same time another woman visited him at an hotel and the two partook of a champagne luncheon. Williams told the landlord that his companion was his sister. This woman was seen twice, when she also vanished.

Preparing for His Victims.

After taking the villa Williams often left the hotel in the morning and would not return till evening. His clothing and person used to be covered with dirt and his hands were much blistered. He explained his untidy appearance by saying that he had been engaged in putting down new floors in a house.

A laborer has been found who deposes that this statement was true. He says that Williams called upon him to assist in work of taking up the floors of a kitchen and two other rooms, and hired a plasterer to relay them in cement.

These preparations had been completed when the victims came on the scene, and the murders must have been effected without delay.

Williams left the hotel to occupy the villa, but in a few days he returned, saying that he could not sleep there, that his sister and the children had gone to Port Said, and that his plans were unsettled. He afterward returned to the villa, but finally came back to the hotel.

He hurried his marriage with Miss Mather, in fact he went to stay at her mother's three weeks prior to the ceremony.

Nuggets of Gold and Diamond Rings.

The mother was eager for the marriage, as Williams made lavish displays of bank notes, nuggets of gold and diamond rings. In appearance the man was not prepossessing.

His age was entered on the marriage register as 34, but he looked 44. He had a sallow complexion and his gait was awkward.

He did not take his bride to the villa. He caused a lot of heavy boxes to be left there, which were afterwards to be removed to a place unknown, and left at the hotel two traveling bags. These are now being closely examined. There are bloodstains inside.

Poisoned Daggers and Knives.

There are few clues to the identity of the man. While he was living at Rainhill he went to London. He returned dressed in foreign regimentals, including a gorgeous but faded coat much the worse for wear. Williams said this uniform was that of the Bengal Cavalry, but evaded making answers to questions as to what regiment he had served in. He displayed poisoned daggers and knives, some of which he left at Rainhill.

The police are tracing the makers of the bags left by Williams.

May Be Many More Victims.

The kitchen only was searched to-day. The ground under the other rooms will be excavated to-morrow.

The body of the women found to-day was fully dressed, except that a boot and stocking were missing. The clothes were of fine quality.

The woman had a dark complexion and short black hair, suggestive of a half caste. She wore a wedding ring and a keeper.

The rope with which she had been strangled was around the neck and the throat was cut besides.

The eldest girl's skull was crushed in and the head was nearly severed from the body.

The brutality of the murder suggests the ferocity of "Jack the Ripper." The work of concealing the bodies was carried out carefully. After a deep hole had been dug the bodies of the women and two of the children were thrown in and cement was poured upon them. Then the bodies of the two elder children were thrown in and more cement was poured into the hole. Next the flagstones were laid over the top of the hole, and finally over all was applied a layer of six inches of cement, extending over the entire kitchen.

The discovery of the murders has caused intense excitement.

LONDON, March 17.—A plausible theory has sprung up from the discoveries of the bodies in the house at Liverpool yesterday, and the further the affair is investigated the stronger grows the belief that Williams is none other than the world-known "Jack-the-Ripper."

Williams while a resident of Liverpool made frequent visits to London. The police have traced his movements between the two places and it has been found that his visits to London corresponded with times that the unfortunate women in Whitechapel district were found with their throats cut and their bodies mutilated in the shocking manner that characterized the crimes of The Ripper.

It will be recalled that a description was given to the police of the appearance of the man who was seen in the company of several of the unfortunate women whose bodies were subsequently found lying in pools of blood in the streets of Whitechapel. The description tallies exactly with the appearance of Williams as given by people in Liverpool who were acquainted with him.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs. These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw Baillieboro.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Presentation to Miss Pilkie.

A social gathering of a very pleasing nature took place at the residence of Rev. Mr. Pilkie, Baptist minister of Baillieboro on the evening of Friday, 4th inst. Miss Pilkie has for some months past been occupying the position of organist in the Methodist church, Baillieboro. A representative gathering of the congregation of that church—about forty in number—met at her father's house, bringing with them well filled baskets. After all were assembled Rev. J. Kilgour, pastor of the church, presented Miss Pilkie with a purse of $21, accompanied by the following address :—

DEAR MISS PILKIE,—We, as members of the Methodist congregation in Baillieboro, have made this informal visit that we might express to you our appreciation of your very efficient services as organist of our church during the past year. The generous manner in which you came to our assistance, and the obliging Christian spirit you have manifested in your intercourse with us have commanded our esteem and love. We trust that while rendering us your valuable aid in the service of song, you may receive the reward of those who work for the Master. As a small token of the regard we bear you, we wish to present you with this purse, which we ask you to accept, accompanied by our sincere good wishes for your future happiness and prosperity.

Signed on behalf of the congregation.

REV J. KILGOUR, WILLIAM BATESON, Pastor. MRS BATESON, THOMAS BOX. MRS SKITCH.

Miss Pilkie replied in substance as follows:

DEAR FRIENDS,—I scarcely know how to reply to this address and to thank you for your appreciation of my services as organist of your church. It was not with the expectation of receiving any reward that I accepted the position I now hold, but I did it thinking that I could in that way help on the work in the cause of God. I do express my sincere thanks for the gift you have given me to-night, and hope that in the future I may do my duty better than I have done in the past. I hope when we have done meeting here below we may all meet in Heaven.

The friends then partook of a bountiful repast, and afterwards spent a most enjoyable evening in social intercourse, which was continued till a late hour.

The young people of the Baptist Church here have a Society of Christian Endeavour, and the Methodist young people have just organized an Epworth League. It is to be hoped that much good will result from both these societies.

Can I Afford a New Dress?

Thousands of ladies are continually asking themselves this question, and many of them find it difficult to satisfactorily answer it.

The lady who has but an ordinary income to depend upon for the maintenance of house and family, is apt to debate long upon this important question before a final resolve is made. Even should the way seem clear to warrant such an item of expenditure, regrets are afterwards expressed, when it was found that the money was more needed in another direction.

To the thousands of ladies of Canada, with whom this question is one of perplexity and grave doubt; we would remind them of the fact, that an agent comes to their rescue and assistance, known as Fast Black Diamond Dyes for Wool, which can remove all doubt, and give to the heart its wish. At the present time Black dresses are fashionable for the best dressed ladies. Old and young—the blonde and brunette, always look stylish when wearing a neatly made Black dress.

Let us strongly recommend you to take what you now call—"my old, soiled and faded light Colored Cashmere, Serge, Soleil Cloth, or Nun's Cloth dress" and buys a package or two of Fast Black Diamond Dye for Wool, follow closely the directions, and with very little trouble and loss of time, and for an expense of from ten to twenty cents, you will have a lovely rich Black dress, equal to new, and the satisfaction of knowing that you have saved a snug amount of money. If you have never tried this operation before, rest assured your work, and the results will agreeably surprise you.

While engaged at the pleasant work of home-dyeing, remember the fact that you may also do some work for the "Diamond Dye Competition," in which large cash prizes are offered. You can easily make up some of the articles called for, and send them in with every chance of success. It costs nothing to try, and the advantages are all in your favour. All information and a book of rules sent post free to any address by the Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

We announce with regret the death of Elizabeth, wife of Mr. John Spratt, of this township, which took place on Sunday, March 6th. The deceased lady was 62 years of age. The high esteem in which she was held was shown by the large attendance of sympathisers, relatives and friends who were at the funeral. The services were conducted by Rev. Canon Harding.

Blood poisoned by diphtheria, the Grip, typhoid fever, scarlet fever, etc., is made pure and healthy by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

The Best in the World.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the most palatable and wholesome preparation of Cod Liver Oil in the world, and is now being taken by invalids, particularly those afflicted with consumption, with the most astonishing success. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles, 50c, and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores.

The Great Wilberforce.

A Still Greater Emancipator!

The great Wilberforce, the father of the grand emancipation reforms that banished slavery from all British possessions and territory, and which later on wrought its mighty work in the great United States of America, must ever be remembered and honored by the world.

Through his grand and noble efforts, the people of all Christian nations are free men and free women. Never more shall the lash be lifted upon slaves, nor shall human flesh and bodies be sold like cattle on the market-places.

Though all men and women are free and possess the right of working for whom they choose, let us remind them here, that many of them are still slaves. We have in our midst the slaves of fashion, of money, of ambitions, of lusts and of passions. We have also in our very midst a large class, known as the slaves of suffering and disease. This species of slavery is becoming in some respects a draw back to our national prosperity.

The slaves of nervousness and nervous debility are probably the most numerous in our country, and may yet prove a curse to its future generation. Nervous men and women beget nervous children; truly the future outlook is dark and dreary.

No intelligent Canadian dare deny the fact that our Provincial Asylums are already overcrowded with the progeny of weak and nervous parents. Our legislators are continually making provisions for increasing numbers, but do little or nothing to stay the cause.

The people of our country should be made acquainted at once with the only agent that can safely stay the onward pace of this monster insanity. They should be informed that there is a remedy within reach of all, which can banish all forms of nervousness; which can clear and strengthen the brain and mind, and give increased vigor and vitality to the whole human organism. This agent is Paine's Celery Compound, which is proving to be the great emancipator of the weak, nervous, sleepless, morose, despondent and dyspeptic. It is fame is as world wide as the name of Wilberforce, and day after day it is adding new victories to its long lists of conequests.

It is spoken of and recommended by all classes. The name Paine's Celery Compound is heard in our legislative halls, in our colleges, in our public institutions, in the workshops of our country, and on every railway line. Its wonderful cures are spoken of at the fireside, and command admiration and praise. In short it is Paine's Celery Compound that Canadian people must rely on if they would see their people happy, healthy and contented.

Smith.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Address and Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donelly.

On Saturday night last Mr. and Mrs. Henry Donelly, and family of six son and one daughter, of Smith who on Tuesday left for Manitoba, were entertained at a farewell supper in Union Hall, Smith. There were upwards of 150 of their neighbors and friends present to bid them good-bye. After supper provided by the ladies, Mr. Thomas Hall was called to the chair, and Mr. Geo. E. Elliott read the following address:—

DEAR MR. AND MRS DONELLY,

We, your neighbours and friends have learned with sincere regret of your departure from amongst us—regret at the thought of severing those chords of friendship and love, which have b nd us together in pleasant relations for upwards of a quarter of a century. We have ever found you kind friends and good neighbours. Therefore we cannot allow the present occasion to pass without expressing, in some tangible form, our appreciation of your worth. On behalf of those who have known and associated with you in times past, we beg each of you to accept these accompanying presents as a slight token of our esteem for you from those in the community where you have so long resided. Wishing you both unbounded success in your new home, we ask leave to be ever remembered in your thoughts and prayers, and trust that you will always carry with you pleasant remembrance and loving recollections of your friends in Smith. Hoping, that if it may never be our good fortune to mingle again on earth, we shall meet in that world where kind relations are never broken, or pleasant associations never severed,

Signed on behalf of the neighbours and friends.

GEO E. ELLIOTT, T. T. MILBURN,
THOS. HALL, JAMES DAVIDSON.

The address was accompanied with a handsome fur coat for Mr. Donnelly and a Persian lamb cap and gauntlets for Mrs. Donnelly. Mr. Donnell on behalf of himself and wife replied very feelingly to the address.

Then fifteen or twenty of the prominent citizens of the neighbourhood made brief addresses testifying to the sterling quality of character possessed by Mr. Donnelly and wife and voicing the sense of loss that is felt in the community by their removal. In the Methodist church Mrs. Donnelly's earnest services in promoting its interests would be especially felt.

Mr. Donnelly has sold his farm and permanently removes to the Northwest.

Each season has its own peculiar malady; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla little danger need be feared from meteorological influences. No other blood medicine is so safe and effective.

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

As a pick-me-up after excessive exertion or exposure, Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

The Head Surgeon

Of the Lubon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flushes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc. can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. B. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

I FEEL BUOYANT

"Am happy to say that results so far are as satisfactory as I could expect, indeed much more so than I did expect. I am enjoying excellent health, appetite good, sleep sweet and refreshing, gaining flesh; am less nervous than I have been for years; feel bright and bouyant * * * It is almost miraculous, making a young man out of one of seventy, for that is just what your treatment is doing for me. I wish the community to know in as modest a way as we can get at it."

DYNAMITE IN PARIS.

The Government Says the Explosions Are the Work of Foreigners.

PARIS, March 16.—A violent explosion took place at 1.30 yesterday morning in the Lobau barracks immediately behind the Hotel de Ville. Considerable damage was done in the building, but no lives were lost.

Hundreds of windows were shattered and the walls of the barracks and other buildings bear the traces of the explosion.

Opposite the barracks stands the church of St. Gervais. Many of the painted windows in the church were ground to atoms by the shock.

The windows are works of the 15th century. The loss arising from the damage they have suffered is irreparable.

Punishable With Death.

In the Chamber of Deputies to-day M. Ricard, Minister of Justice and Public Worship, introduced a bill embodying a clause in the penal code, making the wilful destruction of propelty by means of explosives punishable with death.

Replying to questions by several members Premier Loubet said the explosions caused by Anarchists were not the work of French subjects. He further said that precautionary measures are now being taken which ought to ensure the safety of the inhabitants of Paris against such manifestations.

The portion of a cartridge found in the debris is composed of copper and zinc riveted together. The explosive matter which the cartridge contained was according to experts picrate potassium.

Another theft of dynamite cartridges has been discovered by the authorities, and this fact has greatly increased the prevailing uneasiness.

Officials at Chambery, a city in the department of Savoy, 45 miles distant from Geneva, found that a magazine at the place had been broken into and 32 of the dynamite cartridges stolen.

Dynamite in the Mail.

DUBLIN, March 16.—A large package of dynamite was found in last night's mail from Limerick to Tipperary. It was intended, evidently, to wreck the express, and there was enough of the explosive to dash the whole train to pieces.

A farmer's son named Harrigan, living near Limerick, has been arrested, but he protests his innocence.

No Love, No Life.

BERLIN, March 16.—Miss Margaret Schultz, the daughter of a wealthy family of East Prussian landowners, committed suicide after a quarrel with her lover near the Brandenburg Gate late yesterday afternoon.

Just before the Brandenburg Gate he told her that he had done with her. She immediately took a dose of strychnine from her pocket and swallowed it. She was taken to a physician's house, a few doors off, and died 10 minutes later.

Bread or Prison.

LISBON, March 16.—A large number of unemployed workmen of this city held a procession to-day.

They carried numerous black flags, on which were inscribed the words, "Bread or prison."

The paraders halted at some of the public buildings and loudly demanded that alms be given to them until they were suppressed by the police

"What a pity it is that his face is all pimples; He'd be very fine looking if 'twasn't for that," Said pretty Miss Vere, with a smile at the dimples Reflected from under the nobby spring hat— As she looked at herself in the glass, softly sighed it, That she had for the young man a tender regard— There wasn't the least need of denying— for every one knew it. "His beauty is marred by the frightful red blotches all over his face. I wonder if he couldn't take something to cleanse his blood, and drive them away."

He heard what she said about his looks. It hurt his feelings, but he couldn't deny she told the truth. He remembered a friend whose face used to be as bad as his. It had become smooth and clear. He went to him and asked how the change had been brought about. "Simply by using Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery," was the reply. "Take that, and I'll warrant you to get rid of your pimples."

He did so.

His face became health and clear, And next week he'll be married to pretty Miss Vere.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

A 15-YEAR OLD GIRL LYNCHED.

Her Dead Body Found Dangling from a High Cottonwood Tree.

RAYVILLE, La., March 16.—The sight of a dead body dangling from a high cottonwood tree by the roadside met the eyes of Richland parish farmers driving to church Sunday morning. The body was that of a fifteen-year-old colored girl, a house servant at the Greenwell Place, and she had been hanged the night before by a mob. The girl had been employed as a waitress and kitchen girl by W. R. Helmer, who owns the Greenwell plantation. A short time ago all the members of the family, nine in number, became violently ill shortly after breakfast and showed signs of poisoning. Suspicion fell on the girl, Ella, who had often displayed a bad temper, and being taxed with the crime she confessed it. A colored man who was employed around the stables had offended the girl and she determined upon revenge. Poison was the final suggestion which came to her mind and she went about carrying her plan into execution. All the coffee which was served in the house was made in one large pot and drawn from it for the meal served to the family and the servants. In the common pot on Friday morning the girl poured the contents of a package of vermin poison which she had found in the pantry, and all the inmates of the house, members of the family and servants, except herself, drank of the poisonous fluid. The result was that everybody who drank coffee was taken seriously ill. In confessing her guilt the girl showed the greatest indifference to the probable result. "I wanted to kill that man," she said, meaning the hostler, "and if I poisoned the rest I did not care. I was bound to get him." Several startling stories about the crime were circulated through the country, one connecting the girl with a gang of voodoos, who have been stirring up the blacks and predicting that a deadly pestilence was soon to strike the white people unless they divided their property among the negroes. At noon Saturday two guards, one of whom was a boy, started for the county jail with the girl. The party had gone half this distance when, from a clump of cottonwood trees by the roadside, a band of masked men appeared. "Is this the girl who poisoned the Helmers?" asked the one in charge. Neither of the guards replied, but the girl looked up sullenly at the mob and answered defiantly, "Yes, I'se the girl." "Then we want her," said another in the mob, while a couple of others grasped the halter, which did service for a headstall on the pony she rode. Her guards made no opposition, neither did the girl herself offer any remonstrance. Without saying a word the men led the pony to the side of the road where a high cottonwood tree stretched out a stout branch. One of the mob threw a rope over a limb and fastened the end to a rail fence, while another put the noose which had been made in the other end around the girl's neck. Then a blow was given the pony upon which she sat. The pony sprang forward and the body of the prisoner was left dangling in the air. With her hands, which were not bound, she attempted to grasp the rope, but was unable to do so. In a few minutes she was dead. Then the mob and the guards rode away. The people whom the girl poisoned will recover.

The Wonderful Success

Of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier entitles it to your confidence. No other preparation has such a record of cures of Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Blood Poisoning, or other blood diseases. To try it is to know its merits. Be sure to get Hood's Sarsaparilla.

For a general family cathartic we confidently recommend Hood's Pills. They should be in every home medicine chest.

SCARED TO DEATH.

Reporter Hamilton's Death Due to His Intensely Nervous Disposition.

NEW YORK, March 16.—The sickness and death of Reporter Frederick Hamilton, a reporter on The Advertiser, was due, Dr. Edson says, to his intensely nervous disposition.

About three weeks ago Hamilton visited the typhus-infected district. He took copious notes of what he saw and wrote an article for his paper.

The next day he came to Dr. Edson, laboring under intense nervous excitement and said that he had got typhus fever.

Dr. Edson tried to calm his fears, and assured him that the fever would not develop in a single day. He told him to come back in 14 days' time, which is the period of incubation, and he would tell him whether he had typhus. Hamilton came back in 14 days, with all the symptoms of the disease so pronounced that he was sent to the reception hospital and thence to Riverside Hospital March 2. Dr. Edson thinks that Hamilton's intensely nervous disposition was largely responsible for his sickness and death.

Hamilton was an Englishman, and had been a newspaper worker for about 25 years. He was about 50 years old. After being educated at the famous Blue Coat school in London, Hamilton went to Canada and engaged in newspaper work. He then came to New York.

A Berlin Banker's Failure.

BERLIN, March 16.—Further particulars regarding the failure of J. E. Quensburg, the St. Petersburg bankers show that it is attributed partly to Government animosity which has hampered the financial business of the house. Since M. Quensburg, as the leading Jewish banker in Russia, aroused the Czar's wrath by trying to buy the influence of the Minister of the Interior with a view to bringing about an abatement in the persecution of the Jews his affairs have gone badly. His intimate relations with German Jew bankers have lately been a source of weakness. As financiers, St. Petersburg are now allied with those of Paris. It is expected that the creditors of M. Quensburg will ultimately be paid in full.

The bourse was affected by the announcement of the Quensberg failure and Russian and Italian securities declined 7-8 per cent. Berlin firms suffer by the failure nearly 1,000,000 marks. His liabilities are six million roubles.

The Wrecked Elder.

LONDON, March 16.—Four steamers which had been waiting in the vicinity of the wreck in readiness to assist in the work of floating the Elder were obliged to abandon the steamer owing to the heavy gale, which made their position very dangerous and compelled them to hoist anchors and seek a safer spot.

Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice, especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

The Coal Strike May End Monday.

LONDON, March 16.—The general opinion of those engaged in the coal trade is that the strike will end on Monday next. Plenty of coal continues to be received in this city and no famine prices are probable during the crisis.

Light After 21 Years.

LIVERPOOL, March 16.—A murder which had been concealed for 21 years has just come to light through the deathbed confession of Anne Gill, who said to a female friend:

"I shall not go to Heaven, because I poisoned my husband."

Carelessness is Expensive.

BERLIN, March 16.—Banker Seligman of this city was ordered yesterday by the courts to pay 3000 marks to Gamekeeper Schaeffer. During a rabbit hunt recently Seligman emptied one barrel of his shotgun into Schaeffer's leg while the latter was beating the bushes for him.

To Consolidate Irish Papers.

DUBLIN, March 16.—It is announced that negotiations for the consolidation of The Freeman's Journal and The National Press have been concluded.

Foreign Notes.

A man named Schishmanoff, arrested on suspicion of being concerned in the murder of Dr. Vulcovitch, the Bulgarian agent in Constantinople, has been released.

Mr. John A. Campbell, St. Sixte, Que., writes:—"My wife was unwell for four years from irregular periods, brought about by a severe cold. She tried many remedies, but without relief. Seeing Dr. Williams' Pink Pills advertised, I procured two boxes and the result is a permanent cure. They are the best medicine in the world for the diseases you represent them for. A Pleasant Herb Drink.

The best cure we know of for constipation and headache is the pleasant herb drink called Lane's Family Medicine. It is said to be Oregon grape root, combined with simple herbs, and is made for use by pouring boiling water onto the dried roots and herbs. It is remarkably efficacious in all blood disorders, and is now the sovereign remedy for ladies in clearing up the complexion. Druggists sell the packages at 50c and $1 dw

"August Flower"

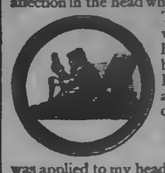
What Is It For?

This is the query perpetually on your little boy's lips. And he is no worse than the bigger, older, balder-headed boys. Life is an interrogation point. "What is it for?" we continually cry from the cradle to the grave. So with this little introductory sermon we turn and ask: "What is AUGUST FLOWER FOR?" As easily answered as asked: It is for Dyspepsia. It is a special remedy for the Stomach and Liver. Nothing more than this; but this brimful. We believe August Flower cures Dyspepsia. We know it will. We have reasons for knowing it. Twenty years ago it started in a small country town. To-day it has an honored place in every city and country store, possesses one of the largest manufacturing plants in the country and sells everywhere. Why is this? The reason is as simple as a child's thought. It is honest, does one thing, and does it right along—it cures Dyspepsia.

G. G. GREEN, Sole Man'fr, Woodbury, N.J.

INTENSE SUFFERING!

Mr. William Buchanan, 24 years engineer in the Cunard Steamship Company's service, 8 St. John's Road, Kirkdale, Liverpool, Eng., writes: "I suffered two years of agony from an affection in the head which six physicians pronounced incurable.



They were divided in opinion as to whether it was acute neuralgia of the head or rheumatic affection of the brain, but all agreed that I could never recover. In my paroxysms of pain it needed two and sometimes three men to hold me down in bed. When at death's door, was applied to my head. It acted like magic. It saved my life. I am well and hearty, and have had no return of the trouble."

ST. JACOBS OIL

"ALL RIGHT! ST. JACOBS OIL DID IT."

THE BEST FAMILY PILL IN USE

FOR SALE BY ALL DEALERS

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, ONT., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first, only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleaning the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. P. ATWELL.

The meeting commences at 8 o'clock by a song service, and a collection will be taken during the evening.

Trent Valley Canal Construction

The Dominion estimates contains the following appropriations for work on the Trent Valley system of navigation :—Towards the completion of a dredge, $6 000 ; to complete the dam at Fenelon Falls, $1,400 ; for crib work below dam at Young's Point, $1,200 ; for crib work below the dam at Lakefield, $900 ; for rebuilding dam at Healey's Falls, $5,000 ; total $ 4,000 There is a probability, about the size of a July snowstorm, of a sum being placed in the supplementary estimates for the construction of the Peterborough-Lakefield section of the canal this summer.

LOCAL MUSICAL TALENT.

"A Life for a Life."

A great audience listened to the evening of song and recital in the Auditorium last night given by Mrs. Sarah Lord Bailey, of Boston. Mrs. Bailey's rendering of "Life for a Life," has never been excelled in Toronto, and several requests were sent in to the Auditorium office to have it repeated to-night.—Toronto Globe

The readings of Mrs. Sara Lord Bailey were even more popular with the audience than the musical programme. The variety of her readings with the sudden changes from grave to gay, with touches of pathos and passion between, remind one of Mrs. Scott-Siddons at her best.—Toronto Globe.

OPERA HOUSE

Goldwin Smith's New Book

Mr. Goldwin Smith's new book, "The Moral Crusader, William Lloyd Garrison," has just been brought out by Williamson & Co., of Toronto. The work has been expected for some time and will doubtless have wide circulation both in the United States and Great Britain. The subject is one which Mr. Smith's keen and active sympathies peculiarly fit him to handle, and Mr. Garrison must always be one of the heroic figures of the great struggle for the emancipation of the colored people of the South. He was a man rash at times, unreasoning at times, but he had the faith, the courage, the endurance of the martyrs, and no man of his day did nobler work for humanity. And Mr. Goldwin Smith could be as unflinching and as self-sacrificing in a great cause in which his heart was enlisted although he has not the enthusiasm of Garrison's temperament. In printing and binding the book is very beautiful. For sale at the Peterborough bookstore. Price $1.00.

Conflagration at the Carbon Works.

The Moulding Shop Burned—Loss Nearly $8,000—Covered by Insurance — The Good Work of the Fire Brigade—An Exploded Coal Oil Lamp the Supposed Cause.

This morning at about half-past one o'clock, Thomas Thompson, nightwatchman in the porcelain department of the Brooks Manufacturing Company, discovered the moulding room of the carbon department in flames. He at once gave the alarm, and so prompt was the response of the fire brigade that before the general alarm was heard the firemen and the hose waggon were below Sherbrooke street, on their way to the fire. The brigade took the Wolfe street hydrant "on the fly," so to speak, dropping a line of hose and letting it unreel, and while it was being coupled the horses galloped on, not stopping till the hose wagon had reached the Townsend street hydrant. The water from the first line of hose was playing on the fire from the time the alarm was rung at the fire hall. When the fire brigade reached the spot the Edison works whistle was bellowing out its raucous roar as a neighbourly fire alarm, and the moulding shop was a sheet of flame. The firemen turned their attention to preventing the spread of the fire, and they succeeded, doing splendid work. The water supply was first-class, fire pressure—85 lbs.—being turned on at once the alarm was rung. Special effort was made to prevent the spread of the fire to the crude oil tanks. It was by good work and management confined to the moulding shop. It is supposed the fire originated from the explosion of a coal oil lamp, which the watchman had placed on a truss beam in the moulding shop, leaving it there while he was in the boiler room "stoking up." The moulding shop being filled with impalpable dust resulting from the grinding of the coke used in making carbons, when the lamp exploded, the dust would fly into flame in every part of the building.

WITHIN THREE AND ONE-HALF MINUTES

The material loss is placed by careful estimates at $6 000 on building, plant and material. To this is added the loss of business which would increase the figures almost to $8 000 This is covered by an insurance of $7 900, divided between the following companies : The Western, the North British and Mercantile, the Lancashire, and the Phœnix, of Hartford.

The company with the energy that characterizes all its operations will make immediate beginning of the rebuilding necessary. The walls of the moulding shop are still standing in good condition. The roof will require to be replaced, which means considerable work in a building 65x65 feet in area. The company will have no trouble in filling orders for carbons from their surplus stock.

Electric Light Extension.

The Electric Light and Power Company began to-day to place the new electric lamps upon the new poles which are already in position, and connected with the central station, and it is probable that by the time the present moon wanes, and the lights according to contract are called for, the new lights, as well as the old lights under the all night system, will be ready for turning on. All would have been ready now but that the cold weather of the past few days has prevented the placing of the new water wheel, which is now ready for lowering into position.

St. Patrick at St. Peter's

St. Patrick's day was duly and solemnly observed at St. Peter's Cathedral. There were two services—at 7 and 9. At the latter there was a very large congregation. Grand high mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Collins, assisted by Rev. Father Dobe as deacon and Rev. Father Desaulnier as sub-Deacon. His Lordship Bishop O'Connor was present and occupied the episcopal throne. Rev. Father Scollard preached the sermon on "The feast of St. Patrick," dealing with the life and labours of Ireland's patron saint. The sermon was a very able and appropriate one. Special music was provided by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. James Coughlin. Mrs. Geo. Ball sang St. Patrick's hymn at the offertory. The service was interspersed with Irish airs and the organist Miss Hurley, played St Patrick's Day as a recessional voluntary. The church was handsomely decorated with emblematic banners, and over the altar hung a portrait of St. Patrick.

Ourlians Jottings.

The Toronto Defeated Yesterday—Other Matters of Local Interest and Importance.

The Toronto came down yesterday afternoon four rinks strong to play the Peterboroughs. They intended to come down six rinks strong but they could only muster four. They, however, were defeated by 26 shots. This is the second time this winter that Peterborough has administered a defeat to the Torontos. Victories for Peterborough are becoming monotonous. In the first match with the Torontos about a month ago Peterborough in a four rink contest defeated them by 16 shots, yesterday with the same number of rinks and against the same men she increased her former majority by ten shots making it twenty-six. Only twenty ends were played yesterday, also in order to give the visitors a chance to go home on the 5.45 o'clock train. The ice was in a first class condition for curling. At the close of the contest, skip Dennistoun's rink which was rink No. 1 played on the eastern ice. It finished first, 17 shots ahead of their opponents. On the next rink was skip Boucher, he finished next in order, leading his opponent skip Shepard from the start off and finishing twelve shots ahead of him. Skip McGill's rink No. 4 which played on the western ice finished the third, with one shot ahead of skip Lightbourne. Rink No. 3 finished last. This was the only rink of the Toronto's which lead its opponents. Skip Madison in this last skip Ferguson from the contest and finished four shots ahead of him. This reduced the lead of thirty shots to twenty-six, and this ended the game.

The following are the names of the rinks, and their respective scores :

NOTES.

The Town Council and the Board of Education played a curling match at the rink last evening for a barrel of flour to be donated to the Peterborough Protestant Home. The Town Council was an easy victor. The Board of Education claim they lost because one of their best players was not present. Sixteen ends were played. The progress of the struggle was considerably interrupted by the hockey match.

The following are the names of the players and the score :—

Town Council.	Board of Education.

It is now in order for the Board of Education to donate the Protestant Home a barrel of flour.

A scratch match was played last night between skip C. L. Owen, of Campbellford, supported by Peterborough men and skip J. B. Pentland. It came to an ignominious end at the fourth end. The players say the hockey match match completely unnerved them.

A Grand Hockey Match.

The Peterboroughs and the Granite Colts of Toronto Play at the Rink Last Night—The Colts Win by One Goal A Good Game and Lots of Enthusiasm.

Last evening the best, and what will probably be the last, hockey match of the season took place in the Charlotte street rink between the Granite Colts of Toronto, and the Peterborough Hockey team. A large crowd, 250 in number, was present to witness the match, which proved one of the keenest and most exciting played during the season. The following are the names of the men in the teams and their respective positions :—

Granite Colts.		Peterborough.
Irish	goal	W Bradburn
Blackie	point	Sawer
Lamont	cover point	Crofton
Dale		Phelan
Cox	Forwards.	T H Dumble
Creelman		Grimsel
Donaldson		Montgomery
Referee		R N B Barnes
Mr. Livingston	Umpire	Dr Brennan

The game was friendly and well played throughout, no rough play being indulged in. The puck hovered around the Toronto's goal the most of the time. The Colts played a defensive game, throughout, the Peterboroughs rushing all the playing. The home team out played the Colts at every turn and the match should have been called a draw. When the usual one and a half hours playing was ended the score stood 3 to 3, but an extra half hour's playing was indulged in, and the Colts were successful in securing another goal and victory by Creelman's clever shot. In the first half the Granites made the only two goals tallied. They were made by Donaldson and Creelman, two clever forwards. The Peterboroughs although they did some noble rush work and a great deal of clever passing during the first half failed to score. On the second half the local team went to work with a vengeance, showing some of their true metal. The large crowd of spectators cheered lustily and strove by their enthusiastic applause to aid the boys to victory. It seemed as if the result was to be favourable to Peterborough for within ten minutes three goals were tallied in rapid succession. Phelan, Dumble and Montgomery who had changed position with Sawers, who was playing point, took one each and were enthusiastically cheered again and again. Cox a former Peterborough boy, who made a clever forward for the Toronto's now came forward and succeeded in placing puck through the uprights. Before the close of the second half Phelan sent the rubber between the iron posts but the umpire failing to notice it or from some other reason, declared it not a goal. The captains of the teams when the game at the close of the second half was three goals, decided to play on, and after 35 minutes extra playing the Toronto's secured an additional goal. The game began at 8.30 o'clock and it was 10.15 o'clock before it was finished.

NOTES.

The Torontos thought they were going to have a walk over the Peterborough boys. They fully expected to do them up by about ten goals to none.

It was by good luck more than anything else that Toronto's victory can be attributed to. Long shots from the centre of the rink seemed to go through nearly every time, while the Peterboroughs, who played the offensive part of the game, seemed to miss the uprights by two or three inches every time.

Only two goals were made during the game. No body checking was indulged in.

Upper Canada College beat Under 16 the wickset by 5 goals to 1, and the Granites beat Upper Canada in a struggle by 5 goals to 2. So that they came here with a long record of successes before them.

Week-day Religion.

The Subject of Rev. Canon Spragge's Lenten Address at St. John's Last Night.

At the special weekly Lenten services in St. John's last night there was a fair congregation. The services were conducted by Rev. W. M. Loucks. At the close of the service Rev. Canon Spragge, of Cobourg, delivered the address on the subject of

WEEK DAY RELIGION.

The speaker said:In the presence of the congregation was evidence that they believed in the subject of his address. Sunday religion as compared with week-day religion, was going with the stream—when every body was engaged in Sabbath observances and religious duties ; while week-day religion was as if going against the stream, and meeting the obstructions and distractions of worldliness and business. It seemed that week-day religion must be more robust and persevering than Sunday religion. Week-day religion should begin at home, in the family circle, in kindness, thoughtfulness, forbearance and gentleness. It should begin with the day, with private prayer, and next family prayer, which was too much neglected in the rush of worldly concerns. If we could all get time to catch a train, or keep a business engagement, then why not find time for family prayer?

RELIGION SHOULD BE CARRIED into the concerns of every day life—to keep oneself good, and to exercise a good influence upon those with whom we came in contact. If we went to our work for wages only we should be a failure—we must work for God. St. Paul taught us in the last chapters of his epistle to the Ephesians, that in serving others we were really serving God—and if we carried this into our business we would be incapable of giving false weight or overreaching our neighbors. As to amusements of the world, we should enter into nothing that would tend to turn us aside from our religious life or our devotion to duty. Week day religion needed constant trust in God. If we kept our religion bright, we must spend much time in earnest prayer and meditation. Without faithfully following the example of Christ in this regard, our religion would become weak. And what better place for this than in the house of prayer—God's house. Prayer should be taken as our Lord Jesus Christ took it—not as a duty—but as a refreshment after the toils of the day, and if we did this our everyday religion would be strong and real, and would make our life what God intended it should be.

HESLOP MURDER CASE.

THE GREAT CASE NOW NEARING ITS END.

Some Witnesses of Shady Character Give the Lawyers for the Defence a Chance to say Things. A Few of Gossey's Sisters and Others Examined.

HAMILTON, March 18. When the trial of the Heslop suspects resumes Friday morning an order may be issued excluding all reporters from the court room.

Before the court closed last evening Mr. Nesbitt addressed the judge and complained of unfairness of the reports of evidence published by the newspapers. He said they were decidedly untrue and unjust to the prisoners, and, as the jury could read them at night, this might create an unfavorable impression in the minds of the jury against the prisoners. He said newspapers also commented on the trial in an unfair manner and unfavorable to the prisoners.

Judge Rose said if the facts were as set forth by Mr. Nesbitt, and if such tactics were continued by newspapers after this notice, he would consider the advisability of excluding the reporters from the court room.

The court room was thronged as usual Wednesday, and the prisoners to all appearances were the most cool and collected of those present.

The Sleuth Hounds Testify.

The prosecution rested its case yesterday, the principal witnesses called being Chief McKinnon of Hamilton, Government Detective Greer and County Constable William Hunter. McKinnon's evidence merely related to an unsuccessful attempt he had made to induce Lottridge to confess, the prisoner replying that he had nothing to tell. Hunter testified that when he arrested Bartram for cattle stealing the latter said: "If you will get me out of this cattle stealing scrape I'll give you a pointer that will be worth $2000 to you. You can lay your hand on the man and perhaps get some of the jewelry." Hunter had been reeve of Onondaga and therefore a justice of the peace, but would not admit under cross-examination that he had ever arrested a man, tried him and gave his own evidence in the case. Detective Greer's evidence was purely technical.

The Man Whom Goosey Told.

Thomas Young of Middleport, hotel-keeper, corroborated the evidence of Douglas as to the details of the murder told by the latter to witness. Young had told Bartram all that Douglas had said, but Bartram did not appear scared, and said that the tale was untrue and that he had driven to Hamilton with a load of wood that morning.

Indians, Squaws And a Papoose or Two.

The balance of the testimony was given by Indians, squaws and papooses.

Lucy Nero, a sister of Goosey, entered the box attired in a green skirt, a large red cloud and a large-sized grin. She testified that Goosey came to her house the morning after the Heslop murder and had breakfast. The same evening he told her of the Heslop murder and added that he knew who did it.

James Griffin, a mahogany-hued six-footer with a bald head and gray whiskers, denied that he ever said anything to Bartram concerning Heslop having money in the house, and his two sons, who were sworn, also denied having made any statement to this effect.

Martha Barefoot (another sister of Goosey), Alexander Sherry, his wife Catharine Sherry, Chief Levi Jonathan, his son Jesse, Sam Patterson, Elias Styles and Samuel Mountpleasant were called to guard off the proposed alibi of the defence, that Douglas was in New York State the day of the murder. All these witnesses swear positively to having seen Douglas on the reserve during the two weeks ending Jan. 30, 1891. The date was fixed by the fact that Martha Barefoot had a baby on Jan. 30, 1891.

This closed the case for the Crown.

The Defence.

Before offering evidence for the defence J. W. Nesbitt, Q.C., submitted that on the evidence so far given there was nothing on which a case for murder against Lottridge could be made out before the jury.

His Lordship overruled the application and the defence was entered upon.

James Wilson and John Woods testified that they drove to Hamilton the night of the murder and that a rig preceded their vehicle past the Heslop house.

County Constables Cram and Philippo were called to controvert the evidence of the prosecution with respect to the kind of wheel prints which the rig driven by the murderers made and the direction taken on the return journey.

Robert Cornell, a neighbor of the Heslops, Robert Law, John McCormack and others also swore that the tracks showed that the rig was driven in the direction of Ancaster and not in the direction described by Douglas and Goosey.

The Alibi

Nelles Douglas, nephew of George Douglas, swore that the latter was in Lewiston, N. Y., during the week of the murder. Witness said: I was working in Lewiston from Dec., 1890, till about Jan. 13, 1891. George Douglas was working with me for part of the time and he lived at Constable Jacobs' house. He previously lived at Lidian Cusacks'. About Jan. 15 I received a letter that my sister, Katie White, was very sick and I tried to get money to come to Canada to see her. George Douglas gave me $165, and he and I went to Suspension Bridge on the American side. I left there on the same day (Wednesday) for Hagersville, and went from there to the house of Isaac Douglas. When I got there I heard Katie White was dead. The funeral took place Thursday, Jan. 22, and I went to the funeral. Goosey and Isaac Douglas with others went with me to the funeral. After the funeral I went back to the house of Isaac Douglas, boarded at White's house the next day and lamplt there Friday night. I left there on Saturday and was driven to Cayuga on Saturday by Samuel Goosey. When I and cheel Suspension Bridge I saw George by Douglas; saw him also on Sunday morning with Lewiston. He told me I should not begin returned so soon. On that day Mrs. Esty Jane Patterson was buried and on Sunday George Douglas and I went to the funeral. Rev. Mr. March of Lewiston conducted the funeral services. On Tuesday Donald Mrs. Hewitt died. Among the pallbearers at the funeral were George Douglas and myself. George Douglas was at this time working at Lewiston. He continued to work there till the first part of March. Between the time George Douglas came to Lewiston in the fall and up till next March I had did not leave there to my knowledge. In March next returned to Canada some time in the following April. Did not return to Lewiston till this winter.

The court adjourned until Friday.

BREACH OF PROMISE.

The Swain Proved a Deceiver and Now She Wants Cash.

LONDON, Ont., March 18.—A breach of promise case which has been entered for trial at the coming assizes is likely to promote a great deal of interest in the gore of London township where both of the parties are well known.

The plaintiff is a mature maiden seamstress, Miss Ormston, and the defendant, Branston, a highly respected elderly gentleman with a good church record. He is a farmer and milk-dealer.

STRIKING TRAINMEN.

THE C.P.R. EMPLOYES IN THE WEST GO OUT.

The Strike Not Expected to Extend to the Eastern Division of the Line—The Demands of the Men Outlined—Is a General Strike Probable?

WINNIPEG, Man., March 18.—The agitation among the conductors and brakemen on the Western division of the Canadian Pacific Railway culminated in a strike Wednesday at 12 o'clock. At that hour nearly all the conductors and brakemen who had not already been dismissed and most of the switchmen and yardmen employed on that division quit work. It is understood that this action was taken against the vigorous protest of a large majority of the men themselves and in response to the command of the representatives of the brotherhoods in the United States, who have been here for the last few days.

What the Men Demanded.

The railway men asked that detention time be reduced from 12 hours to 10. The difference in the monthly salaries asked by the men and offered by the company is shown by the subjoined:

	Asked.	Offered.
Main line conductors	$110	$100
Main line brakemen	80	65
Main line baggagemen	65	60
Branch line conductors	100	90
Branch line brakemen	80	55
Branch line baggagemen	65	60
Mixed line conductors	100	90
Mixed line brakemen	65	60
Mixed line baggagemen	65	60
Freight conductors	$3 per 100 m.	$2.90 per 100 m.
Freight brakemen	$2.07 per 100 m.	conceded.
Worktrain conductors	$ 90	80
Worktrain brakemen	70	60

In the clause affecting the yardmen the employes between Fort William and Medicine Hat are to be paid at the following rate: Yard foremen, $2.80 a day; helpers, $2.50; overtime at the same rate. This the company (so the men say) agreed to, but in the schedule the company omitted Medicine Hat and refuses now to include it. There is also a difference between the men and the C.P.R. with regard to overtime for switching.

Mr. Wilkinson, Grand Master of the Order of Railway Conductors, is here.

OFFICIALS INTERVIEWED.

The Officials of the Road Interviewed in Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 18.—The news of the strike on the western division of the C.P.R. reached the head office in Montreal about 11 o'clock yesterday. The despatch stated that the trainmen, yard and switchmen from Fort William to the Rocky Mountains had "gone out" at 12 o'clock Wednesday.

In response to inquiries at the head office Mr. Shaughnessy, vice-president, stated that by far the greater number of conductors and trainmen now out had been dismissed during the first of the week in accordance with the decision arrived at by the management when the lockout was first threatened. Most of the remaining men, he said, had quit work Wednesday.

Asked as to the extent of the interference with the traffic of the road, Mr. Shaughnessy said that the passenger trains had not yet been delayed, but that temporary delay was expected. He could say nothing for the present as to the course to be pursued by the company, but was busy in consultation with Mr. VanHorne.

Mr. Shaughnessy does not anticipate an extension of the strike to the eastern division. The men who quit work last night are said to have pledged themselves at the beginning of the week to remain true to the interests of the company and continue at work. This is learned from the statement of Mr. Shaughnessy that all the men who did not promise loyalty to the company had been dismissed. Now it transpires that those who did agree to continue work have since changed their minds and "struck."

It is claimed that they have been constrained or coerced into doing so by the brethren who were dismissed.

From another source it was learned that the conductors and trainmen on the Eastern Division, that is from Fort William East, had a year ago made similar demands to those of the western men and had similarly decided to strike at a given hour on a given night, but that the company had met their demands and the difference was amicably settled.

Does It Portend Further Trouble?

The strike is regarded here as the initial move on the part of the various associations of railway conductors, brakemen, baggagemen and possibly firemen throughout America towards a concerted plan to compel the railways to abolish the system of wages by a gradual scale. The general belief among railway officials is that these organizations have agreed to demand an increase of pay from all roads, and in the event of failure to cause a general strike previous to the opening of the World's Fair next year.

The demand made on the Grand Trunk is that eight hours shall constitute a day's work, for which every conductor shall be paid $3 per day, and every trainman $1.75 per day. In other words, they ask an average increase of from 10 to 30 per cent. The company offered an increase, but not on the lines proposed, and the trainmen summoned the heads of their respective orders to come here.

LONDON, March 18.—Grand Trunk trainmen all along the line in Ontario have been endeavoring for some time to have corrected what they consider very important grievances. Most prominent among these is said to be one brought about by the persistent action of the company in keeping down expenses by what, if true, is certainly a novel and at the same time unfair method. The men are employed at a low figure in beginning work, upon the understanding that their salaries shall be increased so much every succeeding year. In three years in some cases the men reach the maximum, which is considered a fairly good wage.

"Now, were this scheme carried out on the square, no one could object." a railroad trainman explained to a reporter. "But it is not, and is only used a fake by the company in making a show at paying big wages, and so preventing trouble. And the way they get around it is by discharging the men upon the most trivial excuses just as soon as their pay reaches a respectable figure. And then there are a lot of minor grievances which should be rectified.

Delegates in Montreal.

"Thirty delegates from all parts of Ontario are now in Montreal, and have been there for a week endeavoring to reach a settlement with the management. The western portion of the province is well-represented, delegates being present from Windsor, Chatham, Stratford, Hamilton, Brantford and London. Conductor McAuliffe and Brakeman C. A. Johnson represent the London district. The delegates were refused their request at the last conference, and the grand lodge officers of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and also of the Order of Railroad Conductors have been called to Montreal to consult as to the best course to pursue next.

"One thing is certain," the trainman continued, "and that is, we are not going to be bluffed this time. We will either have our demands agreed to or else there will be a 'tie up' of the road over the whole province. I hear that a large number of the employes in the car shops at Brantford have been laid off as a step in the bluff act, but it won't work. The thing has got to be done in a straightforward way and then the men will know where they stand.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

D'ALTON M'CARTHY AND THE TERRITORIES ACT.

Introduces His Bill in the Commons and It Passes Its First Reading—Denial of the Utterances Attributed to Sir Charles Tupper Relating to Metallation.

OTTAWA, March 18.—Mr. D'Alton McCarthy played the star part in the legislative drama yesterday.

Mr. McCarthy began by asking leave to introduce a bill amending the Northwest Territories Act. He said the bill dealt with the questions of duality of language and of education. He reminded the House that two sessions ago when he introduced a similar bill the House had adopted a compromise resolution at the instance of the Government. To that compromise he had not acceded. It may have been a political necessity but it was not at all satisfactory to those who thought as he did. Since 1877 the French language, equally with English, was recognized in the debates of the Assembly of the Northwest Territories. The use of the language was permissible in debate, it was compulsory in recording the proceedings of the Assembly. It was permissible in the courts and it was compulsory that the ordinances should be published in both languages. By the resolution of two years ago the Assembly received power to decide how its proceedings should be published, but no change was made in other respects.

An Evil That Still Exists.

That this evil still existed beyond the control of the Assembly was not generally known outside of the territories. He did not think that it was very important what language a member chose to address the Assembly in, but the withholding from it of the power to deal with the other evils was a condition of affairs which his bill proposed to discontinue.

He briefly ran over the history of the dual language question in this country, showing that the full recognition of French as an official language was never firmly imbedded in the constitution until 1867, when the Dominion was formed. Even then, it only applied to the Federal Parliament and to the Legislature of Quebec. It was not made to apply to the other provinces that at first formed the union. It was not made to apply to Prince Edward Island when that province came into the union some years later. When the Province of Manitoba was formed some years later, however, it was made a part of the constitution of that province and the same course was adopted in constituting the Northwest Territories.

The Educational Phase

Dealing next with the subject of education, Mr. McCarthy pointed out that in all the original provinces of Confederation, save one, the subject of education had been one left within the jurisdiction of the provinces. The exception was the province of Ontario. The anomalous position of that province, however, could not be dealt with or remedied by the Canadian Parliament. In 1875 when the Northwest Territories were organized a peculiar clause was grafted in the constitution. This clause allowed localities to establish such schools as they saw fit and permitted minorities in these localities to establish separate schools. For support of both sets of schools rates could be imposed and collected by law. No more mischievous provision could be found in any Act of Parliament, and if there was a place where it was more mischievous than another it was in the sparsely populated lands of the Northwest Territories.

In the act of last session they had added largely to the powers of the Northwest Assembly, granting it powers similar to that of a provincial legislature, but they had not enlarged its power to remove restrictions on education. His bill proposed to confer on it that power.

He confessed that it was with regret that he intruded these questions on the House, but his duty was clear and he had no desire to shirk it.

A Voice From the Prairies.

Mr. Lariviere, Manitoba, had a few words to say. He charged Mr. McCarthy with raising religious and national ill-feeling. The resolution adopted two sessions ago was a compromise and as a compromise should be respected. He claimed it was only a matter of dollars and cents. He wound up by declaring amid the cheers of the Opposition that the question was brought before the House by men who had nothing else to raise themselves into prominence above ordinary people.

The bill was read a first time.

OTTAWA, March 18.—The recent utterances of Sir Charles Tupper formed the subject of enquiry at both Houses Wednesday. It will be remembered Sir Charles Tupper was alleged to have stated at a dinner of the London Chamber of Commerce that Canada would soon strike a vital blow at the commerce of the United States.

Louis Davies of Prince Edward Island in the Commons and Senator O'Donohoe of Toronto in the Senate interpolated the Government in the matter.

The replies of Sir John Thompson and Mr. Abbott were almost in the same words. Sir John Thompson said the members of the Government had read the despatch in the papers, but were at once satisfied that the High Commissioner had not made such a statement. Since that he had received a cablegram from Sir Charles in which he characterized the report as erroneous and that indeed he had not spoken on the subject of retaliation against the United States at all.

The Soulanges Canal debate in the Commons was finished by Mr. Haggart, who declared that the decision to build a new canal on the north side of the river instead of deepening the old one was not decided upon without careful investigation and the Government had seen no reason to change its decision.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

To Celebrate the Centennial Anniversary of the Parliament of Upper Canada.

TORONTO, March 18.—When the House met yesterday afternoon Mr. Bishop asked whether it was the intention of the Government to ask the Legislature to assist in duly celebrating during the recess the centennial anniversary of the Parliament of Upper Canada.

The Attorney-General gave an answer in the affirmative, saying at the same time that the celebration would take place somewhere in the Niagara district.

Mr. Clancy then moved for a return showing the number of liquor licenses issued in each year from 1860 to 1891 both inclusive; the gross fund raised from licenses in each of the same years, the sums paid out of the said fund in each of the same years to the province and municipalities respectively and the sums to the municipalities have imposed by bylaw over and above the statutory duties in each of the same years.

Mr. Harcourt responded by saying that he had no objection to providing the information asked for as far as was in his power. The hon. gentleman would readily see, however, that it would be impossible to secure any figures prior to 1876.

Mr. Balfour gave notice of a motion for a return showing the amounts of defalcations made by the treasurers of any of the municipalities in the Province of Ontario during the years 1881 and 1891, both inclusive; also showing the amounts any of said municipalities have lost for want of sufficient sureties being given by said treasurers; also showing the number of commissions of enquiry into the finances of municipal corporations issued under section 383 of the Municipal Act.

B. B. Osler, the council's solicitor, acted as spokesman.

Among those composing the delegation were: Dr. Williams, Ingersoll, president of the Medical Council; Dr. McKay, M.L.A., Woodville; Dr. Bergin, M.P., Cornwall; Dr. Moore, Brockville; Dr. Geikie, Toronto; Dr. Thorburn, Toronto; Dr. Preston, M.L.A.; Dr. Fyne, Toronto; Dr. Fowler, Kingston; Dr. Campbell, London, and Dr. Day, Trenton.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

Moved by John Gilmore, seconded by Thomas McNamara that Damon Peters be paid for boarding Antoine Robere two weeks, washing and cleaning him and taking care of him for 12 days $9 —Carried. Moved by Charles McMahon, seconded by David Curtin, that Samuel Lyle, collector, be authorized to receipt John Allen's tax bill, he not being able to work for some time—Carried. Moved by David Curtin, seconded by Charles McMahon that Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Cain be paid two dollars each, they having performed two days statute labour each for Gilmour & Co.—Carried. Bylaw No. 141, appointing pathmasters, poundkeepers and fence viewers received its several readings and was passed. Moved by Charles McMahon, seconded by Thomas McNamara, that the reeve draw an order on the treasurer for the amount of $50 to deposit with the county treasurer to meet the conditional grant of $100 from the county council and $200 from the Ontario Government.—Carried. On motion, the reeve was requested to attend the non-resident land sale, which takes place on the 25th inst. Moved by John Gilmore, seconded by Thomas McNamara, that this council grant a sum equal to the Glamorgan council for the purpose of building a bridge on the boundary between Cavendish and Glamorgan and that Charles McMahon be commissioner in behalf of the Galway Council.—Carried. Moved by Thomas McNamara, seconded by Charles McMahon, that the following accounts be paid: Damon Peters, two weeks' board to Antoine Robere @ $2.50 per week, $5; washing and cleaning him, $1; taking care of him 12 days @ 25 cents per day, $3; M. O'Brien and M. Cain, roadwork for Gilmour & Co., $4; P. Collins, clerk, registration births, marriages and deaths, $4.20; C. E. Stuart, printing ballots, Jan. 1st, 1892, $2.50.—Carried. The council adjourned to meet on Monday, the 6th day of June next, to meet as a Court of Revision.

Asphodel.

The Hastings Star of March 16th says:—"St. Mary's church was the scene of an interesting event last Sunday, the occasion being the first public appearance, in a ministerial capacity, of the Rev. Father James Foley. The reverend gentlemen is a native of Asphodel, a son of the late Mr. P. Foley, and brother of our townsman, Mr. John Foley, whose guest he was during his stay in our town. Father Foley entered Ottawa university six years ago, to go through the usual divinity studies, and his labours were crowned on Sunday, 6th inst., by the investiture of priesthood in the Basilica in that city. Very many, if not all, who attended St. Mary's Church last Sunday had known the young divine from his childhood and his presence, unannounced as it was, was an agreeable surprise to all, and it was fitting indeed that the first clerical act in his high calling should be performed in the parish of his birth and where his early religious training began. During the services and from the epistle of the day, 1st Thess., iv: 1 7, the rev. gentleman selected the text, "For this is the will of God," and preached an eloquent and affecting sermon, concluding with an earnest request for the prayers of the congregation on his behalf, which request was fervently responded to. Father Foley left for Norwood to-day, Wednesday, and will officiate in Father Conway's church, Norwood, on Thursday."

It is not theory but fact—that Hood's Sarsaparilla makes the weak strong. A fair trial will convince you of its merit.

South Monaghan.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Address and Presentation—Mr. David Baxter and Wife Handsomely Remembered by Their Friends.

On Monday evening last a large number of the friends and neighbours of Mr. David Baxter invaded his residence on lot 3, 6th concession of South Monaghan. They were laden with well filled baskets and took possession of the house and later of both Mr. and Mrs. Baxter, who were suitably arranged before Mr. Thomas Donaldson, who read the following address, Mr. John Lightfoot, presenting the fur coat to Mr. Baxter, and Mr. W. H. Hutchinson the fur set to Mrs. Baxter:—

DAVID BAXTER ESQ.,

DEAR SIR:—Your friends and neighbours have heard with very great regret of your intention of removing from this township to a distant part of the Dominion. You and your respected companion have passed your lives amongst us, and the associations of childhood and maturer age have woven ties of friendship and regard which make parting more painful and difficult. We have late it impossible to let you go from amongst us without, in some particular or tangible way, giving expression to the love and respect which we feel towards you and your esteemed companion. You were born and grew up amongst us, and have shown the best qualities as friend, neighbour and citizen. Your intelligence and interest in the promotion of the welfare of this township have won for you the confidence of your fellow citizens, who have entrusted you repeatedly with the management of their municipal affairs; and in this responsibility you have discharged your duty with the same ability, integrity and singleness of purpose that have marked your actions in every relation of life. We can also bear testimony to the high place which Mrs. Baxter and your family hold in our esteem and that of the community at large. In earnest of our good wishes kindly accept, Mr. Baxter, this fur coat; and you Mrs. Baxter this set of furs, coupled with the wish that they may both last long to cover the warm hearts which, we know, from past experience, beat under them. In conclusion permit us to wish you God-speed on your journey, and a safe arrival in the distant home, where we hope you may have unstinted worldly prosperity and happiness and that you will gather around you as many and as warm friends as you leave behind in dear old South Monaghan.

Signed in behalf of your old friends and neighbours,

W. H. HUTCHINSON,
THOMAS DONALDSON,
JOHN LIGHTFOOT.

Mr. Baxter on his own behalf and on that of Mrs. Baxter, though completely taken by surprise returned his most cordial thanks for the beautiful gifts, and the kind words contained in the address. He was sorry that his departure compelled the severance of ties of many years duration and to leave so many old friends and neighbours, whose worth and kindness he never appreciated so deeply as at that moment. He assured them that while memory lasted neither he nor Mrs. Baxter would forget the kindness of their South Monaghan friends.

Then followed an elegant supper laid out by the ladies of the company; and social enjoyments, and the merry rounds of the dance held the company together till a late hour, the only cloud to the happiness being the prospect of parting with so highly respected and esteemed friends and neighbours.

On the 22nd Mr. Baxter and family start for their new home, Rosebank, in the Selkirk district, Manitoba, not far from Miami. He takes with him a car load of effects—7 horses a cow, household effects and farm implements. Mr. Baxter has leased his farm for five years to Mr. Fenithore. Mr. Baxter has been a life-long resident of South Monaghan, and enjoys the high respect of the entire community. He was at one time a representative in the township council.

Messrs. John Mounsey, Samuel Might, James Rollins and John Ward, all prominent farmers of this section, will leave for the Canadian North West on the 29th of March.

Mr. Robert Ward, who left for Manitoba on the 8th of March, has sold one of his farms to Mr. Geo. Hutchinson, of this neighbourhood, and rented the other to Mr. Robert Campbell, of North Monaghan.

HYMENEAL.—It is with pleasure we chronicle the marriage of Mr. Robert Campbell, of North Monaghan to Miss Chambers, of Hope. We wish Mr. and Mrs. Campbell every happiness. Mr. Albert Waterman, of Otonabee, formerly one of our South Monaghan boys has lately joined hands with Miss Sarah Huggins, second daughter of Mr. William Huggins. We join in with their many friends in wishing them every happiness during their future life.

Each season has its own peculiar malady; but with the blood maintained in a state of uniform vigor and purity by the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla little danger need be feared from meteorological influences. No other blood medicine is so safe and effective.

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

The Best in the World.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirety and purity in Miller's Emulsion. It is the most palatable and wholesome preparation of Cod Liver Oil in the world, and is now being taken by invalids, particularly those afflicted with consumption, with the most astonishing success. It is the greatest blood and flesh maker in existence, and is a life saver to consumptives. In big bottles, 50c, and $1. at Peterborough Drug Stores.

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

The Head Surgeon

Of the Lubon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dimness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circles, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wanes in consequence. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flashes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

A Fact

WORTH knowing is that blood diseases which all other remedies fail to cure, yield to Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Fresh confirmation of this statement comes to hand daily. Even such deep-seated and stubborn complaints as Rheumatism, Rheumatic Gout, and the like, are thoroughly eradicated by the use of this wonderful alterative.

Mrs. E. Irving Dodge, 110 West 125th street, New York, certifies:—

"About two years ago, after suffering for nearly two years from rheumatic gout, being able to walk only with great discomfort, and having tried various remedies, including mineral waters, without relief, I saw by an advertisement in a Chicago paper that a man had been relieved of this distressing complaint, after long suffering, by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I then decided to make a trial of this medicine, and took it regularly for eight months. I am pleased to say that it effected a complete cure, and that I have since had no return of the disease."

Mrs. L. A. Stark, Nashua, N. H., writes: "One year ago I was taken ill with rheumatism, being confined to my house six months. I came out of the sickness very much debilitated, with no appetite, and my system disordered in every way. I commenced to use Ayer's Sarsaparilla and began to improve at once, gaining in strength and soon recovering my usual health. I cannot say too much in praise of this well-known medicine."

"I have taken a great deal of medicine, but nothing has done me so much good as Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I felt its beneficial effects before I had quite finished one bottle, and I can freely testify that it is the best blood-medicine I know of."—L. W. Ward, Sr., Woodland, Texas.

$200,000 Subscribed for the Relief of the Sufferers.

BRUSSELS, March 17.—The directors of the Anderluis mines, near Charleroi where the frightful accident occurred on Friday last, have subscribed $200,000 for the relief of the families of the large number of men who lost their lives by the explosion. King Leopold has donated $1200 for the same purpose. Great distress prevails among the families of the victims.

A French Duel.

PARIS, March 17.—A duel was fought this morning between the Marquis de Mores and M. Isaac, the sub-Prefect of Fourmies, arising from letters which the Marquis had published some time ago reflecting upon the character of M. Isaac.

In the first encounter M. Isaac was dangerously wounded in the right breast and the great loss of blood caused the seconds to forbid the duel going further.

A Baby Killed by a Rat.

LONDON, March 17.—At Bow, London, yesterday an inquest was held on the body of Alfred Birch, three weeks old. Mrs. Birch deposed that on Monday last she placed the child in the cradle and afterwards heard it shriek. On going into the room she found a rat with its teeth fastened in the child's nose. The baby's face was smothered in blood and the child, becoming very weak, died on Wednesday. The rat was found behind a box and killed. A verdict of "Accidental death" was returned.

Ex-Mayor McLellan of Hamilton Dead.

HAMILTON, March 17. Ex-Mayor David McLellan died yesterday. He returned on Saturday from Dansville Sanitorium apparently perfectly recovered. Yesterday afternoon he laid down to rest, and was found some hours later unconscious. He remained unconscious all night and to-day until 2.45 this afternoon, when he expired.

He was a prominent Mason and held a high office in the order.

The One-hoss Shay

The peculiar feature of the "one-hoss shay" was, that it was "built in such a wonderful way" that it had no "weakest part." The "weakest part" a woman is invariably her back, and "female weaknesses" are only too common. With the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, this may be avoided, and women may be comparatively as strong as their brothers. Prolapsus, inflammation, ulceration, periodical pains, leucorrhea, dragging down sensations, debility, nervousness, sleeplessness, despondency, are only a few of the symptoms of weakness of the female organs which the "Favorite Prescription" is warranteed to remove. b

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

A man's wife should always be the same, especially to her husband, but if she is weak and nervous, and uses Carter's Iron Pills, she cannot be, for they make her "feel like a different person," so they all say, and their husbands say so too dw

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE

A Scheme for Better Education of Farmers' Sons as Farmers.

TORONTO, March 17.—In the Ontario Legislature yesterday Mr. McLeughan moved:

"That in the opinion of this House the time has arrived in the history of this province when greater local facilities should be given whereby farmers' sons may receive a better education in their own profession."

The mover said that the children of farmers needed a higher, a better, and a more efficient mode of education than was at present within their reach, a fact patent to all. It should be improved in regard to a literary and agricultural education. The common school education in rural districts was, in many regards, at the present time, entirely inadequate.

Mr. Dryden thought that the scheme which the preceding speaker had presented to the House was a rather large one. Of course in many respects it was, when particulars were arrived at, exceedingly vague. The honorable gentleman from Lanark wanted an agricultural school in each township.

Dr. Willoughby continued the debate, which was finally adjourned by Dr. Preston.

In reply to a question by Mr. Barr the Attorney-General said that it was not the intention of the Government, during the present session to introduce a bill for the purpose of taxing mortgages, stocks and other investments at the same rate as real estate.

Just as the House was adjourning Mr. Gibson brought down the return asked for by Mr. Meredith relative to Upper Canada College matters

A bill has been introduced by the Government dealing with the emoluments of officers who are paid by fees. The bill proposes to limit the fees of surrogate court registrars to $2000, of registrars of deeds to $2500 and of sheriffs to $3000.

IN A HYENA'S FANGS.

A Circus Lion Tamer in the Jaws of His Caged Animals.

LONDON, March 17.—At a circus performance in Hednesford, Staffordshire, yesterday Delhi Montano, a negro lion tamer, entered a cage to subdue three savage bears and a hyena.

As he was entering the cage he stumbled and fell forward into the cage, and the iron door fell with a crash behind him, cutting off his means of escape. Instantly the animals, which he had mastered many times and made cower before the stroke of his whip, realized the tamer was at their mercy. The hyena seized him with its fangs. The brute tore the man's flesh in a horrible manner, and then lifted him from the floor of the cage and flung his body to the opposite side.

The bears seized the tamer, and tossing him from one to the other, worried him like a terrier would a rat, at the same time repeatedly biting him in a savage manner, and tearing his limbs and body cruelly.

When the brutes were finally beaten off and Montano was dragged from the cage he was found to be just alive. After lingering in great agony for an hour, death put an end to his misery.

MANY FIRES.

A Manitoba Town Visited by a Serious Conflagration.

WINNIPEG, March 17.—A despatch from the town of Gladstone yesterday conveys intelligence of a very bad fire there last night. It started in Cameron's Hotel, which was destroyed with Williams' hardware store, Schooley's general store, Doherty's hardware store and McQueen's general store. The loss is heavy, but cannot yet be estimated. Mr. Cameron, proprietor of the hotel, was seriously burned.

Spencer House, Niagara Falls, N.Y.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 17.—About 9 o'clock last evening the Spencer House at Niagara Falls, N.Y., was discovered to be on fire. Help was quickly sent from here, but all the efforts to stop the quickly spreading flames were of no avail and this hotel of 300 rooms was totally destroyed.

There were about 30 guests besides the regular boarders in the house at the time and all managed to escape by way of back stairs and fire escapes.

There was very little saved from the building and the total loss is estimated at $100,000.

Church Burned at Merritton.

MERRITTON, March 17.—St. James' Episcopal Church was entirely destroyed by fire about 10 o'clock last night. A committee meeting had been held in the evening, and it is supposed the fire originated through the hot air apparatus.

It was a frame structure and burned with such rapidity that only a portion of the contents could be removed. The loss is estimated at about $3000; insured for $2500 in the Ætna and Citizens.

Due to the Czar.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 16.—The cessation of the press attacks on Germany is attributed to an expression of the Czar's personal wish at a recent council.

Struck Blind While Preaching.

OTTUMWA, March 15.—Rev. George Sweet, a young minister of Russell, was struck blind while preaching Sunday. He had preached in the morning as usual, and in the afternoon while in the midst of his discourse his sight gradually failed him and he became totally blind. He was compelled to stop and announce the fact to his listening congregation.

Ayer's Medicines have been satisfactory to me throughout my practice, especially Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, which has been used by many of my patients, one of whom says he knows it saved his life."—F. L. Morris, M. D., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"German Syrup"

Asthma. "I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Gentle, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my Refreshing life. Almost the first Sleep. dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Picton, Ontario." ●

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 15, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece: frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

DEAR SIR,—For many years, I have been a firm believer in your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills." Not with a blind faith, but a confidence wrought by an actual personal experience of their value and merit. My business is such that I spend much of my time away from home, and I would not consider my travelling outfit complete without a box of Morse's Pills. Yours, &c.,

Public Meeting To-night.

Citizens and ratepayers should not forget the public meeting to be held in the Opera House to-night. Mayor Kendry will preside. The object of the meeting is to discuss and consider the proposed system of sewerage for Peterborough laid down by Mr. Allen MacDougall, sanitary engineer, of Toronto. Doubtless there will be a large attendance at to-night's public meeting as the matter is one which affects the interest of every ratepayer in particular, and the prosperity of Peterborough in general.

LOCAL MUSICAL TALENT.

Rev. A. B. Winchester.

Remember the meeting to be held in St. Paul's Church to-morrow (Friday) evening at which the Rev. A. B. Winchester will deliver an interesting address on Missions. Mr. Winchester expects next month to enter Mission work among the Chinese, of B. C., and as he has already spent some time as a Missionary in China, and is an eloquent speaker, all who hear him will be well repaid. The meeting commences at 8 o'clock by a song service, and a collection will be taken during the evening.

A Venerable Mason Passes Away.

Mr. J. B. Hall, late of Port Hope, P.D.D. G.M. of Ontario district No. 12 in the Masonic Order, has received his demit to the Celestial Grand Lodge. In his death, which took place at Wauhaushene on Monday, one of the oldest Masons in this district, at least, leaves the scene. He has been a prominent figure in Masonry, and a lodge in Millbrook bears his name. He was the first district deputy grand master of the Ontario district. In compliance with the desires of the Port Hope brethren that the pall bearers at his funeral which takes place to-day, be past district grands, R. W. Bro. E H D. Hall and R. W. Bro. B. Shortly, went to Port Hope to act in that capacity.

Besides these there will be selections by the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra and the 57th Battalion Band, and the drill of the Canton, Oriental drill and pantomime imitation.

"Everybody's Business."

The almanac says it is spring—and it is everybody's business to talk about new spring clothing. Purchasers at the City Clothing Store this spring will be agreeably surprised at the almost endless choice in clothing clothe and furnishings, and the prices will greatly interest economical buyers. Men's suits and spring overcoats of the highest order in quality and workmanship, can be bought at prices so reasonable that they are within the reach of all. Don't overlook the City Clothing Store if you want anything in the line of boys and children's new spring suits; 500 strictly first-class and nobby boys suits, to begin the season, at prices that should crowd the store with buyers. Besides we have a stock of cloths and gents' furnishings the like of which is rarely ever seen in any one store in Canada. Measured suits and overcoats made to order in the latest fashion. We'll be glad to have you call in and see us.

Resolution of Condolence.

Norwood Lodge No. 257, A. O. U. W. forwarded to Mr. J. B. Pearce a brother member the following resolution of condolence, conveying the sympathy of the lodge in the recent severe affliction.

We, the members of the Norwood Lodge, No. 257, of the A. O. U. W., assembled, take this our first opportunity, of recording a resolution of condolence conveying to yourself and family our heartfelt sympathy for the very great loss you have so recently sustained, in the removal by death of one of your loved ones, in the flower of her youth. But we trust that He who is too wise to err and too good to be unkind, will bring you all to meet her in that Better Land where parting will be no more.

Her life though brief endearing bonds entwined,
By her kind words, and intercourse with you,
Her friendship left an impress on your mind,
Death only broke, but powerless to sunder.

Your loved trimmed tribute clearly verifies,
Such a dear loved companion she has been,
While your heart's offering on her ashes lies,
Will keep her name and honored memory green.

Itch, Mange, and Scratches of every kind, on human or animals, cured in 30 minutes by Woolford's Sanitary Lotion. This never fails. Sold by H. S. McDonald.

The Council of The Board of Trade.

Talk over the Sewerage Project With Reference to the Public Meeting in the Opera House To-night.

The Council of the Board of Trade met last evening. The President, Mr. Robert Fair, was in the chair. There were present, Messrs. Ramsay, C.E., LeBrun, Dunbie, Hay, C.E., Munro, R. H. D. Hall, Sheerly, Meldrum, Elliott, Schofield, and the town engineer, J. Belcher, C. E., the chairman of the town council sewerage committee, Mr. Cahill, and the secretary of the water works company, Mr. Hatton, the last three present by invitation. The meeting was called for the purpose of discussing the sewerage question, and that the board might be represented properly at the public meeting to-night.

Mr. DUNBIE said that Mr. MacDougall's plan was in every way suited to the town's needs. It was sufficient for years to come and it was the cheapest also. He said the question was not whether we should have sewerage or not, the statute law settled that; sewerage was compulsory, and there could be little delay. He thought all sewers above nine inches should be laid at the general expense, the latter on the local improvement plan.

Mr. MELDRUM agreed that the trunk sewer should be laid at the general expense. He thought the people and not the council should decide as to a sewerage.

Mr. LE BRUN pointed out that between the inspector ordering proper closet accommodation and the absence of sewerage, business men were in an awkward box.

Mr. R. H. D. HALL said the Public Health Act and the Provincial Board of Health, required the construction of a system of sewerage at once. He thought the sinking fund necessary for such a system, should be paid by ratepayers generally, but that no person should be required to pay interest on the cost of sewerage not within his reach. The trunk sewerage rate would be about half a mill on the dollar.

Mr. J. E. BELCHER, C. E., town engineer, by request explained the system proposed by Mr. MacDougall. He thought the latter's estimate of cost was an outside one. Their plans had been approved by the Provincial Board of Health.

Mr. T. A. HAY, C. E., suggested that in the central part of the town, the house connections made at the time of laying the sewers, would avoid the subsequent digging up of the street.

Mr. G. W. RANNEY, C. E., thought the town council wished to get the opinion of the people as to the portion of the system to be begun and the present expenditure to be made.

Mr. CAHILL said he was neutral on the matter of sewerage. If the people want it they have a chance of saying so at the public meeting, (to-night). As chairman of the Sewerage Committee of the council, he said that that body had no scheme—only the engineer's report to place before the citizens; it left the matter wholly in the hands of the people. He said the Board of Health and the Board of Trade were forcing the sewerage question upon the council, which expressed no opinion on the matter.

BONUSING.

The Board passed a resolution that the system of granting municipal bonuses to encourage the location of manufacturers is not sound in principle, and is a frequent cause of municipal embarrassment, and that the Board therefore approves of any legislative action depriving municipalities of the power of granting these bonuses.

A deputation consisting of the officers Messrs. Robert Fair, E. Peplow and Hampden Burnham, and the council of the Board of Trade, representing that body, will attend the public meeting to-night.

The Closing "Ends" of the Season's Game.

Peterborough Defeated the Millbrookers Last Night—A Junior Rink Does up Port Hope in Grand Style—Other Notes about the Rearin' Game.

Two rinks came up from Millbrook last evening to play the return match with the Peterboroughs. The home team had an easy victory over the visitors. Only 15 ends were played, and at the close the Peterboroughs were ahead by 15 shots. Both of the home rinks lead from the outset. The ice was in first class condition. In the match played on Tuesday last at Millbrook, they were defeated by only one shot—quite a change for the Millbrookers last night. The rinks and score were:

RINK NO. 1.

Peterborough.	Millbrook.
A Blade,	S G Medd,
J Scanger,	L F Clarry,
O McGill,	C H Winslow,
J B Pentland, sk....19	W T Wood, sk.....12

Majority for Peterborough 7 shots.

RINK NO. 2.

A Sawers,	R H Hunter,
C Brown,	J A B Preston,
W Sailsbury,	C Hampden,
J H Connal, skip ...17	C Neecher, skip 11

Majority for Peterborough, 6 shots.

A junior rink of curlers left here yesterday afternoon to play a rink from Port Hope. The Port Hopers were ignominiously defeated. Twenty-two ends were played. The ice was in fine condition, and the Port Hope curlers were defeated before a large crowd of spectators. To much praise cannot be given the Peterborough boys. Messrs. Martin, Savigny and Montgomery never handled a polished stone before this winter, and have had little or no experience at curling. The following were the players and the score:

Peterborough.	Port Hope.
R J Martin,	Capt Phillips,
T Savigny,	E Brown,
W J Montgomery,	H Philp,
A W Strickland, skip .30	Sam Patterson, skip .11

Majority for Peterborough, 19 shots.

The Peterborough curlers speak in the highest terms of the treatment and courtesy of the Port Hopers. The home team was entertained at the St. Lawrence Hall. They returned home last evening at 9 o'clock in excellent spirits.

A rink of the Peterboroughs left this afternoon for Lindsay where they will play skip Flavelle's champion tankard rink. The following will be the players:—

Peterborough.	Lindsay
R S Davidson,	Simpson,
C McGill,	McLennan,
Wm Ray	McMillan,
T Rutherford, skip.	Flavelle, skip.

The mechanics of the town desire to challenge the professional men for a curling match. The contest to be with two rinks each. The challenge is open from 6 o'clock on Monday morning next until the curling season is over. It is to be hoped such a contest will be effected.

Skip George Ellmison intends to have a crack at Skip Dan Belleghem at the rink this week for "the oysters."

The Toronto Telegram says:—Peterborough's crack curlers proved of better calibre than the four rinks who went down from Toronto yesterday, the winner's score being 26 more than their opponents made.

"To the Father Mathew Temperance and Manufacturing Co.:

GENTLEMAN,—I am gratefully pleased to have in my power to testify to the efficacy and restorative qualities of your medicine in my own deplorable case,

"I was for eight years a martyr to alcohol and "under the ban" from being, as all supposed who knew me (and as I myself thought), beyond cure from my reliance upon ardent spirit. Liquor took the place of food, and I was so prostrated, mentally and physically, that I courted DEATH as the only freedom from my wretched sufferings. A kind and noble friend (through your instrumentality) induced me to take your invaluable remedy. The first bottle strengthened and gave me appetite, and after finishing the fourth I felt completely cured, and have had no relapse whatever. Appetite and energy have returned, and I am out of the city where last associations have been so painful, and am engaged in useful occupation, with no desire for alcohol. Six months have now passed since I took my last drop of liquor, and my restoration to friends and life I claim only to have gained through your disinterested medical aid.

Permit me to subscribe myself forever your debtor,

JULIA A. GLOVER.

"At Home."

The Friends and Members of the George Street Methodist Church Spend an Enjoyable Time Last Evening—A Fine Programme and a Large Attendance.

The young people composing the Epworth League Society of the George street Methodist church gave an "At Home" in the Sunday school last evening to the members of the church and congregation and their friends. The rooms were gaily and artistically decorated for the occasion with flowers, streamers and bunting of brilliant hue, the whole forming an inviting and bright appearance to the visitor. A large number availed themselves of the opportunity of being present last evening some to enjoy themselves, and others to participate in the enjoyments. Dr. Fitz ably filled the position of chairman. After an opening hymn entitled "The Endeavour Band," by several members of the Epworth League, the first number on the programme was a solo by Miss Jackson, of Lindsay, Mrs. Tom. Bradburn accompanist. Her fine soprano voice delighted those present.

Mr. Geo. S. Bean, B. A., then gave an admirably prepared paper on "The Origin, Objects and Progress of the Epworth League," after which Miss Sophie Cameron favored the company with a rare Scotch solo. She is well and favorably known to Peterborough audiences. Miss Nellie Wrighton followed in a pianoforte solo, and as usual won for herself many encomiums. Miss Grundy read an interesting paper on "What we Have Done in the Epworth League of the George street Church."

Misses Edith Hall and Eva Wrighton then favored the assembly with an instrumental duet, cleverly executed. Their rendition was rapturously applauded. The Harmony Quartette composed of Messrs. J. Crane and Nelson, Misses S. Cameron and Crane sang a glee, which was well received. Miss M. E Friss, president of the Epworth League then read an instructive paper on "What we hope to do." Miss Howden contributed an instrumental solo and Masters Percy and Leslie Owens a charming instrumental duet, which brought to a close a good programme.

Afterwards refreshments, tempting and savoury, were served in an adjoining class room. After all were satisfied, the members of the League again sang a closing hymn entitled "Christ and the Church," after which the pastor, Rev. J. C. Locke, pronounced the benediction and the company dispersed.

A Successful Charity Concert.

The Opera House Filled to Overflowing.

The charity concert given in the Opera House last night in aid of the funds of the House of Providence was a most successful one in its beneficent object. There was a crowded house, perhaps the largest that has ever greeted a local concert. The committee had the stage very handsomely decorated, and the concert began in good time. The Amateur Orchestra opened the programme with a well-rendered overture. This was followed by a vocal solo sung by Miss Mary Keanedy, of Warkworth, who also gave another vocal solo in the second part of the programme, and also at the close of the first part a recitation, which took the place of the address to have been given by Rev. Father Jaffords, who was prevented by illness from being present. Mrs. W. J. Morrow, always a favourite, rendered in brilliant style, a high-class pianoforte solo — Rubenstein's "Allegro con Moto," and in reply to a hearty recall gave the Paganini of Leo Delibes. In the second part she performed in a very excellent manner, a selection of Irish airs arranged by herself, which won deservedly enthusiastic applause. Her playing is marked with correct taste and delicate and facile execution. Mr. George Fox, of Belleville, was in great form last night. He was "on the list" for three songs, but through none of his selections were startling in their newness, he captured the audience and was compelled to respond to repeated recalls, which he did with great success. He is exceedingly funny and as a "soprano" scored quite a triumph. Miss Louise Yokome, to the effective accompaniment of Mr. Fred Clarke, performed in an artistic, graceful and spirited manner. Vieuxtemp's beautiful transcription of "St. Patrick's Day" for the violin. In response to an enthusiastic recall she performed in equally brilliant style an arrangement of Irish airs by herself. Miss Mabel D. Geer, of Uxbridge, sang very acceptably Gounod's "Sing, Smile, Slumber," and in the second part she gave with sweetness and taste another vocal solo. In both cases she was recalled and responded with humorous selections. The Misses Gallagher of Warkworth, appeared in a trio for two violins and piano, and in response to an encore Miss Gallagher gave an acceptable rendering of Irish airs. In the second part they appeared again and also at the close of the second part in quartette, Mr. Clarke, of Warkworth, banjo, being added. Mr. Clarke appeared twice, once in duet, mouth organ and banjo, which provoked a hearty encore. In the second part he gave a well performed banjo overture, a much more meritorious performance than his first hybrid number.

The committee can congratulate themselves on the very successful financial outcome of the concert. A large sum, the exact amount not yet known, will be added to the charitable fund for the benefit of which the concert was given.

afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy. I tried everything I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my and it broke out all over my face and on some parts of my body so that my face is all covered with scars now. One day I read of what Hood's Sarsaparilla would do. The first dollar I got I sent and bought a bottle and began taking it. A week or two later, my wife in dressing my leg, said it seemed to be improving, and after taking a few months, thank God (and I say it reverently), the sores all over my body had healed, and now, four years later, have never shown any sign of reappearing." GEORGE M. HAMMOND, 219 Magnolia Street, Syracuse, N. Y.

THE KEY TO SUCCESS.

The Farmer, the Lawyer, the Mechanic, the Doctor, should know his financial position. In the Dominion of Canada, every mercantile person is required by law to keep proper books of account. Young man or young woman before starting business, prepare yourself. Understand the various business papers. Possess good personal habits such as punctuality, attention to details, politeness, etc., and to these add a good BUSINESS EDUCATION and you will really have the KEY TO SUCCESS.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE FIRST BILL PASSED IN THE COMMONS.

Yesterday Also Witnessed the First Night Session of the House—The Expenses of the High Commissioner on His Recent Visit to Canada.

OTTAWA, March 19.—Minister Tupper had the honor of getting the first bill passed in the Commons yesterday. It was that entitled an act to encourage the development of the sea fisheries and the building of fishing vessels. It offers bonuses for the building of large fishing vessels

The only other novel features of the day were that the House entered on a consideration of the estimates and held its first session. The members struck a great gait on the items as first, the chess Mr. Bergeron, deputy speaker, presiding over committee of the whole, while Mr. Speaker himself took a holiday, spending the greater part of his time in chatting with the leader of the House.

The first item that arrested the whirling chariot of business was that concerning the Department of the Interior. It will be remembered that during the last session's scandal love feast certain irregularities in the Department of the Interior were disclosed by the confessions of an employe named Palmer. As a result the Deputy Minister, Mr. A. M. Burgess, resigned his post. A committee of council subsequently decided that as a punishment Mr. Burgess should be reduced to the grade of a first-class clerk. The Opposition to-day wanted to get a little history of these matters and interrogated Mr. Dewdney. After considerable fencing the Minister said that he intended to recommend to his colleagues Mr. Burgess' reinstatement This statement was not at all badly received by the Opposition, as the idea prevails that Mr. Burgess was really the victim of a regulation that it was impossible to carry out.

Sir Charles Tupper's Expenses.

At the night session the item of the High Commissioner's office in London brought out considerable hostile criticism. The Opposition enquired as to the expenses of Sir Charles Tupper on his flying visit to Canada during the elections.

It turned out that his expenses on that occasion had been paid out of the treasury, and Sir John Thompson justified it on the ground that Sir Charles Tupper had crossed the ocean as a negotiator on behalf of Canada at Washington.

Mr. Patterson of Brant worked in a pretty good point by reading a reply of the late Sir John Macdonald, reported in Hansard, in which the Chieftain stated that Sir Charles had come over at his invitation to speak for him at Kingston.

But the whole thing vanished in laughter when Mr. McMullen called Sir Charles a political Belshazzar, which he pronounced Belishawser, that being the best form in North Wellington.

The House pottered along till 9.30 o'clock with hardly a quorum on deck.

Mr Lister, the Opposition John L. Sullivan, at an early stage of the session endeavored to get two notices concerning the London election considered out of their order. The motions call for papers and all other information with respect to that vexed question.

The Speaker decided, however, that he would have to wait until they were reached in the regular order.

Dr. Landerkin had been handed a cablegram from London, the wording of which would lead to the belief that Canadian cattle were scheduled in Great Britain.

Mr. Tupper expressed his confidence that Canadian cattle had not been scheduled.

A Deputation Asks to Have the Pork Duty Raised.

OTTAWA, March 19.—W. E. Matthews, Ottawa; J. W. Flavelle, Toronto, and F. W. Fearman, Hamilton, representing the Pork Packers' Association of Canada, interviewed the Minister of Finance and Customs asking that 3 cents all round be charged on pork imported into Canada from the United States. In the meantime mess pork is admitted at 1½ cents; at present light and short cuts are being imported under the lighter duty. If the duty is not raised all round then the deputation asked that light pork and short cut be properly defined.

Mr. McKay, M.P., headed the pork delegation to Hon. Mr. Dewdney to-day, and asked that the weight of short clear pork ordered for the Indians in the Northwest be changed from 50 to 40 pounds. Canada, he said, could supply the latter, which is equally as good, but not the former. Mr Dewdney promised to call for part of what was wanted in the Northwest at the 40 pounds weight.

The Government came to the decision today to enforce the quarantine regulations in British Columbia on cattle coming into the province from the United States, the same as is elsewhere done in the Dominion. Hon. Mackenzie Bowell wired to-day to have regulations enforced. This will prevent importation of live stock into the province before first undergoing 90 days' quarantine. British Columbia members oppose the enforcement of these regulations, as the province must go to the States for cattle for beef purposes.

A Prize Figure to Typify Chicago.

CHICAGO, March 19.—The prize contest of The Inter-Ocean for a figure typical of Chicago closed and the judges made the awards. Charles Holloway of Chicago secured the first prize, $200; George Pretel of New York City the second of $100 and Johannes Scheiwe of Ottumwa, Iowa, the third, $50.

The first prize sketch is that of a female of heroic pose with a crown of flames and emblems suggesting the phœnix. On her breast is a cuirass, bearing the words, "I will."

Murdered His Family.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—The steamship Monowai arrived yesterday from Sydney, N.S.W., brought news that at Tauranga, Auckland, on Feb. 8 Duncan Munroe, a stepson of the late mayor of the town, and who had been afflicted with a religious mania for some time, only recently having been released from an asylum, called at the house of his family. Next morning a milkman found the wife and family dying, their brains having been battered out with a flat iron and rolling pin. Munroe was found on the beach back of the house stark naked.

She Never Awoke.

WINDSOR, March 19.—Mrs. Francis Lambie, who was in her 96th year, died in Windsor yesterday. She had been weak from old age for some years. She ate breakfast at the usual hour and about 10 o'clock in the morning sat down in an easy chair and fell asleep. She never awoke.

A FAMILY'S FATE.

Four of Them Burned Alive and Others Are Dying.

LONDON, March 19.—Fire occurred this morning in a butcher shop in Lilliebridge-road, Brompton, causing the death of four persons. The apartments over the shop were occupied by the family of the butcher, a man named Weston. The fire spread with great rapidity and cut off the escape of Mrs. Weston, her two children and a girl named Amy Glover, who was employed as cashier in the shop. After the fire their bodies were found burned to a crisp. Another woman who was in the house was terribly burned, but managed to make her way to the street. There is no hope of her recovery. It is reported Weston has become insane through his bereavement. A workman's carelessness in throwing a match into the cellar caused the fire.

THE HESLOP MURDER.

THE TRIAL OF THE SUSPECTS NEARING AN END.

The Opinion Growing that the Case Against the Accused Is Anything But Conclusive—Probability that the Trial Will Conclude To-Day and the Case Be Given to the Jury.

HAMILTON, March 19.—It is probable that the trial of the Heslop suspects, Bertram and Lottridge, will be concluded this afternoon and the case given to the jury. That a verdict of murder will be returned against the accused is by no means certain in the face of the strong evidence brought forward by the defence. The fight which the counsel for the accused are making for their clients has added to the interest in the proceedings and as a result the court room was thronged all day yesterday.

When the court reassembled, Nelles Douglas, who swore that George Douglas, the principal witness for the crown, was in New York State on the day of the murder, was cross-examined by the crown, but stuck to the story he told in his direct examination.

Corroborating the Alibi.

Isaac Clews swore positively that George Douglas was in Lewiston, N.Y., on the night of the tragedy.

Lydia Cusick, a squaw, corroborated the testimony of the last witness. Edward Retzloff, John Walck, Emil Schrader, Andrew Garlow, Marie Smithe, Samuel Jacobs, Mrs. Jacobs, Nancy Cusick, Martha Jonathan and others, elders and adherents of the Presbyterian Church, gave like evidence.

Levi White was called to prove that the witnesses for the prosecution must have been mistaken in swearing that Douglas was at Katie White's funeral at the Tuscarora reserve. Had he been there he would have seen him.

An Evening Session.

In order to complete the case by Saturday night, if possible, Judge Rose decided upon holding an evening session.

Peter Isaac and Abigail Sherry both swore that George Douglas was not on the reserve the day following the murder, and the last mentioned testified that Goosey's sister must have been mistaken when she testified Goosey was at her house the night following the tragedy, as he was at Isaac Douglas' house on that evening.

William Hill, chief of the Cayuga Indians, swore that Douglas was in Lewiston the night of the tragedy.

The majority of the witnesses for defence examined thus far in the trial have stated that George Douglas was either not at Katie White's funeral, which took place from the Canadian reserve, or he was living in Lewiston, N.Y., at the time the murder was committed. Several of the Crown witnesses swore most positively to having seen George Douglas at Katie White's funeral.

The court adjourned at 10 o'clock until 9.30 this morning.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Another Discussion on the Agricultural Question—Mr. Ross' Address.

TORONTO, March 19.—The House was again treated to a discussion on the agricultural question. The debate on the motion re better education of farmers' sons was resumed by Dr. Preston.

Mr. Bishop, during the course of a few remarks, said that he thought some farmers knew as much about law as some lawyers knew about farming. This sally was loudly applauded. Even the Attorney-General smiled blandly in recognition of the joke.

Mr. Ross then took the floor and delivered a rattling speech. The country, he said, judging from the word-pictures painted by members of the Opposition, was in a most deplorable condition. A mild form of blue ruin was being preached by them. This was a policy entirely different from that generally followed by them. It did not, however, come from the farms of the country, but from those who had deserted the farm.

Continuing, Mr. Ross said the fact that farmers' sons were leaving the rural district in a greater ratio than formerly, as far as he was concerned, had no special significance. It simply showed that in a country where there were such a large number of occupations to choose from there was a larger divergence in the selection made.

The present discussion, in his estimation, was simply another form of the tactics employed by the Opposition of belittling elementary and higher education.

Mr. Ross, not having concluded his remarks, moved the adjournment of the debate.

Medical Students and Public Grants.

Mr. Balfour's motion, couched in the following terms, was carried: An order of the House for a return of copies of all correspondence, since the last return, between any member of the Government and any other person or persons on the subject of the alleged education of medical students in part at the public expense, by the payment to members of one medical faculty of fees received from students for teaching done by professors and lecturers, whose salaries are paid entirely out of the funds of the Provincial University.

Notes from the House.

The Railway Committee held a session yesterday morning. Mr. Hardy presided. The Ontario Ship Railway Bill was passed.

Considerable discussion was occasioned over a bill providing for the incorporation of the Toronto and Muskoka Electric Railway and Light Company. The consideration of it was adjourned until next Friday.

The report of the Ontario Game and Fish Commission was issued yesterday. The report recommends the better protection of deer, the continued protection of moose, elk and caribou, a greater care of birds, a better enforcement of the fish laws, a close season for rabbits and squirrels, and that beavers, otters and fishers should not be killed for the next five years.

THE SPRING TRADE.

The Demand for Drygoods is of Large Proportions.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Rain and cold weather in the south and southwest, a low range of temperature, with snow west and northwest, and bad condition of country roads in the same range of territory, as per special telegrams to Bradstreet's, have checked to some extent shipments of seasonable goods, prevented the free marketing of farm products and resulted in further delay of mercantile collections.

There is no marked change in the business situation in the Province of Quebec. Travelers are out with fall samples. "Breaking up" of country roads will delay collections.

In Ontario prospects favor a good spring trade. The demand for drygoods is of large proportions.

Bank clearings at four Canadian cities for the week aggregate $17,188,000, a decrease of 7 per cent.

There were 37 failures in Canada this week, against 40 last week and 26 a year ago. The total, Jan. 1 to date, is now about equal to that for a like period in 1891 and in excess of similar preceding totals.

Lost an Arm.

WINDSOR, March 1.—James Wilkinson, a M.C.R. car checker, was run down by a yard engine to-day and had his arm cut off. He may recover.

C. P. R. STRIKE.

No Amicable Arrangement as Yet Arrived at Between Company and Men

MONTREAL, March 19.—The C. P. R. strike and the threatened lockout on the G.T.R. continue to be all the absorbing topic in railway circles here. The strikers on the former line are reported to be determined in their demands and the C. P. R. Company just as persistent in their refusals.

Mr. Shaughnessy, the vice-president, states that the company have already received enough applications for work on the line to fill all the vacancies ten times over.

Speaking of the situation of the G.T.R. Company Mr. Wainwright, general superintendent, stated that the situation remained absolutely unchanged. The men had the company's ultimatum and were evidently considering it.

The men deny the company's argument that the line has not been paying as large a dividend as in former years. They assert that the increase in the earnings of the road for the last month has been from $30,000 to $50,000 per week and they insist on this as one reason for their demand of higher pay. They point out also that the Canada Southern, passing over the same ground as the G.T.R., pays $110 a month while the G. T. R. pays only $73. Local passenger conductors on the latter road only receive $65.82 per month, and between Toronto and Hamilton passenger conductors get as low as $60 for working heavier trains than those of the Michigan Central, on which $110 is paid over the same territory. The delegates also insist on the payment of equal wages to men performing similar work, regardless of the length of time in which they have been in the company's employ.

From 800 to 1000 men are affected by the strike, which extends from Port Arthur, in Ontario, to Donald, in the Rocky Mountains, covering 1500 miles of territory. Its ramifications are great, and before it is concluded will be much greater, as it is felt that it cannot fail to extend to the engine drivers, who, it is felt, will refuse to go out with trains unless they are manned with trained hands. From 800 to 1000 men are now said to be affected, the switchmen having left work, and before it is over half, if not as many more, may be out. Both sides are very determined and a bitter and long struggle is expected. Mr. Van Horne is not the man to take back water, and as he feels that men who receive from $90 to $110 a month are fairly well paid he will no doubt fight to the bitter end. There is no doubt that the strike was precipitated by the absolute refusal of the railway officials to recognize the officers of the Brotherhood who came from the States to settle the question. The company declined to even discuss the question with them. The weak point of the strikers is, they cannot concentrate their forces, their men being scattered over 1500 miles. They cannot therefore be induced to act in unison, and besides not over one-half or three-quarters of the men are in sympathy with the strike, although they were compelled to yield to the mandate to strike.

ENGINEERS WILL NOT JOIN.

Reviews the Points in Dispute—He says Misrepresentation Has Been Made.

WINNIPEG, March 19.—S. E. Wilkinson of Galesburg, Ill., grand master of the Brotherhood of Trainmen, who is associated with A. B. Garretson of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Senior Conductor of the Order of Railroad Conductors, in an effort to effect an amicable arrangement of the points in dispute between the C.P.R. Company and the trainmen of the western division, freely entered into an explanation of the attitude of the employes.

After referring to the differences between the sums asked and that offered by the company, Mr. Wilkinson continued:

"On Sunday the general superintendent and associates commenced at different points along the line and called conductors and brakemen into their offices, telling them that there were only two points in dispute. That statement was not true and the officials were perfectly aware of the misrepresentations. Not only that, but the men were asked to withdraw from their societies in case of trouble and an immediate answer was demanded.

"After the arrival here of Mr. Garretson and myself, we presented ourselves at the office of the general superintendent, but that official declined to treat with us as representatives of organized labor. Mr. Whyte, however, claimed to be still willing to further consider the matter with the employes, to which we replied and assured the official that we were quite willing the disputed points should be adjusted in that manner. We even went further and intimated to the general superintendent that we would be willing to call on the president of the company, if that gentleman was desirous of a conference and transportation to Montreal furnished."

In continuing the interview, Mr. Wilkinson said that though the Order of Railway Conductors had been in existence 23 years, its members had only inaugurated one strike, and the Brotherhood of Trainmen, now eight years in existence, had had none. "And the C. P. R. and G. T. R., both in Canada," said the grand master, with emphasis, "are the only roads, either in the Dominion or the United States, that have refused to treat with their officers to adjust differences."

Since last September the executive officers of the orders have been instrumental in effecting settlement of differences on a number of railways, including the Union Pacific, the Alta, Topeka & Santa Fee line, the Missouri Pacific, the Wabash, the Chicago & Northwestern, the Queen & Crescent, Baltimore & Ohio, the Kansas City, the Illinois Central, the Atlantic division of the Southern Pacific and the L. & N. In every instance the matters were adjusted satisfactorily both to the company and employes. "But when we appear in this portion of the continent," remarked Mr. Wilkinson, with a twinkle in his eyes, "we met by a company which declares that it is qualified to settle all differences with its employes without the assistance of individuals from across the line or anywhere else."

Reverting again to points in the local negotiations, the grand master said the employes of the C.P.R. had spent 4 months, and exhausted all legitimate means, in their desire to settle the disputed points, but so far have met with little encouragement and no success. The men not only claim that misrepresentations have been made, but are satisfied and can prove that the company's officials have knowingly made misstatements.

WINNIPEG, March 19.—The strike of trainmen on the western division of the Canadian Pacific has developed no serious phase and as far as can be judged it is not likely to.

It is given out by some of the strikers themselves that all their efforts to get locomotive engineers and firemen to join them have failed. The engineers told them that they had no grievance against the company and furthermore that when they had trouble with the company several years ago the trainmen rendered them no assistance, therefore they were under no obligations.

The company has succeeded in running all 1st passenger trains with delays in only a few instances.

Yesterday the east train reached here in two sections, having on board 700 colonists and their families. They will be followed by their stock and effects in 12 specials, train crews for each of these having reached Fort William and reported for duty yesterday. Settlers will be forwarded to their destinations without delay.

In a couple of days all train crews will be complete.

THE SYSTEM SUSTAINED.

The Sewerage Scheme Meets Popular Approval,

As far as the Opera House Meeting Represented the Public—A Large Meeting of Good Citizens—Mr. MacDougall Explains his Plans—An Interesting Discussion on the Subject—A Resolution Adopted in Favour of Proceeding with the Work in Sections.

There was a large attendance of citizens in the Opera House last night in response to the call of the cautious town council, for a public meeting to secure an expression of opinion upon the system of sewerage proposed in the report of Mr. MacDougall. Though the gas was turned off, there was abundant preparations to enlighten the people present. A large screen appeared on the stage and Mr. R. M. Roy's stereoptican stood in the middle aisle ready to throw on it a greatly enlarged photographic view of the sewerage map accompanying Mr. MacDougall's report. The plan came out upon the screen beautifully, and was a great assistance in enabling the engineer to give a full and intelligible explanation of it. [Here it may not be amiss for the reporters to acknowledge Mr. Roy's courtesy in providing for the use of the reporters at their table of a lamp of special construction, which was an indispensable convenience when the hall was elsewhere darkened.

BEGINNING BUSINESS.

The Mayor in calling the meeting to order, said the object with which the council had convened it was to secure an expression of opinion of the ratepayers on a subject that involved a large expenditure of money.

Mr. E. C. HILL suggested, in order to bring the matter to a focus, that Mr. Roy focus his stereopticon on the screen and give a view of the plans, so that the people could see what they were talking about. In compliance with this sensible hint, Mr. Roy first threw on the screen a fine portrait of Her Majesty, which was greeted with loyal applause. This was followed by an enlarged view of the plans.

Mr. MACDOUGALL then entered into an explanation of the plans. He said what he had first to consider was the selection of a suitable street for a trunk sewer. This had to be considered with a view to the more important point the discharge of the sewerage. The outflow portion of the sewer began at Lock street, and the discharge was about half a mile down the river. He next entered into the as presented in his printed report, a copy of which every ratepayer who has had sufficient interest in the subject could procure from the town clerk. Referring to the size of the sewers, he pointed out that the 9 inch sewers provided for certain streets would, owing to the very favourable grades, be amply sufficient to carry off any amount of surface water and sewerage that is may be required to remove. The outfall portion of the main sewer would have to be constructed first, and it might be advisable at the same time to construct the intercepting sewer on Townsend street. The sewers would all be laid of vitrified clay, with cement joints, so that no water can enter, nor any sewage escape from the sewer.

Mr. DUMBLE—Can the work be proceeded with in sections?

Mr. MACDOUGALL.—Certainly: that's a point I have kept in view in preparing the plan. The whole system after the trunk and intercepting sewers were built, could be built block by block. Provision was made for connections of constructed portions with subsequently built sections.

Mr. DUMBLE.—What is the usual custom of paying for sewers?

Mr. MACDOUGALL—The plan now generally adopted was in which the cost of the sewer was charged directly against the properties abutting upon it. Mr. MacDougall added that in St. John's and Victoria, B.C., the whole system was put in on the general assessment plan. Victoria, B.C., and Calgarry were doing their sewerage in the local improvement system, and Brandon was considering the same plan.

THE LOCAL ASSESSMENT SYSTEM,

Mr. LECH—By what means would the outfall sewer be connected?

Mr. MACDOUGALL—That would have to be done on the general assessment plan.

Mr. W. H. MOORE—Does your estimate of $167 000 include the whole town?

Mr. MACDOUGALL—I have allowed for every street I could find on the plan of the town, and have also made allowance for new streets being opened in the future.

Mr. MOORE—How many lineal feet are contained in your plan?

Mr. MACDOUGALL—About 113 000 feet—about 20 miles. His plan he said went as far west as the western boundary; every thing within the corporation was included. The outfall sewer from the point of discharge up to Lake and George streets was 21 500 feet, The trunk sewers

WOULD COST ABOUT SEVENTY THOUSAND DOLLARS.

Mr. DENNISTOUN—Your report suggests the possibility of the necessity of pumping below Townsend street; what about that?

Mr. MACDOUGALL—That was only problematical, depending upon the rise of the water in the river. He had learned since his report was prepared that there was very little probability of the river rising so much as to prevent outflow. In the event of any pumping being necessary a temporary and cheap pumping plant would be all that was needed. The main sewers would cost $67,000, and $100,000 would sewer the rest of the town.

Mr. MOORE—That's good news for me, and good for the town—if it can be done.

Mr. E. C. HILL said that from his experience with drains in Toronto and Hamilton, he could say that Mr. MacDougall's figures

SHOULD BE MULTIPLIED BY THREE

In Hamilton he had seen pipes laid down and a few years after taken up. We should put down pipes that were large enough to last for fifty years. Let us do the thing thoroughly while we were at it. (Applause.) If we needed trunk sewers—and we did—why, put them down; but if any side street needed sewers, let them pay for putting them down—those who got the benefit. It was a shame for rich men to ask others to pay for their sewers. He closed his remarks by strongly condemning the construction of sewers by a general tax.

Messrs. Stevenson and Dumble being invited to the platform, Mr. Hill said he was sorry to observe that the workingmen were slighted by not being invited to the platform, and in response to loud cries of "platform," Mr. Hill went upon the stage, and removing his overcoat, said he was in favour of sewerage but wanted those who paid for sewers to have them.

Mr. D. W. DUMBLE, said that while Mr. Hill was sometimes peculiar he had a level head and he quite agreed with him that of sewerage should be borne by those who got the benefit. He went on to show that there was an absolute necessity for sewerage in the more thickly settled part of the town. Certain persons had been brought before the courts for not providing closet accommodations for their employes, but how were they to provide them without sewers? The question of the necessity of sewerage was no longer debatable—it was conceded to be an absolutely necessity, especially for the more congested districts of the town. Mr. Dumble went on to argue that trunk sewers should be built at the public expense. He agreed with Mr. Hill that these should be built with true economy—well built. There was a happy medium, and it was not wise to pay an amount of interest, on the cost of large sewers that would in twenty years replace it with a better one. Assuming that we must have a sewerage system, he held that Aylmer, George and Water streets should have drainage, and he believed that the rest of the draining should be paid on the local assessment system. He believed that on George street a ratepayer should

PAY IN PROPORTION TO HIS FRONTAGE.

As far as he could judge, Mr. MacDougall's plan was a good one. He did not think there was any danger of river contamination from the comparatively small amount of sewerage that would be produced in Peterborough. Considering Mr. MacDougall's experience and eminence in his profession he was inclined to place confidence in him. The system he suggested for Peterborough, had been adopted in large and important cities in England and the United States, and he thought it was safe to follow the examples of these places. Adopting Mr. MacDougall's plan Mr. Dumble said he would recommend beginning the outfall sewer first and then continue it up the congested district bordering on George street. This done, he was sure that petitions for sewers on side streets would be sent in, as they were now for electric lights and water. Build the main sewers as fast as was expedient. He did not say build them all at once, but as fast as circumstances suggested.

BROUGHT TO A VOTE.

Mr. WM. LECH was the next speaker. He thought something like this system of sewerage should be constructed. It was of the greatest importance that we should have health before wealth. The emptying of a sewerage pipe into a creek was a nusiance.

Mr. Dumble moved the following resolution which was seconded by Mr. E. C. Hill, that in the opinion of this meeting, the proposed system of sewerage should be proceed with, the work to be constructed in sections so that the most urgent needs of the town should be first met; that so far as possible the parties immediately benefitted should be taxed on the principle of the local assessment for a fair proportion of the cost.

Mr. JAS. STEVENSON, M.P. thought that the proposed system was a good one. The main system on George or Aylmer street should be assessed to all the ratepayers. He understood Mr. MacDougall to say this. The fact was that the sewer built in 1852 was a good one to day. If we raise the $167,000 in money, the sum required for the completion of the proposed system, and add that to our present indebtedness it would be beyond the sum allowed by law to be put upon the property of the ratepayers of the town. On George street, principally, we were SUFFERING FROM WANT OF SEWERAGE.

The sewer built forty years ago and running into the bay was not built for the purpose for which it is used now, its object was to carry off the water in the cellars. If this sewer was continued from Hunter up to Murray street, down past the pork factory, he thought it could be done without any special legislation, which the adoption of the system of Mr. MacDougall, would require, and which would take a year or more to secure. He thought if the council took away the sewerage near the Edison works and on King street they would remove a good deal. He advised the citizens not to go into too much debt, if they did not he thought they could pay for it. He was as anxious to see sewers in this town as any body but he did not want to see the taxes become so high as to drive people out of it. He strongly recommended the council to run the present sewer down to the pork factory. They could do this without expense or passing a bylaw. He hoped we should see the system of sewerage continued as proposed by Mr. MacDougall.

Mr. R. M. DENNISTOUN, councilor, said he thought Mr. Stevenson was mistaken in his statement that we should have to wait a year until we had obtained special legislation before being allowed to incur the expenses of a system of sewerage. On each street upon which there is a sewer running into the trunk sewers, the rate payers should pay for it in proportion to the size of the sewer. If, on a certain street, three fourths of the ratepayers want a line of sewerage the council is justified in going on with the construction of it, and imposing on all the ratepayers on that street a frontage tax to pay for it. He thought that the town of Peterborough had a statute giving it the power to borrow money for municipal purposes. If the whole river was turned into a sewerage bed we should very soon hear from the Provincial Board of Health. The taxes next year would be reduced by the payment off of some $72 000 of our indebtedness, for which the funds were presently available. The town council was pledged to nothing in the matter. He thought Mr. MacDougall's system an excellent one. Upon the judgment of the ratepayers the question was to be decided.

Mayor KENDRY read the resolution of Mr. Dumble, which was carried with only two dissenting votes—and one a town councillor at that.

Only those who were entitled to vote on a money bylaw were asked to vote. At a glance it was not possible to tell what proportion of those present were qualified voters on financial bylaws, but it appeared that this class of our solid citizens was largely represented. The feeling of those present, however, was decidedly favourable to the prosecution of the undertaking upon the principle involved in Mr. Dumble's resolution.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy has been effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I found that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1886 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G.W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. It Costs Less than a Dozen of Ordinary Dress Buttons.

Buying new dresses at each season is to many ladies a serious and important matter, for the reason that all women are not the wives and daughters of wealthy men. Fashion demands, however, that the new dress must be forthcoming to suit the season; and thousands of women who really cannot afford the money are compelled to obey fashion's imperious commands, in order to uphold their status in society. We are not an extravagant people, and must change our way of living if we wish to be happy, prosperous and independent of others. Let us show the people how to do this.

It is a recognized fact that no more fashionable or becoming dress in colour and appearance can be worn to-day by ladies than a Black dress. A Black dress looks well upon any occasion, and under all circumstances, for young and old.

In order to dress well and cheaply, it is only necessary for a lady to take one of her coloured wool dresses not matter how old, dingy and faded it may be, and with the aid of one or two packages of Fast Black Diamond Dye for Wool, she can now transform the old and cast off garment into a thing of beauty and utility, for less money than a dozen of ordinary dress buttons would cost.

With this magnificent, rich and brilliant Fast Black Diamond Dye, the work of dyeing is rendered easy, light and quick; and the results are invariably satisfactory. No other dyes can give the same satisfaction and pleasure; only the Diamond can give that perfect and rich tone of Black, so much looked for.

Every department of the Diamond Dye establishment is now being worked to its utmost capacity to supply the increasing demand.

That novel and interesting "Diamond Dye Competition" is the talk of the ladies all over Canada; and the number of ladies who are entering as competitors is increasing every day. The Competition being free to all ladies who wish to show their work, and the prizes so very liberal, are certainly weighty inducements for all wives, mothers and daughters to take a part in the great work.

The Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal, will send, post free to any address in the Dominion, a book explaining the scheme, and giving full particulars.

Warsaw.

A Lodge of True Blues was organized in Warsaw on Tuesday evening, the Norwood Register say, by Bro. W. J. Stephenson, D. D.G.M., for East Peterborough, assisted by Bro. R. Sloan, D.D.G.M., of West Peterborough, Bro. A. Manning, G.A.D. of C., and twenty-eight members from Norwood and ten from Peterborough. The lodge is No. 41. It starts with over thirty charter members and good prospects. The three degrees were instituted, the work being begun shortly after seven o'clock and taking until six in the morning. Supper and breakfast were served in Morgan's Hotel and the visitors were well pleased with their reception by the Dummer boys. The officers of the new lodge are:—

Too Careless With the English Language.

A clothing dealer, in Boston, advertised all-wool pantaloons for $2, advising the public to make haste and secure the great bargain, saying: "They will not last long." Probably they would not. Neither will your health last long if you don't take care of it. Keep Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets in your house. They are indispensible to every family, as they positively cure biliousness, with its endless train of distressing ailments sick headache, irritability, constipation, dizziness and indigestion; a marvelous specific for liver and kidney troubles, and a pure vegetable compound. They are sugar coated, the smallest pills made, and the best, because they do all they promise. All druggists sell them, and the proprietors guarantee them, and refund the price if they fail. o

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed wonderful. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it, a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. Milburn & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

MRS. REBECCA JACKSON.

A Hamilton Lady's Story!

How She Escaped From Danger!—Her Friends are Delighted!—An Almost Miraculous Deliverance!

The City of Hamilton, in proportion to its population, has, of late, furnished newspaper readers with a great number of interesting news items than any other city of the Dominion. To the credit of Hamiltonians, it must be said that city is a law-abiding one; its people are of the kind that work in unity for one common aim—progress. Crime has seldom disgraced the records of the Ambitious City, and its rulers and people work together harmoniously in order to make their progressive city an example for other places.

The important news items that have come from Hamilton within the last few weeks are all of a character that must interest Canadians of every class, and cause them to ponder seriously on matters relating to themselves and their families. The news items referred to have all been messages of life, peace, joy and happiness—messages of satisfaction and approval.

Hamiltonians have been extensively blessed by an agent which has wrought wonders amongst men and women, old and young; and these people who have been benefited and blessed, have not been slow in proclaiming the good news to others in their own city and elsewhere.

This mighty agent which has been doing a wondrous work in every section of our fair Dominion, has made many a home glad in Hamilton, and has caused many hopeless and despairing hearts to overflow with joy. It has restored husbands to wives, and wives to husbands; it has given back to watching fathers and mothers their sons and daughters who were brought so near the portals of death.

This week we are permitted to place on public record another truly wonderful cure recently effected by that well known and popular remedy, Paine's Celery Compound.

The rescued party is Mrs. Rebecca Jackson of No. 106 McNab street, Hamilton. In many respects Mrs. Jackson's case is a notable one, and to a large extent was truly a test case for the power and efficacy of the medicine that is always victorious.

Mrs. Jackson suffered for nearly fifteen years from sleeplessness and nervousness—a truly dangerous and often fatal combination. For years the physician worked and prescribed without avail. Advertised remedies of all kinds were tried, but no improvement in health was noticeable; disease and suffering still held sway and were making increased progress in the work of destruction.

The happy moment fortunately arrived when Mrs. Jackson was induced to try Paine's Celery Compound. Her faith, weak at first, gradually increased and strengthened as she found strength returning and her foes taking flight. She found a new life coming on—a fresh existence, and she steadily persevered until a grand and perfect cure was obtained.

While Mrs. Jackson was being cured, she did not forget her suffering friends, and often recommended the use of the medicine that was doing such a work in her case. Almost immediately after recovery, Mrs. Jackson wrote as follows:—

"Having been troubled for nearly fifteen years with nervousness and sleeplessness, and my family physician unable to afford me much relief, and after trying a number of remedies, I was induced to try Paine's Celery Compound, having read your advertisement about others that were benefited who had suffered the same way. I resolved to give it a trial, and continued to improve from the first bottle. I have taken one dozen bottles, purchased from J. A. Barr, of this city, and am now fully recovered. A friend of mine, Mrs. Jefferson, 60 years of age, who suffered from the effects of la grippe and asthma, was greatly relieved from the start, and is now much better.

"I can heartily recommend its use to any one suffering similarly. With best wishes for the future success of your excellent remedy, I remain,

"Yours sincerely,
"MRS REBECCA JACKSON,
106 McNab street."

Every word of this strong letter is fully confirmed by a well-known Hamilton gentleman, Mr. John A Barr, a leading druggist.

What cheering words of comfort to Canada's nervous, sleepless, weary and broken-down men and women! To every suffering individual, these glad tidings will be received with joy and pleasure, and thousands will thank Mrs. Jackson for making her experience public.

The people of Canada who are suffering, have now no good excuse to plead why they should continue to go on in pain and misery. The agent of cure is held out to all, and its honesty is so universally known and appreciated, that if men and women suffer in the future, it must surely reflect on their judgment and sanity. The true cure is before all, it only needs the outstretched hand and willing heart to receive it.

Belmont.

At the last meeting of the council the following complimentary resolution was unanimously and cordially adopted:—

Moved by Mr. Aunger, seconded by Mr. Williams, that the thanks of the municipal council of the united townships of Belmont and Methuen, be and they are hereby tendered to J. B. Peoples on his ceasing to be Treasurer, for the faithful and efficient discharge of his duties as Treasurer for the period of sixteen years, and that the corporate seal be attached to this resolution to give it the effect of a bylaw; and that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Peterborough EXAMINER and Review.—Carried.

"August Flower"

Mr. Lorenzo F. Sleeper is very well known to the citizens of Appleton, Me., and neighborhood. He says: "Eight years ago I was taken "sick, and suffered as no one but a "dyspeptic can. I then began taking August Flower. At that time "I was a great sufferer. Every-"thing I ate distressed me so that I "had to throw it up. Then in a "few moments that horrid distress "would come on and I would have "to eat and suffer "again. I took a "little of your med-"icine, and felt much "better, and after "taking a little more "August Flower my "Dyspepsia disappeared, and since that time I "have never had the first sign of it. "I can eat anything without the "least fear of distress. I wish all "that are afflicted with that terrible "disease or the troubles caused by "it would try August Flower, as I "am satisfied there is no medicine "equal to it."

The Best Singers and Public Speakers.

How They Care For the Voice.

Our best public singers and orators take great care of the voice. Many of these understand thoroughly the anatomy of the throat and bronchial tubes, and know exactly what to do when emergencies arise. They dread colds—that is, sore throats, hoarseness of the voice, coughing, is flammation of the bronchial tubes, and enlargement of the tonsils. Any one of these serious ailments may occasion considerable pecuniary loss and public disappointment.

Our most noted singers and orators are always provided with the best means for the instant removal of such troubles. They have made the Harvard Bronchial Syrup their friend and protector, and always place the utmost confidence in its prompt action.

No discovery in medicine has ever given the satisfaction that Harvard Bronchial Syrup invariably gives. There is no such thing as failure with it; it stops the troublesome cough, heals the irritated throat, clears the voice, and gives it an elasticity and strength that is truly wonderful. It is pleasant to the taste, and put up in such convenient form that it can be carried in the pocket.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup is to-day without a rival; and has received more testimonials from distinguished people than any other remedy ever given to the public.

Found in the Canal.

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., March 18.—The body of James Martin, M.C.R. switchman of this town, was found in the hydraulic canal at Niagara Falls, N.Y., at an early hour yesterday.

He was seen last evening at the scene of the hotel fire, having gone over with hundreds of others from this side.

It is believed Martin met his death by falling into the canal while in a state of intoxication.

After the Grip

Keep the Works in good order.

NORMAN, Ont., January 25, 1890.

W. H. COMSTOCK, Brockville, Ont.

DEAR SIR,—Your "Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills" are the best regulator for the system that humanity can use. Life is as the time-piece; frail and delicate are many of its works. A tiny particle of foreign substance adheres to the smallest wheel in the works, and what is the result?—at first only a slight difference is perceptible in its time-keeping, but wait you; as the obstruction grows, the irregularity becomes greater, until at last, what could have been rectified with little trouble, in the beginning, will now require much care in thoroughly cleansing the entire works. So it is in human life—a slight derangement is neglected, it grows and increases, imperceptibly at first, then rapidly, until what could, in the beginning, have been cured with little trouble, becomes almost fatal. To prevent this, I advise all to purify the system frequently, by the use of Morse's Pills, and so preserve vigor and vitality.

Yours faithfully,
H. F. ATWELL.

Clearing Sale of Groceries.

As I am going extensively into liquors, I find it necessary to run off my entire stock of groceries to make room. So all requiring groceries will do well to bear this in mind as the stock must be run off within 30 days. W. J. Morrow, 340 George street.

A Chance in a Lifetime.

Kirk, the tea blender, has bought a lot of one hundred twenty-pound boxes of fine Japan tea, which he is enabled to sell at the extremely low price of 20 cents per pound. This is a chance that does not occur every day, so all who want a nice caddie of good tea hustle up to Ashburnham and get one before they are gone. W C. Kirk. Wedding Bells.

Yesterday afternoon about about half past three, a carriage containing a number of people drove up to St. Andrew's Manse, the object of the visit being to have the marriage ceremony solemnized. The contracting parties were Mr. Geo. Harrison Cosse, of Santa Cruz, California, and Miss Catherine McIntyre, of Onabee. They left town in the evening, taking the C.P.R. for their distant home in the west. We wish them every success in their new experiences and new home.

The Proposed Opera Circuit.

Mr. W. W. Power, the genial proprietor of the Queen's Hotel, Belleville, and manager of the Belleville Opera House, was in Peterborough to day conferring with Mr. T. E Bradburn in reference to a proposed opera circuit for Eastern Ontario. Mr Powers' object is to have all first-class companies coming to Canada remain in Ontario at least four weeks. If this guarantee could be held out to first-class organizations, the towns and smaller cities of Ontario would be favoured with excellent troupes, whereas these companies passing through Canada only touch such cities as Montreal, Ottawa, Hamilton, Toronto and Kingston. It is Mr. Powers' intention to have all such companies spend a week at least east of Toronto The eastern circuit is to include one night at Belleville, Kingston, Peterborough, Brockville and two nights at Ottawa. Satisfactory arrangements have been made with Mr. Bradburn, who heartily endorses the scheme, and if the other places mentioned can be induced to join the circuit, the theatre goers of Peterborough may look for some operatic treats, rich and rare, during next season. Mr. Powers returned to Belleville this afternoon.

Ten Days Mission.

The following is taken from this week's Canadian Churchman, published in Toronto: —"A most successful ten days mission was held in the parish of St. Barnabas, St. Catharines, just before Lent. It was conducted by the Rev. H. P. Lowe, M. A., of Aspdin, Muskoka. Each day commenced with Holy Communion, and at 10 o'clock, Morning Prayer, followed by instructions on the Bible; Evening Prayer at 4 o'clock, with instructions on the Church; a mission service at 7:30 p.m., with sermon on the different phases of the Christian life, followed by a short instruction on some special subject connected with the sermon. Mr. Lowe, though a young man, proved himself eminently fitted for mission work. The eloquence, force, and deep spirituality of his sermons place him, at once, in the front rank among preachers and teachers. The services were attended by deeply interested and reverent congregations, and we feel sure that all who have the privilege of hearing him will retain a grateful sense of his efforts on their behalf." Might not the congregations of St. John and St. Luke have the privilege of hearing this young man?

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

Personal.

A Bad Accident.

This morning, the Examiner regrets to learn, a son of Rev. George Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street church, had the misfortune to have his right hand mutilated in a feed cutter in the stable of the parsonage. Dr. King and Dr. Goldsmith amputated three of the lad's fingers.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy. It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Making Fast Friends.

Our "G. C." brand of sugar cured hams, pork and fancy meats are taking like wild fire. Get some if you want an appetizing meal. Also fresh tenderloin, spare ribs, pigs feet, shanks, leaf lard, etc. Three pounds of sausage for a quarter. Prices and goods bound to please. New customers flocking to us every day. George Carson, Pork Packer and Family Grocer, corner of George and Charlotte streets.

A Fine Piece of Confectionery.

The specimen of artistic confectionery placed in the show window of Mr. Johnny Watts' confectionery shop on St. Patrick's day, is a beautiful piece of work and fully justifies the verdict of the ladies who admire it—"It's just too sweet for anything." Surrounded by a frame work of fleecy spun sugar, is a candy representation of the Irish harp wreathed with shamrock.

The reason why "Myrtle Navy" tobacco has taken so strong a hold upon the smoking community is because it is the genuine article. No man has a desire to smoke anything else than tobacco. Even opium is not smoked for the pleasure of smoking it, but for its soporific effects. The desire for tobacco is, of course, best satisfied by getting the pure article, and when to this is added the finest quality the satisfaction is complete. These two things are combined in the "Myrtle Navy."

Wabash Line.

A man going west should remember the great Wabash Route is the banner route to all south and south-west points. They run the finest equipped trains on earth. The only railroad using the palace reclining chair cars (free) from Detroit to St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha. All trains go through the great tunnel at St. Louis. Rev. Mr. Winchester at St. Paul's.

Last evening there was a large congregation at St. Paul's to hear the Rev. A. B. Winchester, B-fore the lecture Rev. Geo. Edwards gave a brief address. Rev. Mr. Winchester spoke an hour and a quarter on missions. The rev. gentleman who has been pastor of the Presbyterian church at Brandon intends going next month to British Columbia to labor among the Chinese there, under the auspices of the Canadian Presbyterian church. A vote of thanks was tendered the speaker by Messrs. Peter Hamilton and R. J. Colville.

A Night with the Oddfellows.

At the grand entertainment which is to be given in the Opera House on March 25th, under the auspices of Peterborough Lodge, I.O.O.F. The following ladies and gentlemen will contribute to the programme:—Mrs. Clyde Green, Mrs. M. H. Conroy, Miss Annie Fawcett, Miss Harris, and Miss B. Cobourne; and Messrs. W. F. Harris, F. Clark, D. H. Moore and Fenwick Umphrey. Besides these there will be selections by the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra and the 57th Battalion Band, and the drill of the Canton. Oriental drill and pantomime intention.

Mr. John A. Campbell, St. Sixte, Que., writes:—"My wife was unwell for four years from irregular periods, brought about by a severe cold. She tried many remedies, but without relief. Railway Extension.

Something about the Extension of the Grand Trunk from Lakefield to Young's Point.

The promoters of the project for extending the Grand Trunk Railway from Lakefield to Young's Point are actively moving in the matter. They have submitted a largely-signed petition to Mr. J. L. Sarrgeant, general manager, accompanied by a letter showing the advantages both to the railway company and the community that would result from the proposed extension. The Examiner is not in possession of the contents of this letter, but there is no doubt that the extension proposed would bring traffic to the railway company. The operation of the line would actively stimulate trade in a district now of little traffic value to the Grand Trunk, develop new sources of traffic, and constitute an outlet to the well-known enterprise of the business citizens of Young's Point. Young's Point possesses one of the very best water powers on the continent. Within easy water distance are extensive stores of timber, and with adequate traffic facilities, this trade is susceptible of being multiplied a thousand fold. Manufactures dependent upon the abundant existence of these materials, would spring into existence and their output would not alone constitute a source of traffic, but supplies would give an increasing freightage. There are splendid deposits of building stone in the vicinity, which meet with a brisk demand in Toronto, where its qualities place it in high favour. With the present clumsy means of transportation, moving through the shallow reaches of Katchewanooka River, liable with a slight drouth to become unmanageable, there is of this stone. If railway connection with the main line of the G.T.R. were provided by the extension of the Lakefield line as proposed, thousands of men would find employment in the quarries, and hundreds of cars would be needed to move the output. The Stony Lake region is recognized as a watering place of such importance that the Grand Trunk think it worth while to send an official to make traffic arrangements for the coming season. Mr. D. O. Pease, district passenger agent is now in town on this business. The merits of the Stony Lake region as a summering place are only just becoming known, and the number of visitors is sure to steadily increase, while the number of permanent summer residences now erected assure a sure and no inconsiderable passenger traffic to and fro from town, and no small amount of freight in moving the supplies and impedimenta of tourists. The popularity of this region could be doubled with better facilities for reaching Young's Point—the "tide water" of the northern chain of lakes. With the bridge at Auburn brought into repair, (which would pay in the shortening of distance even on the Lakefield line) passengers from town for the lakes could reach Youngs Point—a distance of some six miles beyond Lakefield—in the same time now required to reach the latter. Altogether there is abundant evidence to convict the proposed extension of being accessory to an important increase of benefit in the way of passenger and freight traffic to the Grand Trunk Railway, as well as an important benefit to the people of Young's Point, and the adjacent country, Peterborough included.

The Board of Trade have the matter under their consideration, and with their cooperation the agitation for the extension must bear fruit at no distant date.

The Peterborough Rink Defeated at Lindsay—Other Notes About the Rearin' Game.

The rink of the Peterboroughs which went to Lindsay yesterday afternoon was defeated by the narrow margin of one shot. The struggle throughout was a kind of "see-saw one." The home quartette was ahead three times. On the twentieth end they were two shots ahead, but on the twenty-first end the Lindsay rink made four shots and victory. In the succeeding end the Peterboroughs only gained one shot over their opponents, thus conceding the game to Lindsay by one shot. Skip Flavelle's rink has a great record before it. His quartette won in the Tankard competition at Winnipeg this winter, and the home curlers deserve a great deal of credit for the brave stand they made. The return match will be played here some time next week. The toe yesterday was in good condition, but as one of the quartette expressed it, was kind of "tricky." Following are the rinks and the score:

RINK NO. 1.

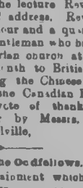
Lindsay.

A Fine New Craft for our Northern Waters.

The new boat for the lower lake in placed beyond all doubt, for Dr. McCamus is away in Lindsay this week, laying the keel of the new craft. An experienced shipwright of Kingston, has the job in hand, and the boat is to be ready for the mid summer trade. The model is by one of the best designers, Mr. J. H Pierce, and the requirements of the traffic are specially considered in the model which has been adopted. The chief points are low draught, broad beam, increase of bearing from water line up, plenty of deck room well down to the water, and good speed. In length she will be about 108 feet, and have a beam of close upon 19 feet. Side wheels of low sort. Messrs. Ingles & Son, of Toronto, have the contract for the engine which is to be a double expansion, 250 horse power, first class in every respect. The expectation is that she will make a speed of fourteen miles an hour, which will enable her to make the run to Chemong in an hour and a quarter, or an hour and a half with ease. A very large sum is to be expended on the new boat, and if all expectations are realized, she will be a credit to the inland waters and the enterprise of our townsman.—Lindsay Warder.

DREADFUL PSORIASIS

Covering Entire Body with White Scales. Suffering Fearful. Cured by Cuticura.



My disease (psoriasis) first broke out on my left cheek, spreading across my nose, and almost covering my face. It ran into my eyes, and the physician was afraid I would lose my eyesight altogether. It spread all over my head, and my hair all fell out, until I was entirely bald-headed; it then broke out on my arms and shoulders, until my arms were just one sore. I covered my entire body, my face, head, and shoulders being the worst. The white scabs fell constantly from my head, shoulders, and arms; the skin would thicken and be red and very itchy, and would crack and bleed if scratched. After spending many hundreds of dollars, I was pronounced incurable. I heard of the Cuticura Remedies, and after using two bottles Cuticura Resolvent, I could see a change; and after I had taken four bottles, I was almost cured; and when I had used six bottle of Cuticura Resolvent, one box of Cuticura, and one cake of Cuticura Soap, I was cured of the dreadful disease from which I had suffered for five years. I cannot express with a pen what I suffered before using the Remedies. They saved my life, and I feel it my duty to recommend them. My hair is restored as good as ever, and so is my eyesight. Mrs. Rosa Kelly, Rockwell City, Iowa.

Wounded at Gettysburg

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I was in the Army of the Potomac and in the great battle of Gettysburg was struck in the ankle by a minnie ball, which smashed the bone. My leg was amputated in the field hospital, and after a long time it healed. I was discharged and went home. After 8 years afresh. Dr. Pease amputated an inch of the bone, and it healed. Four years later it once more opened, and for eight years how I suffered! I do not believe it possible for a human being to suffer worse agony. During this time I had to go on crutches, being unable to wear a wooden leg. Whenever possible I relieved my sufferings by taking opiate, but when I was obliged to go without it, I suffered fearfully and thought I should go crazy. I tried every thing I could get with my limited means. Physicians said I would never be any better. Finally my

THE RAILROAD TROUBLE.

A STRIKE IMPROBABLE ON THE GRAND TRUNK.

An Important Letter From the Delegates to the Management—How Things Are Progressing on the Western Division of the Canada Pacific.

MONTREAL, March 21.—The delegates of the trainmen of the Grand Trunk who have been in session at Montreal have held several interviews with the management of that line and have returned to their several districts to resume work, evidently not disappointed with the result of their visit, as in reply to a letter from the Grand Trunk superintendent suggesting their speedy return the following letter was written him:

MONTREAL, March 17.

To J. Stephenson, Esq.:

DEAR SIR,—Yours to hand, and I am very much pleased to say that nearly all of the men in question will return home to-night. Possibly one or two will be obliged to remain until morning. Thanking you for the courtesy extended to us at our different meetings, we remain,

Yours respectfully,
W. C. WRIGHT, Chairman.

By order of committee.

This morning Mr. Wainwright stated that the situation on the Grand Trunk remained absolutely unchanged. As to the complaint of the trainmen delegates, he wished to correct a statement which had been made. It was not true, he said, that he (Mr. Wainwright) had failed to meet the men at an appointment, the date of which he himself is said to have fixed. It was not he who agreed to such an appointment, but Mr. Seargeant. Mr. Seargeant kept the appointment faithfully and the delegates then expressed to him their satisfaction at the way they had been received by the officers of the road.

ON THE CANADIAN PACIFIC.

A Lock Out on the Pacific Division of the Road.

WINNIPEG, March 21.—There is little change in the strike of the Canadian Pacific Railroad. Passenger trains are running fairly well, but freights are not.

Instructions were sent out by the company to have no grain loaded at any point. This will not affect business much, as farmers are holding grain anyway.

Twenty experienced conductors arrived at Fort William from the east to-day and will take hold at once. The officials are acting as conductors.

E. E. Clarke, grand chief conductor of Order of Railway Conductors, arrived here this morning and has been in conference with the strikers all day. What move he intends making cannot be ascertained.

British Columbia papers to hand last night state that the company asked all its employes on the Pacific division also to sign an agreement pledging loyalty against any conspiracy or combination against its interests and that only a few refusals were met with, those refusing being discharged and places filled.

Strikers have used every effort to get locomotive engineers to assist them, but without the slightest success or encouragement. Supt. Whyte said to-day that engineers showed disposition to assist the company in every way.

All important freight is being moved. The striking men are very orderly and there is apparently no intention of violence on their part. Little information can be obtained as to the action which will be taken by the men upon the arrival of the non-union train crews now on their way from the east. The merchants, few of whom have got in their spring stocks, are anxiously awaiting the outcome.

Late advices from points in the Pacific division of the Canadian Pacific prove that all men employed have promised loyalty to the company, and the men who withheld promise and were discharged have been reinstated. This puts an end to possibility of extension of strike.

A KENTITE KILLED

He Falls From a C.P.R. Train and Receives Probably Fatal Injuries.

WINNIPEG, March 21.—A young man named A. M. Crawford from Cedar Springs, Kent county, Ont., on board one of the colonist trains from Toronto, was badly hurt at Hawk Lake. While attempting to board a moving train his leg was taken off by the wheels of a caboose, and he was badly injured about the groin. He was taken to Rat Portage for treatment.

HAMILTON'S MAYOR DEAD.

He Dies On a Steamer While in Search of Health.

HAMILTON, March 21.—A telegram was received here Saturday announcing the death of Mayor Blaicher of this city on board a steamer bound for Nassau, N.P., whither he was bound in search of improved health.

When Mr. Blaicher left here recently his health was not such as to give ground for apprehension, and the announcement of his demise greatly shocked the citizens.

The immediate cause of his death is not known.

Ex Mayor McLennan Hurted.

HAMILTON, March 21.—The funeral of the late ex-Mayor, David McLennan, took place Saturday and was conducted by the Masonic fraternity, in which order the deceased had attained the highest possible honors.

All the local members of the order and many members from a distance, including the grand master, John Ross Robertson, were present. Other societies of which the late Mayor was a member also took part and the City Council attended in a body.

Destructive Fire.

ACTON COURT, Ont., March 20.—The most disastrous fire that has occured in this township for many years took place last night, when the outbuildings and contents belonging to the estate of the late Mr. Hugh Clark were entirely consumed with the exception of a few pigs and some colts.

The buildings and stables contained 14 horses and colts, 23 cattle, 53 sheep and lambs, 33 hogs, 50 tons of hay and about 1400 bushels of barley and 1200 bushels of oats, together with considerable feed and straw. The fire was discovered by Mrs. Clark about 11.30 p.m. and had evidently been burning for some time. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Estimated loss about $7000.

Found in the Bay.

WINNIPEG, March 21.—The body of Donald Sinclair one of the leaders of the Red River halfbreeds, was found in Shabes Landing bay near Rat Portage yesterday. He has been missing four months.

Simcoe's First Postmaster Dead.

SIMCOE, March 21.—Saturday one of Simcoe's most respected citizens, Duncan Campbell, passed away at the advanced age of 90 years. He was the first postmaster of the town. Afterwards he was appointed agent of the Gore Bank, and still later he was made Government land agent.

The Bunco-Steerer Detective Dying.

NEW YORK, March 19.—R. A. E. Gaebler, the amateur detective who gained notoriety by hunting down bunco-steerers, was found lying stupefied at Canal-street and the Bowery early yesterday. He was removed to a hospital, where he lies unconscious and will probably die. It is thought the skull was fractured in some manner as yet unknown. Gaebler was formerly a barber in Montana and was bunco'ed out of $9000 on a visit to the city. He had himself sworn in as a special officer and devoted his time to hunting down all classes of swindlers, in which he was very successful.

PROVING AN ALIBI.

THE HESLOP MURDER TRIAL NOT YET CONCLUDED.

Jack Lottridge's Sister in the Witness Box—She Swears Her Uncle Took a Load of Wood to Hamilton the Morning of the Murder—Reserve Indians for the Defence.

HAMILTON, March 21.—Although Judge Rose announced early last week that he desired to conclude the Heslop murder trial not later than Saturday so that he might keep his appointment at the Belleville assizes to-day, when the court opened Saturday there seemed no prospect of a conclusion before Tuesday or Wednesday.

The first lot of witnesses called Saturday were Alexander Lottridge, who turned out to be an Indian and no relation of the prisoner; Adam Hill, a son of Chief Moses Hill, and Enoch Hill of the same numerous family, all of whom related with remarkable unanimity the story of the fight at the council house in the fall of 1890, in which George and Nelles Douglas and Samuel Goosey took part, the subsequent disappearance of George from that section of the country until the following spring when he returned with a bruised face and blackened eye; the death of one Katie White and her funeral on Thursday, Jan. 22, at which funeral they all saw Nelles Douglas, but where none of them saw George Douglas, and a post-cutting bee the Monday following, at which Goosey was among the workers.

All these particulars were brought out by defence with the object of disproving the story of George Douglas that he was at Katie White's funeral the week before the murder or anywhere else about that time than on the Lewiston reserve where Nelles Douglas and half a score others have said he was, and also with the object of disproving Goosey's story that he spent the day before the murder at Tom Young's.

The cross-examination conducted by the crown counsel resulted in no weakening of the testimony given.

The Crown admits Goosey was at the bee, but will seek to establish that it occurred Monday, Feb. 2.

Leaving for a time the Douglas and Goosey alibis, counsel for the defence began the establishment of the alibis for Jack Bartram and Lottridge. The prisoners are uncle and nephew, and the first witness called on this branch of the case was Nancy Grace Lottridge, sister of the latter and niece of the former. She was living with her uncle, John Bartram, in Middleport, at the time of the murder. Others living in the house at the same time were Henry and William Bartram and two other uncles, her sister Fannie and her grandmother, Grace Bartram, since dead. Witness swore all these persons slept in the Bartram house the night of the murder. She related the events of the Sunday and Monday before the murder in detail, telling how the family spent that evening playing dominoes with three neighbors, Aley, Thomas and Annie Weaver, and how Jack Bartram lay on the bed early saying that he wanted to get some rest because he intended taking a load of wood to his son Albert at Hamilton in the morning. Witness saw Jack as late as 1 o'clock that night and heard his voice again at 4 in the morning before he started off with the load of wood. She stuck to her story in every particular in spite of the long and most minute cross-examination by Crown Counsel Crerar. Witness was positive that no Indians were at the house that night. Douglas and Goosey were pointed out to her and she recognized Douglas, but swore she never saw Goosey before.

The cross-examination of the witness was very minute, but nothing of importance was elicited nor was her evidence shaken to any appreciable extent.

Emily Tobico, a sister of Samuel Goosey, testified that Goosey was at the house of Isaac Douglas until after 10 p.m. the night of the murder.

Mark Jack swore that George Douglas was not around the reserve during the week of the murder.

Thomas Myers testified that he saw Bartram driving towards Hamilton with a load of wood the night of the murder. Witness swore that he met Bartram about 6 a.m. and that he spoke to him.

Samuel Creswell corroborated this evidence as to having met Bartram.

Thomas Hannon testified to having met a man, whom he has since recognized as Bartram, driving towards Hamilton the morning following the murder.

Court adjourned at 6 o'clock until 9.30 Monday morning.

Leave to Appeal Granted.

WINNIPEG, March 21.—On Saturday the Provincial Government received a cablegram from London, England, stating that leave to appeal had been granted by Judicial Committee of the Privy Council in Manitoba's now celebrated school case.

The cablegram stated that leave to appeal included both the Barret and Logan cases.

Sir Horace Davey appeared before the Judicial Committee in behalf of the province.

Born on a Train.

THE ENGLISH BLUEBEARD

DEEMING BELIEVED TO HAVE KILLED MANY WIVES.

Sensational Developments at His Examination in Perth, Australia—Funeral of the Victims in Liverpool—The Villa Where the Bodies were Buried was About to Be Purchased as a Vicarage.

LIVERPOOL, March 21.—There were numerous sensational events in connection with the murder of Frederick Deeming, of his wife and four children, whose bodies he buried under the floor of his house at Rain Hill.

Albert Deeming was the first witness at the coroner's inquest. When Albert was shown a photograph of his sister-in-law he sobbed piteously and almost fainted. It was some time before he was sufficiently recovered to proceed with his testimony.

Saw Them Dead in Dreams.

He said he knew when he was summoned what he was going to see at the villa, as he had seen his murdered sister-in-law and her children in dreams eight months ago. This testimony created a sensation. The witness also testified that he saw his sister-in-law just before she was murdered and that she had £100 in her possession.

A letter was read from a lady who was on the vessel on which Deeming and his wife went to Australia. She said that Mrs. Deeming confided to her that her husband had turned out to be a villian, and that he treated her brutally. The wife discovered her husband's true character during the honeymoon. He so ill-treated her on the voyage to Australia that she determined to leave him as soon as the vessel arrived at her destination and to return to England.

Made Her Disembark.

The writer of the letter assisted Mrs. Deeming to buy her return passage, but after the latter had gone aboard the vessel to return to England her husband forced her to disembark. After another brother of the murderer and a number of policemen, who had taken part in the search for and discovery of the bodies, had given their evidence the inquest was adjourned.

The post-mortem examination was made with difficulty by the doctors, the bodies having been buried since August last, and in the afternoon the five victims were buried in the parish churchyard at public expense.

Crowds at the Funeral.

An enormous crowd lined the entire road to the cemetery. So dense was the mass of persons who had gathered to catch a view of the funeral procession that the large force of police detailed for duty in the vicinity of the cemetery only with the greatest difficulty succeeded in making a passage for the cortege. The five coffins containing the bodies of the victims were piled one on another on a single hearse.

The wife of Walter Deeming placed a floral wreath in the form of a heart on top of the woman's coffin. The two brothers of Deeming walked beside the hearse all the way. When the funeral procession reached its destination the five coffins were lifted from the hearse and carried to the spot where one large grave had been prepared for the interment,

In A Common Grave.

The coffins were placed side by side close to the open grave and a brief funeral service was performed. The curate who conducted the religious exercises made a short address, in which he spoke of the terrible fate which had befallen the five unfortunates. He denounced the fiendish acts of Deeming in the most scathing terms, and alluded to the murderer as the "most inhuman monster who ever breathed the breath of heaven." The immense crowd of spectators who were pushing and struggling about the yawning grave showed their detestation of Deeming by loudly applauding. The crowd only dispersed when the hearse and the mourners had left the place and nothing more remained to be seen.

Thousands visited Rainhill converting the quiet suburban village into a pandemonium. Several accidents occurred and several fights as well as there were many roughs among the crowds of visitors.

The Vicar of Rainhill alluded to Deeming's crime in his sermon Sunday. He said that after the departure of Williams or Deeming from the village it had been proposed to buy Denham villa, the scene of the murders, and make it the vicarage, but happily the project had been abandoned.

A telegram from Cape Town, South Africa, says that news of the Deeming case causes much excitement there. It states also that Deeming became notorious in Johannesburg in 1889 in connection with extensive jewelry swindling and that some mysterious murders occurred there about that time.

Deeming Safely Lodged in Jail in Australia.

PERTH, Australia, March 21.—Deeming, who is accused of having murdered his wife and four children in England, was brought to this city Saturday by officers, prior to going to Melbourne, where court proceedings will be taken against him. The prisoner was strongly guarded and every precaution was taken by the authorities to prevent him from attempting to make his escape and to guard against his being attacked by the excited people, fears beings entertained of a dangerous outbreak of popular feeling against the murderer.

The railroad station was jammed with a great crowd of persons when the train bearing the prisoner and his guards reached the city. A yelling, hooting mob of men and boys started after the carriage which conveyed him to the jail, but the driver whipped up his horses and soon outdistanced the runners and in a short time had safely landed the prisoner in the institution, where he will remain for a few days until the formal magisterial inquiry is held and he is remanded.

The detectives who hunted the prisoner down were interviewed after their arrival here Saturday. They said that when Deeming was arrested and was questioned about the terrible charges made against him, he affirmed his complete innocence of the crimes. He gave his name as Swanston, and declared that he had no knowledge of the man known as Williams. He said that he was a resident of Windsor.

The detectives also said that the prisoner had fainted twice during the journey, but that otherwise he appeared to be in a cheerful frame of mind. He was voluble and was very willing to talk about the murders attributed to him. He seemed to be confident that when the proper time came he would be able to prove his innocence.

The police claim to possess proofs of the prisoner's identity. They seized some of his goods, and among the things which fell into their hands were a batch of letters and a basket containing female clothing.

Deeming was again before the magistrate Sunday. The court house was packed.

The prisoner, who still persists in calling himself Swanston, entered the dock with a jaunty air, but became nervous and fidgety during the reading of the charges. After the giving of the formal evidence in regard to his arrest he was remanded.

Deeming's luggage has been fully examined. Among the articles found were a card certifying to the membership of Emily Mather in the Rainhill Band of Hope, a time-table of trains between Rainhill and Liverpool, an autograph album belonging to Emily Mather, a book of addresses of persons in England, a pocketbook bearing the monogram "B.F.D.," a Masonic apron similarly lettered, a silver card case and a prayer-book containing the name "Emily." Among the addresses noted are "McDonald, Birkenhead," "Marshall, New York," and others of persons in Hull, Liverpool and Hartlepool, proving the identity of Williams, Deeming, Lawson, etc.

MONDAY, MARCH 21, 1892

For Heaven's Sake be Just.

Toronto Telegram, March 17th 1892, says:—Politicians whose only anxiety is to perpetuate their party's lease of office may view the tactics of the Dominion Government with satisfaction. Patriots who uphold that Government because its policy promises to unify and advance Canada regret that it should turn aside from the path of honour and that its tactics towards political opponents should be as unjust almost to the point of brutality.

Remember that the Liberals sitting in Parliament represent very nearly, if not quite, half the people of this Dominion. The Government is strong enough to realize that its opponents are the fellow-countrymen of its supporters. Liberals love Canada. They have put their lives in peril for it and are devoting their treasure to its development.

It is not justice, but politics to gerrymander the Grits, until in some counties a minority elects two members and a majority one. Again, the Government's candidates have the advantage of fighting the election on lists revised by officials who give every doubtful point in favour of their own party. By typographical errors at Ottawa, Grit names that were put on mysteriously disappear, and Tory names that were struck off, mysteriously re appear. If a Grit triumphs over all these difficulties he is robbed by the authority of a county judge and a venerable usurper takes another man's seat amid applause from the Government benches.

A Government that is British in profession cannot afford to be altogether un-British in practice. Partisans embittered by defeat, see their country's politics Americanized by gerrymanders, the trickery of returning officers, the device of fine workers in the printing bureau, and the usurpation by county judges of a free constituency's rights. Indignation may drive them into line behind leaders who will think that they might as well be beaten with annexation as their battle cry, as be cheated out of their rights upon nobler lines.

If the Liberal leaders did declare for annexation, they might carry nearly as many constituencies as they hold now, not because the Liberals want annexation but because they have been so maddened by the injustice of their Government to its opponents, that they would sooner vote for a Turk than a Tory.

For the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs, no other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease, and has saved innumerable lives.

The Head Surgeon

Of the Lisbon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circles, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wances in consequences. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flashes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LISBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Canada.

Five Novices Received Into the Sisterhood of St. Joseph.

Interesting and Solemn Ceremony in the Chapel of St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday Morning—A Solemn Occasion—The Second one of its Kind in Peterborough—The New Names of the Novices.

A most solemn and impressive ceremony took place on Saturday morning in the chapel of St. Joseph's Hospital, when five young ladies made profession and took the vows of the sisterhood of St. Joseph. This ceremony is the second of its kind that has taken place in Peterborough, and is similar in its nature and proceedings to the public one which was held in St. Peter's, the cathedral church of the diocese, with the exception that the one held on Saturday was owing to the Lenten season, of a private nature. In consequence of this only a few of the near relatives and friends of the novices were present. The chapel was nicely decorated, specially for the occasion, and also on account of it being the feast of St. Joseph. Shortly after nine o'clock the solemn tones of the organ pealed forth a march and to its sacred cadence an antique procession entered the chapel. It consisted of several small girls dressed in white wearing complete wh te flowers and carrying the habits of the order, which were to be blessed and and which the novices were to assume. These were followed in single file by the five novices clad each in white satin with a bridal wreath of white flowers, typical of their being espoused to the church, crowning the flowing hair over which a voluminous white veil was thrown. Each carried in her hand a bouquet of white lillies. As the procession reached the sanctuary rail the novices each knelt upon the pri dieu placed for her.

The impressive ceremony was performed by His Lordship Bishop O'Connor, assisted by Rev. Fathers Murray, of Cobourg and Father Redkine and Scollard of the cathedral. After low mass was sung, his Lordship administered the Holy Communion to the novices and gave an earnest and instructive address, suitable for the occasion. He then recited the prescribed offices and blessed the habits the novices were to assume. The prescribed questions were then proposed by the bishop and answered by the novices as follows:—

Question—What do you ask my children?

Response—I ask for the habit of the sisters of the congregation of St. Joseph.

Q.—Are you fully resolved to wear it with devotion and to live and die in the exact observance of the rules prescribed for the sisters who wear the habits?

R.—Yes, Rt. Rev. Father, I am fully resolved to do so.

Q.—In order to become true sisters of St. Joseph, you should, my children, die to the world, to your parents, to your friends, and to yourself, and live only for Jesus Christ?

R.—What I desire above all is that the the world should be no longer of any value to me and that to live for Jesus should be my only occupation.

Q.—Do you desire at once to renounce the world, its vanity and its pomp, and to take the poor habit of the Sisters of St. Joseph?

R. This is what I have ardently desired for a long time. I beg of you not to defer it any longer.

The Bishop then said:—"I shall grant your request my children and request Mother Superior to receive you into the congregation, to cut off the superfluity of hair and divest you of the vanity of worldly dress in order that you may put on the poor habits you have longed for with much ardour and at the same time may be clothed with Jesu Christ. Go then, my children to receive this holy habit."

Then the novices, preceded by their escorts made procession down the aisle to their respective rooms where the change of garments was made and the procession reappeared the novices taking their places before the Bishop when the ceremony of taking the vows were concluded, the following questions and answers being individually given.

Q. Beloved, now my children you are dead to the world, are you satisfied?

R. Yes, Right Reverend Father. I am quite satisfied, I experience in my heart the most perfect joy.

Q. You have reason to be satisfied, as at this moment by God's special favour you begin to have in a most particular manner, St. Joseph for your father, the most Blessed Virgin for your mother, and Jesus Christ for your spouse.

R. I raise this favour more than all the goods of the world. The glorious advantages which I possess will enable me to leave without regret, and even joyfully, my parents, my friends, and all the vanities of the world, and I beg of God to grant me the grace of perseverance till death, in the life of the Sisters of St. Joseph. This kind of life I have so long desired, and this life I have this day begun to live by receiving this holy habit.

His Lordship then gave the novices the names they desired in religion, and blessed them in these words:

May God be praised, sisters, for the good sentiments which he has given you, and I beg of Him to accompany your sentiments with His gracious blessing. I bless you in the names of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Ghost. Amen. Then the Te Deum was sung as an act of thanksgiving.

All the five novices took the vows with a deliberation of resolve, firmness of speech unshaken by the least faltis or tremulousness, upheld, apparently, by the high resolves that filled their souls. The following are the names of the young ladies and the names given them in religion:—

Miss McLaughlin, of Bracebridge, in religion, Sister M. Magdelene; Miss O'Callahan, of Hamilton, in religion, Sister M. F. Clare; Miss Mary Walsh, of Cobourg, in religion, Sister Im. Heart; Miss Kate Walsh of Cobourg, in religion, Sister Mary Nativity; Miss Lizzie Walsh, of Cobourg, in religion, Sister Mary Ambrosia.

The last three named Misses Walsh are sisters. They have also a sister belonging to the same order who resides in Rochester, and another younger sister preparing to enter the same order.

Now is the time to take a good tonic medicine. Hood's Sarsaparilla possesses the greatest merit, and is a popular favorite.

WILL be found and excellent remedy for sick headache. Carter's Little Liver Pills. Thousands of letters from people who have used them prove this fact. Try them. dw

Everybody Admires Soft, White Hands

And every lady ought to use Dyer's Jelly of Cucumber and Roses, as it makes the skin soft and smooth. Try it. Druggists keep it. W. A. Dyer & Co., Montreal. 6d68

Probably in March more than any other month in the year are the ravages of cold in the head and catarrh most severely felt. Do not neglect either for an instant, but apply Nasal Balm, a time-tried, never-failing cure. Easy to use, pleasant and agreeable. Try it. Sold by all dealers or sent by mail, post paid on receipt of price—50 cents and $1. Fulford & Co., Montreal. dw

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use.

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

The Fools are Not all Dead.

A lazy man, whose horses and cart were stuck in the mud, prayed to Jupiter for help Jupiter answered: "Fool! get up and put your shoulder to the wheel, and do not call on me when you can help yourself." Foolish people buy medicines, hap hazard, blindly trusting to promises made without a guarantee. Dr Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is guaranteed to cure colds, coughs, all lung affections, and even Consumption in its early stages. It puts to rout all stomach troubles, purifies the blood, gives healthful action to the sluggish liver, and drives blemishes from the skin. It is an honest medicine, and an invaluable health insurance policy which should never be allowed to lapse. All druggists keep it. a

For Nettle rash, summer heat and general chief purposes, use Low's Sulpher Soap. w d

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents a package. dw

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and disease from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

A Record to be Proud Of.

An Envied Prominence.

Amidst the vast army of politicians, professional and business men of our country, there are but few individuals who enjoy an honest and clear record. Thousands there are who in various ways are spoken of, and their names are mentioned in connection with political tricks and boodling, they are known to be connected with questionable transactions and mean business tricks; they are wealthy, and by some are considered capable and smart; here their record ends; they have no lasting enduring fame.

In the same way, there come before our people scores of remedies for the amelioration and cure of suffering and disease; each remedy sounding loudly its own name, and seeking recognition by false and misleading statements. They have a record peculiar to themselves—a record that lacks solid backing and honesty. They are known for a time, but their names soon pass away, and the world has not been improved by their works.

Let us briefly glance at an agent—a scientific remedy which has already in Canada established for itself a record that is bright, lustrous and enduring—one that must live in the hearts of our people; we refer to Paine's Celery Compound. Its wonderful cures and marvellous results have astounded our people. Words would fail to convey a just estimate of its worth and value. It has lifted up from the pit of despondency and despair, thousands of hopeless souls whom other remedies failed to cure, and has set them on the rock of health and safety.

Paine's Celery Compound has found a place in some of our public institutions and charities, and has brought new life to those whom attending physicians pronounced incurable. Truly its work is grand, its achievements great, and its record a proud one.

These truths should guide all hesitating and doubting sufferers. They are sufficiently powerful and truthful to cause the weak diseased and disabled to decide at once that Celery Compound is their only hope and salvation. Let us remind the suffering that the Wells & Richardson Co., of Montreal, are now offering free medical advice to all who desire it. They have engaged a qualified and able physician who will advise and prescribe for the suffering; this is done free for all correspondents. The physician is untrammeled in his work, and only prescribes Celery Compound when it is deemed advisable.

Address; "CONSULTING PHYSICIAN'S DEPARTMENT," Wells & Richardson Co., Montreal.

DYNAMITE IN PARIS.

Another Judge's Residence Blown to Pieces—The Gendarmes Making Arrests by the Score.

PARIS, March 19.—The police have arrested a man who is supposed to have been the author of the explosion at the Lobau barracks Tuesday.

The judge of the tribunal of commerce was assassinated yesterday by the sculptor, Jacques France. The affair has created excitement in the art world.

Another explosion of dynamite took place yesterday on the Boulevard Saint Germain in the residence of a judge.

The police yesterday continued their searches in the Quartier Halles. Sixty persons living in one house were taken to the police station.

The concierge of 105 Boulevard Malesherbes found before the door of the house a package containing 18 cartridges and 8 phials.

The police found last evening on the Boulevard Arago a cylindrical tube enveloped in black paper and having at one end a wick, which had begun to burn It was placed against the wall of the prison De La Saute.

Across the Ocean.

Wm. Renwick, M.D., M.R.C.S.E., Victoria, B.C., writes:—"I have used Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in cases of indigent patients with the most gratifying results. It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses undoubted power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. In big bottles, 50c. and $1. At Peterborough Drug stores. dw

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

A Sensible Man

would use Kamp's Balsam for the throat and lungs. It is curing more cases of coughs, colds, asthma, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles than any other medicine. The proprietor has authorized any druggist to give you a sample bottle free to convince you of the merits of this great remedy. Large bottles 50c. and $1. dw

The well known strengthening properties of Iron, combined with other tonics and a most perfect nervine, are found in Carter's Iron Pills, which strengthen the nerves and body, and improve the blood and complexion. dw

"German Syrup"

Here is something from Mr. Frank A. Hale, proprietor of the De Witt House, Lewiston, and the Tontine Hotel, Brunswick, Me. Hotel men meet the world as it comes and goes, and are not slow in sizing people and things up for what they are worth. He says that he has lost a father and several brothers and sisters from Pulmonary Consumption, and is himself frequently troubled with colds, and he often coughs enough to make him sick at his stomach. Whenever he has taken a cold of this kind he uses Boschee's German Syrup, and it cures him every time. Here is a man who knows the full danger of lung troubles, and would therefore be most particular as to the medicine he used. What is his opinion? Listen! "I use nothing but Boschee's German Syrup, and have advised, I presume, more than a hundred different persons to take it. They agree with me that it is the best cough syrup in the market."

Hereditary Consumption

An Outbreak.

BERLIN, March 19.—The Socialists gathered in thousands and went in procession to Friedrichsrain yesterday to decorate the burial places of the victims who were massacred by the military in 1848. No disorder attended the procession and the graves were quietly decorated.

On the way back from Friedrichsrain people in the crowds shouted, "Long live anarchy, down with the Government." The people who were watching the procession in considerable force at once made a rush for the shouters, who were mostly young men. The blows from the police soon scattered the mob, a number of whom were severely hurt. The police took 12 prisoners, who were lodged in the cells for trial on a charge of rioting and sedition.

Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, March 19.—In the House of Commons Friday, replying to a question regarding the appointment of Michael Herbert to be first secretary of the British legation at Washington, which appointment is alleged to have caused considerable discontent in diplomatic circles, Mr. Lowther, Parliamentary Secretary for the Foreign Office, denied that Herbert had been appointed over the heads of 10 second secretaries. He had been appointed over the heads of only six. Mr. Herbert, Mr. Lowther added, had not passed over the heards of 14 secretaries of legation, as all the secretaries were of equal rank. In the opinion of the Government Mr. Herbert was especially qualified for the post to which he had been appointed. This post required unusual discretion, and as Mr. Herbert had been in Washington for three years his knowledge and experience was invaluable. He was in charge of the legation at a critical period and he had discharged his duties as first secretary to the entire satisfaction of his superiors.

The Hanging of the Poachers.

LONDON, March 19.—The excitement is still intense over the execution of the two poachers, Rayner and Eggleton. At the Aylesbury assizes, on Feb. 2d last, Charles Rayner, Frederick Eggleton and Walter Smith, poachers, were tried for the murder of Joseph Crawley, a gamekeeper at Pitstone, on Dec. 12, 1891. A second indictment charged them with the murder of William Puddephart, another gamekeeper, at the same time and place.

Rayner and Eggleton were found guilty of wilful murder and sentenced to be hanged March 17. Smith was found guilty of manslaughter and sentenced to 20 years' penal servitude.

Application was made to the Home Secretary for a reprieve, but he refused to interfere in the matter.

Fourteen Workmen Killed.

ST. PETERSBURG, March 19.—A three-story house in course of erection collapsed to-day. A large number of workmen were employed on the building and 14 of them were killed by the falling walls.

It is not the extremes of heat and cold so much as the sudden changes in temperature that cause certain climates to be unhealthful. Whoo, however, the system is invigorated with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, these changes are rarely attended with injurious results.

Our Curling Column.

Notes and Jottings Galore on the Rosrin' Game—The Young Millbrookers Defeated on Saturday Night—Skip Dan Bellegham Conceder a Stone of Honour to some Young Curlers—Wm. Salisbury Wins the President's Medal—Prospective Matches.

The Young Millbrookers came down on Saturday afternoon to try their luck with the Peterborough Juniors. The young curlers of Peterborough seem to be catching some of the spirit, ability and enthusiasm of their leaders as they succeeded in drowning the visitors by 6 shots. Eighteen ends were played, the ice was in fine condition, and the interest and enthusiasm keen and exciting.

Following are the players and the scores:

RINK NO. 1.

E Rutherford,	F Clerry.
T Ferguson skip ..21	Geo Dean, skip 15
Majority for Peterborough, 6 shots.

On Friday night an interesting match took place at the rink between a quartette of juniors skipped by T. Ferguson and a rink of seniors who have handled the polished stones for years. The old curlers tried to hush the match up, it ended in such an ignominious defeat for them, but it was too good to keep and some of the embryo stone throwers had to let it out. On a sixteen end game skip Bellegham's rink was downed by 14 shots. The match proved to be very amusing and very funny for the onlookers. Following are the rinks and the scores:

RINK NO. 1.

Majority for Juniors, 14 shots.

In the thirteen shot game between Messrs Fred Robinson, D. W. Dumble, and Wm Salisbury, who were in the successful rink in the competition for President Deuntoun's medal given in the Rosspeil contest, Mr. Salisbury has been the lucky winner of the handsome medal. On Friday night he defeated Fred Robinson, and on Saturday night he triumphed over D. W. Dumble, securing 13 shots to his opponent's 9 His many friends are congratulating him to-day on his signal victory.

A "scratch" match took place at the rink on Saturday night between those two old rival skips, William Snowden and A. McNeil. The matches have always been for the oysters and Mr. Snowden had always played the unlucky part and suffered defeat. To-day you might have seen a genial smile upon his countenance as a result of the issue on Saturday night. On a 16 end contest his quartette took 14 of them and won by 15 shots. The rinks and scores were as follows:—

NOTES.

The junior Peterborough's will in all likelihood play the return match with the young Millbrookers on Wednesday at Millbrook.

The point game for the medal given by the vice-president, Mr. D. W Dumble, will take place at the rink to-night. It will begin at 7.30 o'clock sharp. All members of the Peterborough Curling Club are invited to take part in the competition to-night. The match will take place in two rinks, and it is a case of each man for himself.

The challenge match between Lakefield and Campbellford, which was to have taken place last week for a gold medal, for some reason or other has not yet come off. In the meantime Umpire Davidson holds the "boodle."

It was expected that skip J. D. Flavelle's rink of Lindsay was coming down to-night to play the return match with Skip Rutherford's quartette, but they have to remain, as Lindsay plays Whitby to-night in a two rink contest. The return match will be played later on this rink for a barrel of flour.

The Cobourg Hockey team played the Granite Colts in Toronto on Saturday, and were defeated by 3 goals to 1.

The Market Tolls.

Brisk Bidding Brings Them up to $1,720.

There was a very large attendance at the council chamber this morning to hear the auction of the market tolls. The chamber was crowded to the doors by citizens of all classes to witness the spectacle. Mr. Charles Stapleton was the auctioneer and he did his work well, as the bids show. Before the sale, town solicitor Edwards read the terms and conditions of the sale. Town Clerk Cobb recorded the bids and the name of each bidder. Eleven names were received before the sale as intended bidders, together with the names of their proposed sureties. These were submitted to the Market Committee which met a few minutes before the sale and were accepted. Some slight discussion arose over the proposed expenses of heating the market building and who should defray these expenses, the License or Market Committee Mr. John Doherty stated that the expense of heating the building last year with wood was $22 and not the sum of $40 or $45 as alleged by Mr. John McNaughton. Councillor Winch set matters aright by stating that the Market Committee would pay all the expenses of heating the building This over, the intending bidders Messrs W Moore-Wm. Rock, John Kelly, John W. Metherall, Jas E. Graham, John Dobert, John Kincaid, R. H. Green, R. W Roddy, James Spence and W. S Cooke were requested by the auctioneer to take their stand inside of the railing outside of the noisy crowd. This complied with, the auctions voice of the auctioneer rang out, "How much am I offered, give me a starting bid," and quick as a flash John Kincaid shouted out $1,000. Bids flew like snow balls in the hands of small boys, fast and thick. Instantly W. S. Cooke raised it to $1,100 and then came two bids John Kelly and John Doherty each raising it to $1 200 The bids now dropped to fifty dollars each and ran along thus. Mr. Rock $1,250, W Moore $1,300, John Kelly $1,350 R H Green $1 400 W Moore $1,450, R. H Green, $1 500; Wm. Moore, $1,560; R. H. Green, $1 600 Then the old veteran, John Doherty, said $1 650 and R. H. Green nodded $1,700. The bids now came with much coaxing, and a great deal of labour on the part of the auctioneer, and the fifties had to be dropped to the tens, the least advance that could be taken according to the conditions of the sale. J. Kincaid said $1,710, and shortly after R H Green volunteered $1 720, and the victory was his. The auctioneer hung in vain and at "the last call" bowed to Mr. Green. Two approved sureties double the amount bid were furnished by Mr. Green, which were accepted. He will assume control of the market forthwith. The proceedings lasted half an hour. General expressions of satisfaction are heard on all sides at the price the tolls brought.

A SAD SUNDAY SUICIDE!

A Young Married Woman Swallows Carbolic Acid

And Dies in a Few Minutes—She Attempted to Poison Her Child—Details of the Facts—No Cause Ascertainable—A Coroner's Inquest—The Husband's Testimony.

The usual Sunday quiet of the South Ward was terribly broken at noon by the news that a young married woman

HAD DELIBERATELY SWALLOWED

the contents of a bottle of carbolic acid, from the effects of which she died in a few minutes. Mr. Robert H. Shepherd, aged 24 years, his wife, ten months older, their little child twenty months old, lived in rooms over John O'Brien's grocery shop, corner of Aylmer and Lake streets. Shepherd is employed in the Edison Company's Works as inspector in the wire department. He and his wife and child came here from Sherbrooke with the Edison Works. Last August they took the rooms they occupy, and have since, so far as known, and so the husband now says, lived happily till yesterday at noon. The young couple had late in bed late on Sunday morning, so the survivor says, talking over family matters — about a few little things that had to be met—but which with his wages could be comfortably managed. They rose and had breakfast, the husband retiring to the bedroom adjoining their combined kitchen and living room, the wife sitting alongside the stove with the child in her arms. The husband says that just at noon, as he sat reading a paper and enjoying a Sunday cigar, he heard his wife exclaim:

"OH! BOB, I'VE TAKEN POISON!"

He at once rushed out to where she was and found her caressing a bottle of carbolic acid, the greater part of which she had swallowed herself, and was trying to force the remainder down the little child's throat. She was unsuccessful, however, in getting the child to swallow any of the acid, but the poor little thing's face was terribly burned, the eyes, however, fortunately escaping, the acid being spilled and falling on the child's face from the forehead down. Shepherd at once seized the bottle and hurried down stairs and next door into Mrs. O'Brien's house exclaiming that "Maggie had swallowed some of this acid," and showing the emptied bottle. They at once returned and found Mrs. Shepherd walking about the floor and trying to get the little girl to go into the bedroom with her. Mrs. O'Brien took the child from her, and the two nursed the dying woman to the bedroom and placed her upon the bed and administered as much milk as could be got, the suicide seeming anxious to get it. The milk may have been grateful to the parched and blistered mouth and throat of the suicide, but as a remedy it was of no avail; she was dead within seven or eight minutes after the poison had been swallowed. Drs. King and Pigeon were speedily summoned, but before they arrived death had done its work.

The deceased woman, as she lay on the bed showed that she was comely and healthy looking, with dark hair and a face, that even with the crimson stain of the caustic poison had spilled over it in the neighborhood of the mouth, had a peaceful expression.

The husband closely questioned, could give no reason for the self-slaughter which his wife had accomplished. They were in no cramped financial condition, their income was sufficient for all their wants. They had he said, lain in bed late, talking over family matters. There were a few things that they had to meet, but they could do so without trouble. Her health was not in a condition to give her anxiety—she was in a pregnant condition—but her husband says that of late she had complained considerably of pain in the head. There was however to suppose that her condition of health, was so bad as to provoke thoughts of suicide. Neither the night previous, nor on Sunday morning did she show any signs of mental disturbance. In the early part of Saturday evening she called at Mr. John McNaughton's shoeshop, to pay a small bill and leave her husband's boots for repairs. Mrs. O'Brien saw Mrs. Shepherd at ten o'clock the night before her death and she appeared to be cheerful and gave no indications of contemplating the deed that closed her earthly career. Her maiden name was Margaret Sheehan. She came from Montreal where her parents, who have been acquainted with the tragedy, now live.

The physicians while at the house, and Coroner Fife at the time of his visit, did not consider an inquest necessary, but after subsequent consultation, an inquest was decided upon and the machinery of the law was set in motion. The excitement having attracted large numbers to the house, Constable Adams had little difficulty in securing the requisite number for a Coroner's jury.

AN INQUEST HELD

In the afternoon at five o'clock an inquest into the cause of the death of Margaret Shepherd was held, Dr. Fife, coroner. The inquest took place at the house which is situated at the corner of Lake and Aylmer streets. The following jurymen were subpœnaed by Police Constable Adams and empannelled by the coroner:—Messrs. J. J. Turner, W. C. Cummings, H. W. Watson, A. A. Smeaton Jas. Davey, Wm. Abbott, Napoleon Trombly, Jas. McDonald, Jos. Cranfield, Jas. Mulland, Jas. O'Brien, Alex. Forbes and E. S. Lebarveau Mr. J. J. Turner was chosen as foreman. The jury after being sworn in viewed the remains of the deceased in an adjoining bedroom. The body as it lay there stretched upon the crumpled coverlets cold in death, presented a spectacle truly sad. The woman who was of medium height and rather stout was twenty five years of age and was a brunette fairly good looking. She was clad in her every day working garments, her large eyes were closed, her raven black hair a crumpled an disheveled mass, while around her chin and lips were the purple stains, upon the cold flesh, of the deadly potion. Little wonder then was it that the thirteen good men and true silently viewed the cold remains that many a strong hand was seen to wipe away a tear, that, perforce furrowed its way down brawny cheeks, while the ladies present yielded to affecting demonstrations of sympathy.

This done the jury returned to another room, when Coroner Fife stated that in order that a post mortem examination might be made of the stomach by the doctors to learn the kind of poison which had done the deadly work, he would be required to examine one witness, and then they could adjourn until the post mortem examination was made or not, as the jury saw fit.

ROBERT HERBERT SHEPHERD was the first witness sworn. On examination by the Coroner he said: I knew this Mrs. Shepherd to be my wife. Her Christian name was Margaret. Her health was the very best when she got up in the morning. She prepared the breakfast as usual. She and the family partook of breakfast. After breakfast I went into the bedroom to sit on the bed and to smoke and read while she was attending to her household duties. The next thing I heard, she said, "Bob, I have taken poison." I jumped up all at once and saw her emptying the contents of a small bottle into her mouth. As I got to her she was about to put it in the baby's mouth whom she was nursing at the time. I snatched the bottle from her hand. I looked around for some water. She said, "You need not look for water, there is none." I ran down stairs for Mrs. O'Brien. I said to her, "For God's sake come up stairs, Mrs. O'Brien, and see Maggie, she has taken some of this" (showing her the bottle.) I told the young man who was in O'Brien's at the time to hurry up with some water, while I telephoned for a doctor. In the meantime Mrs. O'Brien had gone upstairs. I telephoned for a doctor, but could not get one. I told some other boy in the store at the time to run for the nearest doctor he could get. I came upstairs again and saw Maggie walking towards the bed. I rushed down to O'Brien's and got a large cup of milk, which my wife greedily swallowed. She asked for more milk but before any more could be given she was dead. There was another young lady rushed up with some melted butter in a cup, but she (my wife) was gone before she got up. She got the bottle from Osmond & Walsh's drug store. I know this from the label only. We never had any disputes worth speaking about. Of course occasionally there has been some slight trouble about keeping down our expenses. She had a black tea, I think the tea is black yet. She had been in the habit of boiling her tea in warm water and she got the carbolic acid to put a little in the water while boiling it. I did not know when she got it. I think from the time she took it till Dr. Pigeon arrived it was about ten minutes, Dr. King came next. It was about three or four minutes of twelve when she took it When Dr. Pigeon arrived she was dead about three minutes. She died in about seven or eight minutes after taking the potion. She had never at any previous time threatened to destroy her life or anything like that. I have had a great deal of sickness myself. We were in debt. She was troubled about that considerably. She was anxious and did not want any more children. She said she had trouble enough. Although she has not been troubled with sick headache, still more or less this last two weeks she has been subject to headaches and seemed very depressed. She has had one child before the boy that we have now. The youngest of the two is 18 mo. The child living is one year and eight months old. We have lived in this house since last August. I came up with the Edison works from Sherbrooke last May. I was boarding and she was staying in Montreal until I got settled. The pills is labelled "Carbolic Acid, Poison." The bottle has been in the house about three months. Her too has been bad for some time. If she had threatened anything I would have taken the bottle away."

This concluded the evidence of Mr. Shepherd. The jury then repaired to the scene of the death again to view the two in question. The coroner removed the grey stocking on the right foot of the woman. Here it was noticed that the big toe was quite black and from appearances the deceased might have suffered considerable pain with it.

An adjournment was then made, the inquest to be resumed at the police court room to-night at 7 30 o'clock before Dr. Fife, coroner. The evidences of Mrs. O'Brien and the doctors, who will in the meantime make the necessary post mortem examinations, will be taken. The room in which are the remains is in charge of Constable Adams and no one is allowed to enter except the doctors.

The post mortem examination of the body of the late Mrs. Shepherd took place this morning at 11 o'clock. It was made by Drs Bell and Pigeon. The funeral will take place from the late residence, corner of Lake and Aylmer streets to-morrow afternoon at three o'clock The remains will be interred in the Little Lake Cemetery. Mr. Clegg has charge of the funeral.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The young men's meeting Saturday evening was well attended and much interest was manifested in the earnest manly address given by Mr. Frank Brisco, which was helpful and refreshing, and several added their testimony to the power of the Lord Jesus to save and keep from sin. The singing was hearty and inspiring being ably led by the orchestra, and the after meeting was a season of blessing.

The Bible study and consecration service Sabbath morning was led by the general secretary, and those present entered heartily into the feast prepared for us in the study of the word and enjoyed great blessing and power for service.

Mr. George Torrey gave a very practical and impressive address at the Personal Purity meeting yesterday afternoon which made a marked impression on the large number of young men present. The singing was led by the Y. M. C. A band and was very spirited and helpful.

Last evening at the Gospel and Song service Rev. Mr. Pallraman, Lakefield, gave a thoughtful address which was greatly appreciated by the large number present and cannot fail to bear fruit among our young men.

Mr. S. G. Derry

HOOD'S
Sarsaparilla

"Gentlemen: Fifteen years ago I had an attack of inflammatory rheumatism, which was followed by eczema or salt rheum, breaking out on my right leg. The humor spread all over my legs, back and arms,

A Foul Mass of Sores, swelling and itching terribly, causing intense pain if the skin was broken by scratching, and discharging constantly. It is impossible to describe my suffering in those years of agony and torture. I spent in futile efforts to get well, and was discouraged and ready to die. At this time I was unable to lie down in bed, had to sit up all the time, and was unable to walk without crutches. I had to hold my arms away from my body, and had to have my arms, back and legs bandaged by my faithful wife twice a day.

"Finally a friend who was visiting at our house, urged me to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I began by taking half a teaspoonful. My

Stomach Was All Out of Order

But the medicine soon corrected this, and in six weeks I could see a change in the condition of the humor which nearly covered my body. It was driven to the surface by the Sarsaparilla, the sores soon healed, and the scales fell off. I was soon able to give up bandages and crutches, and a happy man I was. I had been taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for seven months; and since that time, nearly two years, I have worn no bandages whatever and my legs and arms are sound and well.

The Delight

of myself and wife at my recovery it is impossible to tell. To all my business friends in Boston and over the country, I recommend

THAT LOAD OF WOOD.

TAKEN IN CONJUNCTION WITH THE CREAM HORSE.

May Result in the Acquittal of the Heslop Suspects—Albert Testifies to His Father Being in Hamilton—His Wife Corroborates Him—Bartram's Brother-in-Law and Niece in the Witness Box—How the Night of the Murder Was Spent.

HAMILTON, March 22.—The balance sheet for John Bartram and John Lottridge's accounts with the law will be struck during the next two days. The evidence will be practically closed, it is believed, when the sun sinks this afternoon.

It was like an oasis in the desert to observe an attractive-looking witness in the box this morning, after the swarm of squaws and Indians who have succeeded one another during the long trial.

The witness was Mrs. Fannie Dinsman, who was married in September last. She was allowed to sit down while giving her evidence. Mrs. Dinsman is a sister of Lottridge and niece of Bartram.

The Game of Dominoes.

She corroborated in every detail the story told on Saturday by her sister, Miss Nancy Grace Lottridge. She was living at Bartram's house for some time previous and subsequent to the date of the murder. Was there the Monday night before the murder and took part in a game of dominoes played that evening with other members of the family and the Weavers and saw her uncle John as late as 1 o'clock in the morning. She also heard him starting for Hamilton with a load of wood about 4 o'clock and did not see him again until the Wednesday following, when she returned to the party at Cresswell's and found him at home. There was no load there that Monday night, nor could there have been any without her knowing. The details of the events of that time, related with clearness, in every point tallied with that of her sister.

Annie Weaver, who has been mentioned as a visitor at the Bartrams' on the Sunday and Monday before the murder, admitted being a cousin of Jack Lottridge and a niece of Jack Bartram and repeated the story told by Miss Lottridge and Mrs. Dinsmore regarding the game of dominoes and the presence of her Uncle John in the house, until she left about 12 o'clock. She also knew that Jack Bartram went to Hamilton with a load of wood the next day, and repeated conversations that were heard during the evening about it.

The witness exhibited a wonderful memory for details, but in all the information the Crown Attorney got from her there was nothing that did not fit in perfectly with the testimony given previously by Jack Lottridge's sisters.

A. Weaver, a brother-in-law of Jack Bartram and father of the last witness, gave similar testimony. He was one of the party at Bartram's house the Monday night before the murder, when dominoes and other games were played, and he told what was done prior to his departure in the evening, corroborating what his daughter and Jack Lottridge's sisters had said.

Albert Bartram, son of Jack, said his father arrived at his house, 119 Emerald-street, Hamilton, on the morning of the murder with a load of wood for him. When witness came home at noon he found his father there. Jack Bartram said nothing about his trip down except that he missed his turn on the road. Witness said his father remained until Wednesday, and before he left Thomas Lottridge arrived with another load of wood, for which Jack Bartram told him he had arranged at Middleport on the Sunday previous.

Mrs. Alice Bartram, wife of last witness, repeated same, and cross-examination failed to disclose any discrepancies in their statement.

Mrs. Lucinda Crowe, a neighbor of the Bartrams in Hamilton, corroborated the story about the arrival of the load of wood.

Chief A. G. Smith, clerk of the Indian Reserve, was called to produce his books concerning payments to Indians on the reserve with a view to proving that some of the Indians called by the Crown had perjured themselves.

That Cream Horse.

Henry Bartram of Middleport, brother of the prisoner, John Bartram, corroborated the evidence of many other witnesses that prisoner was at home until 12 o'clock the night of the murder playing dominoes and left for Hamilton with a load of wood a few hours later. Witness swore that he helped load the sleigh and saw the prisoner depart. The Crown sought to prove that it was witness who conveyed the load of wood to Hamilton, but this he denied.

William Lovett, a farmer near Ancaster, swore that he met a man with a load of wood on a one-horse sleigh, driving a cream-colored horse towards Hamilton the morning of the murder. Witness recognized Bartram in the box as the man. William Arms, William R. Shaver, Josiah Cowing and George Patterson, all farmers, gave similar testimony.

William Bartram, another brother of the prisoner Bartram, swore that the latter slept in the same bed with him the night of the murder and got up at 4 o'clock and started with a load of wood for Hamilton.

James Cresswell, a Middleport blacksmith, swore that neither Douglas nor Goosey were at Young's Hotel the night of the murder, as he was there. George Myers corroborated this evidence.

Court adjourned at 6.30 until 9.30 To-day.

The opinion gains ground that the prisoners cannot be convicted on the evidence produced thus far, and unless the crown has rebuttal evidence of a very strong nature forthcoming the prisoners stand a good show of being acquitted.

[During the sessions of the court, the prisoner, John Bartram, sits in the dock with his one eye focused on the witness and his head to one side so as to get one ear and one eye into range. He maintains this position nearly all day, except when he nods his head down to wipe the sore eye and then he resumes the same attitude. As Herr Richter would say: "Always I seed 'im like dis."]

Perfected His Invention and Died.

OTTAWA, March 22.—Robert Romaine, clerk of the stationery department of the House of Commons and brother-in-law of Richard White of The Montreal Gazette, died yesterday. Deceased was in his 72nd year. Along with the late Mr. Thomas White he started The Peterboro' Review. One of his hobbies was an invention, which he had just completed before his death, called the steam farmer. This invention was to do away with the use of horses to a large extent on the farm. Deceased had been ailing for some time. He was a printer by trade and printed the hand bills which were sent out during the troublous times of 1837 for the arrest of Papineau and Cartier in Quebec.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

PROPOSED CANADIAN ALIEN LABOR LAW.

An Important Discussion in the House But the Bill, Which is a Retaliatory Message, Not Likely to Pass the House—Another Lively Debate in the Senate.

OTTAWA, March 22.—The House found itself divided inside of the party lines Monday on the question of the Alien Labor Law introduced by Mr. Taylor of Leeds.

The act is laid down on the lines of the United States act, and its purpose is to prevent the importation of workmen into Canada under contract.

Mr. Taylor in introducing it said if they could not get reciprocity in labor with the United States the only resort was to adopt their own tactics towards them. He quoted quite a number of cases where Canadians were prevented taking employment in the United States under the provisions of the law of that country. He said that this was the third time he brought the bill forward; now he intended to press it to a division on the third reading.

Mr. Fraser, the giant of Guysboro, pointed out that the bill would prevent us from importing skilled labor in new industries, instancing the glass and steel works in New Glasgow, where it was imperative to get skilled labor from abroad.

Dr. Sproule thought that Mr. Fraser had not read the bill. The fifth clause specially provided for the importation of such labor under contract.

Sir John Thompson Opposes the Bill.

Sir John Thompson said he was aware that this measure was supported by a large class, but he failed to see that its adoption would benefit any class in the community. If we were suffering by the operation of alien labor laws he could not see, nor had they been shown, that the adoption of a similar law here would mitigate the application of the law in the United States. There would be no amelioration or amendment of its provisions. On the other hand, while it was just now the policy of the United States to restrict emigration to that country, it should be our object to attract emigration of a suitable kind. Mr. Fraser had pointed out another defect, and he could not see that the clause that had been quoted as covering that defect was at all clear or conclusive. It would be difficult for persons who require skilled labor to first ascertain whether there were not somewhere in the Dominion persons who plied that occupation. They were told that the bill before them was the counterpart of the American bill. He could well believe it, for it included all the features that had made the American measure the laughing stock of the civilized world. The committee that met two years ago had deplored and condemned the American law and now it was proposed that we should enact a law identical with it. Parliament would always be found willing to afford fair and proper protection to the workingman, but they could consent to no legislation which proposed to prevent men coming here at their own expense to engage in lines of employment. It was particularly undesirable that in the circumstances of their present relations to the United States any legislation of this nature should receive the assent of Parliament. He believed it was a subject capable of friendly adjustment, and representations of the harsh nature of the provisions of the United States labor law would be made by the Canadian Government. He moved the six months' holst.

Mr. Laurier Coincides.

Mr. Laurier agreed in a large measure with what had fallen from the leader of the Government. The author of the bill had admitted that it was of a retaliatory character. He thought, however, that a convenient and propitious time to have protested against the American Act was during the recent visit of the Canadian Ministers to Washington.

Both Mr. Ryckman and Mr. McKay of Hamilton supported the bill. The latter said that the Government's policy of protection should be applied to the workingmen as well as to their masters.

Mr. J. D. Edgar opposed the bill and Mr. W. B. Ives of Sherbrooke supported it on the ground that we could not afford to be governed by any higher moral considerations than our United States neighbors.

Mr. Mills of Bothwell also opposed the bill.

Labor's Voice

Mr. Ingram, the labor representative of St. Thomas, was not prepared to endorse all the clauses, but the principle he could heartily support. The United States act bore heavily on Canadian workmen at Niagara Falls, Clifton and other points along the border. At St. Stephens, N.B., 700 men who earned their bread in the Canadian industries lived across the border in Maine. He asked that no vote be taken until they could hear from the representatives of the Dominion Trades and Labor Congress. They would be here in a few days.

He therefore moved the adjournment of the debate, which was accepted without demur.

At the opening of the House yesterday Major Chapleau, Clerk of the Crown in Chancery, occupied a chair to the left of the clerk. On the table near him were piled the poll books and envelopes containing the ballots cast in the London election. Mr. Lister's motions calling for these passed in due order and in a day or two all the other documents will be brought down and then the scrap over the Cockney electoral fight will begin.

Mr. McMullen wants to know what irregularities Deputy Minister of Marine Tilton was guilty of and has moved for papers.

Mr. Perry is making enquiries in regard to the mooted tunnel under the Straits of Northumberland to connect Prince Edward Island with the mainland and we may expect a speech on the subject at an early day. It is only calculated to cost about $10,000,000.

Some Fun in the Senate.

Senator Boulton stood the Senate on its head again yesterday. He had a question on the order paper asking whether the Government intended resuming the commercial status with Newfoundland. In putting the question he intimated that he intended reviewing the whole question, at the same time producing from the cavernous depths of his desk a stack of manuscript about a foot thick.

Basso Profundo Kaulbach tried to stem the torrent, with the result that a spirited debate took place on a point of order whether such a little question could consistently have such an enormous tail. The senators dearly love a point of order, and it was discussed with numerous quotations from Bouriaot and May.

The enquiring senator came out on top. Then point after point was made and finally the Speaker ruled that the remarks were not germane to the question, and the senator had to subside truculently, promising to fire it off again on a substantive motion.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, March 22.—There was little business transacted at the session of the Ontario Legislature yesterday.

Mr. Ross promised to bring down a missing return in connection with the Upper Canada College matter.

Several petitions were received praying that no alterations be made in the Municipal Act.

Mr. Watters' bill for the protection of persons employed in places of business other than factories was read a second time and referred to a select committee.

THE C.P.R. STRIKE.

The Trainmen on the Pacific Division of the C.P.R. Go Out

WINNIPEG, March 22.—Striking trainmen on western division of the C.P.R. have finally succeeded in inducing the trainmen Pacific division to strike; also the men there went out at midnight Monday.

The statement is officially contradicted that the trainmen employed on the western division of the C.P.R. were required by Mr. Whyte to agree to abandon their organizations under penalty of being dismissed by the company. On the other hand Assistant Superintendent Whyte distinctly informed them that he did not wish them to withdraw from any organization, break any obligation or commit any dishonorable act. He laid stress upon the fact that there were only two points of difference between the company and the committee, compensation of conductors and detention time.

The G.T.R. Strike.

There is nothing new in connection with the G.T.R. strike. The trainmen's meetings at various centres Sunday unanimously agreed to leave everything in the hands of the officials of the organization at Montreal.

The following shows the wages received by the men and the increase asked for:

	Present wages.	Asked for.
Conductors (through trains)..	$2 50	$3 00
Conductors (accommodation and branch trains).....	2 20	2 50
Brakemen.....	$1 10 to 1 55	1 75
Freight conductors.....	1 75 to 2 15	2 50
Train baggagemen.....	1 50	1 90

The company offered the conductors on through trains an advance of 25 cents a day, but refused the other demands.

UNDER THE WHEELS.

A Grand Trunk Employe Has Both Legs Cut Off.

LONDON, Ont., March 22.—Robert Maxwell is at the Rectory-street crossing of the G.T.R. to attend to the ash pans of the locomotives and reload the tenders. The engine attached to the through freight train from Point Edward to Toronto came along last night and he went down into the dumping-hole to clean out the pan. He turned the water on as usual to scour the place, and started to crawl out under the locomotive. When half way out he gave the word, "All right," to the driver, and the latter started the engine. Maxwell suddenly remembered he had forgotten to shut the water off. He started back, but the huge wheels had begun to move, and they passed over Maxwell's limbs, cutting off both his feet above the ankles. He was removed to the station and taken in the ambulance to the hospital, where he now lies. It is not likely he will recover.

HE LOVED AND LOST.

In Lieu of a Promised Husband $10,000 Is Asked For.

DETROIT, Mich., March 22.—An unfortunate restaurant romance was exposed to public view when Florence E. Fox, a pretty brunet who resides with her parents in Grand Rapids, commenced suit in the Wayne Circuit Court against William S. Troop, manager of the dining hall in the Michigan Central Depot in this city and well known to patrons all along that road, claiming $10,000 for breach of promise of marriage.

Two years ago she was the cashier in one of numerous dining halls of the Michigan Central Railroad. The inspector of those dining halls was William S. Troop, and the two became very friendly. Subsequently Miss Fox left the restaurant and went to spend the summer at Mackinac.

Troop, it is said, found it convenient to pay her many visits there, and they became engaged. After a time Troop gave up his inspectorship and became manager of the dining hall in the Third-street Station, Detroit.

Afterward she pressed Troop to make his alleged promise good, but he refused. Last week she turned all her love letters over to Charles T. Wilkins, who this morning began suit against Troop, charging breach of promise and asking $10,000 damages.

One of the Worst Criminals in Detroit Fatally Wounded in a Quarrel.

DETROIT, Mich., March 22.—Detroit's toughest citizen, Johnnie Considine, received the finishing touch in his career of crime Saturday night, when he received in the left breast a bullet which fatally wounded him.

While drunk Considine quarreled with H. A. McCarthy, inventor of the cash register. The men were separated, but later in the evening met in Swan's restaurant, where the quarrel was renewed. Here Considine's actions were so threatening that McCarthy finally pulled a revolver and fired at Considine. The ball entered his breast. Physicians announce that he can not recover.

Considine's career for the past 10 years here has been filled with sensational criminal exploits. He has been tried for murder, has been involved in numberless shooting and stabbing scrapes, has acted as a fence for big crooks operating in this city and vicinity.

Considine is well-known in Toronto. His sister left here for Detroit on Sunday to nurse him.

A Chinese Crew Drowned.

VICTORIA, B.C., March 22.—The steamer Zambesi, which arrived here yesterday from the Orient, brings word that eight of the Chinese crew of the steamer Alwine, which left Shanghai on Jan. 20 for wreck of the steamer Marie, near Chofoo, have been drowned. During the gale on the night of Jan. 27 the engineer, who was on the Marie, was unable to get back and the Alwine sent her lifeboat for him. It was capsized and the crew were drowned. The Alwine then put to sea, but afterwards returned to the wreck.

Quebec Legislative Council.

QUEBEC, March 22.—The Lieut.-Governor has called Thomas Chapais, advocate of the city of Quebec, to the Legislative Council of the Province of Quebec to represent the division of Les Laurentides, instead of the Honorable Guillaume Bresse, deceased.

It is said that Mr. John Sharples, lumber merchant, will be called to the Legislative Council to fill the seat formerly held by his father, the late Hon. John Sharples and just vacated by the Hon. John Hearn, M.P.

How the Fair Sex of Otsego Is Raising Cash for a Library.

DETROIT, Mich., March 22.—The ladies of Otsego have started to raise money for a library fund in a novel way. Some are peddling on the streets and some young and pretty ones are selling kisses to help the good work on. Those selling kisses are said to be quite successful in their efforts

Deaf and Dumb, She Heard no Whistle.

QUEBEC, March 22.—The deaf and dumb 17-year-old daughter of the widow Narcisse was struck by a snowplow on the Intercolonial at Levis and killed.

HIS CASH TURNED INTO RAGS.

A Canadian Farmer Came to New York and Found an Attentive Friend.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 22.—A farmer of Gananoque arrived here yesterday and told a sorrowful tale of his experience on a visit to New York. He said he went to that city for $34,000 which had been left him by a relative.

On the way down he met a man at Poughkeepsie going to the city and they became fast friends. When they got to the end of their journey the farmer got his money and his friend advised him to carry it in a box.

The two went into a grocery store, where a box was obtained. The old man's attention was diverted while the money was being nailed up by the shopkeeper.

When the farmer reached Watertown he thought he would look in the box. He found it stuffed with rags. The money was not there.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

These diseases are too well known to require any description. How many thousands are carried every year to the silent grave by that dreadful scourge, consumption, which always commences with a slight cough. Keep the blood pure and healthy by taking a few doses of Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills each week, and disease of any kind is impossible. All medicine dealers sell Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills. dw

PRACTICAL MILK TESTING.

On Tuesday, April 5th an important meeting of the Peterborough Cheese-makers Association will be held in the council chamber, Peterborough. This will be a meeting that should be attended by all interested in milk production and milk delivery. An important feature of the meeting will be the presence of Mr. H. H. Dean, B.S.A., professor of Dairying of the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Prof. Dean is noted as being one of the most expert practical dairymen in the country. With him no theory is tenable that has not been subjected to the touchstone of practical test and proof. The purity of milk is a matter that not only interests the consumer in towns; but the producer and manufacturer as well the town milkman who is so often jocularly accused of taking the pump into his confidence in an undue degree, should be familiar with, and have means, for the testing of his milk; otherwise he is at the mercy of an inspector, who, armed with the authority of the law, is empowered to make tests. He may do his work honestly, or otherwise, and the milkman should be in a position to know whether he is receiving fair treatment at the hands of an inspector or not. On the same principle, the patron of a cheese factory has to have his milk subjected to a test. If he does not understand the method of testing milk he in turn is at the mercy of the person making the test, who being human is subject to influences that may not always be favourable to the patron. As in the matter of wheat so in the matter of milk, the custom of paying by results is is gaining ground, and it will not be long before milk will be paid for according to its quality. Therefore patrons should place themselves in a position to be able to make tests themselves or at least to know when a test is made in a proper and fair manner. In view of these facts it will be important for all parties interested to know that Prof. Dean will be present at the Cheese Association meeting on April 5th, and will give a lecture on Milk Testing, and will also make practical tests before the meeting with a Babcock tester. Milk dealers and factory men, and patrons are particularly interested in attending this meeting. It may be remarked that Mr. J. W. Moore, 351 George street, president of the Cheese Makers' Association, is greatly interested in the subject of milk testing, and will be happy to give any information on a subject upon which he is well informed, to any who may apply to him at his place of business.

The Enlarging of Cemeteries

Agents that Render this Necessary—An Agent that Fights Against the Work.

The following paragraphs, intended to have been printed separately, in a Paris evening paper, were by some blunder so arranged that they read consecutively:—

"Doctor X has been appointed head physician to the Hospital de la Charite. Orders have been issued by the authorities for the immediate extension of the Cemetery of Mont Parnasse The works are being executed with the utmost despatch."

In the following, we can assure every reader of this paper, that there is no typographical blunder:—Owing to the introduction of worthless pills of all colors, and the great variety of liquid medicines and remedies so deleterious and injurious in their effects, it is an undoubted fact that our cemeteries in Canada are fast filling up with the victims of these common preparations. These so called cures are a danger to the nation; they are made to sell, and the curing of disease is a remote consideration with the manufacturers.

We have, however, in our land an agency that works to snatch sufferers from the grave, and this mission is always faithfully and surely carried out. This wonder of science, known as Paine's Celery Compound, is actually taking up those whom physicians have put aside as incurable. It grasps such sufferers and renews the lives so nearly lost. It pinches from the burnings of disease and misery all those who are willing to live, and quickly places them on secure and solid ground—even the rock of health.

No other medicine in the world has attained such a degree of eminence, and no other can give such solid honest proofs of cures. It marches along to conquer, and leaves blessings in its path instead of misery, devastation and death.

Paine's Celery Compound gives to every sufferer the promise of a sure cure and long life. It takes an honest and noble agent to effect honest and quick cures; this is done when Paine's Celery Compound is used.

St. Andrew's "Endeavourers" Succeed.

St. Andrew's Y.P.S.C.E. last evening provided a social tea for the young people of the congregation. This is a very active society, and is in a flourishing condition, there already being about eighty names on the roll, and additions almost every meeting night. The attendance is always good and great interest manifested in the subject under discussion, many each evening taking part. These meetings under proper guidance are productive of much good. Not only is a great deal of God's word learned and a desire for the study of the Bible created, but young men and young women are also influenced for the first time, to express their thoughts or breathe God's name in prayer in public, thus preparing them for greater usefulness in the church. Last evening, however, was a special meeting of the Endeavourers of St. Andrew's church. The chair was occupied by Mr. Russell, Miss Mann presiding at the organ. The subject, "Praise," was ably introduced by Miss Jennie Mercer, who read thereon a carefully prepared and elaborate paper, after which Mr. Albert Hamilton, the pastor and others took part in the discussion. Miss Quinn, from the Barnardo Home, being present, was requested to address a few words to the Endeavourers, which she did in an effective and graceful manner. After the discussion of the subject was ended, a quartette consisting of Misses Henback and Mann, and Messrs. Gray and Wesley, sang in beautiful harmony the hymn, "Holy, holy is the Lord." Then Mrs. Cochrane rendered in fine voice a very difficult piece entitled "Sweet Spirit hear my Prayer." Then Mr. Johnston gave a short reading, "When we get there," after which the pastor, Rev. A. MacWilliams, sang a solo entitled "Help a Little." This brought the programme to a close. About forty-five minutes were then spent in social conversation and in making each other's acquaintance, after which about one-hundred and twenty five sat down together to a cup of coffee. This over, "God be with you till we meet again" was sung, and a most pleasant and profitable evening was brought to a close, the pastor pronouncing the benediction.—COM.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effectual as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G.W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

Some Pointers on Cheese.

Of Interest to Makers of and Dealers in Cheese—Good Words for the Canadian Article.

The cheese committee of the Home and Foreign Produce Exchange, Limited, Hibernia Chambers, London Bridge, S. E., have since their last address of March, 1891, carefully watched for an improvement in the make and boxing of cheese, as well as the important point of care in shipping.

MAKE.—In the States, whence we had expected some improvement, we have to deplore a retrograde movement, as the quality of the product has still further receded in popular esteem. On all hands complaints are made that unless the cheese are sold to the consumer almost instantly on arrival, the result is disastrous. As a consequence during the most important four months of the season our market pays 2/- to 3/- per cwt. less to the United States than to their neighbours in Canada.

In Canada some sections have shown a marked improvement, and certainly the reputation of the country is progressive—the exception being the fodders, which arrived on this market very dry and holey.

BOXES.—Still a weak point. With a tendency to make larger and heavier cheese, it is essential that the packages should be stout, sound and well fitting.

SHIPPING.—The improvement made by the Shipping Companies in the delivery from Montreal, via., Thames Haven has greatly helped us. We can now land cheese by the direct steamers within 12 days, and at as small an expense as any other port.

GENERAL.—The special feature of the season has been the rapid advance which London has made as an importing centre for cheese, and it is now the leading market in Great Britain—the direct and "through" imports largely exceeding any other port. Merchants have proved equal to the situation and have shown themselves capable of dealing properly with the increased supply.

The enormous population of this city are great consumers of cheese and competent critics of quality. It is therefore worth the attention of producers to study and cater for the wants of so large a number of potential customers.

Secretary.

Ho! my sisters, see the banner,

The success of this remedy is wonderful. Its record is unparalleled. It has cured thousands of cases of female weakness, irregularities, and all diseases peculiar to the sex. It can always be depended on to do exactly what is claimed for it. All the proprietors ask is a trial. That will convince the most skeptical of its wonderful virtues. It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

The Weak Spot.

Requires Care and Attention.

With thousands of men and women, boys and girls, the throat seems to be the weak spot. Many leaving a warm room and going outside for a short time, take a sore throat; and very often hoarseness and coughing follow.

People who are subject to sore throat, hoarseness and bronchial troubles, should exercise the greatest care, and take prompt and effective means to overcome these difficulties.

Numerous remedies have been placed before the public for the cure of colds and pulmonary affections, but experience has proved that they are almost worthless. Many of these preparations are positively dangerous; and many people have ruined health and voice by their use.

Canadians are fortunate in having placed before them for use, the grandest remedy of the age—Harvard Bronchial Syrup, a preparation emanating from old Harvard University. It results in even obstinate cases of sore throat, hacking cough, irritated and ulcerated throat, are most wonderful, and far surpass the most sanguine expectations. Harvard Bronchial Syrup acts instantly in any ordinary case, and will at once rid the sufferer of pain and trouble.

Our best physicians strongly recommend its use; singers, elocutionists and public speakers always keep it near them for use when the throat is dry and inflamed and the voice husky. Try it, and you will use no other.

Hiawatha.

Death of an Old Resident.

On Thursday, March 17th, St. Patrick's day, Mr. Michael Hedrick, one of the oldest residents of this section, passed away to his reward at the venerable age of 81 years. The deceased gentleman was a native of County Wexford, Ireland, from which he came to Canada in 1854, thirty-eight years ago. After living four years in Toronto, he removed to Hiawatha, where he spent thirty-four years of life, honored with the respect and esteem of a community, which paid this tribute to his good qualities as a friend, neighbour and citizen. The deceased gentleman was a Liberal in politics, and in his days of health and activity, zealous in the promotion of the interests of Liberalism.

Did it ever occur to you to take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best spring medicine? Try a bottle this season. It will do you good.

In Memoriam

Of James Cameron, Jr., Beloved Son of Mr. and Mrs. James Cameron, Otonabee, who Died September 1st, 1891.

Another one has gone, one more link severed,
From the frail earthly chain that binds us here,
A brother loved has gained the "Many Mansions,"
Where Jesus reigns; where is no falling tear.
We grieved to see thy brow grow pale with suffering,
Thy manly form by dire disease laid low,
And knew that in a few short weeks our loved one,
From all below would have to bid adieu.

Ah! is it so that we no more shall meet thee,
Around that hearth, where we in childhood played,
Or hear thy voice ring forth with songs of gladness,
To Him thou loved so well, with heartfelt praise.
In those bright days our voices oft did mingle,
With loved ones that before thee reached that shore.
And reunited now do swell the chorus,
To Him that ransomed thee for evermore.

Thy faith was strong dear one, no doubt assailed thee,
But brightly beamed thy lamp in Death's dark vale,
And calmly waited for the Bridegroom's coming,
And in His strength didst triumphantly prevail.
The spring shall come again in all its beauty,
The summer sun shall ripen golden grain,
But thy last sheaf, dear brother, thou has garnered,
No earthly sound shall waken thee again.

Each night I think of thee when rocked to slumber,
My baby girl sleeps in the cradle bed
That once was thine, where nightly our dear mother
So tenderly did lay each infant head.
To-night a snow white mantle glistens o'er thee,
While through the pines the wintry winds do sigh,
But, while the casket frail so low is resting,
The gem it once contains now dwells on high.

May thy dear children, that thou loved so fondly,
Thy memory cherish, thy requests obey,
And when life's work below with each is ended,
Meet thee above in Heaven's eternal day.

MRS. R. BARNES,
Woodlands, Otonabee, March 12, 1892.

It is not the extremes of heat and cold so much as the sudden changes in temperature that cause certain climates to be unhealthful. When, however, the system is invigorated with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, these changes are rarely attended with injurious results.

It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses and unbed power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. "August Flower"

The Hon. J. W. Fenpimore is the Sheriff of Kent Co., Del., and lives at Dover, the County Seat and Capital of the State. The sheriff is a gentleman fifty-nine years of age, and this is what he says: "I have "used your August Flower for several years in my family and for my "own use, and found it does me "more good than any other remedy. "I have been troubled with what I "call Sick Headache. A pain comes "in the back part of my head first, "and then soon a general headache "until I become sick and vomit. "At times, too, I have a fullness "after eating, a pressure after eating "at the pit of the stomach, and "sourness, when food seemed to rise "up in my throat and mouth. When "I feel this coming on if I take a "little August Flower it relieves "me, and is the best remedy I have "ever taken for it. For this reason "I take it and recommend it to "others as a great remedy for Dys-"pepsia, &c."

SAW HIM DROWN.

A Hamilton Student at Victoria University Loses His Life.

COBOURG, March 21.—A student of Victoria University named Stoney of Hamilton went out for a sail in a small sailboat Saturday. He did not appear to be able to manage the boat and drifted out into the lake. At 10 o'clock four fishermen and Capt. Rooney of the lifesaving crew started out to rescue him.

Capt. Rooney and his crew landed safely at Grafton, seven miles east of here, after a very dangerous and heroic attempt to rescue Stoney.

When within a quarter of a mile of Stoney's boat and four miles out from shore they saw it capsize and Stoney thrown into the lake and drowned.

LORD SALISBURY'S REPLY.

It Has Been Received at Washington, but its Nature Unknown.

WASHINGTON, March 21.—Lord Salisbury has sent a communication to this Government, in reply to the note of Acting-Secretary Wharton of the State Department, requesting a renewal of the modus vivendi for the protection of seal life in Behring Sea during the coming season.

The communication was received Saturday by Mr. Wharton, through Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Minister at Washington.

The acting Secretary took it over to the White House during the afternoon and submitted it to the President. Mr. Wharton declined to indicate the nature of Lord Salisbury's reply.

Basket Social at Charlotte Street Church

A successful "basket social" under the auspices of the Y. P. S. C. E., was held in the Sunday school room of the Charlotte Street Methodist church last evening. There was a fair attendance and an enjoyable time was spent. The pastor, Rev. Geo. Edwards, presided, and in opening the evening's proceedings, made a few happy remarks. The programme was divided in two parts. During the intermission refreshments in small and pretty baskets were served. The gentleman purchased the edibles contained therein and partook of them with the young lady whose name happened to be written in his particular basket. Songs were contributed by Messrs. Steers, McKay, Gray, and Miss Annie Fawcett. Mr. T. Barrie gave a reading, and Messrs. Brooks a rendition with the "rattle bones." The programme was very interesting, and much appreciated by those present.

THE SHEPHERD INQUEST.

What Does the Verdict of the Jury Mean?

The Evidence—The Jury's Double Verdict—The Second More Mystifying than the First—The Matter as Much in Darkness as Ever—Could the Carbolic Acid Administer Itself?

The inquest into the cause of the death of the late Mrs. Shepherd was resumed at the police court room last evening by Dr. Fife, coroner. There was a large attendance present completely filling the room. Much interest and attention were paid to the proceedings.

MRS. JAS. O'BRIEN was the first witness examined by Coroner Fife. She said: Mrs. Shepherd has been living in my house since the 14th of August last. To my knowledge and acquaintance she seemed a very nice person. I had frequent conversations with her, as she used to come in and go out every day for water. She always seemed sensible. I never heard her threaten to destroy her life or that of her child, Mr. Shepherd rushed in my house yesterday. It was about twelve o'clock. He said to me. "For God's sake, come up Mrs. O'Brien and see what Maggie has taken." He told me to telephone for the nearest doctor. I was too excited and nervous to ring the telephone, so I ran upstairs and told Mr. Shepherd to ring it. When I ran up the deceased was walking across the floor. She was in an awfully excited condition, all flurried. A spot on the side of her face around the mouth was white. I said, "Oh Mrs. Shepherd, what have you done." She went to catch at the child. She said, "Freddie, come to mamma. mamma will take you." I grabbed the child from her, fearing she would do it some harm. She went and lay on the bed. She called for milk. I said, "Oh Mrs. Shepherd, what have you done? You have poisoned yourself. Won't you pray to God to help you until some one comes.' I knew she had taken carbolic acid because Mr. Shepherd had told me so. I could smell it as soon as I went up stairs Mrs Shepherd said that she knew she would die. I got her some milk. Mr. Shepherd gave it to her and she drank it. She called for more. She took the second cup, but could not drink it all. She took nothing else. We had melted butter but she was unable to swallow it. She tried to get up after taking the second cup. In the meantime I ran down stairs to see if the doctor was coming, when I found her dead. I don't think from the time Mr. Shepherd called me until her death it could have been more than eight or ten minutes.

By JURYMAN—There was no conversation, except that already given. There was no other cause.

Dr. PIGEON, the next witness sworn, said, About noon yesterday I was called by telephone to the corner of Lake and Aylmer streets. I found when I arrived the body of the woman lying on the bed on her left side. Her arms were hanging by her side She was lying in quite an easy position. I examined and found her dead. She had evidently taken carbolic acid, which had run over her lips and chin. There was a strong smell of carbolic acid around the room. Mrs O'Brien had told me that Mrs. Shepherd had attempted to poison the child also. I had the child brought to me, and found that the carbolic acid had been poured over the child's face, leaving a stain somewhat similar to what carbolic acid would do on the skin. None of the acid had gone into the child's mouth or eyes. Shepherd told me that he and his wife had had a little disagreement that morning, and that his wife was subject to violent fits of temper in which he said he saw her beat her head against the wall. I noticed there was post-mortem mottling come on her hand soon after I arrived. I noticed that the pupils of the eyes were widely dilated.

JOHN MCNAMARA, sworn, said: Yesterday forenoon I was in O'Brien's when Shepherd came running in and said "For God sake Mrs. O'Brien look what Maggie has after drinking." He told me to run after a pail of water which I did. I took it upstairs and offered her a drink when she said she didn't want a drink. Mrs. O'Brien and Shepherd were in at the telephone. This was before Mrs O'Brien went up I saw that her chin was white. The child was there, its face was marked with acid.

By JURYMAN—I was the first one up, she made no other statement than that already stated, except she wanted to know who got the water.

MISS BRIDGET MCMAHON was next examined. I live near Mrs. O'Brien, right across the road. Shepherd came across and told me to come over. Mrs. O'Brien told me to get some melted butter as she thought it might be a good thing. I ran upstairs and offered her the butter. When I got there Shepherd was supporting Mrs. Shepherd in his arms, I gave her two mouthfuls of the melted butter. I don't know whether she swallowed it or not. She was nearly dead. I noticed a smell of acid about the room.

WILLIAM LOWE, next sworn, said: I knew Mrs. Shepherd to speak to her. She was a nice person. I knew the deceased in Montreal. I was acquainted with Shepherd there also. I knew of no circumstances of a suspicious character which would cause this woman's death. I saw her two months ago. She was in good health then. She was different from when I saw her in Montreal. She had a mark or bruise on her head as if it resulted from a cut or a fall. I asked her how she obtained it, she said it had been given her by her husband. This is how I know the mark was there. I met her at the Blythe Woolen Mills, she came up there to inquire if I could give her a situation at work in the mill. She came to the mill twice to obtain work. The first time she came there she had a white cloth under her hat. She told me that she and her husband had had some trouble at the house in the morning.

By JURYMAN—I had no conversation at that time other than what I have stated.

Mrs. DONAGHUE, sworn, said: Mrs. Shepherd came to my place one day this winter, and wanted to warm her baby. I lived at Blythe's Mill. I never knew the woman before. She stated that she had had a little dispute with her husband that morning and was going to look for work. There was a bruise on the side of her face that attracted my attention.

Mrs. JUDY SHEEN, Montreal, mother of the deceased, was the next witness sworn. She said: My daughter had a violent temper. Maggie and her husband had no more trouble than any married couple. I am mother of Mrs. Shepherd. I can give no reason for the cause of her rash act—more than that she was high tempered. She was a good hard-working woman.

This was the witness' testimony in substance. Mrs. Sheen's testimony provoked a deal of mirth and amusement. She was very loquacious and circumlocutory, and in the broad Yorkshire dialect which she spoke, it was a difficult matter to understand her. In the course of her evidence she furnished a fund of information relative to the family history. She stated that she had had eleven children by her husband, that they were straightforward, honest young people and kept nothing back. They minded their own business, and had always got along well together. The only fault with any of their eleven children was that they were all high tempered.

DR. KING was next witness sworn. He read the report of the post mortem examination of the woman which he and Dr. Pigeon had made, and in which they did not come to the conclusion that the woman had died of carbolic acid, but expressed a doubt in their report as to the real cause of her death. He, sworn, said: I should judge that the woman's death was owing to the congested state of the lungs and kidneys. I never saw a patient before poisoned by carbolic acid. It may be that she died of carbolic acid, but I expected to find more evidence than we did to come to the conclusion that she died of that. I think I should have found more evidence of it. I have doubts if she died from carbolic acid poison. I should like to see more signs of it.

CORONER.—Well, doctor, if you think she did not die from carbolic acid, tell us candidly what in your opinion was the cause of her death.

WITNESS.—I cannot say what she died from. It may be due to a spasm of the glottis, preventing air from coming in and producing suffocation, causing congestion of the lungs. We did not make an examination of the fluids of the stomach. I could find no smell of carbolic acid. The mark on the outside of the neck was caused by some corrosive fluid.

Here the doctor handed the Coroner the report of the post-mortem examination.

By A JURYMAN.—There were no marks of violence. There were no bruises on the body. We examined it carefully and found none.

DR. PIGEON being re-called, said: I agree with Dr. King's evidence. I believe the cause of the woman's death was the action of carbolic acid, causing spasms of the glottis thus shutting out air from the lungs so that the circulation of blood in the lungs was stopped. The left ventricle continuing to pump blood in, and the circulation of blood in the lungs being stopped, the right side of the heart became loaded with blood which it was unable to contract on, so that the internal organs were all gorged with blood, hence death. I could not swear that I smelt carbolic acid although I tried to do so. We did not find that evidence in the oesophagus or the stomach which we expected to find there, considering that the acid was exceedingly strong. I think there was very little carbolic acid swallowed. I came to the conclusion, after making the examination of the glottis, oesophagus and the stomach, that in her case the acid touched a part that was vital. It caused such intense irritation as to induce spasmodic contraction of the glottis. Under no other circumstances can I account for the absence of injury to the oesophagus and stomach.

The evidence was concluded at twenty minutes to eleven o'clock.

CORONER FIFE briefly charged the jury. He had, he said, not the slightest doubt that the deceased came to her death through carbolic acid administered by her own hand.

After a deliberation of fifty minutes, the Coroner was recalled, and the jury rendered the following verdict:—

"We have come to the conclusion that Maggie Shepherd came to her death at or about noon on Sunday, March 20th, 1892, by the effect of carbolic acid, but we do not know by whom the carbolic acid was administered."

The coroner was astounded at the verdict, especially at the last clause. He stated that according to law the Coroner's decision had to agree with that of the jury. He charged the jury again. He said the verdict was not complete, and according to law, therefore, they would have to reconsider their decision.

The jury again retired, and hour after hour the crowd and the reporters lingered, but in vain; it was not till five o'clock that the coroner's patient wait was rewarded by the jury sleepily filing in, and making the announcement that they could not agree.

The Coroner intimated in effect that they would have to agree, and he adjourned the inquest till ten o'clock this morning when proceedings were resumed. The husband Shepherd, and Mrs. O'Brien were re-examined especially with reference to the point of the deceased having taken poison and her conduct at the time. But there was nothing new elicited. At a quarter after eleven the jury again retired and after fifteen minutes of consultation, returned the following incomplete verdict:—

"We have come to the conclusion that Maggie Shepherd came to her death at or about noon on Sunday, March 20th, 1892, through the effects of carbolic acid being administered."

Here ended an investigation that seems, so far as the deliverance of the jury is concerned, to leave the matter as much in darkness as before the inquest began. It may not be construed as contempt of—jury, to suggest that the verdict is not of the most definite character.

as a general tonic to cleanse the blood and sharpen the appetite. "It is the best anti-malaria remedy," he says, "that I know of." Certainly the cordial endorsement of so prominent a man should convince you that Hood's Sarsaparilla is worthy your confidence. Mr. Charles F. Drexel, a well known former resident of Baltimore, Md., now Deputy City Treasurer of Omaha, Neb., writes that Hood's Sarsaparilla has effected a Phenomenal Cure in the case of his son, who when two years old became afflicted with Malignant Eczema. It first developed in his right eye, and the discharge from the same PECULIAR TO ITSELF caused the whole face on that side to break out in a nasty, running sore. The poor little fellow was indeed pitiable to look at. Physicians gave him only temporary relief. He almost lost the sight of one eye, and the best oculists in Baltimore failed to benefit him. Finally Mrs. Drexel insisted upon trying Hood's Sarsaparilla and before he had taken half a bottle he looked like another child. The humor entirely disappeared, and His Eyesight was fully Restored. In fact, says Mr. Drexel, "he is the healthiest of our three children, and we feel that too much praise cannot be given Hood's Sarsaparilla."

Hood's Sarsaparilla

THE WASHINGTON VISIT.

Mr. Foster Explains the Negotiations There.

Sir Richard Cartwright Replies to the Address of the Finance Minister—A Session Which Lasted Until After Midnight and Which Was Listened to by one of the Largest Audiences Ever Assembled in the Canadian Commons

OTTAWA, March 23.—For the first time this session the spacious encircling galleries of the House were crowded yesterday. The Speaker's and Senators' galleries were bright with rows of fair maids and comfortable matrons. The newsmen's row was without a break, while on the floor there were but few vacant desks. The great attendance had been called forth by the announcement that Mr. Foster was that afternoon to make his annual financial statement.

Mr. Foster opened his remarks with a prosaic relation of the financial condition that the close of the fiscal year, '90-91, found the Dominion in. The revenue had amounted to $38,579,310, which was $279,391 short of the estimate. The expenditure had been $36,343,507, leaving a surplus of $2,235,743. In capital expenditure there had been a decrease as compared with last year of $1,349,788, while the net debt had only increased $275,000.

In a former budget speech he had prophesied that in the year 1892 the revenue and expenditure of the country should balance each other. He was glad to say that his forecast was in process of fulfilment. The net interest on the debt for each head of the population had been reduced on the figures of the recent census from $1.90 in 1887-88 to $1.76 in '90-91. They were thereby able to state that they were now able to keep the whole expenditure within the revenue and yet provide without stint for the public service.

The estimates for the current year are for revenue $36,635,000, for expenditure $36,650,000. Careful observation had led him to believe that the sum of $36,000,000 was likely to be the normal revenue of the Dominion for some years to come, and it was their business now to keep their expenditure within that sum, to cut, in fact, their coat according to their cloth.

Speaking of the maintenance of Canada's credit in England he said it was a matter of gratification that during the continued financial stringency in London Canadian securities had stood higher than those of any other colony. While on this topic he desired to speak of an unprecedented and remarkable circumstance. They had become used to the class of persons who journeyed to the United States to show the authorities of that country where Canada could be most fatally stricken. They had become used to this, but they were not prepared to meet an enemy in the English money market. And the enemy had chosen a good time to wing the hostile arrow.

The financial market was disturbed; the best securities were trembling. The Dominion had floating loans amounting to $10,000,000 on that market which had to be renewed. It was a time when a friend of Canada, if he could say nothing good of her, could at least have held his peace. But that was not the part played by the writer of the letter in The Economist, which he (Foster) held in his hand. This was the time chosen by the enemy to wing his envenomed arrow. Not satisfied with sending the letter to The Economist it was also printed for circulation in circular form, presumably by Sir Richard Cartwright himself, as a campaign document against the interests of the Dominion in England.

The Finance Minister then read spicy passages from the letter while Sir Richard kept up a running commentary of "hear, hears."

Mr. Foster wound up the reading of the extracts by saying that the hon. gentleman could only have one motive; it was to injure Canada in the Mother land. Balked and foiled here he had gone to the Mother Land to injure our public and private credit. He did not hesitate to brand the action as unprecedented, despicable and unpatriotic. He might say to the gentlemen opposite, however, that while they retained their affiliation with the honorable gentleman they would not have to seek far or wide for the reasons of their defeat.

Passing on to the history of the negotiations at Washington. Mr. Foster said that a short time ago on the invitation of the Secretary of State they had met that gentleman. Mr. Blaine met them in the kindest and frankest spirit. Although in anything but robust health he gave up a great part of his time for five days to a full, frank and prolonged conference. The Canadian ministers in the first place proposed the renewal of the Reciprocity treaty of 1854 with such modifications as the change in the times rendered necessary. They were met with the reply that reciprocity in naturals products did not possess the essential element of reciprocity so far as the United States was concerned to enable him to entertain it. Mr. Blaine then raised the question as to whether they were prepared to discuss a wider general reciprocity in manufactured articles. The Canadian delegates discussed this question fully and fairly with Mr. Blaine. They asked did this mean that Canada was to give preferential treatment to the United States involving discrimination against Great Britain. Mr. Blaine's reply was that reciprocity would not be reciprocity unless the United States received preferential treatment especially as against Great Britain. Great Britain was their chief competitor as manufacturers. Under reciprocity the United States manufacturers would expect to have to compete in Canada with the Canadian manufacturers and with no others. They entered on a discussion of the difficulties with which Canada under such a reciprocity would be face to face, namely, that in entering into a treaty of that kind they would experience a loss of a considerable portion of their revenue. To this Mr. Blaine replied, Have you no other methods of taxation? The reply of the Canadian delegates was: "Yes, there is the taxes raised by internal revenue." Mr. Blaine at once said that these would have to be equalized with those of the United States. This would involve a further loss. As the Canadian taxation of spirits and tobacco was higher than the similar taxes in the United States another formidable difficulty was met. Suppose said the Canadian delegates were disposed to discriminate against the rest of the world, how would fix the amount of the discrimination? Take the item of wool and manufactures those of which were very much higher in the United States than in Canada. Mr. Blaine replied that he saw no way out of the difficulty except for Canada to make her tariff uniform with that of the United States. The Canadian delegates immediately answered "these are our difficulties. Now you Mr. Blaine have had large experience in negotiating reciprocity treaties are you not prepared to suggest modifications which we could accept. After a fair discussion of the branch of the subject Mr. Blaine acknowledged our difficulties, but he could see no other course open for us. Therefore, said Mr. Foster, finishing his narrative of the negotiations, we came to the conclusion that as long as the present party and policy obtains in the United States we cannot hope for any treaty, except along these lines. They could say one thing, the matter was now settled clearly and definitely. He regretted that it was settled in the way it was, but he was glad that it was settled.

Mr. Mills, member for Bothwell, held that the Finance Minister could not make the communication he had made to the House unless he had first made a report to His Excellency and his colleagues.

Sir John Thompson said it would be an extraordinary thing if the Finance Minister could not communicate to the House a narrative of facts of which he was peisonally cognizant.

The Speaker ruled that Mr. Foster could continue.

Mr. Foster then repeated the assertion that he was glad that the matter had been settled. Business had been disturbed by the agitation which had been going on for the past few years. They could now face the future with a clear and definite idea of what they had to do, for themselves, and what they had to expect from others. He, for one, was willing to confront and take confidentially whatever was in store for them. If they were driven from the American market they could turn to the English market, where everything that Canada produced was consumed abundantly. Indeed, the time was approaching when the Government would have to consider whether they should not hold out a helping hand to those who hold out a hand to them to give the best treatment in our market to the country that gives us the best treatment in hers. The Hon. Finance Minister in sitting down received a very hearty round of applause.

Sir Richard Cartwright, the Opposition financier, opened his remarks by alluding to his now famous letter to The Economist. He said the Finance Minister's speech referring to his letter reminded him of the quotation of the toad, ugly and venomous, which carried a precious jewel in its head. He then passed on to what he called the terennial stocktaking. He made excellent use of the census figures to back up his belief in the decrepid condition of this country. He declared that a million and a half of people had been driven from the country. He declared that free trade with the United States was more valuable to Canada than trade with all the rest of the world. He said the present policy of isolation and high taxation had its significant comment on the census returns that were laid on the table. Coming to the history of the negotiations he said what was most plainly demonstrated by Mr. Foster's statement was the utter disinclination on the part of the Canadian Ministers to take any effectual steps whatever to obtain reciprocity. Their object seemed to be to go to Washington to raise all the difficulties they could. If they had any definite object in view it was to close the door to any future negotiations that might be undertaken. Did anyone ever hear of a Minister of this country asking the Minister of a foreign state how he was going to raise his revenue? He ridiculed the fatuousness of the hon. gentleman in expecting that he could obtain any concessions from the United States without giving concessions in return, that he could hope to gain free access to the American marker and only give in return the same privileges that were open to all the rest of the world. The essence of a reciprocity treaty is to grant something in order that we may get something. Surely they would have the decency not to turn to Canada into a smuggling ground against the United States. Moreover he had grave doubts whether the Finance Minister had not misunderstood or misrepresented the whole conference. He believed that any delegation of Canadians could repair to Washington, which, while insisting on our determination to retain our autonomy as a nation, were, nevertheless, desirous of extending friendly trade mutually advantageous to both.

Clarke Wallace: You should send Farrer there.

Sir Richard Cartwright: I have no doubt he would make a better negotiator than any or all of the gents who went down there.

At which sally there was great laughter. Cartwright went on to say that he knew who stood behind the administration. They had no intention of admitting the American manufacturers to this country. He had no doubt they were perfectly delighted when they got from Mr. Blaine a refusal. He concluded by saying there was no prospect for prosperity in this country excedt a reasonable and a fair arrangement with the United States. Without they would see the exodus increase, while ignorance, corruption and mismanagement would nullify our great natural resources.

Mr. Baker of Missisiquoi adjourned the debate at 12.10. It will not be resumed until Friday next, in all probability.

The Immigration Season Opens.

LONDON, March 23.—The regular emigration season has opened this week.

The Allan Liner Parisian has taken nearly a thousand emigrants, including the Canadian Pacific Company numbering 175, from the southeastern part of England and all destined for the Northwest. They each have a capital varying from $500 to $1500.

Some Scottish farmers, forming part of the much-discussed Scottish settlement at Essex, Eng., will also sail and one of these will report as a delegate. If his report is favorable the others will also come the ocean to settle in the Northwest.

The bookings reported are above the average for the next few steamers. The class of emigrants is excellent and the outlook for a large exodus is generally considered good.

The Cabinet Considers the Reply.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—The Behring Sea matter was again the chief subject for consideration at the Cabinet meeting today. It is generally understood the question of the position to be taken by this Government in the event of the refusal by Lord Salisbury to agree to a modus vivendi for the coming season was discussed at length.

The advisability of transmitting to the Senate Lord Salisbury's latest note and the President's reply were considered.

THE HESLOP MURDER

The Evidence in the Heslop Murder Trial About Concluded.

HAMILTON, March 23.—The end of the Heslop trial is in sight, the defence having rested its case last night and the testimony for the crown in rebuttal entered upon.

Nearly the whole day was taken up in endeavoring to establish an alibi for Lottridge.

Thomas H. Lottridge, a brother of the accused, Thomas D. Lottridge, his father, and Henry Lottridge, another brother, each swore that the prisoner was home the night of the murder and slept in the same bed as Thomas Lottridge. Cross-examination did not vary the story in the slightest. The sister and mother of Lottridge gave similar evidence as to Lottridge being home.

One or two witnesses were called to prove Douglas' absence from the country at the time of the murder and the defence closed.

In rebuttal William Corner was called to prove that Henry Bartram drove the famous load of wood, but under cross-examination witness swore that it might have been a week or two previous that he met the rig.

Court adjourned until Wednesday.

THE STRIKE

The Eastern Division Is Also Out.

Trainmen on Three Divisions Have Quit.

WILL THE STRIKE BE GENERAL?

Strikers Resort to Violence at Many Points on the Line—Trainloads of Special Constables Sent From Montreal to Protect the Company's Property at North Bay, Rat Portage and Other Points—What the Men and the Company Say.

MONTREAL, March 23.—The strike on the Canadian Pacific Railway is spreading eastwards and trouble is feared. The assistance of the mounted police was sought today to assist the railway to keep trains running and protect its property. At an early hour Sub-Chief Lancy received a message from Chief Hughes asking him to appoint 50 constables for special duty outside the city. This was done, and they were drawn up in the guard room, and the chief explained that as the duty was outside of the city no one would be compelled to go; it was a matter of choice. Each name was called out and none declined. They were given time to procure clothing for at least two weeks' absence, and each man was provided with a revolver in addition to his baton. The men were then placed on board a special car on the 8oo train, which left shortly after noon. It is understood that their first halting place will be North Bay, from which they will proceed to Port Arthur and other points.

At 4 o'clock yesterday another company of 100 special constables, who had been picked up during the day, went west in charge of several officers of the city police force. That the company are having trouble may be judged not only from the call they have issued for police aid but from delay in the passenger traffic. The Winnipeg express is 16 hours late to-day, and not a guest has arrived at any of the larger hotels over that road from the west since Sunday.

A message received at head offices yesterday states that the strike is extending east and has now reached Chalk River, 22 miles west of Pembroke and 246 miles west of Montreal.

NORTH BAY, March 23.—Quite an amount of excitement has been caused over the strike here. The freight traffic has ceased running to a great extent. Freight and passenger trains were mobbed by the strikers yesterday. One scab, as they are called, who was hired by the company to take charge of the baggage car going west, was attacked by strikers and thrown out of the car.

Freight trains were also mobbed and revolvers were drawn

WINNIPEG, March 23.—In consequence of the more serious aspect assumed by the trainmen's strike in the Northwest, the C.P.R. has asked Lieut.-Governor Schultz of Manitoba for the aid of troops to guard its property in the neighborhood of Rat Portage, where violence is not only threatened, but the destruction of property has already commenced. Two trains have been cut while trying to get in, and the men in charge have been pelted with stones and threatened with bullets. Some shots have even been fired.

The demand for troops could not be complied with, and the company has been directed to apply to Ottawa.

As a matter of fact the strikers have taken the law in their own hands here, have cut a number of trains to pieces, have stoned the new men and in one or two cases have fired on them. Some have been injured. It is not improbable that the militia will be sent from here. Between here and Keewatin one train was cut in no less than 13 pieces by strikers.

In order to keep the men under control Senior Conductor Garretson has arrived

WINNIPEG, March 23.—Grand Secretary Sheahan of the Order of Railway Conductors has arrived with funds for the prosecution of the fight.

Grand Senior Conductor Garretson states, notwithstanding the demands of Superintendent Whyte, that the men were dismissed because they belonged to the Brotherhood of Trainmen, and that the men are striking, not for more pay, but to have these men reinstated. Mr. Small says that Mr. Whyte, the superintendent, boasts that he will never employ a Brotherhood man on the road. Mr. Small said the committee presented a schedule of grievances with respect to pay, and the refusal of the company to meet the committee would have justified the strike, which was primarily ordered for the purpose of obtaining the reinstatement of the dismissed men.

"Some of the division superintendents state, according to Mr. Whyte, continued Garretson, that some of the conductors had no knowledge of the action to be taken by their committee and that authority had not been delegated to that committee to take this action. But we say, in the presence of signatures held by us, that either the superintendents carefully picked men for their queries who were not members of our organization or they are worthy lieutenants of the corporation they serve."

The men on the Pacific and Eastern divisions were called out by the official order. The order issued was similar to the one given on the Western division, so that the men proceeded to their destination with passenger fast, and other trains to terminal points.

The conductors and trainmen of the Pacific division have made practically the same demand as those of the Western division. At present on the Pacific division the passenger conductors are paid $100 per month, a raise of $10 at New Year's, and brakemen $60. The conductors on freight trains get $2 60 a hundred miles and the brakemen $1.55, with a bonus of $6 and $3 respectively a month. They ask $3.15 a hundred miles for conductors and $2.15 for brakemen. The question of detentions also came into the matter in dispute. At present the engineers and firemen are paid for detentions, being required to keep the fires alive. Conductors and trainmen make the same demand.

Sympathy, Not Wages.

Chief Conductor Clark says, however, that the causes which had led to the men on the Pacific division going out were that they were in sympathy with the men of the Western division and desired to aid them in the struggle, added to the fact that the company had begun the same interrogation as to loyalty, etc., that it had here, and had dismissed a number of them for exactly similar reasons. Speaking further on the strike situation Chief Conductor Clark said: "You may [illegible] strikes are not ordered by any [illegible] ates. We have no power to order a [illegible] and I wish people who are [illegible] ing sneering allusions to [illegible] and paid agitators, etc., would [illegible] mind. We are simply here to [illegible] in getting what they and what we consider to be their just rights. We could not order the men out on strike under the laws of our organizations until at least two-thirds of them favored such a course. In the case of the Western division I may say nine-tenths of the men signed a document favoring the strike; yes, more than nine-tenths, for I am informed that only six men declined to affix their signatures to it. As far as the Pacific division is concerned I can tell you positively that the men are unanimous."

Since the strike trains have been run by superintendents, master mechanics and other officials of the road as conductors and brakemen.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL.

It rests with the representatives of this district very largely, whether this project shall continue to be a newspaper heading over scoldings for neglect on the part of the government, of this important work, or an accomplished fact. There are about twenty representatives of constituencies on the line of the proposed canal, and their influence solidly and earnestly exercised would bring the government to a sense of its duty in the matter, and of danger of losing the support of these representatives. The government is deeply committed to this scheme. The report of their commission, was very strongly in favour of constructing the canal, which will become evident if the effort now being made to secure publication of the report, make it available for public perusal. The late premier pledged himself to a substantial grant for the construction of another section of the canal, and the present minister of railways and canals has declared that the construction of this canal is a part of the government policy. There should no rest be given the government day nor night until an appropriation is placed in the supplementary estimates for the Lakefield to Burleigh section, the most important on the route and the one whose construction by itself would open up perhaps the ideal reach of navigable water of any section on the route. The representatives of this district must move at once. If they profess to represent the people they must justify their pretensions by prompt and vigorous action. The question of canal construction is not properly a political question, it is a great commercial question and one of vital importance not only to the district through which it passes, but to the great Northwest, which must, in future, look to this canal as a means of sending its surplus grain products to the seaboard, on the way to the European markets. The members of this district should take counsel together. Let them call a meeting in "No. 8"—the suggestiveness of such a selection of a meeting place will be a hint to the government that the members of this district "mean business."

The Head Surgeon

Of the Lisbon Medical Company is now at Toronto, Canada, and may be consulted either in person or by letter on all chronic diseases peculiar to men. Men, young, old or middle aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, headache, pimples on the face or body, itching or peculiar sensations about the scrotum, wasting of the organs, dizziness, specks before the eyes, twitching of the muscles, eyelids and elsewhere, bashfulness, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of voice, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, sunken eyes surrounded with leaden circle, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension, every function wears in consequence. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. Send your address for book on all diseases peculiar to man. Books sent free sealed. Heart disease, the symptoms of which are faint spells, purple lips, numbness, palpitation, skip beats, hot flashes, rush of blood to the head, dull pain in the heart with beats strong, rapid and irregular, the second heart beat quicker than the first, pain about the breast bone, etc., can positively be cured. No cure, no pay. Send for book. Address M. V. LUBON, 24 Macdonell ave., Toronto, Can.

The Proposed System of Sewerage.

A Professional Suggestion in the Public Interest.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I was present on Friday night last at the public meeting called by our esteemed mayor with the view of eliciting an expression of opinion upon the system of sewerage proposed for the town.

I had intended to put to the engineer, Mr. MacDougall—with whose ability and urbanity in the course of his explanation of the system, and its applicability to our town, I was instructed and pleased—a few questions of a technical character. The time of the meeting, however, was so taken up with the discussion of irrelevant matter, with the speeches proper to the occasion, and was so hastily cut short by the rushing and passing of the resolution, that I was forced to follow for the moment the example of our sapient town council and remain "neutral." This is, I believe, the word used by the council in describing its inaction upon the important question of town drainage. Why our incorporate members of the council who, from their position and connection with the project, are expected to know more about it than other people, should withhold from the ratepayers the benefit of their superior judgment, is one of those things that no one can tell—outside of that distinguished body. Members of council are very wise in the matter of generation; but when it comes to the dispensing of contracts and patronage, by and bye, they will hardly be found "neutral."

With reference to the

now proposed, it appears to me as applying with peculiar fitness to the conditions and configuration of the town as far south as Lake street. In this street, however, I notice that there are three sharp angles, around which the whole sewage of the town is made to pass.

The objectionable angles are at the junctions of Aylmer, George and head of Lock street. I also disapprove of placing the outlet sewer as far east as Lock street.

I have no doubt but these features of the plan have been present to the Engineer's mind, and that in deciding upon their adoption, he was governed by good and cogent reasons which I would be very glad to understand. But these reasons have not been given, and it is to a measure because they have not, that I am at present led to make these comments upon that part of the plan; and not in any spirit of undue criticism; and let my opinion be taken by the public for what it is worth.

Looking at the map of the town, and down its main streets from north to south, it will be seen that the general direction leads southwesterly, and the Aylmer street, properly selected for the site of the Trunk sewer, occupies a very central position in its course through the town, down to Lake street.

It is just here, at the junction of Aylmer and Lake streets, that I consider a very grave mistake is made, and it is repeated at the foot of George and head of Lock street. Unless for adopting these acute junctions, they should exist, for causes well known to Mr. MacDougall, be admitted. According to the proposed plan and taking for starting point the juncture at Aylmer and Lake streets, the main sewer on the latter, east to the head of Lock street, is, approximately, 1,188 feet. The outfall on Lock from Lake street to the river, 4 818 feet. Total length of main sewer and outfall 6,006 feet from the foot of Aylmer, via Lake and Lock streets to the river. Starting from the same point at the foot of Aylmer street, and proceeding southwards, and on an almost straight line with it, parallel to Lock or Park street, the distance to the river is about 5 676 feet, or say, 330 feet shorter than by the proposed route via Lake and Lock streets, while at the same time, the sewage discharge is removed absolutely farther away from the centre of the town and of population, than by Lock street.

Besides these advantages which I apprehend are of some value, the extension of Aylmer street, as indicated, would strike the river at a point about 1,600 feet lower down than where Lock street strikes it, and thus would be given to the outfall sewer on Aylmer street, a better grade, greater velocity, and a more directly continuous, unchecked and free flow of the sewage.

Another wide and lasting advantage that would be gained to the town and to the system of sewerage as well, by the practically direct prolongation of Aylmer street, as here outlined, is the fact that it would the large suburban section lying south of Lake street and west to the Monaghan road, and would have a location better adapted to serve with efficiency and economy the needs of that growing part of the town, than can, I think, be claimed for the Lock street sewer.

It is evident to anyone who looks over the plan, that if placed on Lock street, the outfall sewer will have but little work to do from the east side of it. It will be seen that if this course be carried out, the outfall, for a distance of close on 700 feet, south from Lake street, will have nothing to do from the east side—this portion being bordered on by the Little Lake—and for the remainder of the distance to the river, there is but a comparatively small area at the same side that would call for service.

The question of securing the right-of-way through the park lots south of Lake street I have not touched upon, but should there be any difficulty in the way, the line of Park street could be utilized with advantage next to that possessed by the Aylmer street extension.

By Park street the distance from Lake street to the river is precisely the same as from the foot of Aylmer, on Lake street, by the adopted route, the only difference being from the foot of Aylmer to Park street, about 660 feet.

Park street strikes the river at a point nearly 800 feet lower down than the extension of Aylmer would, and about 2400 feet below where Lock street strikes it. There are of course various other considerations that might, and no doubt will, from time to time, be taken into account in connection with a scheme of such vital importance to the future growth, prosperity and well-being of the people, and so well calculated to make the town of Peterborough an attractive, clean and healthy place to live in.

Yours etc.,

IMPERIAL BAKING POWDER

PUREST, STRONGEST, BEST.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Youker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Bussell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

THE PRINCE AT THE BATHTUB

Prince Michael and His "Angels" Too Careless About Their Ablutions.

DETROIT, Mich., March 22.—The followers of the new latter house of Israel, with Prince Michael at their head, still continue to furnish their daily quota of sensations. The latest is the accusation of decollect conduct made against them.

There are windows in Prince Michael's heaven, windows without curtains and blinds, and it is not a difficult task to witness the proceedings within the sacred dwelling from the street or neighboring houses.

Michael and his angels are chief offenders. Residents in Smith-avenue have the bathroom of the heaven in full view and they assert that the Prince assumes the role of knight of the bath when the angels are performing their ablutions.

So immodest was the spectacle that the Prince was requested to put up screens by the indignant neighbors. He complied to the extent of pasting white paper on the windows, and now evenings the exhibitions are like silhouettes. The neighbors contemplate complaining against Michael on the ground of indecent exposure.

REBATE ON CANAL TOLLS.

The Government Not Liable for Goods Stolen From Its Warehouses.

OTTAWA, March 22.—In the Exchequer Court yesterday Justice Burbidge gave judgment in the case of the Queen v. the Ogdensburg Transit Company in behalf of the crown for $5347, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent. from Dec. 8, 1890. This was a case for damages against the steamer Haskell, which on July 29, 1889, ran into the head gates of lock 16 on the Welland Canal.

A decision of some importance to the traveling public was given in the Exchequer Court yesterday. Sarah Dickenson sued the Government for certain goods, glacier diamonds, said to be stolen from the examining warehouse at Montreal. The damages claimed were $465. It was said the goods were stolen from the box in which they were shipped from London. The court held that the goods were not stolen while at Montreal, and even if they had been the Crown was not liable. Judgment was therefore given for the Crown with costs.

A Some Knock-Down Blow.

The whale blows water while at play,
Tree- blow in every clime;
The sweetest flowers blow in May.
But wind blows all the time.

There's lots of blowing in this world. Sufferers from catarrh blow their noses, and quacks blow about their "cures." Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is the only infallible one. Its proprietors back up this claim by offering $500 for every case they fail to cure permanently. This is an unanswerable blow at humbuggery coming from men of sterling reputation and ample capital. Nasal catarrh cannot resist the potency of this remedy. It stops discharges, leaving the senses acute, the head clear and the breath normal. Of all druggists, 50 cents. c

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

$40 FOR A WIFE.

Saw a Chance to Double His Money and So Disposed of the Woman.

BUFFALO, March 22.—James Cragi, an Italian, is suing S. Forzillos to recover $40 alleged to be due owing to breach of contract to supply a wife. His story is that Caroline Complani, aged 18, came here last March from Italy, and Forzillos, who is a relative of her father, told Cragi that he could marry the girl for $40, which Cragi duly deposited in Forzillos hands.

After the girl arrived, however, Forzillos, who saw a chance to double his money, sold his relative to Charles C. Ross, a young American, who also gave him $40 and married his purchase.

THE WORLD'S END.

It Will Be Along in About Seven Years, Totten Says.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., March 21.—Lieutenant C. A. L. Totten, professor of military science in Yale College, is again making biblical calculations to prove that the final round-up of things earthy and earthly will take place in 1899. He says seven lines of calculations lead down to the same year. In the year 2000 the millennium will begin, he says, by the ascension to heaven of 144,000 Christians. July 4, of the present year, Totten will go down to Atlanta, Ga., to join his regiment, his three years' teaching term expiring at that time. He says people regard him as a crank, but they don't know him.

Hamilton's Mayor Not Dead.

HAMILTON, March 22.—There was great excitement in town Monday and yesterday over a rumor that was started nobody knows how, and which flew like the wind. The rumor was that Mayor Blaicher was dead, having died on the voyage from New York to Nassau. There was no foundation for the report whatever.

It is not the extremes of heat and cold so much as the sudden changes in temperature that cause certain climates to be unhealthful. When, however, the system is invigorated with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, these changes are rarely attended with injurious results.

For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

"German Syrup"

A Cough and Croup Medicine. For children a medicine should be absolutely reliable. A mother must be able to pin her faith to it as to her Bible. It must contain nothing violent, uncertain, or dangerous. It must be standard in material and manufacture. It must be plain and simple to administer; easy and pleasant to take. The child must like it. It must be prompt in action, giving immediate relief, as childrens' troubles come quick, grow fast, and end fatally or otherwise in a very short time. It must not only relieve quick but bring them around quick, as children chafe and fret and spoil their constitutions under long confinement. It must do its work in moderate doses. A large quantity of medicine in a child is not desirable. It must not interfere with the child's spirits, appetite or general health. These things suit old as well as young folks, and make Boschee's German Syrup the favorite family medicine. 6

Mrs. Osborne to Be Released in Time For Her Accouchement.

LONDON, March 21.—It is stated on good authority that Mrs. Osborne, who is serving a nine months' sentence for perjury in connection with the famous "pearl case," will be released before the end of May on the prison physician's certificate that further confinement will endanger her life. Her friends say she will be released in time to allow her child to be born outside of prison walls.

The Emperor Summonses Von Caprivi.

BERLIN, March 21.—Emperor William has summoned Chancellor Von Caprivi to come to him at Hubertustock.

A calmer view of the Ministerial situation prevails everywhere in Berlin. It is positively known that Chancellor Von Caprivi has not resigned and that the retirement of Count Von Zedlitz, the Prussian Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs, Instruction and Medicinal Affairs, is still undecided. It depends on the result of Emperor William's deliberations in the solitude of Hubertustock. Now that the nature of the crisis is better understood, it is seen that at no time had it been of the suddenly momentous character that rumor gave to it.

Peculiar Facts Attending a Suicide.

VIENNA, March 21.—A singular casualty attended the suicide of an artillery man in the barracks here to-day. The man shot himself with a Werndl rifle. The fatal bullet, after passing through the suicide's breast, plowed through the head of a second soldier standing near, killing him, and then imbedded itself in the arm of a third soldier, inflicting a serious injury.

Everybody is Going

To spend an evening with the Oddfellows Friday, March 25th, at Bradburn's Opera House, at 7 30 p.m. The 57th Battalion Band and the Canton guarded by a company of Roman soldiers will march up George street from the Opera House to Hunter street and return. They will go through their movements while on the march at 8 o'clock sharp. The Opera House will be filled by a intelligent audience to witness the beautiful tableaux and the drill by the Oriental Brigade, and listen to the singing, while those who are disposed to laugh will be given an opportunity when the comical initiation is on. All the costumes have arrived and will be shown to the best advantage. Secure your seats at Greatrex's drug store, where you may also get tickets. Tickets 25 cents. Reserved seats 50 cents.

Another Furious Runaway.

A furious runaway occurred last evening about six o'clock. A team of horses belonging to Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald, coal and wood dealer, near the G.T.R. depot started to run away on Charlotte street. The team was being driven by a boy who was returning to the yard after delivering a load of wood. One of the traces became unhooked and the waggon ran against the horses legs. This caused the animals to spring forward with a lunge. The tongue of the waggon which was broken, was forced in the ground several inches. The animals being free now ran up Stewart street to Simcoe and down Simcoe where they turned the corner of Water and Simcoe on the gallop. Mr. T. J. Mitchell's, Ashburnham, was watering his horses at the drinking fountain and the runaways rounding the corner at such a speed and not being able to check themselves in the short space given they took the precaution of jumping in order to clear the obstacle. One horse jumped over Mr. Mitchells team, while the other cleared the drinking fountain at a bound. No damage was done save that the harness on the runaway's was torn into shreds. Mr. Thos. Henderson caught the horses on the market square. No one was hurt.

The Second Coming.

Conspicuous placards on the streets indicate that there will be addresses delivered in the Opera House on Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 28th and 29th. Mr. Wood and others will give the addresses. A western exchange says:—"From their liberality in advertising, and considering the fact that they do not ask an admission fee, the Union must think there is no ordinary evangelist address, but as they advertise, a solemn testimony to Christian people. On questioning one of the gentlemen he said 'that the message they have for the people is of grave importance to all Christians, quite as much so as was Noah's to the people of his day, or of John the Baptist's to the Jews. Christian people generally are troubling themselves very little about the coming of the Lord, and, as a body of people, are as unprepared for that event as were the Jews to receive Him at His first coming.' They say the Lord has begun a work in these days which has been going on quietly for fifty years, yet which no bishop of the church could plead ignorance of, a work which, when its present phase was finished, would yet resound throughout the length and breadth of Christendom; but as that time will be a time of trouble such as never was brought on by the evil state of Christendom, the Lord sends his messengers to call His people to repentance, and to make known to them the way of escape from the judgments, which will surely come upon an unrepentant church which has departed from the ways of the Living God."

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

THE PROPOSED SEWERAGE PLAN.

On another page of this issue will be found a letter on the above subject which is worthy of careful perusal. Mr. Fitzgerald deals with the subject from the view-point of the town's interests, and without a desire of being captiously critical. The subject of sewerage for the town is an important one, and it is equally important that a right start should be made. Therefore a full discussion of the subject is called for. The suggestions of the letter referred to as alternative to the plan for the outlet sewer proposed by Mr. MacDougall are worthy of consideration. No scheme of human devising is perfect and discussion of the proposed scheme will tend to discover any weak points it may contain, and to secure that "safety" which is said to exist in "the multitude of counsel." The point to be aimed at is not the justification of an engineer's skill, but the securing of the best possible system of sewerage for the town.

The C.P.R. Strike Ended.

(Special to the Examiner.)

WINNIPEG, March 23.—The strike has been declared off. The men are returning to work.

Hockey Match.

The All-Comers Defeat the Bankers in a Match at the Rink Last Night by One Goal to None.

A "scratch" hockey match took place at the Charlotte street rink last night between teams composed of the bankers of the town and all comers, or other members of the hockey club than the bankers. The following are the names of the players:—

BANKERS.		ALL COMERS.
Morgan	goal	Connal
Crofton	point	Sawers
Jellett	cover point	Dunsford
Stinson	forwards	Pharis
Merrick		Gemmell
W Bradburn		R Bradburn
Montgomery		Dumble
Referee		Mr B Boucher
Umpires		W Metherall and R A Cockburn

The match began at nine o'clock and lasted one hour. The struggle was a gentlemanly and friendly one throughout. No fouls were made or body checking done and very little offside playing was made. Both sides played a rattling good game and the struggle passed off without a single hitch or break. One feature noticeable about the game was the very fast playing that was done on both sides. In the first half neither side scored. Puck hovered here and there, now into suggestive nearness to the all-comers' goal and now it made a bee line for bankers territory. In the second half after ten minutes of keen and exciting play Phelan made a slow shot from the centre, the puck glided through the mass of sticks reached out to check it and striking goal keeper Morgan's stick it glanced between the uprights. This was victory for the all-comers and their cheers rent the air. The remainder of the game availed nothing for either side. As goal keepers Morgan and Connal were "stars;" they deserve much credit. Stinson, although a new man, played a "corkin" game for the bankers. The forward work of W. Bradburn and Montgomery was, as usual, first class. For the all-comers, Dumble and Phelan did the work, if a particularisation is at all allowed. Their magnificent pause and clever forward work won the game for their side. The struggle was for the oysters, and after the fun was ended an adjournment was made to "Billy" Bowman's restaurant where the bankers, as one would naturally conclude anyway, deposited the funds for the oysters. A rollicking time was indulged in until nearly midnight. Jokes, songs and laughter flew fast and thick. Songs were contributed by Messrs. Walter Phelan, W. Bradburn and Ley Dunsford. "Thus endeth the reading of this chapter."

The Verdict Rendered.

The following is the verdict which the jury returned in the Shepherd inquest:—"That the said Mrs. Margaret Shepherd came to her death by the taking of carbolic acid on or about 12 o'clock noon on Sunday, March 20th, 1892."—J. J. TURNER, foreman.

Another Painful Accident.

Mr. Jas. Curran is lying at the C. P. R hotel suffering from internal injuries caused by his falling and a log rolling on him. Mr. Curran has been working in the shanties near Apsley all winter. He met with the accident a couple of days ago and was brought to town last night.

St. John's Broken Bell.

At the close of the lecture in St. John's Church to-night there will be a meeting of the congregation of St. Johns, and of any citizens who may wish to attend to take into consideration the replacing of the bell, which was cracked Sunday. In any event the old bell will be shipped back to the foundry to be recast. There is a feeling in favour of placing a chime of bells in the tower.

Wabash Line.

A man going west should remember the great Wabash Route is the banner route to all south and south-west points. They run the finest equipped trains on earth. The only railroad using the palace reclining chair cars (free) from Detroit to St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha. All trains go through the great tunnel at St. Louis. The Father Mathew Remedy.

HOW IT WORKS.

From the very first dose a feeling of [illegible] the use of this.

It never takes more than three or four bottles to works a complete change in the former condition of the stomach, and to create a strong appetite for regular and substantial food, with the ability of properly digesting the same.

Nervousness and sleeplessness have also disappeared.

While the system is thus being built up again with its natural materials, while the natural stimulant is thus being restored to the circulation, the desire for liquor or artificial stimulant gradually decreases in the same proportion, and after an average of three weeks' faithful use of the Antidote the system can do without liquor or artificial stimulants, and does no longer call for them; the patient is cured. He was a slave to disease; he is now again his own master, in good health.

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents per package. dw

Some symptoms of worms are:—Fever, colic, variable appetite, restlessness, weakness and convulsions. The unfailing remedy is Dr. Low's Worm Syrup. dw

Curling Jottings.

Point Games at the Rink and Other Notes on the Roarin' Game—The Season Nearing Its Close.

The fun among the curlers still goes on at the skating rink. Last night sixteen members played for the Club Cup. The cup has been competed for during the past ten years and no curler has succeeded in winning it three times yet. Mr. T. Rutherford is the nearest of any man to possessing it. He has won it two seasons.

Last night Mr. G. Fitzgerald was the fortunate winner. The curlers shot up one rink and down the other. The highest score made was 72 by G. Fitzgerald. It was out of a possible 72 points (9 ends and 8 points each.) Following are the players and the scores made on the point game last night.

G. Fitzgerald	72 points
Geo. Brown	68 "
Sam Ray	65 "
E. Rutherford	65 "
W. Bellaisy	65 "
W. G. Ferguson	63 "

On Monday evening seventeen members competed for Vice-President Dumble's medal in the point game; a great deal of interest was manifested in the result. A. Blade won the trophy by making 40 points, three points ahead of any of his opponents. Yesterday afternoon four or five junior curlers who did not enter on the night previous played, but their results were low and did not affect the score made the night previous.

Following are the players and the number of points scored by each:

A. Blade	40 points

NOTES.

A quartette of the Whitby's played skip Flavelle's champion Tankard Winnipeg rink at Lindsay last evening. They were defeated by no less than 19 shots.

Two rinks from Whitby played two Lindsay rinks on Monday. They suffered defeat by 12 shots.

Skip John D. Flavelle's Champion Tankard Winnipeg rink will be here to-night to play the return match with the Peterborough quartette. The struggle will be for a barrel of flour to be donated by the loosing rink to some charitable institution. Following are the names of the players:—

Peterborough.	Lindsay.
R S Davidson,	W H Simpson,
C McGill,	J M McLennan,
Sam Ray,	J A McMillan,
T Rutherford, (skip.)	J D Flavelle, (skip.)

The two Tankard rinks, skips T. Rutherford and W. G. Ferguson, are to play off for the medal, which they completely won at Toronto, to-morrow night.

Sara Lord Bailey.

Appears at the Opera House Last Night—A Large Attendance and a Most Enjoyable Evening Spent.

Mrs. Sara Lord Bailey, the charming young elocutionist from Boston, appeared at the opera house last evening. A large attendance completely filling all the available space in the house, greeted her first visit to Peterborough. The fame and high reputation of her enjoyable entertainments which had preceded her were fully sustained and established by the meritorious productions of last night. Mrs. Bailey gave some eight selections from her large repertoire and although she condescended to respond to several encores, still her listeners never seemed to weary. Mrs. Bailey has a full, resonant and well cultivated voice and her winsome smile and graceful manner completely captivated the select and cultured audience of last evening. She appears to excellent advantage in such deep tragic and dramatic productions as her "Life for a Life," "The Chariot Race" (from Gen. Wallace's Ben Hur.) In her light, airy selections interspersed with a liberal amount of humour and wit, such as "Reggies go to a Dinner Party," "How Ladies Fish" and "The Experience of a Gemina," she carried her hearers in spasm after spasm of hearty and roystering laughter. Some of Peterborough's best musical talent assisted in the fine entertainment of last evening The opening selection of the evening's programme by Miss Nellie Wrighton and Mr. Fred Clarke, in a piano duet, was exceedingly good and was a fitting preface to what followed. Then the rich, sweet clear soprano of Miss Annie Fawcett never appeared to better advantage than in "Old and young Marie." In response to a rapturous encore she sang "O Madeila, Farewell," very effectively. Miss Sophie Cameron graced the evening in "A Midsummer Night's Dream," and was accorded many plaudits. On her second appearance she favoured the audience with a rare Scotch song in excellent voice.

The evening's programme was brought to a reluctant close at ten o'clock. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y M C A., under whose auspices the entertainment was given, are to be congratulated upon the success and the house of last night. The finances of the Association will be liberally swelled from their successful venture in bringing Sara Lord Bailey to Peterborough.

ON FIRE WITH ECZEMA

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 6 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense, the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitiable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors, was falsely tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use CUTICURA for every Baby Humor.

MRS. M. FERGUSON, 26 W. Brookline st., Boston.

Cuticura Remedies

The greatest skin cures, blood purifiers, and beauty remedies of modern times, instantly relieve the most agonizing forms of eczema and psoriasis, and speedily, permanently, economically, and infallibly cure every species of torturing, disfiguring, itching, burning, bleeding, scaly, crusted, and pimply diseases and humours of the skin, scalp, and blood, with loss of hair, from infancy to age, whether simple, scrofulous, or hereditary, when all other methods and best physicians fail.

Sold everywhere. Price, CUTICURA, 75c.; SOAP, 35c.; RESOLVENT, $1.25 Prepared by the POTTER DRUG AND CHEMICAL CORPORATION, BOSTON.

Send for "How to Cure Skin Diseases," 64 pages, 50 illustrations, and 100 testimonials.

Off for the Nor' West.

Another Large Contingent Leave Yesterday for the Prairie Provinces.

Still the exodus of farmers and their sons to the Canadian Northwest and Manitoba continues. Some thirty persons left yesterday from Peterborough and vicinity via C.P.R. to their distant future homes and yet there are others to follow. The tide of immigration still sweeps on and carries along with it each year many of the brawn and muscle of Peterborough and other adjoining counties. These go out to develop and establish the interest, resources and welfare of the West. Mr. Thomas Frank returned yesterday to Moosejaw. Mr. Frank has been living out west some ten years. He took with him a carload of eighteen horses. Mr. N. Stewart, Otonabee, also left yesterday for Almada. He took with him a carload of cooters' effects and ten horses.

Messrs. Newton and Joseph Stewart have gone to Manitoba with a car load of ten horses.

Mr. Robert Calvert, Emmerson, and his two sons, John and Hector, departed on Tuesday for Carberry, taking with them two carload of effects, some horses and some cattle.

Mr. Ed. Emmerson, of Otonabee, goes to Ox Bow. He occupies two cars with settler's effects, and takes six horses and some cows and hogs. His two sons, George and Burt, accompany him.

Mr. Angus Davidson went yesterday for Souris, taking along a carload of effects and six horses. Among others who left yesterday and last night, Messrs. Charlotte Graham, Geo. McWilliams, Geo. Bennets, Mr. Stewart, John Rose and Thos. Litheo. Some of these are going to Deloraine and others to Bonnevain. May they all be successful amid new scenes.

The Good Derived from

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

All Run Down With Dyspepsia

The peculiar combination of stomach tonics and alterative remedies in Hood's Sarsaparilla cannot be equalled, and this superiority explains the wonderful success of in cases of Dyspepsia, Indigestion and similar troubles. Mr. T. A. Wheelock, a well known citizen of Burlington, Vt., writes:

"Six months ago I was badly run down and unable to attend to business. The principal trouble seemed to be due to indigestion and aggravated dyspepsia. I had no appetite,

Nothing Tasted Good

and what I did eat distressed me. Added to this was a nervous disturbance. Physicians that I employed failed to reach my case. I grew worse, lost flesh and almost hope. One day I ran across a testimonial for Hood's Sarsaparilla stating what it had done in what seemed to be a case similar to mine. I got a bottle and in three or four days saw that I felt better. Before I had finished the first bottle, was greatly improved. Rested better, felt better, and knew I was

Better All Over

I continued with the medicine, and have taken two bottles and now feel better than at any time for the past five years. Feel as hearty as when a boy. Have regained my flesh, have good appetite, can sleep well, and my nerves are in excellent condition. I would not value a thousand dollars for what it did for me." T. A. WHEELOCK, Burlington, Vt.

Fully Indorsed

"We have sold Mr. T. A. Wheelock several bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and have heard him tell in high terms of commendation what it has done for him. I know that he has recommended to many others here. Our customers generally speak well of it." F. L. TAFT & Co., Pharmacists, Burlington, Vt.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

THE STRIKE AT AN END.

NO FURTHER TROUBLE ON THE C. P. R.

The Mediation of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers Results in the Termination of What Promised to Prove One of the Most Disastrous Strikes on Record.

WINNIPEG, March 24.—The Canadian Pacific strike was settled here yesterday, the reconciliation being brought about by a delegation of the company's locomotive engineers, who for two or three days have been endeavoring to restore peace.

The terms of settlement agreed upon are these:

All men who have been discharged and who have gone on strike, also any employe who has been discharged for refusing to take the place of any striker, or who has voted to strike, to be reinstated without prejudice.

If it can be shown to the committee of engineers who have mediated between the company and the trainmen that any of the strikers committed an assault upon any official of the road he to be dismissed. This to apply to the Pacific and Eastern divisions as well as the Western division.

A committee of five engineers, namely: A. Kennedy, W. J. Watson, A. Broatch, J. Brownlee and C. Pope, to settle the points on which the trainmen and the company differed.

That the arrangement between the general superintendent of the Pacific division of the trainmen that the rates on the Western are to be taken as those on the Pacific division is to be carried out unless in the meantime the trainmen and the general superintendent of the Pacific Division have already settled the matter.

Throughout the strike the engineers have been endeavoring to act as peacemakers and to bring about the satisfactory and honorable settlement from the inauguration of the strike they have never wavered in their loyalty to the company, but have worked diligently to bring about an amicable and satisfactory settlement

This is probalby the first case of a railroad strike settled in such a manner, and the terms of settlement indicate in what high esteem both parties hold the engineers.

To-night trains departed with regular conductors and train crews, and everything is now running smoothly.

Both sides are willing to await the decision of the engineers, having full confidance in their fairness.

Great satisfaction is generally expressed at the happy and early settlement of the difficulty.

Many expressions complimentary to the engineers are heard.

A Motion of Sympathy Voted Down.

WINNIPEG, Man., March 24.—At last night's regular session of the City Council Ald. Jamison introduced a motion of sympathy with the trainmen in their trouble with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, to the effect that "in consideration of the fact that railroading in the Northwest, especially in winter, is accomplished by great hardships, and the cost of living in the Northwest far exceeds the cost of living in the eastern provinces, this council heartily sympathizes with the trainmen in their efforts to obtain an equitable adjustment of their wages."

This motion, after a hot discussion, was voted down by a vote of 8 to 2.

At Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 24.—This despatch was received from Winnipeg at a late hour yesterday afternoon:

The difficulty between the C.P.R. and their trainmen has been settled to-day. All the men are to be reinstated, all points concerning wages and time referred to arbitration. This applies to the entire road. The executive officers of the strikers' union and Superintendent Whyte of the C.P.R. are authority for this statement.

Nothing beyond this is known here. The delegates, Messrs. Wilkins and Morrisey, were seen to-night and they said that the strike was not settled, but that negotiations were now on foot which would probably end satisfactorily. They went so far as to say that last night the locomotive engineers who had remained loyal to the company waited on Mr. Whyte, superintendent of the Western Division, and offered to act as arbitrators between the company and the strikers, in order to bring about an arrangement satisfactory to both; that Mr. VanHorne was told of the offer and it was accepted, the men in the meantime returning to work.

The news from the Maritime Provinces is entirely favorable to the company. A despatch from St. John, N.B., says: So far as can be learned here no grievance exists over these various branches, and should the strike spread this way it will be due to the efforts of the Maritime men to compel the company to meet the demands of the western men by striking.

Mr. Pridham's Majority 22.

STRATFORD, March 24.—The recount in the South Perth election came up before His Honor Judge Woods yesterday and was continued this morning. The result gave Mr. Pridham, the Conservative candidate, a majority of 22.

Where is McGinnis?

BELLEVILLE, March 24.—The grand jury at the assizes to-day returned a true bill for murder against James McGinnis, jr., who is out of the country.

Man and Boy Drowned.

TULLAHOMA, Tenn., March 24.—A Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis train to-day threw J. W Alliston and his two children, Charles and Bessie, into Garrison River from a bridge. The girl was rescued some distance down the stream, but the man and boy were drowned.

Rev. Dr. Jacques Dead.

ABINGDON, Ill., March 24.—Rev. Jabez B. Jacques, D.D., Ph. D, LL.D., vice-president of Heading College, is dead. He was formerly president of Albert University at Belleville, Canada.

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

THE DEBATE ON THE BUDGET CONTINUED.

The Welland Election Matter Again Brought Up in the House—The New Chief Liberal Whip—The Members to Take a Holiday.

OTTAWA, March 24.—The church holydays are for Parliament what the visit of the trustees is for the scholars in the way-back schools. Friday being Annunciation Day, Sir John Thompson moved an adjournment from Thursday till Monday.

Col. Tisdale, the member for South Norfolk, introduced Welland election matters as a question of privilege. He stated as the facts in the case that an instance of corruption by an agent had been established. On this case Mr. German was unseated. His counsel intimated to the court that his client would not appeal against the judgment of the court. Then charges of personal corruption were entered upon with the result that the member was disqualified. Against this he is appealing to the Supreme Court. As there was no appeal against the judgment unseating Mr. German, Col. Tisdale held the seat was vacant and he moved that the Speaker issue his warrant for an election.

Mr. Laurier objected to this summary way of dealing with so important a subject. The member whose seat was affected should be notified.

Sir John Thompson agreed with the Opposition leader, and the matter stands.

The New Member for Queen's.

The House then entered on the order paper, and while Mr. Brodeur was firing French queries at Sir Adolphe Caron George F. Baird of Queen's, N.B., came into the chamber. It was his first appearance since the general election.

It is not often that Mr. Laurier is heard in his mother tongue, but he took part in the little debate on Mr. Brodeur's motion for correspondence, before mentioned. His compatriots pricked up their ears and seemed to listen to him with interest.

The P.E.I. Tunnel.

Mr. Perry, the abbreviated, grizzly-bearded representative from Prince Edward Island, filled up the rest of the afternoon with a discussion of the tunnel scheme and related the way the tight little island had been bunconed by the Dominion. He was going when the House rose.

When it reassembled after dinner Mr. Flint moved the second reading of his bill amending the Canada Temperance Act. The changes are slight and the bill received its second reading.

The Budget Debate.

This brought the House with a rush back to the debate on the Budget Speech.

Mr. Bennett, the slight young lawyer from East Simcoe, resumed the debate from the Government side.

He was succeeded by Mr. McMullen.

Mr. Samuel Hughes, the member for North Victoria, took up the parable.

Mr. Semple adjourned the debate.

Dr. Landerkin is anxious to know if the Department of Customs charged duty to the amount of $52 on a Union Jack sent by the Duke of Connaught as a prize to a corps of the Montreal cadets, and has put a query on the order paper.

Notes.

A delegation from Toronto, Guelph and other places is in the city asking for a reduction on crude oil used in the manufacture of gas, as the supply in the Dominion is not equal to the demand. They had an interview with Messrs. Bowell and Foster, who promised them to consider the matter.

The Manitoba and Northwest members waited on Premier Abbott to-day and asked that an additional draft be made in the supplementary estimates for immigration purposes.

At a caucus of the Liberal party this morning Mr. James Sutherland, M.P. for Oxford, was appointed chief whip of the party in the place of Mr. James Trow, who is not now in Parliament.

The Printers' Home.

WASHINGTON, March 24.—Senator Gallinger of New Hampshire has accepted an invitation to deliver the dedicatory address at the Childs-Drexel Home for Printers, at Colorado Springs, on May 12. This is the institution founded by George W. Childs, and aid of which all the printers in the United States contribute on a certain day each year the price of a thousand ems. Senator Gallinger was a printer in early life, and naturally feels complimented at being called upon to participate so prominently in an event which is to be historical. May 12, it might be added, is the anniversary of Mr. Child's birth.

Riot of Starving Peasants.

BUDAPESTH, March 24.—A serious riot is reported in Orecho, where the peasants have for some time been in receipt of public relief. The inhabitants have complained for some time past that the distribution of bread was not fairly conducted. Finally they broke out in revolt against the officials and besieged the burgomaster's house. They smeared the house with tar and set it on fire, and drove back the frantic inmates when they endeavored to escape. Fortunately a number of farmers, who heard of the uprising, gathered to the rescue, and after a desperate struggle drove off the besiegers, saving the lives of the burgomaster and his family.

Guarding the Queen.

UTERES, March 24.—A stringent guard is kept about the Hotel Costebelle, two miles from this place, where the Queen of England is sojourning. It is impossible for anyone not authorized to approach the hotel from any direction. A ludicrous incident occurred yesterday owing to the closeness with which the place is guarded. The Duke of Connaught, the Queen's third son, was approaching the hotel when he was called to halt and refused admittance by the guards. The latter did not recognize the Duke, and when the latter persisted in his intention to visit the Queen, they threatened to arrest him. Maters were becoming decidedly interesting when the Duke bethought himself of informing the guards who he was. Amid profuse apologies he was allowed to pass

17 Passengers Injured.

CINCINNATI, March 24.—While the Ohio & Mississippi train from St. Louis, due here this morning, was crossing the Illinois Central track at Odin, Ill., a freight on that road tore through it, carrying away the day coach and the front of the sleeper. There were 17 passengers in the day coach, all of whom were injured. It was at first thought some were fatally hurt, but investigation showed that all would recover.

THE HESLOP MURDER.

A VERDICT WILL BE REACHED THIS EVENING.

Very Little Evidence Offered By the Crown in Rebuttal—Counsel For the Defence Occupied Nearly all Day Yesterday Addressing the Jury.

HAMILTON, March 24.—Very little evidence was called in the rebuttal by the Crown at the Heslop trial yesterday.

It will be remembered that Emily Tobico, a relative of Douglas', swore that she saw him at Lewiston between Feb. 9 and 16, 1891, but Dr. Macdonald of Hagersville swore this morning that at that time she was under his care.

Alphus Hewitt of Lewiston swore that George Douglas was not at his wife's funeral on the Thursday after the murder, in direct rebuttal of many Indians who claim to have seen him acting as a pallbearer on that occasion.

John Pembleton of Lewiston swore that Douglas was not at Mary Patterson's funeral.

Samuel Goosey was recalled to contradict the story told by Isaac Douglas as to what transpired at a visit made by Douglas to the witness while the latter was in jail.

Detective Tom Young, Detective Greer, Chief Frank Miller of Niagara Falls, Samuel Adams, a Brantford constable, and Andy Horn, town constable of Lewiston, were called to prove that prisoners when arrested told an altogether different story to account for their whereabouts on the day of the murder.

This closed the case and the addresses of counsel for the defence followed.

Mr. Nesbitt spoke for three hours and Mr. Heyd was still continuing his address when the court adjourned.

The case will be given to the jury to-morrow.

BEHRING SEA.

Still Discussing the Reply of Lord Salisbury at Washington.

WASHINGTON, March 24—In the Senate yesterday Uncle Sam showed his teeth. After all the Behring Sea correspondence had been referred to committee it was found that the President, in reply to Lord Salisbury's latest despatch, plainly told John Bull that "if the British Government declines to assist in the protection of the seals during the arbitration of the claims of the United States he will proceed to enforce the law and exclude poachers from Behring Sea if the military force of the United States is required to accomplish it." The note created a sensation in the Senate.

Lord Salisbury does not in his note refuse to enter into a modus vivendi of some kind; he does not flatly refuse to be a party to some arrangement, but diplomatically speaking, he "fails to consent" to the proposition made by this Government. Inasmuch as the Senate has refused to make the correspondence public it is exceedingly difficult to get a clear statement of the exact idea intended to be conveyed in the diplomatic language of such correspondence as that laid before the Senate to-day, but undoubtedly the impression generally conveyed by the reading was that Lord Salisbury has refused to renew the arrangement of last year.

POISON IN THE VEIL.

Mrs. Cousins' Death Directly Traceable to Her Face Covering.

ST. THOMAS, March 24.—Mrs. Hugh Cousins, wife of Hugh Cousins, a mail clerk on the M.C.R., died suddenly yesterday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Mrs. Cousins had been troubled with a sore lip. A week ago Sunday she attended church as usual, but on Wednesday her face became swollen and caused her severe pain. The swelling extended to other parts of her body and she was finally obliged to go to bed. Medical aid was called in, but no serious results were anticipated. Her husband went out on his regular trip yesterday morning thinking she was better and did not get back till after her death. Mrs. Cousins wore a red veil to church and the doctor thinks the dye from this entered the sore on her lip and blood poisoning resulted. Mr. Cousins runs between Windsor and London.

Bells of St. Boniface.

WINNIPEG, March 24.—John G. Whittier has written a letter to Archbishop Taché thanking him for ringing the bells of St. Boniface, referred to in Whittier's poem, "Red River Voyageur," on the poet's birthday recently. "I have," writes the poet, "reached an age when literary success and manifestations of popular favor have ceased to satisfy one upon whom the solemnity of life's sunset is resting, but such a delicate and beautiful tribute has deeply moved me. I shall never forget it. I shall hear the bells o St. Boniface sounding across the continfent awakening a feeling of gratitude for thy generous act."

Where Eloquence Paid.

LONDON, March 24.—Alfred R. Sturge was convicted of forging a check before Judge Davis yesterday. His speech to the court in the plea for mercy showed him to be clever and well educated.

The Judge admitted the force of Sturge's argument and gave him the short sentence of three months in jail. He has already been confined for a month. The prisoner is said to be the son of a Baptist minister in the Old Country.

Died to See His Name Printed.

NEW YORK, March 24.—"You'll see my name in the paper to-morrow!" shrieked Henry Jacobson, No. 133 Suffolk-street, as his sweetheart, whom he was anxious to marry, fled upstairs. Then he went home, cut his throat, dipped his finger in the blood and wrote "Dora" on the table and died.

Bridal and Death Bed.

LIMA, Ohio, March 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stewart of Millersburg, Ohio, stopped at the Buchtel Hotel on their bridal tour last night. They blew the gas out and this morning were found in bed asphyxiated.

Tired of Life at 93.

STUART, Iowa, March 24.—Daniel Potter, a wealthy farmer of Waucoma, aged 93, died yesterday of starvation. Five weeks ago he declared he would never eat anything more and carried out his threat.

Lakefield.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Court Lakefield, No. 43, C.O.F. meet on Thursday night, initiation.

Quite a number of wild geese have been seen flying north.

The funeral of the late T. Hetherington, Smith, on Monday, was largely attended, over 100 carriages being in the procession.

Mr. W. A. Sharpe, of Burleigh, formerly a well known Lakefield resident, was in the village Monday. He stands his 80 odd years well.

Mr. Willard Stone who was injured in the shooting match at Mount Julian Christmas, has returned home with a very serviceable arm.

The Crow family of Hiawatha held a concert in the town hall Monday evening. It was said to be very good but the attendance was very poor.

Miss Bella Graham, only daughter of R. Graham, merchant, left for Carberry, Manitoba, where she will take charge of music pupils, her musical abilities rendering her well fitted for such occupation. We wish Miss Bella every success in her new home, lots of pupils, money galore and a good looking husband.

Crouter, the butcher who departed last week, left behind a number of parties who would like to interview him. He not only left his rent unpaid, but left the house he occupied in a terrible condition.

Reeve Casement again left for Toronto on Tuesday to meet the Municipal Committee in regard to the bill now before them fixing the care of the Harvey bridges.

While a party of our village sports were out fox hunting the other day, they came across a woodchuck or ground hog up a small popular tree and shot it. Rather early to be out.

Mr. Wm. McKibbin, of Smith, has concluded that he has farmed long enough, so will move into the village and put on style. He begins by building a new house on Bridge street, Mr. Jas. Moore having the contract.

Mr. Dixon, formerly miller for Mr. McLean, and Mr. McCarger, formerly miller for Mr. Hull, have joined forces and leased the Lakefield mills, formerly operated by Donald McLean. The new firm are young pushing and understand their business, and should secure a share of the trade and make a name for their flour for exporting. We wish them success.

Mr. Doland McLean, has returned from his visit to the Nor'-West, and has decided to settle in Calgary, where he has received a free lot, a good bonus to erect his mill, and exemption from taxes for a term of years. While there he met our old friend, George B. Shields, who is ranching a few miles from Calgary and doing well; he also met John Raisbin, Jas. Horner, Richard Smith, Jas Davies and others—all content and prosperous. Mr. McLean will remove from here for good in about two weeks.

On Tuesday morning the Post Office Department forwarded the mail by the morning train, and in the future we will have two mails a day, morning and afternoon. The morning mail will close here at 9.05 and the afternoon at 3.30. The postal authorities should now turn their attention to the Apsley mail, and save the extra ten mile drive to town. The people in the back country would also receive their mail earlier, as the stage never gets here before 11 a. m. going north, while if it started from here it could leave at 9.15, on arrival of morning train, a difference of nearly two hours and ten miles of useless travel; while going south it could be timed to catch the 4 p. m. train.

Rev. Wm. Hallinshed,

Pastor of the Presbyterian church of Sparta, N.J., voluntarily writes strongly in favor of Hood's Sarsaparilla. He says: Nothing I know of will cleanse the blood, stimulate the liver or clean the stomach like this remedy. I know of scores and scores who have been helped or cured by it.

The highest praise has been won by Hood's Pills for their easy, yet efficient, action.

Keene.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

Several of our citizens drove to our sister village, Allendale, on Wednesday evening, the 16th inst, and shared in the enjoyments of a social hop, which was held in the town hall of that place under the auspices of the Patrons of Industry. If there is any virtue in dancing, I presume that a number of our young people will soon become very virtuous.

The glee club of this place are reported to be making rapid improvement in the art of music, under the leadership of Mr. Robert McCamus. They purpose to hold a concert in the near future, but I have not ascertained the fixed date. We trust that all lovers of choice music will patronize their concert.

The Sunday school lessons of the present quarter were reviewed in the Methodist church here on Sunday morning last by several of the pupils and teachers in a very efficient and profitable manner. It was certainly very gratifying to the superintendent and teachers that the pupils gave such prompt and correct answers to each question asked.

Mr. James McNeil had a large silver maple tree cut down and removed from the front of his residence last week on account of it being an injury to his verandah. Shade trees, although an ornament and shelter, should not be planted too near the house.

Football is becoming a favourite game with our school boys. They devote the greater part of their spare time to the game. We are pleased to see the boys so devoted to so amusing and harmless a recreation. A match between the young men of the village and the school boys was played on Friday afternoon. The school boys were the champions every time.

Young's Point.

(From Our Own Correspondent).

We regret to chronicle the death of Mr. Thos. Hetherington, of this locality, whose death occurred on Saturday last after a few days' illness. Deceased was a worthy and respected citizen, a kind husband and an indulgent father, and the bereaved wife and family have the entire sympathy of the community in the loss which they have sustained.

Mr. F. J. Young and wife have moved over to their new home on their farm near Selwyn. The good wishes of the community are heartily extended to them, that their wedded life may be long and happy.

The proposed sidewalk to be built through the village is making headway. The ground was measured last week by Wm. McFarlane and P. P. Young, jr., and as soon as the council appropriate the grant, its construction will be commenced.

Sugar makers are preparing for their spring harvest in the sugar bush. Judging from the supply of buckets, sap-pans, etc., that we notice passing through the village, a good run is expected.

Inspector Brown visited S. S. No. 8 on Thursday last.

For the cure of coughs, colds, and all derangements of the respiratory organs, no other medicine is so reliable as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It relieves the asthmatic and consumptive, even in advanced stages of disease, and has saved innumerable lives.

As a pick-me-up after excessive exertion or exposure, Milburn's Beef, Iron and Wine is grateful and comforting. dw

Mr. D. Lamb and family were plunged into sorrow by the visit of diphtheria to their quiet family. A young son succumbed to it on Friday last, and was buried the evening of the same day. We hope that the other member or members of Mr. Lamb's family who are suffering from this dreadful malady, will soon be restored to their usual health.

Mr. John Graham, Mr. Thos. Graham and family, Mr. Ed Howson, Mr. Steve Benson and a number of others, left for the North-west on Tuesday last.

We Should Change With the Season!

Purification, Cleansing and Recuperating.

Spring time with its changeful and variable weather is now with us. While nature is changing its garb and dress, and showing signs of a new life, men and women of all classes should at once begin to cast off the impurities which the system has imbibed during the winter months.

Over heated and badly ventilated houses argely contributed to the sick list. The demands of society, so steadily pursued in winter, necessitating late hours, and sudden changes in temperature have brought on serious ills and alarming diseases that always show up at this time.

The system needs purifying and cleansing; the nerves need bracing up, and the digestive organs require toning and strengthening. That horrid and miserable dyspepsia must be got rid of, the sallow cheek must be made to bloom with health—all these depressing ailments must be cured before men and women can enter into the enjoyment of spring and summer weather.

The great question now with many is, the kind of medicine that must be used to bring about desired results. There should be no hesitating on this score. Thousands of our wisest people have in past seasons decided this question. They have found that Paine's Celery Compound has no equal as a spring medicine. Its effects are always so satisfactory at this season, that physicians themselves prescribe and recommend it without hesitation.

Paine's Celery Compound guarantees a cure; no other remedy can honestly give such a promise, or warrant good and true results.

No Canadian home should be without a bottle of Celery Compound at that time, and all should know that very often the money expended on a single bottle is sufficient to do away with the expensive attendance of a physician.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, supposing me to be in consumption. As a last resort I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and, in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G. W. Younker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

"I have been treated by doctors, who had long lists of so-called cured patients, but they could not reach my case, and hope had been murdered in me by fair promises, but on first application of your magical appliance, hope and confidence came flocking in stronger than the combined powers of the four winds. I knew then that you would cure me, and now that I am a man and well again, I cannot thank you sufficiently for the cure. So again I say, use my name as reference whenever you wish. Iron Moulder's Ball.

The officers and members of the Iron Moulder's Union No. 191, Peterborough, intend giving their second annual ball in Bradburn's Opera House on Easter Monday, April 18th. Every effort will be put forth to make it a model terpsichorean success.

Missionary Sermons.

Special missionary sermons will be preached in the Charlotte street Methodist church on Sunday next by the Rev. John E. Starr, B.A., of Toronto. Mr. Starr is a former pastor of Charlotte street church. Rev. Mr. Edwards will fill Mr. Starr's pulpit in Toronto.

Wabash Line.

A man going west should remember the great Wabash Route is the banner route to all south and south-west points. They run the finest equipped trains on earth. The only railroad using the palace reclining chair cars (free) from Detroit to St. Louis, Kansas City and Omaha. All trains go through the great tunnel at St. Louis. Time tables and all information from your nearest ticket agent or J. A. Richardson, Canadian Passenger agent, 28 Adelaide street east, Toronto.

Rare and Ancient Curiosities.

James Nolan of Deseronto, has in his possession a clay pipe with iron cover and chain, and also an iron box for holding a flint, which his grandfather, Moses Nolan, brought from Ireland ninety years ago and which had been in constant use until his death. It is a wonder that such a fragile article should have been preserved for so long a period. Mr. Nolan has also two cakes of maple sugar, one 30 and the other 27 years old, the latter having been made on Feb. 11, 1865.

St. John's Church Bell.

The meeting held in St. John's school house last night was well attended. The result of the conference on the subject was in favour of re-casting the present bell. From a public point of view or, rather, of hearing, it is to be regretted that there is not a movement for placing a chime of bells in the tower of St. John's. Their cheery sounds would be a welcome reminder of time to many an old countryman, independently of whether he is a Churchman or not.

"A Stir in Crockery &c."

China Hall is holding a genuine clearing sale for the purpose of reducing and straightening up the stock before stocktaking. All the goods in the store are ticketed with red cards showing former and reduced prices, and anything damaged has a blue card saying "Damaged" and giving the prices; also among some of the lines to be closed out are 125 chamber sets from $3.00 to $3.50 per set to be cleared at $2.00 all round. The window will be filled with these in a few days. There are 300 only dinner and breakfast plates to be sold at 50c. per doz. all round, some worth $1.50 per doz, 100 doz tea cups and saucers slightly damaged at 60c per doz. &c. Other lines will be announced from day to day. Read the advertisement on eighth page of this issue.

To-morrow being the Festival of the Annunciation there will be the usual children's service in St. John's at a quarter past four.

Protecting the Physicians.

Mr. Stratton, in the Ontario Legislature yesterday, gave notice of motion of a bill to amend the Medical Act.

Early Closing.

On and after March 28th, the butcher's shops of the town will close every week-day evening at 7 o'clock; Saturdays at 10 o'clock The public will please govern themselves accordingly. 4d

Death of Rev. S. J. Sherey's Father.

A few days ago the EXAMINER quoted from a local paper the intelligence of the death near Napanee of the father of Rev. S. J. Sherey. The date was incorrectly given, it should have been Tuesday, March 15th, and not Friday, March 18th.

The County Deputation Home.

The deputation which left here on Tuesday for Toronto, returned home last evening. They met a deputation from Victoria county and discussed all their points and grievances, but came to no agreement. Both deputations in the evening met the Provincial Secretary and laid the matter before him. The matter will be brought up before the Committee of the House.

Making Fast Friends.

Our "G. C." brand of sugar cured hams, pork and fancy meats are taking like wild fire. Get some if you want an appetising meal. Also fresh tenderloin, spare ribs, pigs feet, shanks, leaf lard, etc. Three pounds of sausage for a quarter. Prices and goods bound to please. New customers flocking to us every day. GEORGE CARTON, Pork Packer and Family Grocer, corner of George and Charlotte streets.

The Second Coming.

The meetings to be held in Bradburn's Opera House, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, March 28th and 29th, will be addressed by only Mr. Word, an evangelist serving under "the Lord's restored Apostles," and not by others, as announced yesterday. The subject of his addresses are defined as "A solemn testimony concerning the immediate coming of our Lord Jesus Christ."

De Profundis.

Mr. Walter Stocker has received the cover of a letter addressed by himself to his mother at Rawdon, Yorkshire, which never reached its destination. It was with other mail matter on board the steamer "Elder," which was wrecked and went to the bottom last January. The letter with others was recovered from the depths of the sea by divers, and restored to the writer. It is stained with the salt water, and on the inner side of the envelope is a transfer of the writing on the face of the letter.

Methodist Ministers' Calls.

Rev. W. J. Crothers, Carleton Place, has received a call to Port Hope one of the largest Methodist churches, has accepted, subject to the approval of the Transfer Committee, Port Hope being in the Bay of Quinte Conference. The present pastor at Port Hope, Rev. N. E. Baker, has been invited to Belleville. Then Rev. Mr. Johnson, of Napanee, has been invited to Queen street, Kingston, in Montreal Conference. This would off set Mr. Crothers' transfer if all parties are agreed.

A Peterborough Boy's Business Ability.

Canadians when they go to the United States show that they have not only ability to hold their own with the native Yankee, but that their honesty and reliability give them preference in every department of business. The St. Paul Daily Globe contains a long article relating to the formation of the Columbia Iron Company, which states that Mr. Geo. S. Ostrom, a Peterborough boy, and brother of Mr. M. T. Ostrom, town, has had charge of the organization of the new company, of which he is secretary-treasurer. Mr. Ostrom has had charge of the interest of Reid, Murdock & Co., wholesale grocers, of Chicago, in the North West, for the past thirteen years. Speaking of Mr. Ostrom's connection with the new company the Globe says:—"Mr Ostrom will be custodian of the records and accounts of the company, as well as of the funds of the institution, as secretary and treasurer, and, as he is endowed with a very pleasing manner of receiving and entertaining all who come in his way, the patrons and friends of the Columbia Iron Company will always receive the very best of treatment at his hands."

Cure for A Constipation and Headache

Dr. Silas Lane, while in the Rocky Mountains, discovered a root that, when combined with other herbs, makes an easy and certain cure for constipation. It is in the form of dry roots and leaves, and is known as Lane's Family Medicine. It will cure sick-headache in one night. For the blood, liver and kidneys, and for clearing up the complexion it does wonders. Druggists sell it at 50 cents package. dw

Service at St. Luke's Church.

The usual Wednesday evening Lenten service held in St. Luke's church, Ashburnham, last evening was fairly well attended. After services conducted by the Rector, Rev. J. McCleary, the Rev. C. H. Marsh, rector of St. Paul's, Lindsay, and a former rector of St. Luke's, preached from the words found in Hebrews, 13th chapter 8th verse: "Jesus Christ the same yesterday, to-day and forever."

The reverend gentleman expressed the pleasure it gave him to be present again. St. Luke's was his first charge, and he always looked back with pleasure and thanksgiving to the time spent in service for the Lord there. He stated that Christianity had stood all attacks and onslaughts. It was firmer and solider to-day than at any time in her past history. It was built upon a strong and sure foundation, Jesus Christ. What memories and hopes centre around that name! One from whom we are taught every good and perfect gift cometh. "Thou shalt call His name Jesus, for He shall save the people from their sins." Jesus Christ was ever the same. While everything else was constantly changing and shifting, He was always the same. The speaker referred to the many changes which had taken place in Peterborough and Ashburnham during his ten years absence. He said that the St. Luke's church of to-day was not the same as it was when he was its rector ten years ago. He stated God had abundantly blessed the workings of his people. The congregation along with everything else had changed, scarcely did he recognize one present as a member of his former flock. He spoke of the great blessedness of friendship. It was a grand thing to have a true friend, especially one which sticketh closer than a brother, and Christ was such a friend all. The yesterday was when he came down upon the earth to save men from their sins. We know something of Christ's character then. It was He who showed plainly that woe and sorrow were the results of sin and wrong. The consequences and the wages of sin were death but Christ showed a way of escape. His was a love for sinners but he had no love for sin. He came to seek and to save that which was lost. Nothing could harm us if we followed that which was good. If our lives would be what we should like them to be when we arrive at the end of the journey of life, we should always look unto Christ. There was no way by which man could be saved from sin except through the medium of Christianity. We want to have the world brighter, better and happier when we leave it. We want to be fruit-bearing christians. We should abide in Christ and keep close in His footsteps, receiving his spirit and grace.

Curling Jottings.

Skip John D. Flavelle's champion Tankard Winnipeg rink of Lindsay, came down last evening at nine o'clock to play the return match with the Peterborough Quartette whom they whipped last week by 1 shot.

The Lindsay's talked about doing up the home rink 2 to 1 but instead of that they were done up by 5 shots. A large number of interested spectators watched the memorable struggle and cheered the home curlers on to victory. The Peterborough's led from the first to low. Twenty two ends were played in all. The ice was in a first class condition. Skip Flavelle excelled as usual but his vice and support were not rendering him the "backing" which they ought. The struggle, however, was keen and exciting throughout. Following are the rinks and their scores:

Peterborough.	Lindsay.
R S Davidson,	W H Simpson,
C McGill,	J M McLennan,
Sam Ray,	J A McMillan jr.
T Rutherford, skip..20	J D. Flavelle, skip....15

The game was concluded at half past twelve o'clock this morning. After the match an adjournment was made to the restaurant of Mr. McCallum, where a bowl of oysters was relished by each curler. The Lindsay rink returned home this morning at 8 o'clock, taking their defeat with good grace.

Skips Ferguson and Rutherford will play off at the rink to night for the medal which they conjointly won at the Tankard competition at Toronto.

Skip Flavelle said before leaving this morning that if the ice were good he would play another match with the Peterborough quartette next week. In the struggle last night at the end of the tenth end, the home team were 8 shots ahead. The contest was for a bag of flour, which the Lindseys will donate to the Protestant Home. Messrs. W. H. Kennedy and P. Morgan, of Lindsay, came down with the rink.

A Furious Afternoon Runaway

A runaway attended with serious effects, took place this afternoon in front of the EXAMINER office. Mr. E. Godeu, lineman for the Great Northwest Telegraph Company had engaged one of Mr. Tobias Fitzgerald's livery rig in order to go out in the country some four miles to mark several poles for the company. He left the horse and top buggy standing in front of the Canadian Express Company while he slipped inside the office. Mr. John Sim was loading several bags on the company's express wagon when Mr. Godeu's horse took fright. He noticed the animal as it was about to start off, and like a flash, running out, he leaped into the vehicle. He was only able to catch one line the other he could not reach. The horse made a lunge across the street, and Mr. Godeon having hold of only the left line in his endeavours to bring one horse to a standstill he steered the beast diagonally across the street. It ran up on the sidewalk and into a large plate glass window in front of Mr. Matthew Jamieson's restaurant. The animal then shied off the walk again and the buggy was brought to a sudden standstill, and the horse was free. Mr. Godeon was thrown from the buggy, but happily lit on his feet. He plankily held on to the enraged and furious beast, and succeeded in stopping it in front of Mr. Schofield's drug store. No one was injured. The large plate glass, valued at $120, was demolished into a thousand pieces. It was fully insured, Mr. T. Bradburn owner. Some of the candy and cake was spilled on the sidewalk and a few of the "kids" filled their pockets, saying they were going to have a good feed.

The Cheapest and the Best.

"Indian Bitters" are the cheapest Bitters which have ever been offered to the public, because instead of buying a preparation all ready put one up can buy the ingredients for making them at the market price. For instance, with a box of these bitters which cost 25 cts. you can make three or four bottle similar to those which sell for one dollar; therefore with the money which you would pay for one bottle you can make twelve or fifteen bottles.

Personal.

Messrs. W. McPherson, Cannington and T. W. Chapple, Uxbridge are in town to-day.

It is recorded in the Winnipeg Tribune, that Mr. George Mitchell, traveller for Strang & Co., (and son of Mr. George Mitchell, grocer, town), is able to be around again after his serious illness.

Hon. Alexander Mackenzie is very ill, and there is no hope of his recovery, though death is not expected immediately and life may be prolonged for a week or more. He is visited daily by his physician.

A Grand Organ Recital.

The Belleville Ontario has the following to say of Dr. Davies, formerly organist of St. John's church, Peterborough:—The organ recital last night in Bridge street Methodist church was a rare musical treat, and that it was thoroughly enjoyed by the large audience present was shown by the hearty encores that greeted nearly every number. Every number was good St. Cecillia, by Gounod; a gavotte by Handel; and a selection by Ramini were perhaps the best numbers on the programme, but perhaps what best pleased the audience were two encore selections, in which the talented artist showed remarkable execution and facility. The programme ended by a grand march executed in a faultless manner. In Dr. Davies Belleville has an acquisition to her musical circles that is most welcome.

Cricket Meeting Last Night.

A meeting of the cricket club was held last evening in the Olympic rooms. There was but a very small attendance of cricketers, Mr. R. B. Rogers occupied the chair. The chairman stated that evidently a bad night had been selected for the meeting. A number dropped in and stated that owing to previous engagements they were unable to be present, but that they were anxious to see the club prosper as in days of yore. The chairman, owing to the small attendance, thought that the election of offices should be postponed until next Thursday evening when an adjourned meeting could be called. This was acted upon. Two directors, Dr. George Burnham and Mr. R. B. Rogers were appointed delegates to the P. A. A. meeting on Tuesday night next. The meeting then adjourned until Thursday next, the 31st inst.

Salvation and Praise.

The Subject of Rev. S. Daw's Lenten Lecture in St. John's Last Night.

There was a good congregation in St. John's last night. At the close of the service conducted by the Rector, Rev. S. Daw, of Christ's Church, Belleville, gave a lecture on the subject of "The Gates of the City." After expressing his pleasure in addressing the congregation again, the reverend gentleman announced his subject as "The Gates of the City"—the prophet Isaiah's vision of the glory of the Church of God in its universality—the glory of the Lord risen in every land. He would speak of the walls as "salvation" and the gates as "praise." If the walls were typical of salvation, the gates were typical of the great concomitant of salvation, praise. Praise sprang naturally from the idea of salvation—redemption. The speaker pointed out the tremendous importance of the annunciation of the incarnation of the Son of God—the intaking of all humanity into

THE SCHEME OF REDEMPTION.

The root idea of salvation was the reception of humanity into the God-head by Christ's incarnation. This idea accepted we could easily comprehend the passion and death of Christ. The death of our Lord Jesus Christ, His glorious resurrection and ascension, gave, themselves, a comparatively narrow idea of salvation. His presence in Heaven at the right hand of God in His humanity interceding for us was the working out of our salvation. Salvation meant that God came down to earth and took on humanity for our sakes, and for our sakes he died and he lives at the right hand of God to insure our salvation. If salvation were the symbol of it should be appreciated accordingly. If we took the knowledge of salvation home individually and collectively as a congregation, the first fruits, and the last would be praise. In this light praise was our most solemn duty, and we could never give true heart-felt praise if we did not have a full appreciation of the glorious import of the plan of salvation. If we took our prayer book we should see that it abounded throughout with praise. The speaker pointed out how the order of service led up to the great service of praise—which included the psalms and the one great service of praise, the holy communion. But there could not be heartfelt praise

UNLESS WE FELT IN OUR HEARTS

what redemption of salvation really meant—if we had not a personal knowledge of salvation. Preaching was teaching men their duty towards God to prepare them for the glorious service of praise. The individual and corporate duty of the church was to gain a knowledge of salvation and render becoming praise for this great gift. The gates of praise were the protection of the church, and the greatest power against the multiplied influences of sin was praise. Salvation through Christ, felt in our hearts, and expressing itself in praise, was the great protection. Faith in God, issuing forth in praise, brought down the walls of Jericho, and our united and hearty praise in the house of God, was

THE GREAT BULWARK OF THE CHURCH.

The speaker spoke of the pleasure it gave him to become a layman and join in the service of praise in the church. He said the first requisite in public worship was plain, simple music in which the congregation could heartily join. He then entered into details as to the manner of conducting a hearty and united service. The work of salvation was not confined to individuals but each individual was in duty bound to show it forth in his life and acts—in hearty earnest praise—the symbol and foretaste of the unending employment of the blest in heaven. The best preparation for the enjoyment of the bliss of the heavenly city was the service of praise on earth.

Obituary.

The Late Mrs. Geo. E. Crosby.

Mrs. Crosby whose death was mentioned in yesterday's EXAMINER, died in Uxbridge, on Thursday, March 17th, and her remains were laid at rest on Saturday. She bore the sufferings of her last illness patiently, and died in full hope of an immorsality of bliss. On Sunday the 13th of March, the entire family consisting of husband, four sons and their wives and one daughter were present and received the dying wife and mother's blessing, and an earnest exhortation to meet her in heaven. The deceased was a consistent member of the Bible Christians for sixteen years, in Whitchurch and of the Baptist church in Uxbridge for twenty five years. She was a faithful wife and an affectionate mother. She leaves behind four sons and one daughter—Mr. J. W. Crosby, Peterborough; Mr. A. C. Crosby, B.A., Trenton; Mr. T. P. Crosby, Zephyr; Mr. M. H. Crosby, Uxbridge; and Mrs. John Conover, Leamington.

Police Court.

THURSDAY, March 24th.

Owing to the absence of the Magistrate from town to-day, police court was held last evening at five o'clock. A local sport was summoned for furious driving up and down George street on Saturday last. He was fined $2 00 and costs ($5 60 in all.)

Police court was held again this morning. His Worship Mayor Kenory made his first appearance on the bench since his induction to office. His inauguration to this post probably saved a victim from a fine.

MAYOR—Alex. O'Brien, you are charged with being drunk and disorderly. What have you to say for yourself?

PRISONER—I acknowledge the offence. I have lived near Peterborough all my life, and this is the first time that I have ever appeared in a police court. If you will allow me to go this time I won't trouble you again for some time. This is my first appearance here.

MAYOR—As you are doubtless aware, the nature of your offence is a serious one, and one which cannot be overlooked. Then, His Worship added with a smile: As this is my first appearance on the dock, and this is your first appearance in the police court, I shall allow you to go, but remember don't come here again.

PRISONER (with a smile, and walking away)—Thank you, sir.

For Nettle rash, summer heat and general toilet purposes, use Low's Sulphur Soap. w d

The Sewerage Plans Again.

To the Editor of the Examiner:

DEAR SIR,—I notice a few inaccuracies in the figures given in my letter of the 22nd respecting the distance from Lake street to the river. They were scaled off an old map. They do not affect the value of the suggestions contained in my letter, except only in so far as that, when I shall give you the figures from actual measurement, they will go to establish more satisfactorily the advantages of the changes I advocate.

Of course I have had no desire to add to or take from anything, but I will to-day take the actual measurement, and let you have the correct figures at once.

Yours truly,
J. W. FITZGERALD

Meeting of Central Exhibition Directors.

A meeting of the Central Exhibition Directors was held in the Morgan House Wednesday afternoon. There were present, Geo. E Elliott, President, and Messrs. Hall, Kennedy, Morgan and Davidson. Communications were received

From the National Trotting Association, regarding speeding in the ring.

From the publishers of the American Agriculturist offering three copies of their paper as prizes.

From Prof. A. L. Van-Norman, Graeco-Roman rider of Syracuse, asking for engagement at the exhibition.

A motion was carried that the secretary be instructed to thank the ladies who have revised their prize list.

Other business of a private nature was transacted. The annual election of officers will not take place for some time. The debt of the Society has been reduced to $100.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps, of the sure approach of that most terrible disease consumption. Ask yourselves if you can afford, for the sake of saving 50c., to run the risk and do nothing for it. We know from experience that Shiloh's Cure will cure your cough. It never fails. dw

FOR SALE.

That Valuable Property Known as "Campbelltown."

Situate on River Otonabee, in the Township of Otonabee, Lots Nos. 11 and 12, 11th Con. about 200 acres, County of Peterborough.

The land has a water front on the river of about ¼ of a mile where steam Boats pass daily during the season of navigation between the Town of Peterborough and Rice Lake and Towns bordering on the Lake. It is distant 10 miles from Peterborough, 3 miles from the village of Keene, with good roads on two sides of the block.

The land is good arable land, as the farms on all sides will show. There is about 25 acres cleared, the remaining portion of the land is well timbered with hard wood averaging 30 cords to the acre. The G. T. Ry. track is about 3½ miles from the land, consequently the wood could be shipped by water or rail to any of the cities. All applications to purchase to be made to

THE TRILLIUM.

A Singular and Beautiful Genus of Hardy Herbaceous Perennials.

The three-leaved Nightshade, or Trillium, is a singular and beautiful genus of hardy herbaceous perennials, to native Canada, and extra tropical Asia from the Himalayas as far as Japan. There are but few flowers more beautiful than the trilliums of our woods, excepting it be the trilliums of our gardens, as they are greatly improved by good cultivation. They thrive under almost any treatment, their preference being for a moist and partially shaded situation. They would be perfectly at home in small city gardens, where there is but little, if any, sunshine. Here they should be planted with our native ferns, which will keep the border green when the trilliums have lost their flowers. The stems have three leaves, and the flowers, which are large, have three petals, white, purple, or pink in color, and are freely produced from April to June. The plants are tuberous-rooted and do not divide readily, but may be produced rapidly from seed, which, as soon as ripe, should be sown in a frame, where it may be shaded, or sown in the open ground, and slightly covered with leaves.

TRILLIUM GRANDIFLORUM.

T. grandiflorum is the best representative of the class, and one of the best of our native spring-flowering plants. Its blossoms are large, six to eight inches across, pure white when first expanded and changing to rosy-pink with age. [In our engraving is shown a flower and leaf whirl of this species.]

T. sessile has purple flowers, and its foliage is prettily marked and blotched. The variety T. sessile californicum is a plant much larger in foliage and flower, the markings of the leaves are stronger, or better defined, and the flowers have a much deeper color. This variety is well worth cultivating for its foliage alone. All the varieties make admirable pot plants for the window garden, where there is but little sun. After the flowers have faded the pots should be plunged in the shaded border, where they can remain without further care until wanted the following season. If the pots are brought in about March 1st the plants will come into flower early in April. The soil in which they are grown should resemble leaf-mold as nearly as possible.

Mrs. Sarah M. Black of Seneca, Mo., during the past two years has been affected with Neuralgia of the Head, Stomach and Womb, and writes: "My food did not seem to strengthen me at all and my appetite was very variable. My face was yellow, my head dull, and I had such pains in my left side. In the morning when I got up I would have a flow of mucus in the mouth, and a bad, bitter taste. Sometimes my breath became short, and I had such queer, tumbling, palpitating sensations around the heart. I ached all day under the shoulder blades, in the left side, and down the back of my limbs. It seemed to be worse in the wet, cold weather of Winter and Spring; and whenever the spells came on, my feet and hands would turn cold, and I could get no sleep at all. I tried everywhere, and got no relief before using August Flower Then the change came. It has done me a wonderful deal of good during the time I have taken it and is working a complete cure." ④

The Strike Affecting Business.

The effect of the strike is already being felt in business circles, many cars of freight being side-tracked between here and Fort William, and east of there. The flouring mills at Rat Portage and Winnipeg will also be compelled to shut down if the blockade is not raised, owing to a scarcity of cars for wheat and flour. All small side-tracks east of Winnipeg have been spiked to prevent damage by strikers to passenger trains.

It is claimed by the trainmen that fully one third of the recruits sent here have been bought off by the strikers. The majority of them, the men claim, are raw hands and cannot run trains.

WINNIPEG, March 22.—Although the strike is reported to be spreading, as far as the Western and Pacific Divisions are concerned matters are improving every day. Superintendents report that they have nearly all the men they want and do not find the slightest difficulty in running all passenger trains as usual. The last of the 15 colonist stock trains arrived here yesterday and if the company, under most adverse circumstances when unprepared for strike, could succeed in getting trains through so promptly now that train staff is practically reorganized, at least on this division, there should be no trouble. The line is now entirely clear and dead freight which has not been touched since the inauguration of the strike is now moving westward from Fort William, at which point the entire yard force, which went out with the strikers, have returned to work.

Some of the men who arrived here from Montreal Monday to take the places of strikers have been bought over, but the majority of the most competent trainmen are at work and can be depended on, having been guaranteed positions.

The locomotive engineers have fully given their answer to the strikers, declaring that they will remain loyal to the company.

On the Atlantic Division.

FREDERICTON, N.B., March 23.—There is nothing known here as yet as to the strike on this section of the C.P.R. It is considered improbable.

Will the Engine Men Join?

WINNIPEG, March 23.—The locomotive engineers and firemen are just now engrossing more attention than the men actually out. Somehow, the public appears to be under the impression that the trainmen have small chances of success if the drivers do not come to their assistance, and the action of the men who pull the lever is awaited with anxiety. The railroad officials are quite certain that the engineers will not take any part in the trouble, advancing as reasons for this belief that the engineers have not the slightest grievance.

IN TORONTO.

TORONTO, March 23.—A stroll among the C.P.R. employes last night failed to throw any light on the rumors of a possible extension of the strike to the Ontario & Quebec division. The conductors profess to know absolutely nothing as to whether or not they are to be called out. With few exceptions those interviewed expressed themselves vigorously against being dragged into the fight, stating that the other divisions should settle their own grievances and not appeal to trainmen who were not concerned in their disputes to follow their lead. "The truth is," said another, "the matter does not directly concern us and sh ould not bother us."

Fire in the United States House of Representatives.

WASHINGTON, March 23.—At 7 o'clock last night fire started in the folding room in the House of Representatives.

The heavy brick walls and floors confined the flames to the folding room.

The loss is about $15,000, mostly public documents.

A Railway Man's Death.

BUFFALO, March 23.—After a brief illness local freight agent Philip Slemmings of the Grand Trunk Railway died yesterday. For 20 years he had been employed by the Grand Trunk at different points and in various capacities. Previous to coming to Buffalo he was located at Port Edward, Ont. He had been in Buffalo four years. The remains will be interred at London.

The British naval estimates provide for three new battle ships and ten torpedo vessels, besides an appropriation of £2,000,000 for completing ships now building by private contract. The number of men in the navy is to be increased by the addition of 3100 to the present force, which is about 71,000.

A special journal, to be called 'Smith's News, is to be published in Liverpool and Queenstown during the summer. The idea is to inform passengers from America with all matters of interest that have transpired since they left New York in small space and thus save them the necessity of reading through a large file of papers when they arrive at their destination.

It is not the extremes of heat and cold so much as the sudden changes in temperature that cause certain climates to be unhealthful. When, however, the system is invigorated with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, these changes are rarely attended with injurious results.

THE CRISIS IN GERMANY STILL ACUTE

Emperor William Still Seriously Ill—More Facts Concerning the Murderer Deeming—General Foreign News of a Night.

BERLIN, March 22.—Chancellor von Caprivi, who was yesterday summoned by Emperor William to a conference at Hubertustock, returned to Berlin at 6 o'clock last night. The Chancellor called upon Dr. von Boetticher, vice-president of the Prussian Council of Ministers, and conferred with him on the Ministerial crisis. The situation is still ominous and continues to be the subject of conversation in the official circles of Europe. It is stated on unquestionable authority that, in spite of all statements to the contrary the Emperor is really very ill. He is suffering, not from catarrh, but from an abscess in his ear, the worst which he has ever had. The physicians have been very uneasy and have prescribed for him absolute repose. In reply to a despatch from Queen Victoria, the Prussian Count has explained that such repose was necessary on account of "very intense cerebral anæmia, followed by pain." It can be readily understood that the word "cerebral" has given rise to many comments.

An Adelaide despatch states that Frederick Deeming, alias Williams, resided there under the name of Wood and was the author of a gigantic robbery there.

CLEVER FORGERS.

Convicts in Australia Play a Neat Little Game.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., March 22.—Three escapes from the French penal settlement at New Caledonia have just been arrested. They, while on islands, perpetrated one of the cleverest forgeries on record. Bonneioux and Brevier had completed their term of incarceration and were free within the island, the third man, Civille, had completed his terms and was free to return to his native land or go elsewhere if he desired. His special criminal forte was forgery. A letter was written to one of the French authorities, asking about a large fortune that had been left to Jouissant Bonneioux. Soon after an answer, under official signature and seal, was received, stating the fortune was a myth. The signature and seal, however, were all the trio wanted, and soon a letter was written setting forth that half a million francs had been bequeathed to Bonneloux by relatives in Algiers. The imitation of the official seal was faultless and the writing and signature were perfect. A sailor on the steamer Oceanic was taken into the conspirators' confidence, and he took the letter to France and there posted it. A few weeks later it was delivered to Bonneioux in New Caledonia, and then the criminal began to operate.

On the strength of the letter Bonneioux cashed drafts for 250,000 francs, and the trio made their escape from New Caledonia. When arrested in Sydney Bonneioux was on his way to the bank, accompanied by a well-known priest, who was going to identify him. He had a draft for 50,000 francs in his possession, which he wanted to cash.

Hydrophybolus and Murder.

VIENNA, March 22.—The Vienna physicians who dissected the body of Schneider after his execution found that his brain was abnormally developed, and the specialists who were present declared that he had suffered from hydrophybolus from early childhood with the result that his brain power had diminished and his moral sensibility was almost non-existant.

France Has the Secret of Malta.

LONDON, March 22.—At the trial in Manchester yesterday Edward Holden, late quartermaster of the Royal Engineers, stated that as the result of the prisoner's revelations France is now in possession of full particulars of the whole of the armaments of Malta. Geary Gets 15 Years.

DETROIT, March 22.—William Geary, the Trenton thief, who recently escaped while being taken to Belleville, Ont., jail, was sent to Jackson prison for 15 years yesterday for highway robbery committed in Detroit.

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

EMPEROR WILLIAM SAID TO BE A VERY SICK MAN.

He is Also Worried and Annoyed—Caprivi Anxious to Resign—Some Talk of Prince Henry Coming to the Front—Uneasiness in Paris and London.

NEW YORK, March 24.—The Herald's Paris correspondent says: Emperor William has been in such a state of abnormal excitement for the past fortnight that he has shut himself up in his private apartments and has refused to grant audience to anyone. The attacks of the press on the Loi Scolaire and on the troubles in Berlin still arouse him to anger, but what has excited him more than anything else is a letter which he has received from an old schoolfellow at the Cassel Lyceum. The writer is now a professor at Tubingen and has always kept on the best possible terms with the Emperor. In the letter he sharply criticized the Loi Scolaire and said that the speech at Bradenburg would antagonize the Emperor's friends, who had placed all their hopes on him. The letter reached the Emperor on Wednesday, the 16th inst. The Cabinet Council was held on Thursday. During the session the Emperor did not say a word, and when he saw the Ministers were opposed to his plan he made a sign with his hand that he was willing to withdraw. When, however, Caprivi said, "Your Majesty, the order of the day has been passed," he rose and burst into a violent harangue, in which he insulted the Ministers and used such bitter language toward Caprivi that, in a visit to the latter, Prince Henry, the Emperor's brother, found it necessary to apologize for the Sovereign's conduct. Caprivi still holds office, but he is very anxious to resign. The entire court, however, insists that he shall remain at the head of affairs, at least until the Emperor's health is re-established, and the Emperor himself is equally urgent on the ground that a change would cause confusion in foreign affairs. Here is the plain truth in regard to the Emperor's health. Official despatches are right in saying that the Emperor has a cold, but they omit to say that the wound of his ear, which has been closed since October, suddenly reopened recently and matter began to flow, causing intense pain and rendering the Emperor so nervous that his physicians found it necessary to prescribe for him entire change of surroundings and absolute solitude. In well-informed circles people are talking about the necessity for a regency, and among diplomats it is said that Prince Henry is becoming every day more popular. It is possible that the Emperor may return to Berlin, but he is certainly very ill now. The official world of France is beginning to be very uneasy. In the lobbies of the Chamber of Deputies yesterday all the talk was of the situation in Germany. Fears are entertained that William may seek a vent for his excitement outside of Germany, and the same fears are entertained in London.

WAR IN BURMAH.

Natives Defy the British Troops Reinforcements Attacked on the Road.

CALCUTTA, March 24.—The revolt of the Lushai tribe, who occupy the country east of the Sonai River, in Northern Burmah, is extending, and it is expected its suppression will entail extensive military operations. The trouble had its origin in an order issued by the British political officer. Lalbura, a Lushai chief, refused to carry out this order, and a force of 100 men was ordered to his village to compel obedience. The British troops were attacked on their approach, but finally succeeded in occupying the northeastern part of the village. The natives burned the remainder of the village. On the following day, March 2, the Lushais made a determined attack on the British position, but were driven back, with a loss of several men. The reinforcements sent from Aijal were attacked on the road, but managed to reach the force in the village. Several subsequent encounters occurred, in all of which the natives were defeated.

London Press Comments.

LONDON, March 24.—The Morning Post says: "It is impossible to believe that when the glamor of the elections is removed from the eyes of American statesmen they will fail to recognize the inherent fairness of Lord Salisbury's proposition. So small a matter cannot produce serious friction between two great nations allied by blood."

The Daily News says: "If the statesmen and diplomats on both sides do not soon find some modus vivendi the arbitration will soon be no more than one of those good intentions a certain place is paved with. As appearances go President Harrison will not necessarily score at cut points."

OTTAWA, March 24.—The inquest on the death of the late Miss Christie MacCormac, who was found dead in a room in the Windsor on the 12th, was resumed at Kerr's hotel last night. The Lincolnshire Handicap.

LONDON, March 23.—The legitimate flat racing season in England opened yesterday at Lincoln. And to-day saw the first of the classic events of the year run for. Twenty-five horses started in the Lincolnshire Handicap, which resulted in a genuine surprise. The favorite Corstorphine was nowhere, and Cuttlestone and Woolsthorpe, on whom many a monkey was laid, didn't get a place. Clarence won. The latest betting was 10 to 1 against Mr. Maple's colt. Acrobat and Linkboy were outsiders.

The Lincolnshire Handicap of 1000sovs, added to a sweepstakes of 25sovs each, 10 ft. unless declared; winners of any handicap after Jan. 29 at 10 a.m., 6 lb.; of two, or one value 200sovs, 15 lbs extra; the second to receive 50sovs out of the stakes; entrance 5gs, the only liability if declared; one mile—64 subs, 13 of whom declared.

Mr. Maple's br c Clarence (3), by Saraband—Princess Arena.....(Peck) 1
Mr. F. H. Jennings' Acrobat (5), by Trapeze—Nadine..... 2

Twenty-five started.

Last year Prince Soltykoff's Lord George, carrying 119 lbs. with J. Woodburn up, won over a field of 21 starters.

Clarence is a 3-year-old brown colt. He started nine times as a 2-year-old, winning four races, viz., Sefton Park Plate at Liverpool, Wigson Plate at Leicester, Zetland Stakes at York and the Knowsley Nursery Stakes at Liverpool. Clarence carried 90 lbs. to-day.

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Dehorning Cattle—Defalcations of Municipal Treasurers—A Timber Limit Sale.

TORONTO, March 24.—In the Ontario Legislature yesterday,

Mr. Marter moved for a return showing the date when the persons to whom and price for which timber berth No. 118, north shore of Lake Huron, was sold, the respective dates when and the amounts in which and persons by whom the bonus was paid. The date when the said limit was first placed under license, and the persons to whom the license was issued. Copies of all transfers of the said berth, or of any interest therein and copies of all correspondence, memorandas, rulings of the Commissioner of Crown Lands, or any other officer of his department with reference to the said berth. And also copies of all reports made to the said department by any wood ranger or other officer of the department as to the quantity of timber in the said berth.

This resolution occasioned a large amount of discussion.

The facts underlying this wordy motion, according to the gentleman presenting it, are these: In 1874 a timber sale took place at which berth 118 was sold to C. & D. Mohr for $3182. It contained 36 square miles, the price thus paid per square mile being $85. On the limit at that time, $1568, half of the purchase money, was paid. Nothing more was done in the matter until 1889. In that year three employes of the Crown Lands Department conspired together, got an estimate made by one of their number showing that there were only 4,500,000 feet of pine timber on the berth, and secured the services of a man named Barnett to see the Mohrs and make a bargain with them for the berth. This was successfully accomplished. The next move Barnett made was to wire the Commissioner of Crown Lands asking if he would consent to a transfer of the limit upon his paying all arrears due the Government. Mr. Hardy replied in the affirmative. Six months after Barnett's purchase was consummated, through the efforts of Aubrey White, clerk of the woods and forest branch of the Crown Lands Department, and now Assistant Commissioner, and T. E. Johnston, a bushranger in the employment of the Government, a sale was made of this limit for $80,000. Barnett then divided $15,000 between White and Johnston for their services.

Both Messrs. Hardy and Mowat strenuously supported the action of the Government employes in regard to the matter.

The motion was carried.

Mr. Balfour moved for a return showing the amounts of defalcations made by the treasurers of any of the municipalities in the Province of Ontario during the years 1861 to 1891, both inclusive. Showing also the amounts any of said municipalities have lost for want of sufficient sureties being given by said treasurers, and showing the number of commissions of enquiry into the finances of municipal corporations issued under section 383 of the Municipal Act.

The resolution was carried.

Nearly four hours last evening were consumed, for the most part, in garrulous speeches in reference to Mr McLenaghan's motion calling for better education for farmers' sons. Among those taking part were Messrs. Balfour, White, Gibson (Huron), Meredith, Cleland and Hiscott.

A deputation from the Humane Society, consisting of the following gentlemen, waited on the Attorney-General yesterday: Messrs. Beverley Jones, S. J. Woods, H. G. Strathy and George Tolton. They requested him to allow them to stop the practice of dehorning cattle and docking horses. After listening to them for some time and asking several questions, Mr. Mowat promised to consider the matter.

Sold His Effects; Then Went Insane.

DUNKIRK, Ont., March 24.—George Scott of Melancthon was about to remove with his family to the West and had a sale of his effects. Some financial difficulties hove in sight, and these with the excitement of removal proved too much of a mental strain for him and his reason gave way. Medical aid was obtained, but it was thought necessary to remove him to the asylum in Toronto, which was accordingly done.

Russian Military Manoeuvres.

LONDON, March 24.—The Russian military manoeuvres during the present year will be on a gigantic scale. The forces engaged will consist of the Guards and the First Army Corps from St. Petersburg, the Grenadier Corps and the Thirteenth Army Corps from Moscow, the Ninth and Tenth Army Corps from Charkoff and the Eleventh and Twelfth Army Corps from Kieff.

Italy and the New Orleans Affair.

ROME, March 24.—The attack of Signor Imbriani on the Government has created a sensation, and many are inclined to sympathize with his argument that the administration of Signor Rudini has not been sufficiently aggressive in asserting the rights of the Italians abroad, especially in respect to the New Orleans massacre.

Miss O'Shea Engaged.

LONDON, March 24.—The engagement will shortly be announced of Mrs. Parnell's daughter, Miss O'Shea, to Henry Harrison, M.P.

Prince Bismarck Getting Better.

BERLIN, March 24.—Prince Bismarck is recovering from the sudden illness with which he was attacked Monday.

Rev. William Hollinshed
Of Sparta, N. J., voluntarily says:

"To Whom it May Concern:

"Unasked I deem it my duty to a suffering humanity whose bodies and souls I would have healthy, to tell them of the value of Hood's Sarsaparilla. While living in Ohio one of my children was greatly

Afflicted With Boils

having 30 on her limbs, and being unable to walk. I had heard of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and bought a bottle, half of which cured entirely. Two years after, another child was afflicted as badly. I used the other half bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla with like results. About four years after, the child first afflicted was again tormented like Job, and I bought a bottle (on Sunday at that) and again a cure. I gave some of the medicine to a poor woman and two children; they were helped as were mine. Through a testimonial sent to C. I. Hood & Co., inquiries came from all the country, asking if it was a 'bona fide' testimonial, and of course I wrote all that it was, and have the knowledge of

Scores and Scores

Of persons helped or cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla. Mild cases of rheumatism have yielded to it. Biliousness and bad liver have been corrected in my own family. This is the only patent medicine I have felt like praising. I speak not for C. I. Hood, but for the Jobs who are impatient and are tormented beyond endurance. Nothing I know of will cleanse the blood, stimulate the liver, or clean the stomach so perfectly as

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Any person wishing to know more, enclosing a stamp will be informed. Yours for the health, happiness and virtue of humanity."

BOTH MEN ACQUITTED.

THE HESLOP SUSPECTS FOUND NOT GUILTY.

The Jury, After Four Hours' Consultation, Discharge the Accused—Lottridge May Yet be Tried for Robbery of the Heslop Residence.

HAMILTON, March 25.—The brutal assassination of the aged treasurer of Ancaster Township, John Heslop, is now added to the long list of unpunished crimes writ across Ontario's escutcheon.

John Bartram and his nephew, John Lottridge, who for 10 days past have been the most interested figures in the fight for life which has been enacted in Hamilton's court house, were last evening declared not guilty by a jury of their peers.

Mr. Crerar closed his address at 3.30 after speaking for three hours and a half.

Judge Rose's charge was against the prisoners.

Four Hours Considering.

The jury retired at 5.45 p.m. to consider a verdict, and after an absence of nearly four hours returned with the verdict of "not guilty" at 9.42 p.m. John Lottridge will still be held on a charge of burglary. Bartram will return and complete his term of two years for cattle stealing.

When the verdict was announced the prisoners' faces lit up and their friends and counsel crowded around them and congratulated each other on the verdict

ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

TORONTO, March 25—In the Local Legislature yesterday afternoon the House went into committee of the whole upon Mr. Harcourt's bill, "To provide for the payment of succession duties in certain cases."

The sixth clause provides that in case a dispute arises as to a valuation of property by the Surrogate Registrar an appeal may be made to the sheriff for an appraisement.

Mr. Meredith contended that such a matter was within the jurisdiction of the County Judges and should, therefore, properly be relegated to them. Honorable gentlemen opposite, he said, were suspicious of these officials because they were appointed by the Dominion Government.

Mr. Hardy replied that the allegation of the Opposition leader was not correct. The Ontario Government did not mistrust the integrity or probity of County Judges. It was merely because the present measure was a provincial act, instituted for the collection of provincial taxes, that the clause complained of had been constructed in the manner in which it was presented. On these grounds it had been thought well to employ a provincial official to deal with the outcomes of connectional provisions.

Tobacco Smoking by Miners.

Mr. Mowat's bill respecting the use of tobacco by miners came up for consideration in the Committee of the Whole. The second clause providing for the arrest of persons apparently under the age of 18 years found smoking was especially condemned. Mr. Mowat rescinded this portion, and inserts in its place a provision looking towards the ample punishment of those selling the fragrant weed to juveniles.

TALMAGE'S TRICKS.

Accused of Repeating Old Sermons Under New Names.

ABERDEEN, S.D., March 25.—Rev. Philip E. Holp of Watertown has created widespread comment by a lecture entitled, "Talmage and His Tricks." After paying a high tribute to Talmage's genius he makes the following charges:

"On March 10, 1878, Talmage produced a sermon on 'Shall We Know Each Other There?' in which at the lowest count are 13 different thoughts from 'Harbaugh's Heavenly Recognition,' a book published in 1854. He forgot to give credit.

"I feel sure that in ten years Talmage has not produced a single new sermon. Permit me to reveal one of his tricks:

"In 1878 he preached on 'The Midnight Horseman.' In 1889 he preached the same sermon, headed 'The Moonlight Ride.' In 1886 he preached on 'Christ and Song.' In 1888 he called the same sermon 'Son s in the Night.' In 1888 he gave the 'Upper and Nether Springs,' in 1889 the same under 'New Springs of Joy.'"

HELP TOO LATE.

A Former Toronto Merchant Dying in a Michigan Poorhouse.

OWOSSO, Mich., March 25.—Over 20 years ago Charles Fairfield had a thriving business in Toronto, Ont. He was happily married and continued contented with his lot until some months after he took a partner in business. The partner began paying attention to Mrs. Fairfield, and after placing the business in jeopardy the two eloped. Fairfield lost his business, came to the States and has been tramping, earning his wages best he could. He finally landed in the Shirwassee County poor-farm. Rich relatives have just located him, but their services will come too late, as he is now lying at the point of death. The relatives say they have used every effort possible to ascertain his whereabouts, and only succeeded in finding him by a letter he had written a friend in Ontario.

INSTANTLY KILLED.

A Grand Trunk Employe Killed by a Huge Stone.

BRANTFORD, March 25. — Yesterday G.T.R. employes were engaged in putting in a stone culvert at the "Y" at the north side of this place. The stones weigh two or three tons.

Richard King of Dunnville, stonemason's laborer, was down at the bottom of the bank mixing cement and sand when two of these large stones rolled down the bank on to King, crushing him to death instantly.

The body was taken to Dunnville.

AFTER FOUR DECADES.

After Forty-Nine Years It Gives Up a Sunken Schooner, Unharmed.

NEW YORK, March 25.—The two-masted schooner James A. Fisher, which sunk off Cape May inlet 49 years ago, will soon be floated. This is the result of the two fierce storms which have swept the Jersey coast since March 1.

The Fisher is now being lightened and within a week will be floated.

When she sank she carried with her her cargo of corn and everything aboard. Captain Andrews, who commanded her, and several of the crew were frozen to death and the steward was drowned in an attempt to reach the shore. She is in a remarkable state of preservation, not even a bulwark being crushed in. The watches, shoes and clothing of the crew are still on board.

BEHRING SEA AGAIN.

THE ARBITRATION TREATY RATIFIED BY THE SENATE.

The Senate Makes Public the Letters Which Have Passed Between the President and Lord Salisbury—The London Press on the Situation.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Senate has made public the Behring Sea correspondence transmitted by the President. As already stated, it includes a statement from Lord Salisbury that he sees no reason for another suspension of sealing; that there is no security that arbitration will be concluded before the expiration of the season of 1893 and that it would be more equitable to provide that sealing shall continue on condition that owners of vessels shall give security for satisfaction of damages the arbitrators may adjudge.

Mr. Wharton's Reply.

Mr. Wharton replies, by direction of the President, calling attention to the gravity of the matter, the large number of Canadian sealers already cleared, assumes the sincere purposes of both Governments to promote peace, and concludes as follows:

The President directs me to say that the modus of last year is the least that this Government can accept in reason. The restraints after a treaty of arbitration should be more absolute, not less. He does not desire to protract this discussion, and having now in the most friendly spirit submitted considerations which support the just demand of this Government that the property which is the subject of an agreed arbitration shall not be subjected to spoliation pending the arbitration, he expresses the hope that Lord Salisbury will give a prompt and friendly assent to renew the modus.

The President will hear with regret that Her Majesty's Government continues to assert a right to deal with this subject precisely as if no provision had been made for a settlement of the disptue, and in that event this Government as has already been pointed out will be compelled to deal with the subject upon the same basis and to use every means in its power to protect from destruction or serious injury property and jurisdictional rights which it has long claimed and enjoyed.

To Ratify the Treaty.

WASHINGTON, March 25.—The Behring Sea arbitration was discussed by the Senate Committee on Foreign Relations at a special meeting, and it was decided to recommend the ratification of the treaty.

The main topic of discussion in the Executive session of the Senate was not the Behring Sea treaty itself but a significant resolution reported by Mr. Sherman from the Committee on Foreign Relations to accompany it. This resolution was in the nature of an endorsement of the attitude assumed by the President in the pending contention, and in substance assures him of support of the Senate in his expressed purpose to defend American rights in Behring Sea.

Tail-Twisting May Prove Serious.

LONDON, March 25.—Commenting on the danger of bringing the British and American fleets in proximity, The Times says it is only too likely to bring them into conflict and concludes, "Tail-twisting may be a popular sport, but a serious quarrel with England is not likely to assist Mr. Harrison in a presidential campaign.

LONDON, March 24.—It is stated on excellent authority that Rear-Admiral Hotham has received instructions to protect the Canadian sealers in the event that no arrangement can be arrived at with the United States.

Advices have been received to the effect that the Warspite, the flagship of Rear-Admiral Hotham, is now on its way to North Pacific waters, and that a strong fleet will be marshalled at Esquimalt to be ready for any hostile demonstration on the part of the United States.

All the London papers state that the bellicose utterances of President Harrison are nothing more than an election appeal to the class of voters who love to see Great Britain insulted.

Big Catches.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld, March 25.—Four sealing steamers have arrived from the ice fields. The Labrador has nineteen thousand seals, the Ranger twenty-eight thousand, the Diana twenty-seven thousand, and the Wolf twenty-seven thousand. They report the Eagle with twenty-eight thousand, the Kite with eleven thousand, the Hope with eleven thousand, the Neptune with two thousand, the Iceland with twenty-three thousand, the Esquimaux with twenty thousand, and the Leopard with twelve thousand. The total is two hundred and eight thousand. Five steamers are reported clean, namely, the Aurora, Terranova, Vanguard, Greenland and Falcon, but these may still get many seals, as the season is early. The steamers struck the seals off Horse Island on Sunday, the 13th inst., and killed twenty thousand that day. Four steamers are in the Gulf of St. Lawrence taking seals. The numbers are not known yet, but a good fishery is certain, and there is great rejoicing in this city and among the hunters' families.

A BRIDE FOR GEORGE.

Perhaps George of Wales Will Wed Princess Alix of Hesse.

LONDON, March 25.—There is reason for believing that a marriage will shortly take place between Prince George of Wales and Princess Alix of Hesse, as the Queen is known to be very anxious for such an alliance.

It is also said that the Prince and Princess of Wales would be pleased to see the match take place.

The Princess Alix, who is 20 years old, will visit England early in May, and will be the guest of Queen Victoria at Windsor, Balmoral and Osborne.

Dogs Kill a Farmer's Wife.

DUBLIN, March 25.—The wife of a farmer named McDonald, living at Ballynahinch, county Down, attempted yesterday to separate four of her dogs that were fighting. The dogs turned on her and throwing her to the ground worried her to death. Their sharp teeth inflicted terrible wounds in her head, and her limbs and body presented a horrible appearance.

Parrots Spread Disease.

PARIS, March 25.—M. Dubois recently imported 500 parrots from Brazil. After their arrival here an epidemic broke out among them, and all but two died. Thirteen persons who bought parrots from this consignment have been attacked by infectious pneumonia. Five of them have died, and others are seriously ill.

ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

SOLDIERS AND SHAMROCKS ST. PATRICK'S DAY.

A Lively Debate in the British House of Commons—The Recent Punishment of a Soldier at Aldershot Was Due to Impertinence, Says the War Secretary.

LONDON, March 25.—On Tuesday last a question was asked the Government in the House of Commons regarding the punishment of soldiers at Aldershot for wearing the shamrock on St. Patrick's Day, when they were in dress uniform.

The Right Hon. Edward Stanhope, Secretary of State for War, then replied that he had telegraphed for information of the affair and he read an officer's report on the matter in question.

By this report it appears that a private named O'Grady wore a shamrock on St. Patrick's Day. It did not occur to the officer that it was St. Patrick's Day, and he ordered O'Grady to remove the emblem.

O'Grady in a most insubordinate manner replied: "I won't." [Cheers from Irish members.] He was again ordered to remove the shamrock, and he again refused.

Punished for Impertinence.

He was taken before a superior officer and was sentenced to 48 hours' hard labor, not for wearing the shamrock, but for the style of his replies.

"The House," the Secretary for War added, "would agree with the Government that the punishment was justified." [Cries of "No, no" from the Irish members.]

Irish Members Take a Hand.

Mr. Arthur O'Connor (McCarthyite), member for East Donegal, said the regiment to which O'Grady belonged was for the most part composed of Irishmen.

Mr. Thomas Sexton (McCarthyite), member for West Belfast, wanted to know whether Irish soldiers were not allowed to wear shamrocks on St. Patrick's Day.

Mr. Stanhope replied that when off duty they could wear anything they liked. It would be ridiculous if every nationality in the British army should choose to wear a separate emblem.

Mr. Sexton said that the Irish soldiers in the Welsh fusiliers were obliged to wear the leek on St. David's Day.

Mr. Stanhope replied: "Yes, they may wear a badge sanctioned by the commander."

Mr. Patrick O'Brien (Parnellite), member for North Monaghan, will introduce a bill entitling British soldiers to wear the shamrock on St. Patrick's Day and the rose and thistle on St. George's and St. Andrew's Days.

THE GERMAN CRISIS.

Von Caprivi no Longer President of the Prussian Ministry.

BERLIN, March 25.—The Reichsanzeiger (official) announces that Chancellor Von Caprivi has been relieved of the functions of the Presidency of the Prussian Ministry, but he will not retain the position of Prussian Minister of Foreign Affairs.

Count Eluenburg will succeed General Von Caprivi as President of the Ministry, Dr. Evon Bosse has been appointed Minister of Ecclesiastical Affairs, of Public Construction and Medicinal Affairs, to succeed Count Von Zedlitz, who, while resigning that office, retains his rank as a Prussian Minister.

DEEMING IN CANADA.

The Liverpool Bluebeard May Have Resided in Toronto in 1884.

MELBOURNE, March 25.—It is alleged that Deeming, the murderer, was engaged in land swindling operations in Canada in 1884 and that he afterwards became a watch dealer and decamped with a number of watches entrusted to him by settlers.

Williams, although he assumes an air of bravado, seems painfully restless and is evidently breaking down under the strain of anxiety and remorse. He has lost 42 pounds in weight since he left the ship in November and is still losing flesh rapidly.

Death of a Great Bronze Founder.

PARIS, March 25.—Ferdinand Barbedienne, the well-known bronze founder, died yesterday. He employed more than 300 artists and artisans. His reproduction of ancient and modern statuary numbered something like 1200.

The Wood Will Case.

LONDON, March 25.—The case over the will of Mrs. Wood, under which her niece, Mrs. Parnell, is an heiress for $1,000,000, was to have come up yesterday, but was withdrawn, a private settlement having been made. The terms are not known.

A Bride at Eighty-Three.

LONDON, March 25.—The London Chronicle reports that Sir Edward Watkin is about to marry the widow of Mr. Ingram, the founder of The Illustrated London News. Mrs. Ingram is 83 years old.

A British Lieutenant Shoots Himself.

LONDON, March 25.—Lieutenant Newell, belonging to the Lancashire regiment, committed suicide Tuesday at Davenport by shooting himself. No motive is known for his act.

OTTAWA, March 25.—It is understood that Premier Abbott will be knighted shortly by Her Majesty the Queen.

May Have Committed Suicide.

COBOURG, March 25.—Sarah Morrison, a young woman employed in the domestic service of Mrs. P. McCallum, jr., has mysteriously disappeared. She got her wages in full, but left her clothing, all packed. She had been acting strangely for some time and there is ground for fear that she has committed suicide. Her relatives have been communicated with, but they know nothing of her whereabouts.

Mr. Alex Forsythe Dead.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 25.—Alexander Forsythe, the head of the wholesale drug firm of Forsythe, Sutcliffe & Co. of this city, died suddenly this morning at Windsor, where he resided. He was one of the best known men in the province and was wealthy.

Chapleau Nearly Himself Again.

MONTREAL, March 25.—Since Monday last Hon. Mr. Chapleau has been lying very ill in Dr. Brodeur's private hopital, No. 707 Sherbrooke-st. Last night your correspondent learned that his condition had much improved, and in a very short time the Minister of Customs would be able to resume his functions.

DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS FOR PALE PEOPLE

Are a BLOOD BUILDER and NERVE TONIC. Brockville's System of Sewerage.

Kingston Considers it a Model—Should not Peterborough Know More About It?

Kingston's system of sewers is said by citizens of that place, to be "hot beds of disease," and in contrasting the system of Brockville, Alderman Fair described a system which has been introduced in Brockville since 1887. Brockville, he said, in a worse state than we are at present, has reduced the number of infectious diseases reported annually till, up to the present time this year, not a single case is reported. They were forced to consider the question in 1887 for the same reasons we are, and the chief causes attributed at that time by four expert engineers was imperfect drainage. Before commencing a work of such magnitude they engaged Col. Georg E. Waring, an eminent American sanitary engineer, to submit a report and plan as to the best system of drainage to adopt. He did so, and his plan was endorsed and recommended by four leading engineers. One of them was subsequently engaged to construct the works which was completed in 1890, and has now been in operation nearly two years. The whole work was constructed under the supervision of three sewer commissioners, Dr. V. H. Moore, Col. W. H. Cole and Thomas Wilkinson, who reported that "the Brockville system is in good working order and stands to day without a superior in Canada so far as construction is concerned."

* * * * * * * * * * * *

In Brockville another alderman added, every plumber was licensed and placed under bonds that his work, whether done by themselves, or their agent, would be to the satisfaction of expert inspection.

[THUS is afforded additional evidence of the importance of sewerage, not only in relation to public convenience and comfort but in relation to health. If the Brockville system is all that Alderman Fair of Kinkston describes it, would it not be wise, if such a step has not already been taken, for the committee on sewerage of the town council, to make some inquiry into the merits of the Brockville system? The information thus gained might be of the value in consideration of the advisability of adopting the plan of sewerage now proposed for the town of Peterborough.—ED. EXAMINER.

That Tired Feeling.

Is often the forerunner of serious illness, which may be broken up if a good tonic like Hood's Sarsaparilla is taken in season. This medicine invigorates the kidneys and liver to remove the waste from the system, purifies the blood and builds up the strength.

Warmly Received in Arklow.

LONDON, March 24.—The Conservative members of Parliament for Ulster are asking for the support of the English members for an adjournment of the House, so that attention may be called to the right of holding meetings and free speech in Arklow. A prominent Protestant minister, Rev. Mr. Hallowes, has been holding outdoor meetings on Sunday there. The Catholics, who are in the majority, have interfered with him even to pelting him with mud and otherwise assaulting him. Attempts have been made to have the offenders punished, yet the reverend gentleman's case was worse than before. He, the Rev. Messrs. Harrison and Guiness were on one occasion badly handled. Constables forced them on past a schoolhouse in which they were, and then left them. A number of Protestants came to their assistance. Hymns were sung and a sermon preached, in spite of the yells of the disturbers outside. The Ulster people are becoming tired of this state of affairs and will try to force the Government to put a stop to it. Unless protection is afforded in Arklow the trouble will be serious.

About Logan's Pedigree.

NEW YORK, March 23.—Jack Batchelor, the owner of Panhandle, who ran second to Logan on Saturday at the North Bergen track, protests against Logan being given the purse. The claim is made on the ground of false pedigree. Both Mr. Batchelor and Eugene Leigh state that Pet is not the dam of Logan. The matter will be investigated.

Wheat Crop in His Eye.

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 24.—John Sousley, a farmer, living near here, received an injury to his left eye while threshing last September. The eye has pained him continually since. Yesterday an oculist found that a grain of wheat had lodged in his eye, sprouted and in its growth had forced a passage up between the scalp and skull and found an outlet near the apex of the right eye. The stalk was carefully removed and transplanted in a hotbed, where it is expected to grow. Sousley is doing finely.

To Benefit Grand Trunk Employes.

The Objects of the Grand Trunk Railway Insurance and Provident Society.

Proverbially corporations are debited with having no souls; but the Grand Trunk Railway appears to be an exception, in one conspicuous respect at least—in its interest in the comfort and safety of its employes.

The Grand Trunk Railway Insurance & Provident Society has for its objects the securing of medical aid for its members during sickness in consideration of the payment of small monthly fees towards this sick b nefit fund, the Grand Trunk Railway contributing annually $12,500. The fund itself is in a healthy condition and shows a balance of $4,508 08.

The second object is to insure the payment according to the class which a subscriber may elect to join of sums, the largest contemplated being $2,000, to the family of a member upon his death. These allowances are made by an assessment, which, having regard to the large number of members, amounts to but a small sum to the individual. The sum paid during 1891 under the insurance fund was about $79,000.

The accounts show a total receipt and expenditure from the society's inauguration to the present time, viz.: 1st January, 1885, to 31st December, 1891, of $902 618 57. The payment made by the Grand Trunk Railway Company in sustaining the fund amounted to $86 188.88.

The management of the society is practically in the hands of local committees of its members. The total membership on the books of the society at 31st December was 13,304, an increase of 414 over that of the previous year. Its members are divided into six classes, involving different payments in the event of death. Under certain conditions insurance money is commuted when the members are past work.

The deaths during 1891 numbered 138. From the analysis of diseases the enumeration appears to cover most of those to which flesh is heir.

There were 2,311 cases of influenza, or la gripp, in 1890 and 638 in 1891; colds, 1890, 485, and 516 in 1891.

	1890.	1891.
Fevers	171	144
Lumbago	265	306
Rheumatism	204	238

The medical staff is spread all over the system. Dr. Hingston and Dr. Roddick are consulting surgeons at Montreal. The chief medical officer is Dr. J. Alex. Hutchison. Mr. Seargeant, the general manager of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, who takes a deep interest in the welfare of the society, is its president, in succession to Sir Joseph Hickson.

The Grand Trunk Railway Company has further shown its interest in the welfare of its employees by the establishment of a Superannuation Association for the benefit of clerks and others entitled to its privileges. This association has been in operation since 1874, and has accumulated a considerable sum, which has been invested in real estate, one half of this subscription being paid by the company and half by the beneficiaries.

This association has been subjected to revision by actuaries periodically, and is reported as being in sound condition.

Under the rules members can retire at the age of 55 with superannuation allowances.

The following are the officers of the Grand Trunk Railway Insurance and Provident Society.

Harvey Council.

(From Our Own Correspondent.)

The Harvey council met at the clerks office, March 21st. Members all present. Minutes of the last meeting read and confirmed. Communications read from E. Pearse, county treasurer, re statute labour on west half 9th con. 10, for 1891. Circular read from the Hamilton Sewer Pipe Company. Account read from J. Dickson, P.L.S., for running certain lines for roads in Harvey. On motion, eight days of statute labour, charged in arrears of taxes for 1888-9 against west half 23rd con. 17, and lot 24 con. 17, be deducted from the arrears and entered on the proper road list for 1892. Also three days of statute labour charged on the collector's roll for 1891 against Noxon Harris is to be deducted from his taxes for 1891 and that he shall be allowed to perform the said three days work in 1892. Also that one day charged against George Quible be entered on the proper road list for 1892, and the said one day be removed from the collector's roll for 1891. The council decided to take no action with regard to the three days' statute labour on lot W ½ 9 con. 10, as the land was entered on the non-resident roll, and must be paid to the County Treasurer. Orders drawn in favour of Jas. Dickson, $36; amount paid for help on the survey north, $26 25; amount paid for help on survey south, $11 25; J. Elliott, two lamps, coal oil and repairs on town hall, $1.85; W. B. Kelly for 1600 ft plank for Crowley's Narrows, $9 00; Mr. Needler, for one barrel of flour for John Lancefield, $5 00; Mrs. Perault, nursing Mrs. Flanigan, $2 00. On motion A. G Shearer and Thos. Flynn were appointed to blaze out forced road across west halves of lots 22 and 23, con. 9.

The council adjourned to meet on call of the Reeve.

WHY COUGH,

WHEN a few doses of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral will relieve you? Try it. Keep it in the house. You are liable to have a cough at any time, and no other remedy is so effective as this world-renowned preparation. No household, with young children, should be without it. Scores of lives are saved every year by its timely use

Amanda B. Jenner, Northampton, Mass., writes: "Common gratitude impels me to acknowledge the great benefits I have derived for my children from the use of Ayer's most excellent Cherry Pectoral. I had lost two dear children from croup and consumption, and had the greatest fear of losing my only remaining daughter and son, as they were delicate. Happily, I find that by giving them Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, on the first symptoms of throat or lung trouble, they are relieved from danger, and are becoming robust, healthy children."

"In the winter of 1885 I took a bad cold which, in spite of every known remedy, grew worse, so that the family physician considered me incurable, and thought me to be in consumption. As a last resort, I tried Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and in a short time, the cure was complete. Since then I have never been without this medicine. I am fifty years of age, weigh over 180 pounds, and attribute my good health to the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral."—G.W. Tucker, Salem, N. J.

"Last winter I contracted a severe cold, which by repeated exposure, became quite obstinate. I was much troubled with hoarseness and bronchial irritation. After trying various medicines, without relief, I at last purchased a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. On taking this medicine, my cough ceased almost immediately, and I have been well ever since."—Rev. Thos. B. Russell, Secretary Holston Conference and P. E. of the Greenville District, M. E. C., Jonesboro, Tenn.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Amateur Athletic Association will be held in the Olympic club rooms on Tuesday evening next. It is to be hoped that all interested in field sports will make it a special point to be present on the occasion, This meeting will be a turning point one way or the other in the existence of the Association. Several citizens, not active, but deeply interested, members and friends of the Association and its commendable objects, are ready with their assistance, both moral and material, and it rests with those actively interested in the various sports of the Association, whether or not the interest of these gentlemen should be allowed an opportunity of taking practical shape. Spring is upon us, and there is no time to lose in deciding upon the programme for the season.

Card of Thanks.

The following furnishes adequate proof of the prompt and honourable manner in which the North American Life Assurance Company discharges its obligations to the beneficiaries of its policy holders:—

MR. S. G. FAULKNER, General Agent, North American Life Assurance Company, Peterborough:

DEAR SIR:—

I beg to acknowledge that you have paid $4000 00 being settlement in full of policies Nos. 7507 and 01218 in your Company upon the life of my late husband.

Please convey my sincere thanks to the officers of your Company for the promptness and willingness displayed by them in this matter. I desire to pay tribute to the consideration shown by them and also to the confidence which such honourable dealing inspires in the integrity of the Company.

Yours truly,
E. F. STIRLING.

An Explanation.

Mr. E. Godin complains that the report of the runaway accident yesterday, in which he was concerned, was incorrect in some details. He says he was not in the vehicle at the time but was standing near the head of horse when it made its sudden bolt, and was only able to catch one line. The reporter got the details as correctly as possible in view of Mr. Godin's refusal, though asked twice, to furnish particulars.

Norwood Y.M.C.A.

The New Young Men's Christian Association Rooms Opened at Norwood Last Evening—Mr. R. J. Colville Takes Part in the Proceedings.

The new Young Men's Christian Association rooms of Norwood were formally opened last evening. The occasion was one long to be remembered in the history of the Norwood Association. The Y. M. C. A was organized in that village last October. Since it was established, nothing but success and prosperity have attended the efforts of the promoters. The new rooms are situated in the first floor of the Metcalf block on Peterborough street. They have now a large and well equipped reading room, an inviting games room and a neat and cosy parlour. They are all tastefully furnished and beautifully situated.

The citizens of Norwood turned out in great numbers last evening to extend a helping hand to the young and growing organization, and to show their appreciation and interest in its work. Mr. T. S. Cole, of Toronto, Secretary of the Provincial Association, was present and conducted the devotional exercises at the opening of the evening's proceedings A first class orchestra rendered several selections during the evening which were highly appreciated. The Misses. Roxborough rendered singing, which was well received.

A male quartette composed of Messrs. Callendar, Finlay and others volunteered several fine selections. Mr. R. J. Colville, general secretary of the Peterborough Y. M. C. A., gave a splendid address. He congratulated the association upon having such excellent and well appointed rooms, and wished the young and growing organization nothing but success. He implored God's richest blessing upon the association and its work. Mr. T. S. Cole, the energetic provincial secretary, followed in a capital address on the "Origin, Growth and Name" of the Young Men's Christian Association. Mr. Coles address was masterly and exhaustive in its details and facts, full of hope and courage for the association and interesting and instructive in its nature. After the programme had closed, refreshments were served to all present.

President Platt ably presided during the evening. Mr. C. N. Callender is the efficient and obliging secretary of the association which already has a membership of 120 young men. One thing noticeable last night was the large number of young men present, far outnumbering the ladies the great interest they manifested in the long looked for opening of their rooms.

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

Opinions of the Canadian Press.

Those who suffer from dyspepsia, disorders of the stomach or liver, constipation, bile or wind on the stomach, are strongly recommended to make use of Dr. Sey's Remedy. A few doses of this celebrated medicine cannot fail to afford relief and in speedy cure.—Le Monde.

ONE ENJOYS

Both the method and results when Syrup of Figs is taken; it is pleasant and refreshing to the taste, and acts gently yet promptly on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels, cleanses the system effectually, dispels colds, headaches and fevers and cures habitual constipation. Syrup of Figs is the only remedy of its kind ever produced, pleasing to the taste and acceptable to the stomach, prompt in its action and truly beneficial in its effects, prepared only from the most healthy and agreeable substances, its many excellent qualities commend it to all and have made it the most popular remedy known.

Syrup of Figs is for sale in 75c bottles by all leading druggists. Any reliable druggist who may not have it on hand will procure it promptly for any one who wishes to try it. Manufactured only by the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company.

An Interesting Account of a Leading Mutual Company in Canada—How it Conducts its Affairs and Secures its Profits.

The results of a practical co-operation on a large and well managed scale are beginning to become apparent in the showing made by the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company, of Toronto. So many attempts have been made in Canada and the United States to duplicate the vast co-operative concerns so successfully conducted in Great Britain, and so few have reached the goal of success, that the progress of this Company becomes noteworthy as an instance of what really can be done by a well-directed combination in the way of making profitable investments. In this country, aside from a few minor ventures, the only efforts in the way of co-operative business have been through Building and Loan Associations. During the past few years the number of these institutions has increased very largely. They are divided into two classes, the National and the Local. The local association is a neighbourhood alliance necessarily limited by its character and surroundings. These have proven in almost every instance a source of profit to their members, but of course the narrowness of the field in which they labour prevents anything startling from an exhibitive standpoint. Of all the national companies the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company of Toronto stands in the lead. On the first of March it had 20 859 shares subscribed, and the amount of loans granted on the same date was over $93,000. It has loaned to its members since July, 1891, upwards of $60,000. Good business methods, strict accountability, and ironclad safeguards have produced this handsome result.

The benefits of Loan and Investment Companies have been so often pointed out that a repetition seems hardly necessary. It is enough to say that they provide a means whereby the smallest investor can safely secure as large a return pro rata upon his money as the richest capitalist. It opens up to the man who can save but a few dollars a year from his earnings an opportunity to add liberally to his store. The few dollars which he may contribute, joined with the few dollars of thousands of others, create a formidable fund, which under the regulations of the Company, is invested on the most favourable terms upon unquestioned security.

The methods of the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company are entirely simple. The dues, premiums and interest form the Loan Fund from which borrowers are supplied in the order of their application, provided the security offered is found to afford adequate protection against loss. So great has been the demand for loans from the members of this Company that at no time has money accumulated to lie idle. Every dollar has a borrower waiting to take it as soon as enough more dollars are accumulated to make up the desired loan. The advantage of this constant demand will be readily apparent. Interest is a ceaseless quantity. It is forever being either earned or lost. The fact that the Canadian Mutual's money is loaned the instant it is received tends to increase the profits of the shareholders perceptibly. Every dollar begins to earn its six per cent. per annum with incidental premium the moment it reaches the offices of the company, and it continues to do so ceaselessly during the life of the shares. Indeed every cent is made to do its duty. Every dollar's earning capacity is realized, and every iota of profit carefully credited to its shareholders. Of course all well regulated Companies provide just and equitable means whereby the impatient shareholder can withdraw his interest, but from the very nature of the matter, such a withdrawal at any time within three years from the date of membership is a loss to the shareholder. The principle involved is very similar to the tontine plan of insurance, and every member withdrawing before maturity must necessarily leave a portion of the earnings of his share to those who persist and stay in. It requires but a word to demonstrate this. The payments being made at the beginning of each month are only invested for one half of the time, and the consequence is that the cost of maintenance for the first two years is greater than the profit on the amount invested; but after the second year, the sum invested having a continuous earning capacity, the compounding of the interest monthly manifests itself in such a manner as to show a profit at the end of the third year over and above the entire cost of maintenance. From that time on, because of the constantly increasing capacity to make money through compounding, the growth of profits become so rapid that undoubted assurance is gained that the shares will mature within a period of about seven years.

The people who invest in Loan and Investment Companies' shares are in the main deprived of other means of enjoying good profits, because of the small amount of capital placed at their disposal. It is only by means of such companies that wage-earners are enabled to participate to any degree in the profits enjoyed by large capitalists. Ten thousand people who may put five or ten dollars a month into a common fund are thereby enabled to make most advantageous investments under proper management, and thereby to each one is given his pro rata share of the total profits. This is the sole and single secret of the success of these enterprises.

Young men and young women especially, who long for the time to come when they can call a thousand dollars their own, will find in the co-operative method the fruition of their desires.

In offering as it does the facilities for investment to persons of moderate means, the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company affords to them the best possible form for securing adequate returns on their money. It is as solidly secure as the most rigidly conducted savings bank. Its mortgages are non-negotiable. In any event whatever, the stockholders are made more than secure by these mortgages. Their non-negotiability ensures to the shareholder their retention for the final satisfaction of his claim. There is no possibility of loss through loose or careless methods. Then, again, no loan is made without at least 40 per cent. margin to the good on the property upon which a lien is established. The managers are convinced that they do not hold a single mortgage which will not bring more than its face value at a forced sale.

In conclusion, it requires only to be said that the Canadian Mutual Loan and Investment Company, welcomes the most exacting criticism, and is prepared to demonstrate in every detail the merits of its system. The period of experience is past; that of success has been reached, and the prophecy of a great and powerful future is assured. Strong in membership, strong in management, and strong in resources, it fears neither panic nor hard times, and is prepared for all emergencies.

A Grand Hockey Match.

Terrible Struggle Between the Financiers and the Hockey Club—A Draw Game and Lots of Excitement.

Last night about nine o'clock a great stir was noticed about the rooms of the Hockey Club at the rink, and on enquiring the cause of it was found to be on account of the return match for the oysters between the Bankers and the Hockey Club. A large crowd of spectators had arrived as they wanted to see what will most probably be the last hockey match of the season.

BANKERS.		HOCKEY CLUB.
Morgan	goal	Connal
W Bradburn	point	Sawers
Jellett	cover point	Dunsford
Merrick	forwards	Phelan
Crofton		Dumble
Boucher		Gemmell
Montgomery		R Bradburn
R A Cockburn	Umpire	E W Beall
Referee		Herbert Roy

The ice was in a very soft condition and some of the Hockeyists took the scraper and cleaned the ice before the game commenced. Sharp on time Referee Roy glanced at a borrowed watch and blew his whistle, and the players of one of the greatest of winter sports faced the puck, both sides being determined not to have to put up the oysters. As is always the case the irresistible Jack Gemmell got the puck on the face off and sent it down towards the Bankers goal where it hovered around for some time till at last Phelan in one of his great rushes sent it flying through the Bankers' goal. This was quite a surprise to the Financial men and were evidently thinking that they could put their money to better use than buying oysters for their opponents and commenced to put forward their best efforts and soon succeeded in carrying the puck down to the club's goal and shooting it through. Then for some time the puck was kept midway between the goals, one side shooting to the opposite to be at once brought back to the centre. A number of rushes were made on both sides but without avail as they were always met by the splendid checking of Phelan and Dumble on one side and Crofton and Montgomery on the other till at last the Bankers made a splendid rush and sent it through the club's goal a second time. The Bankers continued to play up well and the club seemed unable to withstand them, although goalkeeper Morgan stopped some splendid shots on their goal until when the referee's whistle blew for half time the score stood 5 to 1 in favor of the Bankers. A reprieve of five minutes was granted during which time the club players seemed to be discussing the knotty problem of how to save themselves from an ignominious defeat, and also of having to foot the bill at Bowman's, and when the puck was faced for the second half one could see a look of "conquer or die" on the faces of the Hockey club, and the Bankers evidently saw it too, for they must have began to feel a little squeamish, for in a very short time the puck was carried down to the Bankers' goal and sent through by Phelan. Then for a long time the puck was sent up and down the rink, but the Bankers were evidently getting tired, for they were not playing as well as they had done during the first half, and the puck was kept around their goal for a long time. Gus Sawers then got the puck and rushed it down the rink, and shot it through the Bankers' uprights. The club continued to keep their play up, and very soon the score stood 5 to 4 for the Bankers. One shot more and they would be even. This would never do, so thought the bankers, and as it was very near time, the excitement was intense, one side determined not to let the score get even and the other to make it so. Shot after shot was sent at the banker's goal but the puck could not be got past the invincible Morgan till at the last moment Sawers sent a very neat shot which got past the goal keeper, and when the referee called time the score was 5 to 5. Nobly did the hockey club make up for the first half, making the last four goals in about 15 minutes. The bankers were evidently greatly disappointed at not getting the oysters, and had to go supperless to bed after a very hard and well fought game.

Notes and Scraps in the Roarin' Game as the Season Nears its Close.

The Bank of Montreal boys played the Ontario Bank yesterday afternoon and were successful in defeating them by one shot. The game commenced at four o'clock, seventeen ends were played and the ice was in a first class condition. The struggle from the first was keen and exciting. It was a sort of three cornered affair, the rinks each playing with three stones, no second stone being in the game. Following are the rinks and their scores:—

Bank of Montreal.	Bank of Ontario.
C H Jellett,	Geo. Beers,
A Crofton,	W D Parker.
C L Benedict, (sk).15	W J Montgomery. (sk).14

The two tankard rinks of Peterborough which battled with the Granites in the Ontario Tankard Competition at Toronto last month were awarded a silver medal for their brave struggle and stand in the contest. Last night the quartettes played off to see who should own the medal. Skip T. Rutherford led Skip W. G. Ferguson from the outset. The match began at half past seven and lasted until ten o'clock. Eighteen ends were played in all. The ice was very heavy. Skip Rutherford now holds the medal and retains it a year. The following are the rinks and their scores:—

A GOLD WATCH FREE

And Other Elegant Articles to Those Who Can Read This Rebus.

The above is honest advice which we are interested in prescribing to every home. To secure a trial for FORD'S PRIZE PILLS, we intend to spend a certain amount in this manner of advertising and attracting attention to the merits of this medicine.

To the first person sending the correct answer to the above rebus we will give an elegant Gold Watch, fine workmanship and first-class timekeeper; to the second we will give a Genuine Diamond Ring; to the third a handsome Silk Dress Pattern, 16 yards in any color; to the fourth a Coin Silver Watch, and many other prizes in order of merit. To the person sending the last correct answer we will give an elegant Gold Watch, fine workmanship and first-class timekeeper; to the next to the last we will give a Genuine Diamond Ring; to the third to the last we will give a handsome Silk Dress Pattern, 16 yards in any color; to the fourth to the last we will give a Coin Silver Watch, and many other valuable articles in order of merit, counting from the last. WE SHALL GIVE AWAY 100 VALUABLE PREMIUMS (should there be so many sending in correct answers). No charge is made for boxing and packing of premiums. All answers must be sent in by mail before April 10th, 1892. Ten 3 cent stamps must be enclosed with answer for one box of FORD'S PRIZE PILLS. The names of the leading prize winners will be published in connection with our advertisement in leading newspapers next month. Extra premiums will be given to those who are willing to assist in introducing our medicine. Nothing is charged for the premiums in any way, they are absolutely given away to introduce and advertise Ford's Prize Pills, which are purely vegetable and act gently yet promptly on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, dispelling Headache, Fevers and Colds, cleansing the system thoroughly and cure habitual constipation. They are sugar coated, do not gripe, very small, easy to take, one pill a dose, and are purely vegetable. Perfect digestion follows their use. As to the reliability of our company, we refer you to any leading wholesale druggist or business house in Toronto. All premiums will be awarded strictly in order of merit and with perfect satisfaction to the public. Pills are sent by mail post paid. When you answer this rebus, kindly mention which newspaper you saw it in. Address THE FORD PILL CO., Wellington St. West, Toronto, Can.

Lines

of appreciation respectfully addressed to Henderson Nesbitt, Esq., and R. Q. Dench, Esq., District Deputy High Chief Rangers of the Canadian Order of Foresters for the County of Peterborough. Coupling these with the several courts throughout the Dominion in general and the county of Peterborough in particular. Being debarred by old age I am not a member of your magnanimous order, therefore I cannot enter into details of the private working of this society. My only aim will be to promulgate the unspeakable good that has been accomplished within my own knowledge by your worthy order and my high appreciation of the same.

Young men in Canada to day, young married men likewise,
The sound advice I give to you I hope you won't despise;
If you have not that order joined then do it without delay,
And share its benefits while you march on life's troubled way.
Because your youthful arm is strong, and youth blooms on your cheek,
You think not health may quickly fail, your powerful arm fall weak;
The hands that earn your daily bread, sickness may nerveless make,
Then you and all that you support to pinching wants awake.

On health and self-reliance you build all your hopes complete,
Perhaps you lay not up in store affliction's trials to meet,
Your health gives way, your incomes cease, soon want with sickness blend,
In such dark trying hours you feel you need a helping hand.
This grand safe order suits your wants, benevolence gilds its chart,
For a small monthly fee its funds, in sickness aid impart,
Though its sick benefits seems small, many its worth does own,
When hunger craves, a crust of bread is sweeter than a stone.

Its noble aim relieves distress and sick-made breaches fill,
Along with help each member claims a good free doctor's skill.
Each court is bound to give relief, assist and sympathize,
To ward off want and ease distress, where a sick brother lies.
Although its funds in countless homes, the sick from want relieves,
That is not half the glorious work the order here achieves.
Its large and sure endowment fund, when a loved brother dies,
His endowment claim and funeral costs, the order prompt supplies.

In life at death its blessings have the highest encomiums woe,
Give ear that widowed mother speaks she lost her only son,
Her sole support, thank God he was a Forester she says,
Her death claim brightens up the gloom in her declining days.
That is but one of thousands more your good society cheers,
It numerous helpless children feeds, and checks the widow's tears,
Ask her who laid up for their wants, the truth she will not hide,
"My husband was a Forester, for us he did provide."

Death penetrates still one more home, the father and husband falls,
The widow's anguish, children's shrieks mingle within its walls,
Bereavement's dart has barbs enough the widow's heart to bleed
Without the thought how she would still her children clothe and feed.
Fear, doubt and gloom all disappear, hope shines like heaven-sent rays,
Her husband's claim besqueathed to her one thousand dollars pays,
If your Canadian order should proofs of its worth require,
Thousands of grateful hearts sound out more praise than you desire.

Your benefits cannot fill the void caused by bereavement's dart,
Nor heal the deep and painful wound in no grieved widow's heart;
For indigence and daily need a true balm it supplies,
Dispels or mitigates the grief that want intensifies.
Your order by its good works has its name immortalized,
Relieves distress, dries up grief's tear, unburdens crushing woes,
And by its aid the open door of destitution close.

One good divine (of that word good) I have my doubts and fears,
At all see cities such as yours he ridicules and sneers.
If he on miracles depends, manna or locusts hot,
He oft will blow at a cold stove and watch an empty pot.
While you on Providence depend, your duty you must do,
Toil, save and wait and Providence may blessings send to you,
In that grand Order now enroll while you your dues can spare,
In sickness you, at death loved friends, a rich reward will share.

Life's comforts from that Order falls like dew on the drooping flowers,
On many a heart, in many a home it cheers the darkest hours;
Its aid refreshes downcast hearts like flowing desert springs,
Like heaven-sent blessings bound by love, wafted on mercy's wings.
I have three sons and each of them the badge of honor wears,
No doubt that emblem forms a part in many a widow's prayers.
Founded on charity and love your Order must succeed,
Till every feeling heart shall wish the brotherhood God speed.

WM. TELFORD, Smith.

Ho! my sisters, see the banner,
Waving in the sky.
Are you broken-down, discouraged
Courage! help is nigh.

On that banner read this legend:

"German Syrup"

For Coughs & Colds.

John F. Jones, Edom, Tex., writes: I have used German Syrup for the past six years, for Sore Throat, Cough, Colds, Pains in the Chest and Lungs, and let me say to anyone wanting such a medicine—German Syrup is the best.

B.W Baldwin, Carnesville, Tenn., writes. I have used your German Syrup in my family, and find it the best medicine I ever tried for coughs and colds. I recommend it to everyone for these troubles.

R. Schmalhausen, Druggist, of Charleston, Ill., writes: After trying scores of prescriptions and preparations I had on my files and shelves, without relief for a very severe cold, which had settled on my lungs, I tried your German Syrup. It gave me immediate relief and a permanent cure.

The Extent of Artificial Hatching.

Artificial hatching is now the method essential to success in rearing market poultry, and the more the farmer looks into this new industry of raising broilers for March and April markets the sooner he will be in line with men about him, who are making poultry-keeping pay them when it never did in previous years by the use of the old hen solely. Within the last five years rapid advancement has been made in the construction of incubators, which are now so perfect, as to hatch over ninety per cent. of the fertile eggs intrusted to their care. When looked at in the proper light this is a marvelous advantage over the old hen, and any thoughtful person can readily see the absurdity of sticking to the latter when such a perfect method exists and is obtainable at a very moderate cost.

In the early spring, many wealthy persons, as well as the restaurants and fashionable hotels of the large cities, pay from $1.50 to $2.00 per pair. At these prices a flock of 400 broilers would pay a handsome profit over the cost of raising. The incubator gives the advantage of practically two seasons, one commencing in December when the old hen is resting after the summer season, then the spring season for the sale of choice eggs, and the slower process of raising finer fowls for disposal in the fall at fancy or somewhat higher prices than broilers. If the farmer cannot make poultry-keeping pay, under such advantages as artificial hatching offers in connection with the better grades of poultry, he should never attempt to keep poultry.

The extent of artificial hatching is growing with amazing rapidity. Thousands of incubators are successfully operated, both on the farm, and in the houses of breeders of limited means in the suburbs of large cities. It is a vast industry in one town of New Jersey, where thousands of chicks are hatching out every week. When of proper age they are sent to the New York and Philadelphia markets. Thousands of dollars are now invested in this business, where a few hundreds were considered a large capital to so invest in the ordinary hen business, and the future of this industry is simply beyond a limit, ranking as it does with the greatest manufactured products of this country in actual market values. Statistics prove this statement fully.—American Agriculturist.

A Manure Question.

Whether to broadcast the manure or use it in the hills depends on the quantity of manure and the kind of soil. On light sandy soil the best results are gained when the manure is used in the hill. It is more profitable, however, on ordinary loam soils, to broadcast the manure, even if all of it must be spread on a small surface. Using the manure in the hill allows it to be used to better advantage over more land, but the benefits to the soil are not as lasting as when the manure is broadcasted.

Value of Early Lambs.

Every season there are periods when early lambs bring from 10 to 15 cents per pound, weighing about 50 pounds each. This means from $5 and more for a lamb, a sum greater than can be obtained from the wool of two ordinary sheep, and greater than the price of a common adult sheep. While every farmer may not succeed in getting early lambs, yet he can gain a month's time in growth by judicious and careful feeding, in addition to the milk supply from the ewes.

Spain's Woman Novelist.

Spain has at least one woman novelist of great ability. Emilia Pardo Bazan edits the monthly review El Teutro Crilico, and fills it with her own contributions, which consists every month of one story, a review of the most notable books published, and an editorial disquisition on the topics of the times. By way of filling odd moments she is writing a novel with the alluring title, "La Piedra Aujular," and has already sold it to an American publisher.

Wilhelm is Gallant

Really, the German Emperor has some pleasing little ways. His New Year's present to the Empress was a pendant, composed of six little angels in diamonds surrounding a large sun, composed of the same stones. "The angels of peace?" quoted the Empress, as she opened it. "No," said her royal lord, "our six little boys; and you," he added gallantly, "are the sun."

A Very Mournful Ballad.

"Li Hung Chang has the grip."—Daily papers.

In the blossoming land of the broad Hwang-Ho,
Where the soft, celestial pig-tails hang,
The royal household is struck with woe—
The influenza got Hung Chang.
Hung Chang, viceroy of the sun and moon
And various astral real estate,
Is wearing like a cracked bassoon—
Like a merely earthen potentate.

For many days must Li Hung lie low,
While pagoda doctors give things to him
And pray to the joss at his bungalow,
Or put him into baths and stew him.
The viceroyal temper is in a glow,
No mortal may go near Hung Chang,
And the bulk of the natives are lying low
Lest the bulk of the natives are forced to hang.

O, son of the sun, and the crescent moon,
And Jay Gould of the rest of the space;
You're in for it now! each night and noon
You shall sneeze and sneeze till you're red in the face.
Like the Yang-tse-Kiang your eyes will run,
While other floods from your eyelids drip;
O, What better the lot of a son of the sun
If the son of a gun has got the grip!

—Eugene Field.

A Cure for Love.

Take:
12 oz. of dislike.
1 lb. of resolution.
2 gr. of common sense.
2 oz. of experience.
A large sprig of time.
3 qts. of the cooling water of consideration.

Set these over the gentle fire of love, sweeten with the sugar of forgetfulness; skim it with the spoon of melancholy; put in the bottom of your heart, cork it with the cork of a clear conscience, let it remain and you will quickly find ease and be restored to your senses again.

These things can be had of the apothecary at the house of Understanding, next door to Reason, on Prudent street, in the village of Contentment.

It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

DOMINION PARLIAMENT.

A Monster Petition in Favor of Free Binder Twine.

OTTAWA, March 25.—Dr. Roome had the distinction of presenting the biggest petition that has been presented this session, praying for the removal of the duty on binding twine, iron and the products of iron.

George Guillet, member for West Northumberland, and Arthur Boyle, member for Monck, were introduced to Mr. Speaker. Mr. Boyle is an old member, but in the excitement of introduction he came within an ace of smashing the constitution into kindling wood. After wringing the hand of the first commoner he attempted to pass between the chair and the mace. A small page seized him and stayed his ruthless steps. Col. Smith, the Sergeant, got very red in the face, seized his sword and made as if to rush at the rash man, but the member recovered himself and amid the laughter of his friends retraced his steps.

Fraternal Societies Not Included.

Mr. White of Cardwell moved the second reading of the bill to amend the Insurance Act. He explained that in committee he would move that fraternal societies be excluded from its provisions. The bill received its second reading.

The Budget Debate.

The House then resumed its consideration of the Budget Speech. The speakers were Dawson of Addington, Craig, East Durham; Macdonald of North Huron, Campbell of East Kent and Mr. Perry of Prince Edward Island, but nothing very startling or new was elicited in the debate.

Mr. Craig was the last speaker on the Government side, it having evidently been determined on that side to discuss the question no more.

Mr. Cameron of Inverness, a Government supporter, adjourned the debate.

Trent Valley Waterways.

The members of Parliament representing constituencies along the Trent Valley had a meeting yesterday. The elected Mr. Stevenson, member for West Peterboro', chairman of the meeting. It was agreed that a meeting with the Cabinet should be arranged for next week, at which the suggestion should be made that the Government should assume control over the Trent Valley system of waterways. They are at present under control of the Provincial Government. A recommendation of the work on the canal and its speedy completion will be urged.

Deputations.

Samuel Hughes, Clark, Wallace and Emerson Coatsworth waited upon the Minister of Agriculture yesterday to press on him the advisability of sending a copy of the statistical abstract to every schoolhouse in the Dominion, so that teachers and scholars might become acquainted with the facts relating to their own country. The Minister was favorably impressed with the representations made and promised to give them careful consideration.

A delegation of paper manufacturers waited on the Government yesterday and asked for a reimposition of the export duties on logs exported to the United States, and which are used in Canada for the manufacture of paper. The deputation claimed that the American manufacturers had an unfair advantage over the Canadian manufacturers because they got their pulp wood free from Canada, there being no export duty at present, and placed an almost prohibitory duty on ground wood pulp and chemical pulp imported into the States. They asked that a duty be placed on pulp wood and pine and spruce and pine logs.

A. C. Jones, Brockville; Mr. Boulter, Picton, and Mr. Matthews, Lakeport, interviewed the Premier and Messrs. Bowell and Foster yesterday asking for a rebate of duty on raw material used in the manufacture of goods for export.

Petitions in the election protests were yesterday served on Messrs. Cargill, East Bruce; Hughes, North Victoria, and Featherstone, Peel.

The commission appointing Sir Joseph Hickson, Judge Macdougall, ex-Mayor Clarke, G. A. Gigault and Rev. Dr. McLeod sets forth their duty to be the obtaining of desired data respecting

1. The effects of the liquor traffic upon all interests effected by it in Canada.

2. The measures which have been adopted in this and other countries with a view to lessen, regulate or prohibit the traffic.

3. The results of these mensurs in each case.

4. The effect that the enactment of a prohibitory liquor law in Canada would have in respect of social conditions agricultural business, industrial and commercial interests of the revenue requirements of municipalities, provinces and of the Dominion, and also to its capability of efficient enforcement.

5. All other information bearing on the question of prohibition.

The commissioners are authorized to summon any witnesses and to require them to give evidence on oath orally or in writing and to report to the Privy Council the result of the investigation, together with the evidence taken, any opinion or remarks they may see fit to make thereon and any recommendation in respect thereof.

THE SIEGE RECALLED.

Strange Discovery in a French Underground Gallery.

PARIS, March 25.—Upon clearing an abandoned well at Nogent-Sur-Maine yesterday, there was found an underground gallery in which were discovered the body of an officer, sitting at a table, and the body of a private leaning against the wall, both in the uniforms of the National Guards of 1870. It is supposed the men took refuge there from the Germans, and that the walls fell in and suffocated them.

Found After Two Years.

DUNBAR, Pa., March 25.—Yesterday the bodies of 23 of the miners who met a horrible death in the Hill Farm Mine at Dunbar, June 16, 1890, were found, and they will be brought to the surface for burial. The entombed miners were suffocated—not burned or starved. When found the victims were huddled together.

TOO MANY HOLIDAYS

It is Proposed to Abolish a Number of Religious Feasts in Quebec.

MONTREAL, March 25.—It appears that for some time past the bishops of the province have been in communication with Rome for the purpose of abolishing as holidays of obligation on which abstention from servile work is prescribed a certain number of religious feasts which are not kept up in the United States or even in some dioceses of Canadian provinces. The principal reason for this movement is the annoyance caused to business by the multiplicity of these holidays, especially in large cities. It is hinted that the negotiations have been successful and that a collective pastoral letter on the subject will shortly be issued.

Those special religious holidays in the province are seven in number and include: Epiphany, Jan. 6; Annunciation, March 25; Ascension Day, Corpus Christi, All Saints' Day, Nov. 1; Immaculate Conception, Dec. 8. All these feasts are statutory legal holidays, as are also Jan. 1, Ash Wednesday, Good Friday, Easter Monday, the Queen's Birthday and Christmas. To these must also be added the usual Thanksgiving Day, which is fixed by proclamation, so that 14 days, or two full weeks, are practically wiped off the business calendar in the space of one year. It sometimes happens that two legal holidays fall in the same week, as will be the case this year, for Ascension Day and the Queen's Birthday, and for the feast of St. Peter and St. Paul and Dominion Day. It is thought that if the religious holidays are to be abolished by the church, the Legislature will take immediate steps to erase them from the list of provincial legal holidays.

Strike Notes.

MONTREAL, March 25.—Now that the C.P.R. strike is settled rumors are rife as to the probability of a strike on the G.T.R. The men themselves claim there is nothing in it, but it has leaked out that Messrs. Wilkins and Morrissey, who act for the men, are at work on a schedule for presentation to the company.

The officials do not seem to be much exercised about it, as General Manager Seargeant and assistant, Mr. Wainwright, were both out to dinner this evening.

The Montreal police contingent arrived last night from North Bay. They had several scrimmages with strikers while out and on the road back the axle of the dining car broke and it had to be left on the track, the rest of the train proceeding on without it.

WINNIPEG, March 24.—Now that the strike is over, everything is moving smoothly at the Canadian Pacific depot. Regular conductors and train crews reported for duty this morning and all trains arrived and departed as usual.

CANADA LIVE STOCK.

Can Alone Be Sent Into England Under Present Regulations.

LONDON, March 25.—The frequent outbreaks of disease among the live stock of the Continent have forced the Government to take precautions against the introduction and spread of the disease in England, and the Board of Agriculture has issued an order stopping the importation of live stock from all European countries. Not one foreign nation now has the right to send its stock in alive, and Canada is practically the only country in the world enjoying the privilege.

ALLEGED NOVA SCOTIA BOODLING.

Cahan's Charges Discussed and Referred to a Committee.

HALIFAX, March 25.—Yesterday in the House of Assembly the debate was resumed on the resolution made by Cahan, leader of the Opposition, yesterday, asking for the appointment of a special committee to investigate the expenditure of road moneys in the counties of Cape Breton and Victoria and asking certain charges against the member for Cape Breton and Fraser, one of the members for Victoria. The matter being one of privilege Premier Fielding moved an amendment that the matter be referred to the Committee of Rules and Privileges of the House instead of special committee as moved for. He cited the statement made by Sir John Thompson at Ottawa in connection with the Cochrane case in support of his position.

After some debate the amendment carried 21 to 10.

Miss Lettie Huntley,

Is the sister of Mr. W. S. Huntley, of Cortland, N. Y., a well known carpenter and builder. Her frank statement below gives only the absolute truth concerning her illness and marvelous recovery by the aid of Hood's Sarsaparilla. She says:

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Dear Sir: Twelve years ago I began to have hemorrhages and four years ago became so low that the physicians told me

There Was No Hope

and I should soon die. I could not be moved from my bed. Under my face were napkins continually reddened with blood from my mouth. I could eat nothing and had no action of the bowels for a week. The doctors said the cause was ulcers in the stomach. At this time my mother said she wanted to make one more trial, and asked if I would take Hood's Sarsaparilla. I told her it would be

A Waste of Money

but finding it would comfort her, I began taking it. In a few days the bloating began to subside, I seemed to feel a little stronger, but thought it only fancy. I was so weak I could only take ten drops of Sarsaparilla at first. In two weeks I was able to sit up a few minutes every day. In a month I could walk across the room. One day I asked what they were to have for dinner, and said I wanted something hearty. My mother was so happy she cried. It was the

First Time I had Felt Hungry for Two Years

I kept on with Hood's Sarsaparilla and in six months was as well as ever in my life. It is now four years since I recovered, and I have not had a day's sickness since, nor any hemorrhage. If ever a human being thanked the good Lord on bended knees it was I. I know that Hood's Sarsaparilla, and that alone, unquestionably Saved my Life."

Messrs. Sawyer & Jennings, the well known druggists of Cortland, say that Miss Huntley "is a highly respected lady; her statement of what

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Has done for her is worthy the highest confidence." Hood's Pills cure Liver Ills.

DEATH IN THE CHAMBER

A MEMBER DROPS DEAD IN THE ONTARIO LEGISLATURE.

Whilst Speaking on an Amendment to the Assessment Act E. E. Clarke, One of the Members for Toronto, Drops Dead on the Floor of Parliament from Heart Disease.

TORONTO, March 26.—The even tenor that generally pervades the old Parliament buildings was abruptly broken yesterday afternoon a little before 5 o'clock.

Mr. H. E. Clarke, one of the members for Toronto, fell dead on the floor of the House while vigorously supporting the bill introduced by Mr. Joseph Tait to amend the Assessment Act.

Mr. Clarke had pointed out by a clear and forcible line of reasoning that the only tax that any individual paid was a tax on personal expenses.

His last words were: "The present plan of assessment is only a pawn——"

Then, without finishing his sentence, he sat down heavily and placed his hand on his forehead. This, Dr. Willoughby of East Northumberland afterwards said, was the last moment of consciousness or heart action.

Several members of the House who were medical gentlemen hurried to him and did everything for the sufferer that their skill could devise. But all without any avail.

After the doctors had satisfied themselves that life was extinct the deceased gentleman was carried to the reception room of the House.

The Sounds of the Cheers Had Scarcely Died Away.

When but a couple of minutes before in supporting Mr. Tait's bill, Mr. Clarke reminded the Government that they should not forget the great principles of free trade even in the Provincial House he was cheered by every member on the benches.

When the deceased member turned pale and so suddenly dropped into his seat and the doctors rushed to his assistance, the observer unacquainted with Mr. Clarke's malady naturally did not comprehend the fact that for the second time in the history of those legislative halls a member was dying on the floor of the House.

Mr. H. P. O'Connor of South Bruce ran to raise a window to admit fresh air, and finding the storm sash outside smashed the panes of glass with his clenched fist. The sergeant-at-arms left his place and waiters, attendants, pages and the public crowded round the table, while the Speaker stood near his chair anxiously watching the physicians.

The doctors had to strive for some time before they persuaded the crowd to stand back enough to allow fresh air to reach the prostrate man. The spectators in the public gallery stood on the seats and tried to look over the heads of those below in their anxiety to ascertain what had befallen the popular member.

When the lifeless body was carried out a deep gloom pervaded the House. The mace was removed and the Speaker, in a half audible tone, declared the House adjourned.

The members gathered in different parts of the corridors in little groups, where the tragic end of the late member was the sole theme of conversation.

The physician's strict orders had been that Mr. Clarke must leave the Legislative Chamber in case any heated discussion arose.

Drs. Gilmour, Willoughby and McKay of Oxford were the members who devoted their skill to resuscitate their stricken comrade.

It Was Heart Failure.

Mr. Clarke's death was caused by heart failure. For some time past he had been suffering more or less from weak action of the heart. Last year he visited Europe and consulted the eminent physician Sir Andrew Clarke, who advised him to avoid excitement or extra exertion of any kind. About two years ago Mr. Clarke disposed of his business in the factory, but retained his retail business in King-street, of which he was the active manager at the time of his death.

Mr. Clarke was in his usual health yesterday. In the morning he visited his place of business, went home to luncheon as usual and afterwards, as was his custom, reated for a short time before going to the Local House. Knowing his state of health, and remembering the advice of his medical men, he did not take an active part in the debates this session.

Biography of the Deceased.

Mr. Clarke was born at Three Rivers, Que., on March 20, 1829. He was a son of Henry Clarke and Ellen Armstrong, both of whom came from Midhill, county of Fermanagh, Ireland. He received his tuition, which comprised a sound and practical English education from public teachers and private instructors, and at 15 years of age Mr. Clarke left home to push his fortune in the world. Commerce drew him into its busy and active field. At the age of 18 he had learned the trade of saddle and trunk-making and found employment in one of the largest shops in Montreal. Here he remained until 1848, and then removed to Ottawa (then Bytown), where, in the following year, he was foreman of the largest saddlery shop in the town. At Ottawa he remained for about four years, working diligently and perfecting himself in his trade. Mr. Clarke again returned to Montreal in 1853, and the next year he was sent to Toronto to open a branch trunk store for R. Dean & Co. of Montreal. Mr. Clarke now resolved to carry on business for himself, and in ten months after his arrival here he bought out the business of R. Dean & Co. Although he had little capital at his command, he had industry and perseverance, and the result is that he soon was at the head of one of the largest trunk manufacturing establishments of America.

BEHRING SEA MATTERS.

THE UNITED STATES STILL WAITING A REPLY.

The Question Discussed in the British House of Commons—What the General Opinion in England Over the Affair Appears to be—United States Cabinet Meets.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—The seriousness of the Behring Sea situation is shown by the fact that Sec. Blaine attended the Cabinet meeting yesterday, notwithstanding he has not fully recovered from his recent severe attack of the grip. All the other members were prompt in attendance.

Secretaries Foster and Tracey had a conference prior to the meeting, presumably in regard to the orders to be sent to the naval and revenue vessels to be assigned to the duty of patrolling the sealing grounds. It is practically settled that this will be assigned to the warships Charleston, Baltimore, Boston, Yorktown, Adams, Ranger and Mohican, and the revenue vessels Corwin, Bear, Rush and Albatross.

The entire Cabinet session was devoted to the consideration of the Behring Sea question. It is understood this Government will await a reply from Lord Salisbury to the President's note of the 22nd inst., before proceeding on the assumption that Great Britain will not co-operate in measures for the protection of the sealing industry.

Senators Sherman and Gray of the Foreign Affairs Committee had an interview with the President to-day in regard to the treaty of arbitration.

The Senate spent two and a half hours in the further consideration of the Behring Sea arbitration treaty. As a result the discussion has nearly reached a conclusion and a vote is expected to be taken on the motion to ratify the treaty some time next week. In fact, there did not seem to be any sufficient reason why action should not have been taken to-day, although it was represented that in view of the small attendance of senators towards the close of the session it would be better to defer the vote until next week.

The discussion has established a strong probability that the treaty will be ratified. The senators who oppose it as a whole are few, and their principal representative is Senator Felton of California. His opposition is based upon the idea that it contemplates a possible surrender of the absolute rights acquired by the United States from Russia. But the most formidable opposition to the ratification of the treaty is made up of the senators who believe that it should be accompanied by a resolution directing the President to withhold the exchange of final ratifications until Great Britian consents to renew the modus vivendi It has been represented by the members of the Foreign Relations Committee that the adoption of such a resolution would defeat the treaty, for Great Briton would never consent to be placed in the attitude of renewing the modus vivendi through fear of the results. These representations have such effect that to-day it was made to appear from the trend of the debate that the treaty will ultimately be ratified without any such condition. However, there is still another element in the Senate that seeks to follow the ratification of the treaty with a resolution endorsing the President's action up to this point and asserting strongly the purpose of this government to protect its property in the seals at all hazards pending arbitration. This element appeared to-day to have gathered strength, and it may be that when final action is taken upon the treaty some such resolution will be adopted, although a large number of senators feel that it will be unnecessary to do this, as the President is already fully satisfied that he has the hearty support and co-operation of the Senate. Notwithstanding all of the discussions had the treaty remains technically unchanged in its position and advancement that is to be recorded is in the approach made toward a conclusion of debate. The efforts to maintain secrecy continue and there has been talk in executive session of another investigation into newspaper methods.

In the Senate.

WASHINGTON, March 26.—In executive session yesterday the Senate completed the consideration of the Behring Sea arbitration treaty.

In view of absence of a number of senators the final vote upon the ratification was deferred until Monday. It is understood a resolution looking to the withholding of the exchange of final ratifications until the modus vivendi is renewed will accompany the treaty.

In the Imperial Parliament.

LONDON, March 26.—In the House of Commons yesterday Louis John Jennings (Progressive Conservative) asked the Government whether, in view of the gravity of the news from Washington published during the last few days, concerning the relations between the U.S. and Great Britain on the Behring Sea question, the Government would inform the House as to the latest communications on the subject.

Mr. Lowther, Parliamentary Secretary of the Foreign Office, replied that communications had been passing between the two governments during the last few weeks regarding arrangements for the approaching sealing season. The negotiations of this matter were still pending. He hoped the correspondence would be ready for production in the House on Monday. The reply to Great Britain's last note to the United States was still under consideration.

Until the Liberal leaders have examined the Behring Sea correspondence, which Mr. Lowther promises to place in the hands of members of Parliament on Monday next no party action will be taken on the question. But from the cable despatches, giving the drift of the correspondence as laid before the United States Senate, they have already determined to adopt an attitude of opposition. A week ago the Liberal leaders were inclined to support Lord Salisbury and the Liberal organs until yesterday took a view adverse to the position assumed by the United States Government.

To-morrow's number of The Speaker, Mr. Gladstone's organ, will contain an inspired article, which, after analyzing expert evidence on seal killing, maintains that the renewal of the modus vivendi ought to be assented to by the British Government, and continues, "Why should the Government be asked to promote the success of Canadian adventurers who deliberately undertake a dangerous speculative enterprise of doubtful legality and of doubtful utility to mankind? At the outside the capital and outfit of these adventurers amount to £120,000. Their success might make the fur seal as extinct as the 'dodo,' and if the existence of the seal is at stake how can damages be measured? We are not going to war with the United States, not even in the interest of federation of the empire, and pending arbitration it is unjust to refuse to continue the arrangements which was part of the condition under which arbitration was agreed on."

The Unionist organ, The Spectator, naturally takes the Government's side, but will have only a brief note advocating a settlement that will open the sea to Canadian sealers with a provision for recompense to the Americans in the event of the decision of the arbitrators being against Great Britian. Lord Salisbury's reply to President Harrison's last note ought to have been in the possession of the Washington Cabinet to-day. Although no official statement in regard to its character is obtainable, the belief of the inner ministerialist circle is that Lord Salisbury will agree to place an embargo on Canadian sealing in the open sea, provided the United States Government agrees to pay compensation if the arbitration decision be against the American claims. Whatever may be the issue the idea of an armed collision is dismissed on all sides here as supremely impossible.

To-night's cable despatches, giving a formidable list of United States cruisers and revenue vessels preparing for Behring Sea, are received with incredulous surprise within the House of Commons. Interest in the matter centres solely on the question of how much party advantage may be derived from the controversy. Neither side has the remotest sense of any grave crisis impending affecting peace.

Outside of Parliament popular interest in the Behring Sea question is very slight.

That Pacific Squadron Bugaboo.

Replies to inquiries made at the Admiralty do not support the rumor that orders have been sent to Admiral Hotham altering the movements of the Pacific squadron. On the contrary the officials know nothing of any change in the program since it was fixed on Jan. 27 and confirmed on March 8. At the latter date the Warspite, Melpomene and Champion were under orders for Esquimalt, the Daphne was to remain at Esquimalt, the Garnet and Nymph were to remain on the southern division and the Pheasant, which left Esquimalt on Jan. 20 for Honolulu, was to remain in Hawaii waters for the present. Admiral Hetham's official direction to the Champion, sent to Acapulco on Jan. 16, were to cruise off the coast of Central America and to join the flagship on March 10 and proceed north. His orders to the Melpomene at Valparaiso, sent on Feb. 27, were to sail for Esquimalt.

From the dates of these orders, it is evident that the movements of these vessels cannot be associated with an acute stage of the Behring Sea difficulty.

To-morrow's number of The Army and Navy Gazette will curtly dismiss the matter with the observation that it is a fuss over a political question, and is mere bluster, and that rumors of naval movements are only gossip.

The departure for Vancouver of Mr. Rose and Treasury Clerk Gleadow is connected with a notice to Canadian sealers to file claims within a month at the Customs office in Victoria.

Uncle Sam's Red Rag.

Sir Charles Tupper is the moving spirit in these arrangements and he has throughout been adviser of the Government. Among his suggestions is that to Lord Knutsford, the Colonial Secretary, to consider the permanent appointment of a Canadian attache to the staff of the British legation in Washington to act as special adviser on Canadian affairs.

THE HESLOP TRIAL.

How the Jury Stood—Effect of the Verdict—What the Case Cost.

HAMILTON, March 26.—The disgust manifested on the face of nearly every person one meets yesterday shows the disappointment felt that, after all the promises made by the newspapers, Hamilton is not to have a hanging in the near future.

After the jurors retired to consider their verdict in the Heslop murder trial last evening a prayer meeting was held by them. It was conducted by John Taylor, one of the jurors, and all the others took part. Mr. Taylor and R. McDonald of Dundas have strong religious views, and before coming to a decision they desired to ask divine Providence in the consideration of the evidence.

From all accounts the jury moved as one man in examining and coming to a conclusion on the evidence. No ballot was taken, and the men were practically unanimous from the start.

The jury were paid for 14 days from the opening of the court and received $28 each, their hotel expenses of course being paid. The jurors contended that they should be paid extra time for being detained night and day, but the claim didn't go.

Bail for Lottridge.

Mr. Crerar is unable to say whether the charge of burglary will be pressed against Lottridge at the next criminal court. Both he and Bartram can be indicted and tried, but it would be a very unusual proceeding in view of the finding of the jury in the murder trial. Anyway, neither of the men can be tried again on the murder count and are rid of it for keeps. This morning Mr. Nesbitt got an order from Judge Rose to admit John Lottridge to bail on two sureties of $1000 each and himself in one surety of $200. Whether he will ever be called upon to answer the charge is a matter of conjecture in some quarters.

The Indians, Samuel Goosey and George Douglas, were brought up from the jail this morning by the constables and formally discharged from custody. There is a true bill for murder against Douglas, but he would get his discharge in any event.

Treasurer Stock has estimated that the case will cost the country in the near neighborhood of $5000.

PERISHED FROM EXPOSURE.

The Mysterious Disappearance of a Cobourg Woman Accounted For.

COBOURG, March 26.—The body of Sarah Morrison, the young woman employed as a domestic servant in P. McCallum's house, whose mysterious disappearance on the evening of March 16 was recorded, was found this afternoon in a corner of a field near Cold Springs about six miles from here.

It is supposed that she intended to walk out to some of her relatives who live near Rice Lake and must have perished from cold and exhaustion.

Will Remove to Toronto.

BRANTFORD, March 26.—The rumor has been in circulation for some time and is again renewed that Mr. L. F. Heyd, barrister, who defended the Heslop murder suspects, intends removing to Toronto, where he will practice law.

Velocity of Meteors.

It has been demonstrated that while the greatest velocity imparted to a cannon ball scarcely exceeds 600 meters a second—about 1,500 miles an hour; meteors from space penetrate the air with a velocity, it is claimed, of 40,000, sometimes 60,000 meters per second. This tremendous speed raises the temperature of the air at once to 4,000 or 6,000 degrees centigrade, causing in many cases a complete destruction of the meteorite by combustion.

Within the last two years it has been demonstrated to the satisfaction of all sensible people, that Harvard Bronchial Syrup has attained a fame and reputation never accorded to any other cough remedy. Its work in all cases has been swift and sure; and the speed with which its good name has flown, is truly marvellous.

Harvard Bronchial Syrup has become the family cough remedy in all well-regulated Canadian homes. Owing to the great purity of its composition, it can safely be left where the young can use it when required. It contains no poisonous ingredients, and does not like other cough preparations nauseate or sicken.

During this season of the year, no home is safe without a bottle of this wonderful syrup, which should be taken at once when the first symptoms are felt. Our most prominent doctors prescribe it, knowing that it never fails.

Norwood Cheese Factory.

The Necessary Arrangements Made for the Season of 1892.

A largely attended meeting of the patrons of the Norwood Cheese Factory was held in the town hall here on Saturday afternoon.

Mr. Hugh Spence was engaged to manufacture the cheese for the season of 1892 on the same terms as last season.

The election of officers resulted as follows:—

PRESIDENT.—Mr. W. G. Patterson.

SALESMAN AND TREASURER.—Mr. William Book.

SECRETARY—Mr. Hugh Spence.

DIRECTORS — Messrs. Michael Hannon, William Webster, Duncan Campbell, Wm. Howson, Michael O'Keefe and Charles Nicholl.

AUDITORS—Messrs. W. H. Breathen and W. O'Shea.

Arrangements were also made for paying the patrons of the factory once every two months.

The prospects for a good season are bright and with an efficient staff of officers in charge the patrons of the Norwood cheese factory may confidently expect satisfactory results.—Register.

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wigge, Arkansas.

Nebular Hypothesis.

Last of the Series of Lectures Given Under the Auspices of the Collegiate Literary Society, Held Last Evening—A Large Attendance—An Able Lecture and a Fine Programme.

The last of the series of lectures given under the auspices of the Collegiate Institute Literary Society was held last evening in the large assembly room.

Mr. Thos. Dodds, President of the Society occupied the chair. The first event on the programme was an instrumental solo by Miss Lottie Smith, which was well executed and favourably received. A vocal duet, "I would that my love," by Misses Annie Hall and Eva Carry followed. It was pleasingly rendered and loudly applauded. Mr. W. J. Drope, B.A., Commercial Master, then delivered his lecture on "Nebular Hypothesis." He dealt with the subject in hand in a clever and exhaustive manner, holding the attention of his hearers for nearly an hour.

The lecturer began by stating that the Nebular Hypothesis is by the unthinking and the unlearned closely allied to scepticism and infidelity but that this is a mistaken idea. He then gave his definition of the Nebular Hypothesis, a theory which attempted to prove that the bodies composing our solar system were once in the form of nebular or cloudy matter in a molten condition. It was first advanced by Herschel in 1783 and has since been elaborately discussed and explained by Kant, La Place and many others. He then compared the Nebular Hypothesis with other theories regarding the origins of our solar system by giving a description of the beliefs of the Brahman and Buddhists and our Scandanavian ancestors.

THE ADVOCATES OF THE NEBULAR THEORY assume that the sun's mass once extended beyond the orbit of the planet Neptune, the planet of our system most distant from the sun, and that the matter out of which it was composed was then a mass of fiery vapor. This mass of fiery vapor began to cool off and contract and an outer ring was thrown off. This, after a process of development became the planet, Neptune. After a time not measured by years, but by centuries, the mass still farther contracted. Another ring was thrown off which became the planet Uranus. This system of ring formation continued and the result was that a series of rings were thrown off corresponding to each of the planets.

Now before we accept this theory several reasons have to be advanced in its favour, several difficulties explained, several questions answered. The lecturer then proceeded to advance the arguments in favour of saying that the earth was once in a molten condition. In digging deep wells and mines it has been found that the temperature increases one degree with every fifty feet we go towards the centre. This heat cannot be superficial, but must extend to a great depth, without doubt to the centre of the earth. It had been estimated that the earth's crust is about twenty-five miles thick, and that if it were possible to dig to that depth we would find sufficient heat to melt iron. The centre of the earth being hotter than the spots around, it must be radiating heat into space, else the surface would become as hot as the interior, but since the surface is not becoming hotter that is sufficient proof that heat is being radiated into space. This being true the earth must be losing heat. By looking back into the infinity of time which is passed we can come to a time when the earth was a mass of glowing vapor. The next point in support of this theory is that geologists find the fossils of palm trees in Greenland and coal beds are also found in that foreign region. Palm trees are not grown in Canada to-day on account of the extreme climate.

THE FIRST REQUISITE OF A COAL FORMATION is a luxuriant vegetation. Very little vegetation exists in Greenland to-day. In order to account for this coal formation we must assume that there existed in that country at one time a luxuriant vegetation. Another fact is that all over the surface of the earth we have traces of the result of heat or some equivalent form of energy.

We find the sun to be cooling off like the earth only at a much more rapid rate, since when a body cools off it contracts. The sun must have been larger in bygone ages than it is now. By looking back into the bygone ages we can trace this decrease in size without limit. Thus we are led to the conclusion that the sun once filled up the space which is filled and lies between the orbits of the planets. It is evident that the planets could not have existed separately, but must have formed part of the mass. This then is the material out of which the nebular hypothesis supposes the planets to have been formed. Great masses of this nebula are still to be found in the celestial space. By means of the spectroscope it has been found that these masses are glowing vapor. Thus we actually see matter in the celestial space in the very form in which the nebular hypothesis supposes our planets to have once existed. Assuming that the planets were once in this form, several coincidences with regard to the motions of the planets are explained, which cannot be explained satisfactorily otherwise.

ANOTHER PROOF IN SUPPORT OF THE THEORY is obtained from the present physical constitution of Jupiter and Saturn. Astronomers tell us that these planets are still hot, and give as their reason the fact that great physical changes are going on upon their surface, which can only be accounted for by supposing these bodies to be in a hot condition. Several scientific tests have been applied to the nebular theory, but it has withstood all the tests, and that it has done so is another strong point in it favour. The equatorial diameter of the earth is twenty-seven miles greater than the polar diameter. Astronomers tried to account for this, but without success until the nebular theory was advanced. When the earth was in a molten state, on account of its rotation on its axis, the particles would tend to move towards that part which was moving most rapidly, viz., the equatorial regions hence we account for the bulging out of the equator and the flattening out at the poles.

The last argument that was advanced was similarity in constitution of the various planets and nebulæ that are to be found. By means of the spectroscope it has been found that the same constituent elements which are found in the earth are found in the various planets and nebulæ.

At the close Master Alex. Elliott recited "Only a Boy" in his usual clever style.

The Collegiate Glee Club then rendered a fine solo which brought to a close an evening of instruction, interest and variety.

The course undertaken has been a successful and edifying one throughout and the Literary Society deserve much credit and praise for the success which has attended, and the instruction which has been given, by their fortnightly lectures during the winter months.

THE BATTLE OF _____ (?)

One of the most remarkable and terrible ever fought. The army of the general whose previous successes had terrified Europe was posted along the ascent with Hougoumont, and the general himself had taken up his stand in a farm house called the "Belle Alliance." The opposing forces were extended over an elevation in the Charleroi Road about two miles from the little village in Belgium which gave its name to the battle. Each commander was thus able to command a view of the whole field. The first general with better equipped and better drilled troops and unable to see the reserve force of the other was over confident. The second commander, supported by the brave old Prussian marshal, divided his troops into two lines and awaited the beginning of the battle. It was between eleven and twelve o'clock on Sunday the 18th of June, 1815, that the actual engagement began. The action opened with a brisk cannonade on the house and wood of Hougoumont which were held by the troops of Nassau. The contest continued here all day with terrible fury, but without being able to expel the .....who, although the building had been set on fire, maintained their post amid the flames. Frightful slaughter and great loss ensued. Terrific and resolute attacks were made by the.....cavalry on the.....centre, and at six in the evening the allied army had lost ten thousand men. Their opponents had suffered still more severely losing fifteen thousand soldiers. Then the great general on seeing the .....sweep the old guards before them exclaimed:

"All is lost for the present," and rode from the field. The battle was over.

QUESTIONS:—1st. Name the battle referred to in above description 2nd. What two nations were principally interested? 3rd. Give names of two principal commanders. 4th. Did defeated commander ever regain his position? 5th. Where did he die?

Toronto, February 2nd, 1892.

To Whom It May Concern:—

This is to certify that we have this day contracted with the publishers of the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY to ship for them two of the "Heintzman & Co's. Upright Pianos, Style D.," valued at $350.00 each, to the two successful contestants in their Prize History Competition, and have received their order for the same. Respectfully,

(Signed) HEINTZMAN & CO.

A Heintzman Upright Piano, valued at $350.00, will be given for the FIRST correct answers to the above questions and a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the next TEN correct answers received.

All correct answers are numbered and entered on our books as received.

$100.00 in Cash will be given for the correct answers to the above questions which is the MIDDLE one received during the Competition.

And a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the ten correct answers received next PRECEDING the middle one, DUPLICATE prizes will be given for the ten correct answers received next FOLLOWING the middle one.

A Heintzman Upright Piano, valued at $350.00, will be given for the LAST correct answers received before the close of this Competition.

And a PRIZE valued at from TEN TO TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS will be given for each of the ten correct answers received PRECEDING the last one.

Over $100 Given Away each Day in Special Prizes.

And the names of winners announced each day in the leading daily newspapers of Canada.

A solid gold watch will be given each day during this competition for the first correct answers received and opened at the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY office upon that day. A handsome rich glass Berry Bowl mounted on an elegant silver stand of the best quadruple plate valued $16.00 will be given to EACH province and state daily for the first correct answers received and opened upon that day.

EXPLANATION:—As the Publishers of the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY do not consider it advisable that the names of the winners of either of the pianos should be announced until the close of this contest, no daily prize will be awarded for the first correct answers received on THE FIRST DAY; The sender of such necessarily being the winner of the first piano.

In awarding the daily prizes the second correct answers received from the province or state, which have carried off the solid gold watch for that day will be awarded the Berry Bowl mounted on a silver stand, this is to prevent the first recived from that province or state from securing both the watch and berry bowl on that day.

AWARD OF PRIZES:—A committee consisting of a representative from each of the six Toronto daily newspapers will be invited to act in the award of the prizes at the close of this competition. One hundred dollars in cash will be paid for proof of any unfairness or partiality in the award of the prizes.

CONDITIONS:—Answers must be accompanied by one dollar for six months TRIAL subscription to the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY which will be sent to any address in Canada or United States that contestant desires, decision will be based on the correctness of the answers rather than on the language used in answering. Answers may be mailed any time before May 15th, 1892, as the prizes are equitably divided over entire time competition is open, persons can enter at any time with an equal opportunity of securing one of the leading prizes. No corrections can be made after answers are mailed unless another six months trial subscription to the LADIES PICTORIAL WEEKLY is enclosed with corrections. THE LADIES PICTORIAL CO. is an established and financially responsible publishing concern who offer the above prizes purely as a legitimate manner of attracting attention to their elegant sixteen page illustrated weekly. The purpose is to introduce it (on trial) into every possible home in Canada and the United States. It is intended to make each prize winner a permanent advertisement for the merits of the Weekly. Each daily prize winner is expected to secure from amongst their circle of friends at least two new six months trial subscriptions, and it is expected that every winner of a leading prize will renew their trial subscription for an entire year. By this plan we shall introduce the Weekly into at least ten thousand new homes, it is simply a business plan of increasing our circulation. If you have never seen the Ladies Weekly send three two cent stamps for sample copy. There is no other like it in Canada. Address

Oh is not That Handsome?

And other similar expressions have been heard frequently all afternoon from the large numbers who have stopped to look at the splendid oak dining room suite in Mr. Clegg's window; it is exceptionally good both in design and workmanship; of course everybody will be anxious to see it before it is taken out of the window. 2d

Where Has She Gone.

Sarah Morrison, a young woman employed the domestic services of Mrs. P. McCallum, jr., Cobourg, mysteriously disappeared on Thursday night. She got her wages in full, but left her clothing all packed. She had been acting strangely for some time, and there is ground for fear that she has committed suicide. Her relatives have been communicated with, but they know nothing of her whereabouts.

Get On to This Will You?

The British Whig has the following to say of the Kingston ladies:—Kingston possesses beauty. Its ladies stand unrivalled in Canada. The panorama of brightness, vivacity, colour and figure at the city hall, last night, was delightful. And the young girls are coming up to fill the shoes of their mothers, with even more charming countenances.

Canada's Superior Cheese.

In reviewing the cheese situation in New York state a writer on the Watertown, N.Y., Times says: "Wisconsin is outselling ours, just as Elgin butter outsells ours; and Canada, where a few years ago cheese-making was unknown, now outsells ours by ½ to ¾ cent per pound in the home or European markets. Better goods must be our future motto, or we must draw out of business. Greed for what we can get to-day without any regard for to-morrow will have to cease, and give place to intelligent business methods, else we shall be cut off on one side by Canada and on the other by Wisconsin."

Edison Amateur Athletic Club.

A grand entertainment will be held on Friday evening, April 1st, in Opera House Music Hall. A programme consisting of selections by the Amateur Orchestra, songs, clog dancing, fencing and boxing contests. There will also be a grand minstrel sketch. Our Mosbante's Maligned.

The following paragraph respecting this town appears in the telegraph dispatches to the Winnipeg Daily Tribune of the date given:—

PETERBOROUGH, March 11.—The labor unions of this place have issued an address to workingmen of all grades urging them to keep away from here during the coming summer. The address says that organized labor is discountenanced in the most aggressive manner by employers, that the town is full of scabs of the worst description from all parts of Canada and the United States, looking vainly for work, and that wages are below living probabilities.

Particular inquiry amongst the seven or eight trades and other unions that exist in Peterborough discloses no foundation for the statements made in the above dispatch. So far as can be ascertained the most cordial relations exist between the employers and men. The former do not discountenance organized labour, for Peterborough from a union standpoint is the best organized town in the province. Nor is there any truth in the statement that scabs are here in great numbers looking for work. The local unions see that the interest of the six or seven classes represented are duly protected, and that without any friction between themselves and the employers of labour whether skilled or otherwise. With a capable community of mechanics and fair minded employers, things run smoothly here.

Dep. Sheriff Wheeler

Does Not Care to Live

If He Cannot Have

HOOD'S

Sarsaparilla

It would be difficult to find a man better known in the vicinity of Burlington, Vt., than Mr. R. D. Wheeler of Winooski Falls, the efficient Deputy Sheriff of Burlington county. He says: "C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.: "Dear Sirs: If Hood's Sarsaparilla cost

$10.00 a Bottle

I should still keep using it, as I have for the past ten years. With me the question as to whether life is worth living depends upon whether I can get Hood's Sarsaparilla. I don't think I could live without it now, certainly I should not wish to, and suffer as I used to. For over ten years I suffered the horrors of the damned with for if ever a man suffers with anything in this world it is with that awful disease. It seems to me as if all other physical suffering were compressed into that one. I took about everything man ever tried for it but never got a dollar's worth of help until I began taking

Hood's Sarsaparilla

I have taken it now pretty regularly for ten years and have no more pain and can get around all right. I have advised a good many to try Hood's Sarsaparilla." R. D. WHEELER, Deputy Sheriff, Winooski Falls, Vt.

A Night With the Oddfellows.

The Concert and Entertainment a Grand Success—An Immense Audience — A Varied and Pleasing Programme.

The members of Peterborough Lodge, I O O F., No. 111, have reason to feel proud and gratified at the great success of the first concert presented under their management and auspices. The opera house was crowded in every part, including gallery and aisles—in fact, wherever there was standing room. The hall was nicely decorated with national flags and emblems of the order. Previous to the beginning of the performance—at 7 30, there was a grand street parade, consisting of the Roman Soldiers, the Battalion band and the Chevaliers of Canton No. 10. Both organizations performed a series of evolutions on the march and the parade attracted thousands of spectators who heartily enjoyed the clever performance of the mimic warriers.

The programme opened with a fine selection rendered by the 57th Battalion Band—Miller's "Reve D'Amour," the cornet solo parts being cleverly taken by Mr. Miller, which was followed by a brief address by Bro. D. H. Moore, Grand Patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Ontario, on the aims, objects and advantages of Oddfellowship, showing how the cardinal virtue of the order—Friendship, Love and Truth—were exemplified and carried out in its beneficent workings. To this succeeded the sword manual, performed by Canton Peterborough, under the command of Capt. Jos. Mills in a very correct and prompt manner. Mr. W. F. Harris, a popular local vocalist, made his appearance in a sentimental song, "Come to My Heart," which was well sung and well received. His second number was a humourous song, "Is it Likely?" which was loudly encored. He responded with an original topical song, full of taking hits and so well received that he was compelled to appear again, when he sang another humourous selection, "My Pug Dog." Mrs. M. H. Cochrane appeared in vocal solo giving as her first selection "The Scotch Brigade," which appealed so strongly to popular approval, that she was recalled and responded with "Tit for Tat." Her second number "Bonnie Sweet Bessie," was equally well received and she was urgently recalled and very obligingly complied by singing another popular selection. The duet sung by Mrs. C. Green and Miss Fawcett, "Come Haste and Seek," was charmingly and sweetly sung and the recall that greeted them was a genuine tribute to their excellent singing. The audience was rewarded by a delightful rendition of the duet, "Bitter Sweet." Miss Fawcett also sang her solo "Under the Daisies" in a very pleasing manner. Miss Harris gave great pleasure by her capital singing of "The Cows are in the Clover, Meggie," and she answered a cordial recall by rendering "Daddy" very pleasingly. The brilliant pianoforte duet of Mr. F. and and Master Umpleby, and several well performed selections by the Peterborough Amateur Orchestra, with the above numbers comprised the musical part of the programme, which was interspersed with several finely grouped tableaux, "Jonathan before King Saul;" "Jonathan fleeing from Saul;" "The Roman Gladiators," and "Damon and Pythias" The "Grand Oriental Parade" was a well executed piece of fancy marching by a diversely dressed company of Oriental characters. The drilling of this company, as well as the grouping of the tableaux, was the work of Mr. R. Pearce, Lodge Instructor, and the results reflected great credit upon his ability and the aptitude of his pupils. He also arranged the rather vigorous but very funny "pantomime initiation," as well as the grand tableau that closed a very successful concert. The several accompaniments to the local numbers, and marches performed on an Evans pianoforte supplied by Messrs. Jackson & Co., were furnished by Miss B Cochrane, Mr. Fred Clark and Mr. F. Umpleby. The Oddfellows of No. 111, can heartily congratulate themselves on the very gratifying success of their concert, especially in a financial sense—which fits in very nicely with the reputation they enjoy of being very strong in financing as well as finances.

Police Court.

Thos. McCabe and Jas. Barnes each Sentenced to Three Months in Gaol at Hard Labour—Thos. Miller Sentenced to Three Months in Gaol—An Assault Case Disposed of.

SATURDAY, March 26th.

The police court was filled with an eager and interested crowd this morning. The first case on the docket was a complaint laid against Mr. John King by Mrs. Humber, who resides on George street, in the North Ward, for assaulting her young son aged 10 years. Mr. King, defendant, stated in his evidence that for the past year on his way to and fro from his work he was mocked and bothered by a noisy gang of boys because he had an impediment in his speech in being afflicted with stuttering, and that young Humber was one of the ringleaders. On Wednesday morning last he could stand it no longer and he seized young Humber by the ears, shaking him lively. The ears of the youth were bruised and bleeding, freely when King got through with him. Hence the complaint was laid. King was fined $2 00 and costs ($4 35 in all.) The fine was paid. Defendant said that he would stop the boys from annoying him and that he would bring them down to the police court and before the magistrate if need be in dozen lots.

Jas. McCabe and Thomas Barnes, who were remanded a week last Saturday in order that their records might be looked into, appeared before the court again this morning. The evidence of several witnesses was taken, which went to show that the prisoners were not very good acquisitions to society. The evidence showed that the prisoners had been drinking heavily. They applied for protection at the police court on March 17th. Both of them were drunk. On the following night they went into the Grand Central Hotel and asked for whiskey but the bar was closed. They then asked for money, and used abusive language. They did not go away until the police were telephoned for. They were arrested by Officers Stewart and McGinty on the corner of Charlotte and George streets about eleven o'clock at night. Mrs. Hooper testified to having seen the prisoners on the street at a late hour, apparently tottering around. David Rawley stated that McCabe had taken his overcoat, which was hanging in the cloak room of the Carew House. He followed the prisoner after being told that his coat was taken. He found that McCabe had it on over another overcoat. He collared his man in H. S. Griffin's store and told him to fork over the coat as it was his. Prisoner did so saying that he did not know it was his coat. Walter Wesley, clerk, testified to seeing prisoner come in store with Rawley's coat on. Mr. Chas. Storms said McCabe came into shop at which he was working and wanted to sell him a coat. Prisoner said he had a vest like it and that he could have no fear of its being stolen. It was given to him. Storms gave prisoner 25 cents for the coat. He stated that he wanted to sell the coat in order to get something to eat. Chief Rossel said McCabe had told him that his home was in Oshawa and that his father was a blacksmith there. He had written Chief of Police at Oshawa and received an answer that no such a person lived there. Mrs. Hooper was again put in the box; she stated that Barnes came into her shop on George street and asked for five cents with which to buy a drink. She refused to give him any money. He then asked if her husband was in. She spoke to her sister and told her to call her husband to make believe he was in. She was afraid of prisoner as he did not offer to go out. When her sister called, Barnes left the shop very slowly.

When asked what they had to say for themselves, McCabe said his real name was James Buckley, and that his father had been a blacksmith for eighteen years in Oshawa. He had been laid up with a sore foot at Hotel Dieu, Kingston, and latterly at Montreal. He wanted to go as he thought he could get something to do. Barnes said he hailed from Toronto, that he had nothing to do with begging money at the Grand Central Hotel, and that he never intimidated Mrs. Hooper

The Magistrate gave them each three months in the county gaol at hard labour. McCabe kicked violently at his sentence, and and the Magistrate said they could either take what they had got without a word or six months in the Central. McCabe became abusive towards Chief Rossel in his language and a second charge that of the larceny of an overcoat was pressed. The magistrate sentenced prisoner to three months in gaol with hard labour, the sentences to run concurrently.

Thomas Miller who was remanded a week for sentence last Saturday on the charge of stealing $28 from Jas. McBride, of Napanee, in the Commercial Hotel, was brought up this morning for sentence. The Court gave prisoner some wholesome advice and expressed the pain it gave him to sentence prisoner, who was a Peterborough boy, the son of respectable parents, and he was sorry that Millar should stoop so low as to lose all regard for character. He sentenced prisoner to three months in the county gaol at hard labor.

The court adjourned at 11.20 o'clock.

The Ladies Delighted.

The pleasant effect and the perfect safety with which ladies may use the liquid fruit laxative, Syrup of Figs, under all conditions make it their favorite remedy It is pleasant to the eye and to the taste, gentle, yet effectual in acting on the kidneys, liver and bowels.

Worth Trying.

At this season of the year it will repay the flower lover to gather sprigs of various fruit trees—apple, pear, peach and cherry—and, putting them in a vase of water, to place the latter in a sunny window. Do not change the water, but add a little more to its quantity every few days. It is delightful to watch how the buds will grow and develop and finally produce actual blossoms.

Clearing Sale of Groceries.

As I am going extensively into liquors, I find it necessary to run off my entire stock of groceries to make room. So all requiring groceries will do well to bear this in mind as the stock must be run off within 30 days. W. J. Morrow, 340 George street.

Early Closing.

On and after March 28th, the butcher's shops of the town will close every week-day evening at 7 o'clock; Saturdays at 10 o'clock The public will please govern themselves accordingly. 4.

A Golden Wedding Celebrated

The Fiftieth Nuptial Anniversary.

A happy event transpired on Thursday night at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bennett, who reside about three mile from Peterborough in North Monaghan township. It was the occasion of celebrating the golden wedding of the aged couple. There assembled at the residence all the children and grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, and a most enjoyable and happy time was spent. The old couple were the recipients of many handsome and costly presents and received the hearty congratulations of their many children and relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were married on March 24th, 1842, by the Rev. Mr. Armour at one time rector of St. John's church. Mrs. Bennett's maiden name was Jane Graham. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett were born, raised and married in the township of Cavan. They have five children out of eight still living, one in Peterborough and the others in Monaghan township. They are Samuel, Joseph, John and George, and Mrs. Robert Pope, wife of Street Inspector Pope, town. They have also four grandchildren. Mr. Bennett came from a long-lived family. Ten of his brothers and sisters are still living. Henry, George and Mrs. Smith reside near Peterborough. Others of his brothers reside in Port Hope, Kalamazoo, Michigan, and Oaklands, California. Their ages differ about two years each, the oldest being 78 and the youngest 58. Mr. Bennett is the second one, he being in his seventy-seventh year, while Mrs. Bennett has attained the ripe age of seventy-two. The old couple, notwithstanding the attempts of la grippe, are still vigorous and healthy, and have many friends who will wish them many more long years of happy wedded and robust health.

EDWARD ODELL.

A Poisoning Case in Hamilton.

A Young Man in Great Danger.

Medical Men Were Unable to Save Him!

We are not often called upon to record cases of poisoning in the quiet and well-regulated city of Hamilton; but to-day we have to deal with a case which is in many ways interesting and remarkable. The case before us is not an ordinary sensational one of attempted suicide, or an effort to take life; to the public it is a matter of great moment—the story is pregnant with a great and wonderful interest to every individual and family.

The facts of this great great poisoning case given through the press of this country, will be the means of calling attention to what we believe to be a great evil—a disease that is now doing dreadful work in some of our large centres of population. We now refer to "tobacco poisoning," which at the present time is common in many of our large tobacco and cigar factories.

Mr. Edward Odell, of No. 158 Mary street, Hamilton, is a cigar maker by trade; he is a very worthy man, and highly respected by his friends and employers, and is called a first class workman.

Some time ago Mr. Odell found that his health was not in the condition it ought to be. He found himself terribly weakened and shattered by nervousness and nervous debility. He naturally became anxious and troubled, and for a time wondered why he was so weak and broken-down. The truth dawned upon him with startling force that he was suffering from "tobacco poisoning."

Mr. Odell being a man of decision, and always avoiding procrastination, decided to consult the best medical talent. He did this quickly, and informs us that he was treated by several physicians, but received no benefit. Weeks of this treatment was followed, and Mr. Odell still suffered; the poison was permeating his whole system, and his life was in positive danger.

At this crisis, Mr. Odell was fortunately advised to use that unfailing remedy of nature—Paine's Celery Compound. Without delay or questioning, he sent to his druggist and procured what afterwards proved to be his rescuer and renewer. Mr. Odell, for the benefit of other sufferers, and to mark his appreciation of the remedy which gave him his present good health, writes as follows:—

"Having been entirely cured of nervousness by your Paine's Celery Compound, I would like to say a few words for it. For nearly six months I was afflicted with nervous debility. I tried all the medical men, but received no benefit. Having heard of your remedy, I bought three bottles from Fred H. Yapp, here, and used the Compound and now feel as well as ever before. I give you this testimony heartily, as I consider I owe my good health to your remedy.

"EDWARD ODELL,

"P.S.—My whole trouble arose from tobacco poisoning."

"This is to certify that I am acquainted with Mr. Odell, of Flynn Bros., cigarmakers and can verify all the statements he makes in his testimonial.

"FRED H. YAPP,
"Druggist, Hamilton, Ont."

This wonderful and rapid cure effected by Paine's Celery Compound, after the doctors failed, is just the kind of work that is being done every day in all parts of Canada, when this great remedy is used. Who can doubt the truth of the marvellous cure and rescue which we have just recorded? Mr. Odell is well known and we are sure will be pleased to satisfy all inquirers. Then we have the confirming statement of Mr. Yapp, one of Hamilton's best known druggists. All these strong evidences of honesty and truth should lead all doubters who suffer to begin at once with Paine's Celery Compound if they are nervous, weak, sleepless, dyspeptic, or broken-down in health and strength. It will cure you, reader, and give you the new life you are so anxiously desiring.

Buried Alive Thirty Years Ago.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, March 25.—Some miners working in the lead diggings near Stewart Park yesterday discovered, 110 feet below the surface, the skeletons of three men—Harris, Duncombe and Williams—who came here about 30 years ago and began to work on the big lead at Stewart Park. One day these diggings caved in and were abandoned. The three men, whose skeletons have been unearthed, were missing. It is now supposed that the three men were digging a drift when the earth caved in, burying them alive.

Cut Her Throat Before a Mirror.

HALIFAX, N.S., March 25.—The widow of the late Lewis Anderson of L. Anderson & Co., Lunenburg, committed suicide. She took a position before her mirror and cut her throat with a razor.

Fire in Point Edward.

SARNIA, March 25.—A disastrous fire occurred at Point Edward early yesterday, several business houses and an hotel being burned to the ground.

The fire, which was incendiary, started in a shed at the back of a building owned by Mr. A. Hitchcock and occupied by James Fraser, grocer, and George Scott, druggist, entirely destroying all, together with Lawrence Knapp's meat market and J. F. O'Neil's grocery.

$50,000 Blaze at Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 25.—At 2.30 yesterday a fire broke out in the warerooms of the Montreal General Bazaar Company, St. Catharine-street. The damage amounts to $50,000.

A Solid Knock-Down Blow.

The whale blows water while at play,
Trees blow in every clime;
The sweetest flowers blow in May,
But wind blows all the time.

There's lots of blowing in this world. Sufferers from catarrh blow their noses, and quacks blow about their "cures." Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy is the only infallible one. Its proprietors back up this claim by offering $500 for every case they fail to cure permanently. This is an unanswerable blow at humbuggery, coming from men of sterling reputation and ample capital. Nasal catarrh cannot resist the potency of this remedy. It stops discharges, loosens the senses scour, the head clear and the breath normal. Of all druggists, 50 cents.

The Happy Hunting Grounds.

Into the rose gold west land its yellow prairies roll,
World of the bison's freedom, home of the Indian soul,
Roll out, O! seas in sunlight bathed,
Your plains wind-tossed and grass enswathed.

Farther than vision ranges, farther than eagles fly,
Stretches the land of beauty, arches the perfect sky,
Hemmed thro' the purple mists afar
By peaks than gleam like star on star.

Fringing the prairie billows, fretting horizon's line,
Darkly green are slumb'ring wildernesses of pine,
Sleeping until the zephyrs throng
To kiss their silence into song.

Whispers freighted with odors swinging into the air
Russet needles as censors swing to an altar, where
The angels' songs are less divine
Than duo sung twixt breeze and pine.

Laughing into the forest dimples a mountain stream,
Pure as the air above it, soft as a summer dream,
O! Lethian spring, thou'rt only found
Within this ideal hunting ground.

Surely the great hereafter cannot be more than this,
Surely we'll see that country after time's farewell kiss,
Who would his lovely faith condole?
Who envies not the Redskin's soul?

Sailing into the cloud land, sailing into the sun,
Into the crimson portals ajar when life is done?
O! dear dead race, my spirit too
Would fain sail westward unto you.

—E. Pauline Johnson.

Riddle of the Sphinx.

The famous riddle of the Sphinx, which was solved by Œdipus, is entirely rooted in metaphor. "What is that animal which in the morning goes on four feet, at noon goes on two, and in the evening goes on three feet? Answer: Man. Here morning, noon and evening are metaphors of infancy, manhood and age; also, there is a metaphorical use of the word "feet," which is applied in one place to hands used for support, and in another place to a staff used for support, and in another place to a staff used as if it were a third foot.

NECTANEBO'S PUZZLE.

Once Nectanebo thought he was sure to puzzle the Babylonian, and his question was as follows: "There is a grand temple which rests upon a single column, which column is encircled by twelve cities; every city has against its walls thirty flying buttresses, and each buttress has two women, one white and one black, that go round about it in turns Say what that temple is called." Æsop was equal to the occasion, and he explained it thus: The temple is the world, the column is the year, the twelve cities are the months, the thirty buttresses are the days, the two women are light and darkness.

The Meanest Man.

A well-known gentleman in this city moved into a house that had been previously occupied by another gentleman who was a subscriber to one of the evening papers, says the Chattanooga Times. The carrier, of course, continued leaving the paper for a space of a year, never having been notified of the change. The collector recently went to collect for the paper, the bill being made out in the name of the gentleman who had subscribed. When the collector presented the bill the gentleman of the house said:

"Why, my dear sir, that man has not lived here for over a year. You are at the wrong house."

"Well, has not the carrier been leaving you a copy of the paper all the time?"

"Yes, sir. But I did not subscribe, and I told the boy to quit leaving it, but he never did so."

"You have received the paper every day, haven't you?"

"Yes, sir."

"Then you ought to pay for it."

"Well, excuse me for a moment," and the gentleman went into the house. Returning in a moment he lugged out a stack of newspapers half as tall as himself. "Here are your papers, sir; I have no use for them."

He had read them and carefully filed them away until the bill should be presented.

The collector sent a transfer waggon to haul away a year's accumulation of papers, the pay for which he failed to get, because one man returned them and the other man never received them.

The Farmer and Cash Carrier.

Some amusement was created in a dry goods store in this city the other day, when a farmer came in to make a purchase. He bought some calico, and when the clerk placed inside the cash ball the five-dollar bill the farmer gave him and sent it spinning along the wires toward the cashier's desk, a funny sight was witnessed.

Our rural friend evidently thought that was the last he would see of his bill, unless he moved lively, which he did, keeping his eyes fixed on the ball. He collided with an old lady, fell over one of the seats, regained his feet, and kept right on until he arrived at the cashier's desk.

"By gosh! I want my money," he gasped. "I've read too much about bunco-steerers to lose my money, and I'll have my change if I clean out the whole shebang."

He was finally pacified, and departed amid the broad smiles of the clerks and customers in the store. As he went out he muttered: "If I don't come to the city very often, them swindlers can't catch me with their sawdust games.—Binghamton Herald.

A Nickel Boom at Pittsburg

PITTSBURG, Pa., March 25.—Carnegie, Phibbs & Co. are working full blast night and day endeavoring to fill orders for nickel steel plate, but notwithstanding their immense capacity they have been compelled to secure the assistance of the Cleveland Iron Works. Government experiments with nickel steel armor have been much more satisfactory than has yet been published, and in consequence those who have the advantage of high official information are endeavoring to secure control of the world's supply of nickel. For some days it has been rumored, and it is now publicly charged, that a gigantic nickel trust is being organized which will be of greater importance than the now defunct Standard Oil Trust. Two prominent senators with tremendous influence in Congress are said to be interested.

It is not the extremes of heat and cold so much as the sudden changes in temperature that cause certain climates to be unhealthful. Worn, however, the system is invigorated with Ayer's Sarsaparilla, these changes are rarely attended with injurious results.

Across the Continent.

Wm. Renwick, M.D., M.R.C.S.E., Victoria, B.C., writes:—"I have used Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil in cases of indigent patients with the most gratifying results. It does not upset the stomach, is easily assimilated and possesses undoubted power in rebuilding weakened constitutions, where the ordinary form of administering Cod Liver Oil is not admissable. For the future, whenever I have occasion to prescribe any preparation of Cod Liver Oil, I will give Miller's Emulsion the preference, being perfectly satisfied with its therapeutic efficacy. It Leads the Leaders.

The foremost medicine of the day, Burdock Blood Bitters, is a purely vegetable compound possessing perfect regulating powers over all the organs of the system and controlling their secretions. It so purifies the blood that it cures all blood humors and diseases from a common pimple to the worst scrofulous sore, and this combined with its unrivalled regulating, cleansing and purifying influence on the secretions of the liver, kidneys, bowels and skin, render it unequalled as a cure for all diseases of the skin. From one to two bottles will cure boils, pimples, blotches, nettles, rash, scurf, tetter, and all simple forms of skin disease. From two to four bottle will cure salt rheum or eczema, shingles, erysipelas, ulcers, abscesses, running sores, and all skin eruptions. It is noticeable that sufferers from skin diseases are nearly always aggravated by intolerable itching, but this quickly subsides on the removal of the disease by B. B. B. Passing on to graver yet prevalent diseases such as scrofulous swellings, humors and scrofula, we have undoubted proof that from three to six bottles used internally and by outward application (diluted if the skin is broken) to the affected parts, will effect a cure. The great mission of B. B. B. is to regulate the liver, kidneys, bowels and blood, to correct acidity and wrong action of the stomach and to open the sluiceways of the system to carry off all clogged and impure secretions, allowing nature thus to aid recovery and remove without fail bad blood, liver complaint, biliousness, dyspepsia, sick headache, dropsy, rheumatism, and every species of disease arising from disorder of the liver, kidneys, bowels, stomach and blood.

We guarantee every bottle of B. B. B. Should any person be dissatisfied after using the first bottle we will refund the money on application, personally or by letter. We will also be glad to send testimonials and information proving the effects of B. B. B. in the above-named diseases on application to T. MILBURN & Co., Toronto, Ont. dw

THE FAMOUS DAISY HOPKINS SPINNING CASE.

A Verdict Returned Against the Young Woman Much to the Surprise of the Public—An Affair of Honor in Which the Injured Husband Was Killed.

LONDON, March 26.—The suit of Miss Daisy Hopkins against the Rev. Mr. Wallis, proctor of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, for £1000 damages for false imprisonment in connection with her arrest on the charge of "walking the streets with a University man" was decided by a jury Friday against Miss Hopkins.

The verdict caused great surprise among the friends of the girl, who have always behaved her life to be blameless. The case will be appealed.

Daisy Hopkins' Own Story.

The court room was filled with students. Miss Hopkins said that she had been ill-treated and had accosted no one. She was asked a civil question on the streets and she answered it. She claims to have been starved at the spinning-house, where she had been imprisoned. The young woman is 18 years old.

Death of Wallett, the Queen's Jester

LONDON, March 26.—Wallett, the Queen's jester, died yesterday at Beeston, near Nottington, aged 86. The deceased, who was known for 60 years as one of the most versatile performers in the circus ring, earned his title through appearing before Her Majesty and the Prince Consort at Windsor in 1844, when he was a member of the Van Amburgh's Company. A man of striking ability, his name was almost a household word in the Northern and Midland counties years ago. Wallett made long and successful tours of the States. Though practically living in retirement during the last decade, he occasionally appeared to fulfil special engagements.

Justice Untempered with Mercy.

PARIS, March 26.—The trial of Henri Rochefort on a charge of libeling the public prosecutor, M. Beaupoire, opened in the assize court yesterday. Several witnesses declared that the libels published were current talk, but no evidence was produced to prove them authentic.

M. Cruppi, the public prosecutor, asked the court to deal with M. Rochefort, who is at present in England, with the utmost severity.

The verdict was "guilty without extenuating circumstances." Rochefort was sentenced to a year's imprisonment and Delphierre, the publisher of The Intrasigent, Rochefort's paper, to two months, while each was fined 3000 francs. Rochfort's sentence is the maximum penalty for his offence.

Plotters Punished.

BERLIN, March 26.—Three of the leaders in the recent plots here were yesterday found guilty of the charges preferred against them. One of the prisoners was sentenced to four years' penal servitude, another to three years and the other two years imprisonment.

Emperor William's Condition.

BERLIN, March 26.—The Post to-day authoritatively declares that reports of the Emperor's indisposition from asthma are grossly exaggerated. The paper adds that he shoots and rides daily.

Killed in an Avalanche.

ROME, March 26.—Six persons were caught by an avalanche in the Arconi Gorge, in the Vale Del Blois, Venetia, yesterday and killed.

Prince Christian has consulted the German oculist, Pagenstecher on a weakness in his remaining eye and has been assured that there is no reason for blindness.

Lord Randolph Churchill was a guest at Lord Salisbury's official dinner. This is the first symptom noticed of a reconciliation between them.

Reports are current that in some parts of Russia the peasants are flogged in the streets, with the mercury below zero, to try to extract from them money for taxes.

Herr Adelmann, cashier of the Westphalia Iron Works, at Dortmund, Germany, has absconded to America with 20,000 marks belonging to his employers.

Col. Kitchener, who took part with Judge Scott in re-organizing the Egyptian police, has been appointed sirdar and chief of staff to the Khedive, in place of General F. W. Grenfell.

It is reported at Calcutta that the insurgent Malays in the Sultenate of Pahang have captured the post of Temerloh, held by a body of Sikh police, and killed a number of the policemen.

At Coblentz, Germany, a merchant named Weinmann suspected his wife of undue intimacy with Lieut. Salizsch, an officer of the garrison. Weinmann and a friend met the Lieutenant walking with Capt. Lemke in a street near the bridge. A few words were exchanged and then Weinmann with his cane struck Salizsch in the face. The Lieutenant drew his sword and Weinmann received a sword thrust in the breast, from the effect of which he died.

The coming marriage of Mrs. Ingram, widow of the founder of The Illustrated London News, to Sir Edward William Watkin is bitterly opposed by the family of Mrs. Ingram. Sir Edward is over 70 years old, and Mrs. Ingram, her children say, is almost bedridden. She is worth £1,000,000, and should she marry Sir Edward her husband would have all the rights in her property which English law provides.

An Aged Couple's Devotion.

WANCOMA, Iowa, March 26.—Daniel Potter, residing five miles south of this city, died yesterday. He was 93 years old and his wife, whose death occurred Feb. 11, was nearly 93. Had both lived until next May they would have been married 74 years, being the oldest married couple in the state. Since the death of his wife Mr. Potter had not eaten to exceed a cupful of food, as he had no desire to live, and this feeling had taken away his appetite. He died of starvation, although pressed to eat food.

Blew His Brains Out.

ST. MARY'S, March 26.—John Kennedy, a prominent farmer of Blanchard, while on his way to the bush at the rear of his farm shortly after 7 yesterday morning, drew a revolver from his pocket and sent the bullet through his brain. He had been despondent for some time.

STRIKE NEWS.

The Basis of Settlement on the C.P.R.—The Grand Trunk.

MONTREAL, March 26.—A special from Winnipeg says: Grand Chief Clark of the Conductors' Brotherhood and Grand Master Wilkinson of the Trainmen's Union say that the grievances between the Grand Trunk Railway and the employes is virtually settled. There is no possibility of a strike. A committee of men is to meet the divisional superintendents at different points to arrange some details.

Mr. Wilkins of the Conductors' Brotherhood and Mr. Morrissey of the Trainmen's Union, who have been in Montreal, have been instructed to proceed to other places to arrange other matters.

Mr. Wainwright, assistant manager, said to-day: The Grand Trunk labor question remains as it was yesterday. He gave the purport of the ultimatum which the company has sent to the chiefs of the Brotherhood and order. This ultimatum does not contain anything like a positive refusal of all the employes demand. It only declines to treat further with the brotherhood and order, as such. It promises, however, that the superintendents of various divisions shall negotiate with the men at places where they work and shall adjust any inequalities which may exist. But it states that the company will not concede the scale of wages demanded by the unions. Mr. Wainwright regards the order and brotherhood as labor unions first, and only secondarily benevolent societies. In neither capacity have their delegates the right to represent the employes of the Grand Trunk. Many of the latter, he claims, are non-union men and the majority of them are members of the G.T.R. Insurance and Provident Society, to which the company contributes $12,000 a year. He cannot therefore see what right outsiders have to interfere in the dispute.

He understands that the delegates who are now here are preparing a final proposition to present the company, which, if refused, may be followed by trouble. Meantime the superintendents are complying so far as they can with the requests of the men, and adjusting irregularities which the company admits may exist. This adjustment may satisfy the delegates, but it will be consummated without their assistance and will not concede the advance of wages they have asked. Mr. Wainwright sees no immediate danger of a strike.

C.P.R. SETTLEMENT.

The Arbitrators Make Known Their Decision—Satisfactory all Round.

WINNIPEG, March 26.—The arbitrators on the question of trainmen's and conductors' wages, which caused the late Canadian Pacific strike, made the result of their deliberations known last night.

The two points on which they gave decision age: Freight conductors are to receive $2.90 per hundred miles and detention time is to count after 11 hours' work at the rate of 25 cents per hour for conductors and 17 cents for brakemen, the $2.98 rate to hold good for one year.

The result is agreeable to both men and company.

A NEW DODGE.

Another Illustration of the Peculiar Ways of the Heathen Chinee.

MONTREAL, March 26.—Six Chinamen were made British subjects yesterday, and to-day left for the States, where their new role as British subjects gives them free entry. The United States officials are startled at the new dodge and have appealed to Washington for advice.

A Wild Man Captured.

RAT PORTAGE, Ont., March 26.—A Hungarian giving his name as John Keystone was brought before Judge Lyon charged with being a dangerous lunatic. He has been living in the woods near Norman without house or even bedclothes all winter and has endured most remarkable hardships. He threatened Mrs H. Cameron's life with a bucksaw.

Northwest Coffee.

REGINA, N.W.T., March 26.—The Richelieu, French Coffee Manufacturing Company are doing a big business at Whitewood. The mill is running night and day and is turning out 2000 pounds every 24 hours. The native chicory is pronounced by good judges to be excellent.

ON FIRE WITH ECZEMA

Terrible Sufferings of Little Baby. Seven Doctors and Two Hospitals Fail. Cured by Cuticura.

My baby boy, 5 months old, broke out with eczema. The itching and burning was intense, the eczema spread to his limbs, breast, face, and head, until he was nearly covered; his torturing agonies were pitable to behold; he had no peace and but little rest night or day. He was under treatment at different times at two hospitals and by seven doctors in this city without the least benefit; every prescription of the doctors was faithfully tried, but he grew worse all the time. For months I expended about $3 per week for medicines, and was entirely discouraged. I purchased CUTICURA, CUTICURA SOAP and CUTICURA RESOLVENT and followed the directions to the letter. Relief was immediate, his sufferings were eased, and rest and sleep permitted. He steadily improved and in nine weeks was entirely cured, and has now as clear a skin and is as fair a boy as any mother could wish to see. I recommend every mother to use it for every Baby Humor.

THE PARIS ANARCHISTS.

ATTEMPT TO KILL THE PUBLIC PROSECUTOR.

Houses for an Eighth of a Mile Shattered by a Gigantic Charge of Dynamite—Proposition to Pay Members Defeated in the British House of Commons.

PARIS, March 28.—There was a terrific explosion of dynamite Saturday at 39 Rue Clinchy, the home of M. Boulot, the public prosecutor. The attempt was against his life, which has been threatened repeatedly lately by anarchists.

The police say that at least eight pounds of dynamite must have been used.

The effect of the explosion was indescribable. Houses for an eighth of a mile on every side of No. 39 were rocked as if by an earthquake.

All windows were shattered in the neighborhood, and walls of the building in the immediate vicinity were cracked and bulged.

No. 39 is a wreck. The explosion, which is thought to have taken place in the ground hallway, blew the stairway to splinters, so that the panic-stricken inmates had to be helped down from the upper floors with ladders.

The window frames and all were blown out completely and bricks were driven from place and dropped to the street. The plastering was stripped clean from all walls and ceilings.

Seven Persons Injured.

Seven persons were injured by the explosion, four by being thrown from chairs on which they were sitting and three by falling debris. M. Boulot, who lived on the fifth floor, is said to have escaped without injury. The theory that the Anarchists have been preparing the infernal machines and dynamite bombs already discovered for May 1 has been abandoned. The police are convinced that they have begun a war of extermination, and all persons in office who have antagonized them so as to frighten magistrates out of convicting their comrades in crime.

Arrests By Wholesale.

PARIS, March 28.—The police have arrested another notorious anarchist, a friend of Ravachol, who is suspected of being the author of the Boulevard-street German dynamite outrage. He made a desperate resistance, but was finally overpowered by superior force.

Twenty-two Anarchists are now in custody for complicity in the outrages that have recently occurred in this city.

A number of Anarchists at St. Denis, five and a half miles north of Paris, who were returning from a funeral of a comrade formed in procession and marched along, waving red flags and acting generally in a most disorderly manner. The police ordered them to disperse, but they refused to do so, and it was only after a scrimmage that the gendarmes succeded in breaking up their ranks and scattering them.

The Soleil to-day says the Government has decided to expel all Anarchists from France.

Some of the ambassadors in Paris, it adds, have furnished M. Ribot, the Foreign Minister, with a list of their countrymen in Paris, who are suspected of being Anarchists.

Prince Krapotkin, the well-known Russian Anarchist, in an interview to-day declared that the social revolution is on the point of breaking out. The "oppressed," he declared, would extensively employ dynamite in the cause of freedom.

A CLEVER LAWYER.

How Mr. Dill Put Together a Pretty Paper Bag.

NEW YORK, March 28.—Baker Kenney was sued for $2000 by the New York Biscuit Company. It was alleged that Kenney owed that amount for crackers and fancy biscuit that he had bought during the 11 months immediately preceding April, 1891.

Kenney set up the defence that the biscuit company owed him a great many dollars for shortages. That is, he had found that shipments of crackers were short 40 or 50 pounds each. He had discovered shortages in 19 shipments between November, 1890, and March, 1891. He didn't want to pay the bill against him until there had been deductions.

William J. Westlake, Baker Kenny's chief clerk, said he had discovered the shortages and made memoranda on scraps of wrapping paper and bags. Westlake handed the referee 19 scraps of brown paper

That night as he sat in his study Lawyer Dill pondered over Westlake's testimony. His children had been playing that evening with picture puzzles of animals that were put together with difficulty. Mr. Dill happened to think of the puzzles when he noticed that two of the clerk's memorandum scraps fitted each other nicely. Presently he found that a third scrap could be joined perfectly to the first two. He sat up most of the night fitting the scraps to one another. He found that pieces of paper bearing dates months apart could be joined accurately. Before he went to bed Mr. Dill had put the 19 scraps together. They formed a complete paper bag.

Westlake had sworn that he had torn these scraps from different pieces of wrapping stuff at intervals weeks and months apart. Apparently all the 19 pieces had been torn apart at the same time.

When the newly made paper bag was handed up to Referee Chittick, Clerk Westlake collapsed. So did Baker Kenney's defence.

THE HESLOP TRIAL.

The Attorney-General to Be Asked to Pay the Defence Witnesses.

HAMILTON, March 28.—Saturday C. R. Burkholder, the police magistrate, and Thomas H. Lottridge went down to the jail and completed the bail bonds. Jack Lottridge then walked out a free man. His sureties are his father and his uncle, John Lottridge of Barton, in $1000 each and himself in $2000.

Mr. Burkholder says that it is most probable that an application will be made to the Attorney-General to have the witness fees for the defence paid by the Crown. There is no legal provision for this, but in cases where the prisoners are unable to do so it is a matter of discretion with the crown. In this case the witness fees and wages of the witnesses for the prisoners amounts to about $1000.

Diseases of the Chest and Lungs.

TWO JACK THE RIPPERS.

STARTLING CONFESSION OF THE LIVERPOOL BLUEBEARD.

He Claims That Two of the Women Killed in the Whitechapel District During the Regime of Jack the Ripper Were Murdered by Him—He Also Confesses the Killing of his Wives.

MELBOURNE, March 28.—Considerable excitement was caused Saturday by a statement published by The Argus, which declared that Deeming, the murderer, had made a confession.

There has been a strong suspicion entertained here and in England that Deeming is none other than the notorious "Jack the Ripper," the slayer of Whitechapel, London, outcasts, and this suspicion is borne out in a measure not only by Deeming's appearance, which closely tallies with the description given by the Whitechapel fiend, but by his alleged confession. The Argus is a reliable newspaper and there is no reason to doubt the truthfulness of the statements it makes to-day that Deeming has acknowledged that he killed his wife and four children at Dunham villa at Rain Hill, near Liverpool, and that he murdered and mutilated the last two women whose bodies were found in the Whitechapel district

Although he has confessed that these two Whitechapel women fell victims to his mania for murder, he, while not denying, does not admit that he killed the other Whitechapel women, whose murders at the time attracted the attention of the whole world.

It is believed, however, that when he finds all hope of escape from the clutches of the law cut off he will confess, not only to these murders but others of which the police know nothing. In his confession, The Argus says, Deeming makes no mention of his object of mutilating the bodies of his Whitechapel victims and removing certain of the organs, but it adds there is scarcely a doubt that the man is afflicted with a disease similar in some respects to nymphomania.

The case is a most peculiar one in all its aspects, and public curiosity here is excited to the highest pitch to learn all the details of Deeming's many crimes.

It is said that Deeming made his confession to an official at Perth, West Australia, where he was arrested on the charge of murdering his wife at Windsor, a suburb of Melbourne.

Deeming secured counsel and made a strong fight against being sent back to Melbourne, but the court ordered his surrender to the authorities of this city, and yesterday he started in custody of officers on his return. He told the Perth official to whom he made confession that he was not guilty of the Windsor murder. His wife, he claimed, had eloped with another man. It has transpired that the unfortunate woman whose body was found together with those of her four children under the floor of the Rainhill residence was not Deeming's first wife. Some years ago a sensation was created in Australia by the mysterious disappearance of the wife and two children of a man who then went by the name of Williams, but who turns out to be Deeming. The family then resided in Sydney. There was grave suspicion of foul play at the time, but the bodies were not found and this essential proof of murder being lacking the matter was allowed to drop. Deeming subsequently went to England, and there it was that he married the woman whose murder he now confesses.

Excitement in London.

LONDON March 28.—The papers here Saturday publish the story of Deeming's confession, which was cabled from Melbourne. The story caused the most intense excitement in Whitechapel and the papers sold there like wildfire. Ever since the series of murders was started in that district women of the class to which the victims belonged have been in mortal terror of their lives. Driven by absolute poverty or innate depravity to ply their hideous vocation, they have never known at what moment they might fall beneath the keen knife of the assassin whose nom de guerre of "Jack the Ripper" was sufficient to cause them to tremble in their shoes when they were fortunate enough to possess them. Though no "Ripper" murder has occurred in Whitechapel for some little time, the report that the assassin had at last fallen into the hands of police removed a load from the minds of the unfortunate inhabitants of that district. There is much difficulty in fixing the two Whitechapel murders to which Deeming is said to have confessed. Altogether the 19 murders are attributed to "Jack the Ripper," but there is much doubt as to whether the last two were committed by the same hand that committed the other eight.

The police of the Leman-street station do not place much belief in the confession that Deeming committed these last two crimes. The last Whitechapel murder, that of Frances Cole, occurred in 1890. Her body was mutilated in the manner of the other victims, and certain of the organs had been taken out. The bodies of the other victims were found in the streets where they had fallen after the murderer had cut their throats, but the body of Frances Cole was found concealed in an empty house at West-Ham. The police emphatically state that her murderer was not Deeming. They say they were at one time close upon the murderer's track, but afterwards lost all trace of him. They learned enough, however, to know that Deeming did not kill her. They admit, however, that if the confessions refer to the murder of Alice Mackenzie, which occurred in 1889, and of Mary Kelly, which was committed in 1888, it is possible Deeming is telling the truth.

Visited by a $75,000 Blaze After Voting Against Fire Protection.

RENFREW, Ont., March 28.—Saturday fire broke out in Logan Bros' woolen mills here. The flames spread with amazing rapidity and two of the Logans in trying to save their books narrowly escaped with their lives. In 10 minutes the main building, with two large additions, were a mass of intense heat. McNicol's sash and door factory alongside and McKay & Guests large flouring mill were also destroyed.

Loss: Logans' $20,000, insured $45,000; McNicol's $3000, no insurance; McKay & Guest's $35,000, insured for $16,000.

There were over 20,000 bushels of wheat stored in the mill elevator, which was also destroyed.

A steam fire engine would have saved the mills but the town lately voted down a bylaw for better fire protection.

PETROLEA, March 28.—Loss on McDougall's store at Edyville fire last night $5000, insured for $1500; loss on boarding house and goods quite heavy, no insurance.

Lived 18 Years With a Broken Back.

PITTSBURG, March 28.—Joseph Rigby, aged 60 years, died at Mansfield, after living 18 years with his back broken. He was a coal miner and was injured in 1874 by a large stratum of clay and coal falling upon him.

Caught His Arm in the Rollers.

PICKERING, Ont., March 28.—John, 10-year-old son of John Gillman, had his left hand caught in the feed rollers of a planer in Summerville's mill, and the arm was so frightfully mangled that it had to be amputated.

GOOD GRAY POET DEAD.

WALT WHITMAN PASSES AWAY AT CAMDEN.

For Years He Had Been Dying—Sketch On the Man Who Wrote "Leaves of Grass"—His Life and Autobiography as Written by Himself.

CAMDEN, N.J., March 28.—Walt Whitman, the poet, died at his home here yesterday. It was 6.43 p.m. when he passed away as if in sleep.

His last illness began on December 17, 1891. To-morrow a plaster cast of his face will be made. He left a carefully drawn will.

Walt Whitman longed for the end, not perhaps because of physical suffering, or because life palled on him, but he felt that his life's work had been finished. All through his dying days he bore himself as one who should say

I warmed both hands before the fire of life.
It sinks; I am ready to depart.

HIS LIFE.

He was born on the last day of May, 1819, at West Hills, on the north side of Long Island, near what is now the town of Huntington, in Suffolk County, just across the line from Queens. His father, of English descent, was a farmer and later a carpenter and housebutider. His mother was of the Dutch family of Van Velsors.

When Walter was 4 years old the family moved to Brooklyn, where he went to school. When he was about 10 years old he entered the composing room of The Long Island Star of Brooklyn as a galley boy. He stayed here awhile, and then went over to The Long Island Patriot of Brooklyn to do the same work.

Whitman's Own Story.

Let Whitman tell his own story of his early newspaper work. He writes:

"I began, when I was but a boy of 11 or 12, writing sentimental bits for the old Patriot in Brooklyn. This was about 1832. Soon after I had a piece or two in George P. Morris' then celebrated and fashionable Mirror of New York City."

In 1837 he left the printing office to teach school in Long Island. He continues:

"My first real venture was The Long Islander, in my own beautiful town of Huntington, Long Island, N.Y., in 1839. I was about 20 years old. I had been teaching country school for two or three years in various parts of Suffolk and Queen's counties, but liked printing. I went to New York, bought a press and types, hired some little help, but did most of the work myself, including the pressework. Everything seemed turning out well (only my own restlessness prevented my gradually establishing a permanent property there). I bought a good horse, and every week went all around the country serving my papers, devoting one day and night to it.

"I next went to The Aurora daily in New York City—a sort of free lance. Also wrote regularly for The Tattler, an evening paper. With these and a little outside work I was occupied off and on until I went to edit The Brooklyn Eagle, where for two years I had one of the pleasantest sits of my life—a good owner, good pay and easy work and hours (it came out about 5 every afternoon). The troubles in the Democratic party broke forth about those times (1842-48), and I split off with the Radicals, which led to rows with the boss and 'the party' and I lost my place.

"Being now out of a job, I was offered impromptu (it happened between the acts one night in the lobby of the old Broadway Theatre, near Pearl-street, New York City) a good chance to go down to New Orleans on the staff of The Crescent, a daily to be started there, with plenty of capital behind it, in opposition to The Picayune. One of the owners, Mr. McClure, who was north buying materials, met me walking in the lobby, and though that was our first acquaintance, after 15 minutes' talk (and a drink) we made a formal bargain, and Mr. McClure paid me $200 down to bind the contract and bear my expenses to New Orleans."

He resigned his editorial position in New Orleans, with its incidental salary of $5000, to travel through the west with his brother, who was threatened with consumption. He goes on:

"Returning to Brooklyn a year or so afterward I started The Freeman, first as a weekly, then a daily. Pretty soon the Secession War broke out, and I, too, got drawn in the current southward and spent the following three years there.

"Besides starting them as aforementioned, I have had to do at one time or another with a long list of papers, at divers places, sometimes under queer circumstances. During the war the hospitals at Washington, among other means of amusement, printed a little sheet among themselves surrounded by wounds and death, The Armory-square Gazette, to which I contributed. The same long afterward, casually, to a paper—I think it was called The Jimplecute—out in Colorado where I stopped at the time."

In 1847-8 Whitman made long tours on foot through the United States, generally following the courses of the great Western rivers. He extended his journey through Canada.

The Tomb He Had Built.

Whitman had prepared for death by providing for himself a tomb, which has been constructed under his personal supervision. It is on the side of a hill in Harleigh Cemetery on the outskirts of Camden.

IN A LONDON CONVENT.

A Chicago Girl Who Was Kidnapped in 1889 And Brought to Canada.

CHICAGO, March 28.—A feminine kidnapper was arrested Saturday after three years' escape from The culprit is a good-looking woman of 35, who gives her name as Mrs. Mary Dreighton, alias Murray.

After her arrest she broke down, and admitted that in 1889 she carried off 12-year-old Mabel H. Hopkins from the little one's home in Washington Boulevard

Mrs. Dreighton had gained admission to the place on the plea of being an artist who wished to give the child lessons in painting and was left alone with the pupil a brief ten minutes.

The kidnapping was at the instigation, she said, of Mabel's father, E. B. Hopkins, a crockery merchant, and Hattie Eggleston.

The daughter has been missing ever since and is now said to be in a convent in London, Canada. Warrants were sworn out this afternoon for Hopkins and the Eggleston woman by Hopkins' wife, now divorced, to whose tyranny she is due the final detection of the kidnapper.

Address and Presentation.

On the evening of March 23rd the neighbours and acquaintances of Mr. Richard B. Esson, numbering upwards of sixty, surprised the family by taking possession of their house for the purpose of spending the evening and taking an affectionate farewell before their removal to the North West Territories. The following address was read by John Lang, Ex M. P. After which Mr. Samuel Armstrong made the following presentation: to Mr. Esson, a most beautiful lamb skin cap and gauntlets, and to Mrs. Esson a beautiful beaver set. Mr. Esson made a very feeling reply after which the ladies served a most bounteous lunch; then plays and conversation filled out the time till the wee hours in the morning, when all went home rejoicing over the pleasures of the evening. The following is the address:—

MR AND MRS. RICHARD B. ESSON AND FAMILY:

DEAR FRIENDS,—We your neighbours and acquaintances having learned with deep regret that you are about to remove from our midst to make for yourselves a home in our great North West, our only apology for this gathering and taking you somewhat by surprise in your quiet home this evening is to afford your neighbors and friends the opportunity of expressing their high appreciation of your valued friendship and our united Christian regard and esteem for you as well as to assure you that your genial spirits and friendly relations have not only secured to you the love and appreciation of your relations, but also the confidence and respect of the entire neighbourhood. We but voice the whole section when we assure you that there is very deep regret in your removal from our midst; yet trusting to the hand that guideth all things we hope it may be for your good, both spiritual and temporal, as we feel assured it will be a great gain to that prairie province to which you are destined. We again say that we feel sorry for your loss and at the same time congratulate your new neighbours on the accession of a family so characterized for their industry, honesty, morality and noble Christian work in the Lord's cause. You may be further assured that your friendly intercourse and social fellowship amongst us will be among the pleasant memories of our life—though absent but not forgotten. Now we commend you to the grace of our Lord Jesus Christ, which is able to sustain and help you where e'r He leads, trusting in the mercy of God to join us again in our Heavenly Father's home where parting is unknown. And now with great pleasure we present you with these mementoes as tokens of love and esteem for you all.

Signed on behalf of all,

JOHN LANG,
SAMUEL ARMSTRONG.

Your Blood

Undoubtedly needs a thorough cleansing this season to expel impurities, keep up the health tone and prevent disease. You should take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the best blood purifier and system tonic. It is unequalled in positive medicinal merit.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable, perfectly harmless, effective, but do not cause pain or gripe. Be sure to get Hood's.

Interested People.

Advertising a patent medicine in the peculiar way in which the proprietor of Kemp's Balsam for Coughs and Colds does, it is indeed refreshing. He authorizes all druggists to give those who call for it a sample bottle free, that they may try it before purchasing. The large bottles are 50c and a dollar. We certainly would advise a trial. It may save you from consumption. dw

Roasted to Death.

ST. CATHARINES, March 26—Mrs. Berry, an old lady living in Queenston-street, was poking the fire this afternoon when one of the coals fell out on her dress.

Not noticing it she went to do something about the house In the meantime the smouldering clothing burst into a flame.

Being alone in the house at the time, she ran to the rear door and cried for help, but it being just after school was dismissed her neighbors thought it was the school children and took no notice of the cry and before help came she was suffocated and roasted to death.

A Murderer Breaks Jail.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., March 26.—Alexander Housten, a halfbreed, aged 22, escaped from the Dominion Penitentiary. Housten was sentenced to 14 years' imprisonment for the murder of his klotchman at Langley two years ago. Housten was plowing the penitentiary grounds when he escaped. He broke off an iron bar from the plow, got the horses in front of him and in this manner beat a retreat to the fence. With one blow the convict broke the bars out of the fence and a moment later was in the woods a free man. Several shots were fired at Housten, but all missed the mark.

The Trend of Trade.

NEW YORK, March 26.—The weather generally has tended to stimulate sales of seasonable staples by jobbers as reported by wire to Bradstreet's and the outlook is for further improvement.

The volume of wholesale drygoods trade at Montreal is heavier than it was a year ago, but collections are slow. Leather is more active than groceries or hardware.

At Toronto general trade is quiet.

Bank clearings at four Canadian cities aggregate $16,841,000, a decrease of 2 per cent. within a week.

The Dominion's total of business failures this week is 42, or 558 for the year to date, two less than the like quarter of 1891.

The Safest

AND most powerful alterative is Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Young and old are alike benefited by its use. For the eruptive diseases peculiar to children nothing else is so effective as this medicine, while its agreeable flavor makes it easy to administer.

"My little boy had large scrofulous ulcers on his neck and throat from which he suffered terribly. Two physicians attended him, but he grew continually worse under their care, and everybody expected he would die. I had heard of the remarkable cures effected by Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and decided to have my boy try it. Shortly after he began to take this medicine, the ulcers commenced healing, and, after using several bottles, he was entirely cured. He is now as healthy and strong as any boy of his age."—William F. Dougherty, Hampton, Va.

"In May last, my youngest child, fourteen months old, began to have sores gather on its head and body. We applied various simple remedies without avail. The sores increased in number and discharged copiously. A physician was called, but the sores continued to multiply until in a few months they nearly covered the child's head and body. At last we began the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. In a few days a marked change for the better was manifest. The sores assumed a more healthy condition, the discharges were gradually diminished, and finally ceased altogether. The child is livelier, its skin is fresher, and its appetite better than we have observed for months."—Frank M. Griffin, Long Point, Texas.

"The formula of Ayer's Sarsaparilla presents, for chronic diseases of almost every kind, the best remedy known to the medical world."—D. M. Wilson, M. D., Wiggs, Arkansas.

The Working Girl.

Able Address Delivered by the Rev. J. E. Starr, Toronto, Before the Young Women's Christian Association on Saturday Evening—Her Cause Ably Championed by an Eloquent Advocate.

There was a large attendance of the lady members of the Young Women's Christian Association, together with a fair sprinkling of the sterner sex assembled in the Y.M.C.A. hall on Saturday evening. Rev. J. E. Starr, pastor of the Elm street Methodist Church, Toronto, was announced to give an address for the benefit of the Y. W. C. A. The chair was taken at eight o'clock by Secretary R. J. Colville. After devotional exercises, the chairman introduced the speaker of the evening in a few complimentary words.

Rev. Mr. Starr expressed his pleasure at being present and said that he was warmly interested in all Young Women Christian Associations and the work they were undertaking. The lecturer stated that modern society had decided there was a great difference between the girl who worked and the girl who did not. The great curse to woman in the present day was this heathenish system of caste. Instead of excellency of achievement being made the badge of honor for woman, it what is she engaged in? Another evidence of this heathenish system of caste was found in the fact that many women tried to disguise their callings and occupations and if found out, they apologize and endeavor to make out that it was the first time circumstances ever compelled them to work or to make application for a situation. The line of respectability runs between work for usefulness and work for a livelihood. It was as honorable and upright to be washing dishes as it was to address meetings. All honor to those girls whose are endeavoring to take care of themselves. Those who worked did something for a livelihood, they benefitted others, as well as themselves; this was the noblest, greatest kind of life. We owe first to our working girls

THE RIGHT TO EARN AN HONEST LIVELIHOOD.

He knew of no good reason why girls should not be allowed the mechanical and professional worlds if they can do just as good and efficient work as men. They have a right to be kept out; they should have free entry into these and mean would be the man who would prevent a girl from earning an honest living in any honest pursuit. Are her rights we owed was shorter hours. Periods of shorter hours were absolutely and physically necessary. There were more delicate, emaciated and weary working girls than among any other class of humanity. Girls whose life blood was being drained, whose energies were being sapped and whose health was being impaired by long unceasing hours of labor. In soothing terms he denounced the humanity that compelled working girls to stand twelve and fifteen hours on their feet. In the name of unborn generations, employers should allow girls to sit down. The muscles, nerve and strength of women were far weaker than men's, then why abuse her and compel her to undergo and endure the session, worry and hard hip of man's life. There must assuredly come shorter periods of labor. It was dangerous ground upon which he was treading, the speaker said he knew that. Between the years of 1865 and 1872 there died in the state of Massachusetts alone 72,000 working girls and working women, and thousands had died prematurely in Canada and were dying to-day.

WE OWE THE WORKING GIRL BETTER WAGES,

as well as shorter periods of work. The wages of a working girl at the least consideration, should amount to twice the amount of the unprepared food she consumes. If it cost $150 a year for this her wages ought to amount to at least $300 a year. We have skinflints in our land who live upon the work and the wages of girls. Young girls are hired in large factories at a certain figure to learn to do certain kinds of work. At the end of two or three weeks they are told by the proprietor that their work is unsatisfactorily done, and the poor girls, after devoting their best energies, time and attention to the work, receive not even a simple "thanks" for their work, and are sent away without any reward. That man or employer who does this, or says that work which is brought him is unsatisfactorily done or poorly made when he is paying the girls, but when he comes to sell the article in question pronounces it first-class, and of the very best workmanship, selling it at the highest price—that man was a skinflint and one of the worst types of humanity.

THE AVERAGE WAGES OF A WORKING GIRL

were eighty cents a day or about $5.00 a week, while a man for the same work and and for the same time received $10 and $12 a week. Was this right equitable or fair? By what principle of justice, by what moral law, by what system of right has a sewing and working woman to keep body and soul together on a fraction more than it costs the Ontario Government to maintain the inmates of the Mercer Reformatory. He knew of sewing girls in the city of Toronto making overalls for four cents a pair, and all they could possibly make in a day would be six pairs. With every Young Young Women's Christian Association there should be a Women's Protective Association to raise, maintain and uphold the rights and privileges of women. Who were responsible for the existence of these unanticipated evils? You answer, the employers. True they were to a greater or less extent responsible. Upon your shoulders and mine the responsibility of the burden should be placed. Another thing the Y.W.C.A's should do besides seeing that girls got fair wages, was the bill of indebtedness they owed to the working girls in case they fell, was to help raise them up and assist them to retrieve their character and honour. The working girls though assailed by temptations and hardships manifold were as pure and honest as any class of citizens. Statistics taken from fourteen of the largest cities in America proved conclusively that the working girls were not the class from

WHICH THE RANKS OF INFAMY WERE RECRUITED.

The stricken girl is ostracized and excoriated in the present day while the guilty man was shaken hands with. Drive Magdalen outside the walls of social toleration if you will but by all means drive her betrayer there also. If you welcome one do equally so with the other. Give one the same chance and treatment as the other. Why do we deprive our working girls these rights? Because they are our future women, wives, teachers and social reformers and they have a right to qualify themselves for their high and future destiny. The tendency was to crowd girls with a school education but gave them no practical education. Pliny told us centuries ago that motherhoods were the destiny of the state.

THE DESTINY OF OUR LAND

for the next centuries was in the working girls. Not only were they interested, but also the brother, father and sister. No man can put his hand on his daughter's head and said "You shall never have to stand behind a counter." The sudden changes of business and the mobility of society could not warrant or justify this.

The lecturer closed with an eloquent peroration urging all to become interested in this cause, father, mother, sister, brother, all in every household, where at eventide there went up a prayer to God for a happy Canadian home. The height of each succeeding age was marked by the value put upon women and man's right to champion her cause.

At the close a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Starr on behalf of the ladies. It was moved by Mr. R. J. Early, seconded by Mr. J. W. Doxsee and presented by R. J. Colville. Mr. J. W. Doxsee then furnished the large number, who remained, with a choice exhibition of stereopticon views, illustrative of Canadian scenery, landscape and cities. They were thrown on a large canvass completely covering one end of the hall and were illuminated by the clearest light obtainable.

No medicine has had greater success in checking consumption, in its early stages, than Ayer's Cherry pectoral. It stops coughing, soothes the throat and lungs, and induces much needed repose. Hundreds have testified to the remarkable virtues of this preparation.

DELIRIUM TREMENS.—In this disorder of the brain which comes upon habitual drunkards there is a shrinking of the limbs and the prominent disposition is one of anxiety and apprehension of injury or danger. There is an almost entire want of sleep, and even if repose be obtained it is interrupted by frightful dreams. Few doses of the Father Mathew Remedy will be sufficient to cure this terrible disease.

Pleasant as Syrup

Mr. Douglas Ford, Toronto, states that Milburn's Cod Liver Oil Emulsion with Wild Cherry Bark is free from objectionable taste, being almost as pleasant as syrup, while for coughs and colds it gives complete satisfaction, acting promptly even in obstinate cases. dw

The above is honest advice which we are interested in prescribing to every home. To secure a trial for FORD'S PRIZE PILLS, we intend to spend a certain amount in this manner of advertising and attracting attention to the merits of this medicine.

To the first person sending the correct answer to the above rebus we will give an elegant Gold Watch, fine workmanship and first-class timekeeper; to the second we will give a Genuine Diamond Ring; to the third a handsome Silk Dress Pattern, 16 yards in any color; to the fourth a Coin Silver Watch, and many other prizes in order of merit. To the person sending the last correct answer we will give an elegant Gold Watch, fine workmanship and first-class timekeeper; to the next to the last we will give a Genuine Diamond Ring; to the third to the last we will give a handsome Silk Dress Pattern, 16 yards in any color; to the fourth to the last we will give a Coin Silver Watch, and many other valuable articles in order of merit, counting from the last. WE SHALL GIVE AWAY 100 VALUABLE PREMIUMS (should there be so many sending in correct answers). No charge is made for boxing and packing of premiums. All answers must be sent in by mail before April 10th, 1892. Ten 3 cent stamps must be enclosed with answer for one box of FORD'S PRIZE PILLS. The names of the leading prize winners will be published in connection with our advertisement in leading newspapers next month. Extra premiums will be given to those who are willing to assist in introducing our medicine. Nothing is charged for the premiums in any way, they are absolutely given away to introduce and advertise Ford's Prize Pills, which are purely vegetable and act gently yet promptly on the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels, dispelling Headache, Fevers and Colds, cleansing the system thoroughly and cure habitual constipation. They are sugar coated, do not gripe, very small, easy to take, one pill a dose, and are purely vegetable. Perfect digestion follows their use. As to the reliability of our company, we refer you to any leading wholesale druggist or business house in Toronto. All premiums will be awarded strictly in order of merit and with perfect satisfaction to the public. Pills are sent by mail post paid. When you answer this rebus, kindly mention which newspaper you saw it in. Address THE FORD PILL CO., Wellington St. West, Toronto, Can.

Four classes have been held each week, two juvenile and two adults. A prominent feature of the instruction given is the combination of graceful and easy movement with proficient performers of the various figures and movements. Both parents and pupils are very well pleased.

For the Lords of Creation.

The near approach of spring is not only indicated by the lengthening days and genial weather, but also by the increasing activity in trade. The spring openings of the millinery houses is now all the rage with the ladies, who spend hours of their time down town gazing at the glories of the new spring fashions. The men, too—the lords of creation—will also have their turn, and doubtless there will be a large proportion of them attached to the spring opening of H. LeBrun & Co., the well known firm of clothiers, tailors and gents furnishers, 281 George street. Large improvements have been made and the recent heavy importations enable the firm to make a most attractive display of the latest styles of cloths and clothing. The recent extensive equipment and furnishings of H. LeBrun & Co's. splendid new and commodious premises, together with their vast stock of newly imported goods, will doubtless make the popular firm's spring business a great success. Their very comprehensive and attractive four column advertisement which has already appeared in the EXAMINER, is but another evidence of the enterprise and thoroughness of the firm.

Church Chimes.

A special song service was held in St. John's Sunday school yesterday.

Rev. Mr Cooper of Campbellford, will conduct the Wednesday evening meeting in St. Luke's this week.

The semi-annual election of officers of the Epworth League of the George street Methodist church, takes place to-night.

Rev. Geo. Geo. Edwards, pastor of the Charlotte street Methodist church conducted the service yesterday in Emerson street Methodist church, Toronto, Rev. J. E. Starr's pulpit.

A meeting of the congregation of St. Andrews church will be held on Friday evening, to consider what steps are to be taken in the matter of enlarging their Sunday school rooms.

St. Peter's Court, Catholic Order of Foresters, to the number of about fifty, and marshalled by Bro. George Ball, attended holy communion at eight o'clock mass in St. Peter's Cathedral yesterday.

Rev. A. Loyd, M.A., the new headmaster of the Trinity church school, Port Hope, will be the speaker at the special Wednesday evening services in St. John's church this week. His subject will be "Rooted in the past."

After the usual morning service at St. Andrew's church yesterday the session was constituted. The new elders elect, Messrs. Geo. Paton, Robt Tully and Alex. Stewart were ordained. The pastor related the steps taken for the election of elders, the usual questions being put by the pastor, they were answered by the elders who were then duly ordained.

A special song service was held in the George street Methodist church last evening. The pastor, Rev. Jos. H. Locke conducted the services, while Rev. D. S. Hoark, M.A., pastor of the Bridgenorth Methodist church, preached an earnest and powerful sermon from Hebrews xii, 1. The choir rendered specially appropriate music, which was much appreciated.

At St. John's yesterday the special Lenten services were continued. In the morning the Rector preached an excellent and practical sermon on the subject of "Some Aspects of the Life of Truth," taking Abraham as his theme, and deducing most practical lessons from his life of faithful obedience to the Divine calls. In the evening Rev. Mr. Kenrick spoke very effectively on the subject "The Way of Life," and in the mission school in the evening Rev. W. L. Loucks continued his special subject, "Some Marks of the Christian Life." The services were all well attended. At St. Johns in the evening, at the conclusion of the regular service, the rector conducted a devotional mission.

At the evening service in Charlotte street church, Rev. Mr. Starr preached to an immense congregation. His discourse was an eloquent and masterly one on missions in continuation of his subject and thoughts in the morning. He spoke from the latter part of the 22nd verse of the 11th chapter of St Luke:—"He taketh from him all his armour wherein he trusted and divideth his spoils." The collections at both services amounted to $20, while the subscriptions totalled some $180 in all. The collectors this year are Miss Brownscombe and Mrs. (Dr.) Stephenson for the North Ward, Miss Morrow and Mrs. Clyde Green for the South Ward, and Mrs. Allum, from the country.

Watch DAILY EXAMINER for full programme This will be the entertainment of the season. Don't miss it or you will make the mistake of your life. 4d

It is now pretty well understood to be a dangerous practice to attempt to palm off worthless imitations of the "Myrtle Navy" tobacco as the genuine article. In former years that practice was the cause of much annoyance, and Messrs. Tuckett & Son were compelled to resort to the law courts to put a stop to it. Though they have not met with any cases of the kind lately, it is always a safe precaution for the purchaser to see that the trade mark T. & B. in bronze letters is stamped upon each plug; no plug ever leaves the factory without it, and to appropriate the trade mark is a punishable offence. w13

DEAD BODY DISCOVERED!

Is It Foul Play, Suicide or Accident?

That is to Account for the Body Found in the River This Morning—Description of the Body and Clothing—Not Yet Unmistakeably Identified.

This morning at an early hour Earnest Laplante was out on the Otonabee river in a canoe. He noticed the body of a man floating upon the stream with his head above the water, midway between Point St. Charles saw mills and Matthew's pork packing establishment. The police were at once notified and at nine o'clock Officer Stewart, accompanied by Jas. English and Mr. Laplante went down to the scene of the discovery. A punt was procured and in it the three men went out into the middle of the stream which is quite clear of ice. A rope was fastened around the body of the drowned man and he was towed ashore. Mr. D. Belleghem, undertaker, was sent for and the body was conveyed to his undertaking establishment where it now lies. On the body being searched on the shore the sum of in the pocket together with a jackknife. The money is composed of five one-dollar bills, a two-dollar bill and the remainder of the amount consisted of a silver half dollar piece, five quarter-dollar pieces and one ten and two five cent pieces.

The body, which had evidently been in the water some two or three months, is terribly bloated and disfigured, and even to any one intimately acquainted with the man before his death, identification would be difficult. The body is that of a man about 5 feet 9 inches in height and weighing 160 or 170 pounds. The man is about thirty years of age. When found the body had all the working garb of a thresher on, a pair of heavy, top boots, a pair of home-made flannel drawers under a pair of full cloth pants and a pair of duck overalls. He had on a gray flannel shirt and under it another shirt. His coat and vest which were made of a heavy tweed were thrown open and exposed a pair of home-made leather braces across the front of the body and joining them was a piece of

TWINE USED BY THRASHERS.

He also had a piece of such twine in his pocket when found. He wore a common peaked cap and had the general appearance of a working man on his way to work. The man was rather stoutly built. He had long dark hair, and wore a heavy black moustache. Officer Stewart carefully examined the body but could find no marks of violence. The body when taken to Mr. Belleghem's undertaking establishment was viewed by several. Mr. T Cavanagh, proprietor of the Belmoral Hotel, recognized the body as that of Richard Wigmore, a man who runs a steam thresher, whose home was three miles east of Norwood. Wigmore has been missing since New Years' eve last, and after diligent inquiry on the part of his parents and friends, his whereabouts remained undiscovered. He came to Peterborough on the day before New Years, and was seen in town by several persons. It is alleged the man had $500 in cash in his possession when he came to town, and that on New Years' night he offered to bet $200 on a team drawing in Ashburnham. Deceased it seems had not been drinking. He told parties in Ashburnham that he was going to take the early train back to Norwood on New Years day and since that he has not been seen. His father made inquiry about two weeks after from Mr. Samuel Campbell, bar tender of the Croft House, who had seen and spoken to Wigmore when he was in town, as to his whereabouts, stating that he had not come home and no trace could be found of him. Mr. Andrew Cameron, 1st concession of Otonabee, viewed the body this afternoon, but, although well acquainted with Wickmore, he could not possibly identify the man, so unrecognizable were the remains. Deceased was, if he has been correctly identified, a son of Mr. Robert Wigmore. He has one brother a teacher at Allendale, and two married sisters, Mrs. Barrie and Mrs. Leper, residing east of Norwood.

The parents of the deceased man have been communicated with and will arrive in town this evening. An inquest has not yet been called as it is not necessary up to the time of writing. If the deceased is not identified to day, Mr. Belleghem will have the body embalmed. It is said that deceased who thrashed with his brother-in-law R. Leper for some years had a falling with his father and came town to look for work.

All kinds of rumours are afloat regarding the disappearance, death and identity of the drowned man, and at the present time it is not safe to believe anything. However, it may be stated that no marks of violence are visible on the body. Several who knew Wigmore for years called this afternoon to see the body, but were unable to assert his identity, so bloated and unrecognizable are the features.

Three Days of Brightness, Beauty and Bargains.

These three days will be Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, March 30th, 31st, and April 1st, being the days fixed for the grand opening of Miss Delaney's millinery and mantle show rooms, for the spring of 1892. Miss Delaney has determined to make these three dates brilliant opening days, the best she has ever attempted. In her beautiful show rooms ladies will find displayed millinery from the world's fashion centres, the work of the nimble fingers of French artistes, backed by the choicest that the best trimmers in Canada can supply. Paris, English and New York pattern bonnets and hats, flowers, ribbons, veilings, etc., in lovely variety, and unusually attractive. Mantles, wraps, jackets, tweed and plain melton cloakings with venetian finish, jet trimmings, etc., and other novelties in profusion at very special quotations. Miss Delaney has spared neither time nor expense to make this season's display attractive to a degree. She has personally visited the large millinery openings in New York and other cities of fashion in the United States, as well as in Montreal and Toronto, the latter city three times this season, and is therefore thoroughly conversant with all the latest leading fashions of the day, and confidently invites the inspection of ladies on the above dates. 5d74-1w13 MISS DELANEY.

"Gentlemen: When I was 14 years of age I was confined to my bed for several months by an attack of rheumatism, and when I had partially recovered I did not have the use of my legs, so that I had to go on crutches. About a year later, Scrofulas, in the form of appeared on various parts of my body, and for eleven years I was an invalid, being confined to my bed six years. In that time ten or eleven of these sores appeared and broke, causing me great pain and suffering. Several times pieces of bone worked out of the sores. Physicians did not help me and

I Became Discouraged

"I went to Chicago to visit a sister, as it was thought a change of air and scene might do me good. But I was confined to my bed most of the time. I was so impressed with the success of Hood's Sarsaparilla in cases similar to mine that I decided to try it. So a bottle was bought, and to my great gratification the sores soon decreased, and I began to feel better. This strengthened my faith in the medicine, and in a short time I was

Up and Out of Doors

To make a long story short, I continued to take Hood's Sarsaparilla for a year, when I had become so fully released from the chains of disease that I took a position with the Flint & Walling Mfg. Co., and since that time have not lost a single day on account of sickness. I always feel well, am in good spirits and have a good appetite. I endorse for it has been a great blessing to me, and to my friends my recovery seems almost miraculous. I think Hood's Sarsaparilla is the king of all medicines." WILLIAM A. LEHR, No. 9 North Railroad st., Kendallville, Ind.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

ALL YE ARE BRETHREN.

Sermon Preached to the Foresters at St. Andrew's.

Rev. A. McWilliams, B.A., Delivers an Instructive and Able Address to the Assembled Brethren — He Upholds Benefit Societies and Their Work—And Praises the Foresters—A Large Congregation Present.

Yesterday evening the members of the several courts of Canadian Order of Foresters, representing Courts Peterborough, Little Jonn and Lungton, and the Juvenile Court Young Peterborough, assembled in the court rooms of Peterborough, and marched to St. Andrew's Presbyterian church where Rev. A. McWilliams the pastor preached the sermon. The brethren, who mustered about 225 strong, filled the middle ranges of seats in the church and the general public completely filled the remaining portion of the sacred edifice. The preacher selected as his text, St. Mathew, xxvii, 8th.

"But be not ye called Rabbi, or one is your Master, even Christ; and all ye are brethren."

The preacher stated that he intended to dwell the most upon the last clause. The divine writer revealed the true character of the scribes and Pharisees. We find they sat in Moses' seat as the teachers or doctors of law. Our Saviour revealed

THE TRUE CHARACTER THE SCRIBES.

He calls them "fools" twice, and "blind" five times. The text contained a prohibition —"Be ye not called Rabbi." Rabbi in that time corresponded to the title of doctor of divinity in the present day. There were two-fold reasons why they should not receive this title: "One was their master, even Christ," and "all ye are brethren." There were many titles mentioned in the Word of God. It does not prohibit honor for those who do their work well, but it does prohibit those from demanding the honor due their superiors. The preacher deplored the practice of many divines and others meanly buying unearned titles from monetary institutions in the States for a paltry consideration, such as Ph.D., D.D., LL.D. It became us all to look into our hearts and see if there is any pride or covetousness to be cast out by Almighty God. There was this prohibition, they might be called Rabbis but vain would be the title in comparison to the great Christ. He was at the head of all colleges and universities that existed.

HE WAS THE GREATEST TEACHER of all teachers.

All ye are brethren. This phrase had a more definite reference to the reason why they were assembled to-night. Those who were arrogating titles to themselves were violating that great title which binds man in common brotherhood. This was an age of brotherhoods; their name was legion. Some of these brotherhoods were of divine origin; others were merely human. The human family throughout the great world was one divine brotherhood. The church of the living God was one great brotherhood —of all sects and denominations banded together worshipping the three great heads, Father, Son and Holy Ghost. There is a distinction between the church visible and the church invisible. There is a divine spirit linking us all together in one national brotherhood— the nation. If kings and nations did not obey Him, the living God, He cast them from their thrones. A common constitution, a common head, bound us all together. That referred to in his text was common humanity. We have many human brothers. There was no limit to them. Some claim to have been as he believed the present order was. The speaker said he would not give statistics respecting the order, since full figures on the subject had been published in the EXAMINER of March 15th. He said the order had been in existence 12 years and during that time had dispensed half a million dollars in charity. A great many had objections to societies, because, first, they were secret, second, they militated against the Christian church by extracting fees and diminishing the attendance at the weekly services, especially the prayer meeting; third, they discriminated against humanity. He could not oppose any secret society, or any who belonged to such a society, if it did not militate against the church in any way, and was not opposed to any of the divine brotherhoods already mentioned. The preacher taking up the first point of objection raised, that secret societies were morally wrong, said if the general principle was true, the logic was also true. All secrets were then morally wrong. He said he found nothing in God's Word to prohibit secrets. In both spiritual and moral law God conducts himself in secret. The world and the great laws of nature were hid in secret, they were yet comparatively unknown. Who could fathom the secrets and the mysteries of the spirit world, who could fathom the Trinity, the incarceration, the divine and the human?

FOUNDED UPON THE WORD OF GOD,

CHRIST CONDUCTED HIMSELF IN SECRET PRINCIPLES.

He asks us to conduct ourselves in secret especially with regard to charity and prayer. It is the moral character of the secret that told whether it is right or wrong. All secrets of the Foresters were merely marks of distinction. They were right and were not contrary to the brotherhood of God. The speaker then considered the second objection that societies militated against the church, depleting its treasury and weakening the attendance at weekly services. There was probably some slight truth in it. The Lord's treasury and the Lord's house have the first claim upon everything—upon ourselves, money and presence. He said that the objection was not universally true. He said that a great many members of St. Andrew's church were Foresters, and they paid as much into the treasury and were present as regularly as others. The third point of objection was the discriminating against fellowmen, contrary to the law of God, the great law of universal love. While claiming to be charitable they yet excluded the weak and physical wrecks. These societies made certain pledges to a certain class and if they kept these they were doing right. If they admitted all they would soon become bankrupt. It illustrated over a weak one. Another objection was that their charity was limited to their constitution and that it was contrary to the word of God. It was not universal. There is nothing in the constitution prohibiting them from dispensing aid to others outside of their society. The rev. gentleman closed his discourse in the following words:—

THE ADVANTAGE OF A SOUND GOOD BODY.

"But I must conclude. Time would fail me to say more. Last there have been abuses associated with some of these brotherhoods is more than probable from the nature of the charges and the sources from which they emanate. But we believe them to be abuses and not necessarily associated therewith. Must we then condemn because by some abused? Apply this test to the brotherhoods organized even by God Himself and which will stand? For are there not serious abuses associated with the family, the church, the state and the great brotherhood of men? Nay! for this reason we may not condemn unless the general tendency is to evil which may sometimes be true even when the principles upon which founded are righteous in themselves. Then if such be true, we must oppose. But we do not for one moment believe that the general tendency of the Canadian Order of Foresters is to evil, therefore we

to St. Andrew's to-night; and I beseech you by the nature of your secrets, by your conduct in relation to the church of God and the word of his grace and by your charity, benevolence and sympathy to universal man, that you effectually silence every accuser and demonstrate once for all that you are not the enemy of the church, but that you are what you claim to be, her handmaid, assisting her to care for the poor, for the widows and orphans, to nurse the sick and bury the dead. Again I appeal to you, that being members of the Canadian Order of Foresters, that you fail not to become true members of the Great Divine Brotherhood—the Church of the Living God. Her duty also it is to care for sick and needy, but pre-eminently to care for the immortal soul, to see that it is redeemed by the Precious Blood of Christ, washed sanctified, transformed into the image of God, prepared to meet Him and to enjoy the celestial joys in all their plentitude in the golden city. "What shall it profit a man if he gain the whole word and lose his own soul?" Ah! how sad to find at last that while we have been members of Brotherhoods, the blessings of which pertain chiefly to time, that we have neglected to unite ourselves with the Divine Brotherhood—the Church of God, the blessings of which pertain chiefly to eternity; having ministered to others, ourselves a castaway, the Master's voice saying: Depart! depart! depart! Make then, O make your calling and election sure. Finally, go forward in the discharge of your sacred duties in harmony with the Church of the Living God and the word of His grace. Limit not your charity and benevolence to any human brotherhood, but while assisting each other, let your help extend as wide as the brotherhood of man. "All ye are brethren." If you do, God's benediction shall rest upon your society, widows and orphans shall rise up and call you "blessed," and by and by, when your work of mercy is o'er, the last want supplied, the last aching head pillowed, the last dead entombed, and you are called from these scenes of want, misery, sorrow and death, to the celestial city with streets all golden, illumined by Divine light, for the Lamb is the light thereof, the Master will meet you at the pearly gate. His commendation will be, well done! well done good and faithful servant, inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren ye have done it unto me, enter into the joy of your Lord.

At the close of the service the Foresters returned to their hall in a body and a committee was appointed to draft a resolution of thanks, to the Board of Management of St. Andrew's Church, the choir and to Rev. Mr. McWilliams for his highly appreciated sermon.

Obituary.

The Late John Macdonald.

The EXAMINER learns with deep regret of the death at Bobcaygeon yesterday of John Macdonald, Esq., of the firm of Moosom Boyd & Co., of Bobcaygeon and Albany, N. Y. Mr. Boyd was the eldest son of the late Lt.-General John Macdonald, H.M.S., and a nephew of the late Moosom Boyd, of Bobcaygeon. He came to this country twenty-three years ago in company with his brother-in-law, Mr. John E Belcher, C E, and entered into the business of his uncle, Mr. Moosom Boyd. After the death of the latter he became a member of the firm. His last illness was inflammatory rheumatism caused by a cold contracted on his way from Albany to Bobcaygeon, and was of six or seven weeks' duration. He died at the residence of Mr. Moosom Boyd, Bobcaygeon. Mr. Macdonald, who was 44 years of age, was a man of magnificent physique, as fine a type of the physical man as one would wish to meet. He was a gentleman of highly honourable principles, socially most genial and companionable, and very highly esteemed by all who knew him, and especially by those who knew him best. His hearty, infectious laugh will never be forgotten by his friends. The funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock from the residence of his brother in law, Mr. J E Belcher, and the remains will be laid in the family plot at the Little Lake Cemetery.

A Scratch Game of Hockey.

Peterborough Juniors Defeated by Lakefield Saturday Afternoon.

On Saturday afternoon a team of juniors left town for Lakefield to play Sheldrake's School at that place a game of hockey. They were accompanied by Mr. W. J. Montgomery, who acted as referee, and Messrs. Cockburn and Jellett as umpires. When they arrived at the rink they found about two inches of water on it, but notwithstanding this, the game was commenced. Soon after the game started, Lakefield scored the first game, which somewhat disheartened the Peterborough juniors, and they did not play nearly as well as they might have done. They only managed to score one goal, which was done very neatly by King. The game throughout was very one-sided, chiefly owing to the fact that the Peterborough boys expected to play Sheldrake's School only, whereas four of the home team belong to the village, and were a great deal heavier than the Peterborough juniors, hence at the end of the game the score was 7 to 1 for Lakefield, which was chiefly got by Fred Mullen, of Lakefield. For Peterborough Dunsford and King did splendid work, but it was of no avail. The following composed the teams:

GO PREACH THE GOSPEL.

Eloquent Missionary Sermons in the Charlotte Street Methodist Church.

Preached by the Rev. John E. Starr, Pastor of the Elm Street Methodist Church, Toronto—Large Attendance Both Morning and Evening—A Missionary Spirit Enthused Among the Members—Liberal Collections for the Great Cause.

Yesterday was a missionary Sunday in every truth at the Charlotte street Methodist church; large and interested congregations greeted the Rev. John E. Starr at both morning and evening services. Rev Mr. Starr, now pastor of the Elm street Methodist church, Toronto, was a former pastor of the Charlotte street church, some eight years ago, and his re-appearance in their midst was the cause of such large and interested congregations filling every available seat in the capacious edifice at both the morning and evening services of yesterday. In the morning the rev. gentleman preached an instructive and touching discourse from the latter part of the 9th verse of the 16th chapter of Acts:—"Come over into Macedonia, and help us. The speaker said:—On the beach of the Western sea knelt Alexander, king of Macedonia, at the tomb of Achilles. He sought by means of the sword to become conqueror of Asia. On the Eastern beach some four centuries later knelt one even greater than he, it was the Warrior of the Cross, Jesus Christ, the man to confront with the Gospel the paganism and heathenism of the West. Enchanting as was His surroundings, the Warrior of the Cross was insensible of their charm. Paul, Sylvanus, Timothy and Luke, the physician, were the first missionaries to Europe. Now the
